DAMAGE BY THE STORM.—The storm which passed over this city day before yesterday, became quite a tornado in the neighborhood of Churchville, some three miles east of this place. The barn of Mr. Wolfe was unroofed, large trees were broken asunder, and shocks of grain were thrown down by the violence of the wind, and scattered in all directions.

FIRE FLIES.—These pretty winged vesper insects of summer have made their appearance to the great delight of eager boys who chase and capture these miniature-will o' the wisps—making the twilight sparkle with their gleams; and gemming the hours of darkness with diamond brilliance. Some old fogies call them by the vulgar name of "June bugs;" but in doing so only prove that they have no eye for the beautiful.

PROBABLE DEATH OF TWO VOLUNTEERS.—A passenger in the night Express from Elmira, informs us that two deserters from the 23d Regiment, N. Y. Volunteers, in charge of a Lieutenant, jumped from the train while under full head way, between Northumberland and Sunbury. As they were handcuffed together at the time, it is supposed that they were both killed. They were not missed for some minutes after the occurrence, and their fate remains unknown. We fear it was a jump "out of the frying pan into the fire" in their case.

FROM THE EIGHTH PENNSYLVANIA RESERVES.—We have been permitted to examine a private letter from Dr. F. O. Alleman, of Highspire, in this county, who is acting surgeon of the Eighth Pennsylvania Reserves. The letter is dated Harrison's Landing, July 12, 1862, and was received by his brother in this city. He gives a graphic description of the seven days fight before Richmond, commencing at the battle of Mechanicsville and ending at the battle before Harrison's Landing. His regiment was commanded by Col. George S. Hays, of Pittsburgh, who had a horse shot under him, and has suffered so severely from injuries sustained by his horse falling upon him while charging his regiment upon a rebel battery, that he is totally disabled from duty and has accordingly resigned. Lieut. Colonel Oliphant, of the same regiment, took paralysis two days after the fight, caused by exposure and over exertion in battle; he is entirely deaf, and has no use whatever of his limbs. Major Bailey, of the same regiment, was shot through the head. This regiment marched into battle numbering 877 men; there are but 300 left, and of those 171 are in the hospital. But six commissioned officers are left in his regiment, the balance have been killed and captured. On the two first days of the battle, Dr. Alleman was in the hottest of the fight. It was at this time that his hospital attendants and medical cadet deserted him, leaving him alone to take care of the wounded. Two shells burst by his side, instantly killing three of his wounded, and tearing to pieces the body of one of the men whose leg he was amputating. For four consecutive days and nights he did not get a wink of sleep or have a mouthful of food to eat, but was kept constantly engaged in amputating and dressing wounds. He writes that a more horrid sight than that battle field exhibited he never witnessed, and hopes to God he may never look upon its like again. His regiment was in the first brigade of McCull's division, commanded by acting Brigadier General Simmons. He was close by Col. Simmons when he received the fatal wound, saw him jump from his saddle and fall apparently dead to the ground. He says the Colonel is dead beyond doubt.

ALL CAN HELP.—While many of the ladies, misses and little girls are vying with each other in their efforts to supply sick and wounded soldiers with articles suited to their condition, there are still others who are doing nothing, and often ask "what can I do?" An opportunity is now offered where all can do something, young and old, boys as well as girls. Edmund G. Harrison, Dr. Benjamin Smith and commissioners appointed by Gov. Curtin to take care of the sick and wounded soldiers from Pennsylvania, have issued a circular and sent it to many persons with the request that they will act as agents in the matter of procuring the various kinds of fruit, which are ripe and ripening at this season of the year, and to prepare them by drying, making jellies, wines, &c. The circular calls upon "Farmers and others having any kind of fruit suitable for drying and for making jellies and wines, and families willing to prepare them, to report to some one of the agents." They request that funds be raised by contribution to buy sugar, pay boys for gathering the fruit, and prepare the articles without delay, before the fruit rots or dries up. In many cases boys will be found patriotic enough to gather fruit gratuitously, but Mr. Harrison has set the example of paying some boys who in one day gathered one hundred and twenty-five quarts of cherries at a penny a quart. In the evening he assembled some of the neighbors, who set about seeding and drying them. Currants should be made into jellies or wine, both of which are greatly needed. Here a direct appeal is made for specific articles which nearly every one has growing upon their place. Dewberries, blackberries, whortleberries, &c., may be found growing wild and can be gathered in abundance. Blackberries make an excellent wine, which is very beneficial in complaints of the bowels, and to which the soldier is subjected, owing to the bad water he is obliged to drink. The plan of neighborhoods and schools getting up picnics, for the purpose of getting fruit, is recommended, and is an excellent one. Pleasure and profit will thereby be combined. Will the people organize for this matter at once. Thousands of bushels of cherries will soon rot upon the trees if not gathered, and by gathering these and preparing them for the soldier you are serving your country. It is a much easier matter to give a little time and money to the service of the soldiers, than go to the battle field and subject yourself to be maimed for life, or even killed. By a little timely labor here at home many a brave fellow's life may be saved.

FROM THE SEA BOARD.—Amidst the changing fortunes of success or disaster to our country, whose laws are violated by bad men and bad measures, the cheap dry goods firm of Ulrich & Bowman continue to pursue the even tenor of their way. In this connection, we have to say this morning, that Mr. Bowman, of our firm, has just returned from the Sea Board, with a nice little assortment of dry goods for the present warm weather, which will be open for inspection during the day, at the south east corner of Front and Market.

