HARRISBURG, PA. Thursday Afternoon, July 24, 1862.

TAKES CHARGE OF CAMP CURTIN.—Captain Dodge has appointed Capt. W. A. Tarbutton, to take charge of Camp Curtin and superintend the drilling of troops as soon as they arrive.—The Captain is a good officer and will discharge his duty faithfully.

EXTRACT FROM THE MINUTES OF THE LAST MEETING OF THE HOPE FIRE COMPANY, No. 2. On motion, it was

Resolved, That the thanks of this company be tendered to Mr. H. C. Shaeffer for the very beautiful gift of wall paper which now adorns our hall, and that this company assures him that it fully appreciates the generosity which prompted the donation of so elegant a present.

SCENES often become rampant, but not so violent as to become dangerous, particularly in this latitude. Yet it seems that the communication in regard to a certain scotch genius connected with one of our railroad lines, has excited the ire of several of those whose actions make them guilty of even more than was charged in said communication. When such as these change their appearance in head-gear and moustache, it looks as if we had at least succeeded in bringing them to their conscience, their threats and impudence to the contrary notwithstanding.

DEP.—On Saturday night, Mrs. Miles, who was recently so severely burned by the explosion of a coal oil lamp, in a canal boat, near Middletown, this county, died from the effects of her injuries, after suffering the most intense bodily pain, for a few weeks. The deceased is the same lady who—just previous to being burned—narrowly escaped being drowned, which we noticed at the time. Her remains were conveyed to the Pennsylvania railroad on Monday last, followed by a large number of our citizens; thence taken to her home, near Pine Grove. Her child, which was also horribly burned at the same time, is on a fair way to recover.

PIC-NIC FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE FAMILIES OF VOLUNTEERS.—Owing to the inauspicious state of the weather, the picnic for the benefit of the families of our gallant volunteers advertised to come off to-day in Heehlen's woods, has been postponed until next Monday. This extension of time will enable the enterprising gentleman who have undertaken the management of affairs to make additional arrangements for the accommodation of the large crowd of citizens expected to be present and participate in the festivities of the occasion. From what we know, the picnic promises to be one of the most pleasant parties of the season, and will be largely attended by the fair sex, who are ever among the first to promote any patriotic object. An excellent string band of music will be present. There will be cheese and drinkables; swings; ropes for Copenhagen, foot-balls and other facilities to enable the participants to pass a day of unalloyed pleasure. Tickets twenty five cents.

GERMAN SCHOOLS.—Our German Citizens and their Relation to the Intelligence and Prosperity of this City.—One of the boasts—if not the proudest—of all Pennsylvanians, is our system of common schools, so munificently supported at the public expense, and so successfully conducted by men of seal, ability and character. The public schools of Pennsylvania are among the strongest bulwarks of the liberties of the people, as their influence produces the most good, and contributes largely to the prosperity of the state in all its branches of industry and elements of enterprise. In writing this much of our public school system, we are naturally brought in contact with the source whence they derive their support. And while thus brought in contact with that source, we are led to the inquiry as to whether the benefits are equally distributed among those thus equally contributing to the maintenance of the common school system. In the English branches of education, our public schools leave no feature neglected. In this respect the teaching is thorough and complete, so that a pupil passing through all the grades of the public schools can graduate on an education in the English branches, with mathematics and composition added, as thoroughly accomplished as if he derived his tutorage in the highest academies of the land. This fact, then is our boast, and may its glory never fade. But while we are thus expanding and extending the English education of our children, we should not forget that there is some consideration due to a large, wealthy and influential class of people who contribute equally to the support of our public schools, and who therefore have some right to their benefits. We allude to the native and adopted Germans. The German language will never be given up—it is as much the language of our business, our politics and our history in Pennsylvania, as is the English, so that whenever it is neglected, we neglect also these important elements. What is needed to encourage improvement in this respect, and to do justice to the German portion of our population, is at once plain and practical. If the different school boards cannot establish exclusive German schools, they can at least compact the study of German with the teaching of the English. Those of our citizens who desire to educate their children in the German language, would thus be receiving in return for the taxation so cheerfully paid in support of the school system, the benefits which are derived from the same system by all other classes of the people.

We understand that petitions are in circulation praying for the establishment of German schools or the introduction of German studies in the schools already established, and that this subject will be properly brought before the Board of Comptrollers. It has our hearty endorsement, and we trust that it will be considered with the favor that its importance deserves.

AT THE BALTIMORE HOSPITAL.—H. H. LEB BART, company B, 57th Pennsylvania regiment, is lying at the Military Hospital in Baltimore. He had the typhoid fever, but recovered, and is now suffering from some internal disease, not stated. He resides in Susquehanna township, in this county.

Wm. Brumer, of the same regiment, has recently been discharged from the same hospital and the service, owing to disability. He is from this city, and is reported on his way home.

THE BOUNTY FUND.—Grand Vocal and Instrumental.—We understand that arrangements are being made among a number of our musical artists and amateurs, for a grand vocal and instrumental concert, the proceeds of which are to be applied to the bounty fund for volunteers. The affair will be gotten up on a monster scale, and the performers will embrace the best musical talent in the city, probably assisted by some distinguished performers from a distance. Due notice will be given of the arrangements and the place of the proposed concert.

ARREST OF A BURGLAR.—A colored man named Wm. Holmes, said to be a barber by profession, was arrested in this city, yesterday, by Officer Campbell, charged with having participated in the robbery of a clothing store at Carlisle last Sunday night. He was wearing a suit of the stolen clothes at the time of his arrest, and a pair of boots and pantaloons stolen from an officer at the Carlisle barracks, were found in his possession. He was confined in the city lock-up over night, and left this morning for Carlisle in the custody of police officer Martin, of that borough.

CAPT. HORN.—We have been kindly furnished with a copy of the following relation in relation to Capt. Horn, of the "Kepner Fencibles" of this city:

Hon. Wm. H. KEPNER, Sir:—It is with pleasure that I can inform you that my brother Thomas David Horn is still alive. He commanded the Kepner Fencibles, of Harrisburg, or the company now called company D, 12th regiment, P. R. V. C., Col. Taggart commanding him.

I seen a statement in the Inquirer, of Philadelphia, sent to you by Lieutenant Weaver. He stated that David Horn was from Burlington, New Jersey. His father and mother resided there, but he lived with me at 783 Germantown road, Nisetoenth ward, Philadelphia. I have received information of him from Brigadier General Seymour, commanding Third Brigade, P. R. V. C., McCall's Division, and he informed me that he was wounded in the back and also in the leg, and carried of the battlefield to the hospital on the 30th of June, at the battle of White Oak swamps, and there he was left. The Surgeon of the Division did not think he would live. Still later I received a letter from him dated July 13, 1862, a prisoner at Richmond, and still later that he was released on the 18th inst., and sent North, where he arrived at Baltimore. I cannot tell if they will be sent North. The