HEADQUARTERS 5TH REG'T., P. R. CAMP NEAR HARRISBURG, Pa. JAMES RIVER, July 7, 1862. At a meeting of the officers of the 5th Regiment, P. R., held at their camp July 6, 1862, Lieut. Col. J. W. Collins, to draft resolutions expressive of the feelings of the officers at the loss of our late Col. G. S. Simmons, and to offer our heartfelt condolence to his bereaved family. The Committee offered the following report, which was adopted: Whereas, it has pleased an All-wise Providence to permit Col. G. S. Simmons, of the 5th Reg't., P. R., to be taken from us, in the midst of the great struggle for the protection and perpetuation of our Republican institutions, and while he was in the very height of his usefulness, Therefore, Resolved, That in the death of Col. Simmons, in the struggle of the 30th of June, while leading his Brigade to the charge, this Reg't., the Penna. Reserves Corps., and the service at large, has sustained a loss that will be long and deeply felt. Resolved, That in Colonel Simmons was a complete blending of the brave soldier, the true patriot, and refined gentleman, who by the association of the past year, had won the confidence and esteem of every officer and private of his command, and in his death we feel that we have sustained an irreparable loss. Resolved, That we tender our sincere condolence, to the bereaved family of the deceased, and trust that although the heavy hand of affliction has been laid upon them, that an all merciful Providence will sustain them in this dark hour of their grief. A MODEK ESTABLISHMENT.—Among the many improvements lately made in our city, so which we can point with pride as an evidence of prosperity and a determination on the part of our business men, no longer to remain behind the "light house," is the completion of Eby & Kunkle's large brick building at the corner of Market and Fifth streets, which is alike creditable to the owners and ornamental to that part of our city. The building is not only one of the largest, devoted to the grocery business, outside of New York, but the stock challenges competition. Without going into detail, we may safely say that the firm keep on hand everything usually kept in a grocery store, (liquors excepted), and that they sell at very small profits. Their clerks are civil and accommodating, and have strict instructions under no circumstances whatever to misrepresent or take advantage of any customer. A general invitation is extended to the public to visit the new building and examine the extensive stock, whether they purchase or not.

DISTRESSING MORTALITY.—A few months ago, during the prevalence of the black measles, and other fatal diseases, the Rev. Mr. Pressler, residing near Fishersville, in this county, attended one hundred and fifty funerals in the course of about six weeks. Some of them for want of time on the part of the officiating minister had to be deferred to the silent hours of the night.

HARVEST.—During the past week the farmers of Dauphin and adjoining counties have been busily engaged in gathering their harvest. The weather has been favorable, and large quantities of precious grain have already been housed. The yield is all that the most sanguine could expect, except in a few instances where the crop was injured by the dry weather.

ACCIDENT.—An interesting little girl aged six years, daughter of Mr. Byron, residing at the corner of North and Second streets, was accidentally run over by a wagon this morning while crossing State street, towards the store of Mr. Garrett, whether she had been sent by her mother to make some purchases. The child received a number of severe cuts and bruises, but none of a very dangerous character.

A Patriotic Anthem. Written for the Telegraph.

Route, ye sons of freemen, Of patriot arts of yore, Who gave you charts of freedom, Who purchased with their gore! Bold traitor arms assail, Now, our venetian laws— Route, your country to defend, O, consecrated cause! Shall Bunker's deadly fight And Shiloh's bloody plains, And fierce Saratoga's too, Have been for us in vain? O'er Atlantic's water, Strong foes look threatening on, Shall jealous malice triumph, Shall traitor cause be won? Arouse, men, O, rally! Hasten where your standard calls! Honor to the brave who fight, But glory his who falls. For right and duty firm, Sternly smite each traitor band: Justice, law and liberty, And thou, God, bless our land. A. WOLCOTT. HARRISBURG, July, 1862.

Resolved, That we tender our sincere condolence, to the bereaved family of the deceased, and trust that although the heavy hand of affliction has been laid upon them, that an all merciful Providence will sustain them in this dark hour of their grief. BETHLEHEM, ATTENTION!—A meeting of this club will be held at their room this (Thursday) evening at nine o'clock. By order of the President.

A MODEK ESTABLISHMENT.—Among the many improvements lately made in our city, so which we can point with pride as an evidence of prosperity and a determination on the part of our business men, no longer to remain behind the "light house," is the completion of Eby & Kunkle's large brick building at the corner of Market and Fifth streets, which is alike creditable to the owners and ornamental to that part of our city. The building is not only one of the largest, devoted to the grocery business, outside of New York, but the stock challenges competition. Without going into detail, we may safely say that the firm keep on hand everything usually kept in a grocery store, (liquors excepted), and that they sell at very small profits. Their clerks are civil and accommodating, and have strict instructions under no circumstances whatever to misrepresent or take advantage of any customer. A general invitation is extended to the public to visit the new building and examine the extensive stock, whether they purchase or not.

FROM THE SEA BOARD.—Amidst the changing fortunes of success or disaster to our country, whose laws are violated by bad men and bad measures, the cheap dry goods firm of Ulrich & Bowman continue to pursue the even tenor of their way. In this connection, we have to say this morning, that Mr. Bowman, of our firm, has just returned from the Sea Board, with a nice little assortment of dry goods for the present warm weather, which will be open for inspection during the day, at the south east corner of Front and Market.

THE PROBE OF CAMBERIA COUNTY, in convention assembled at Ebenezer, nominated the following ticket: Congress—A. A. Harker, subject to the decision of the district conferees. Assembly—James Cooper. With a full county ticket embracing candidates for the usual local offices.
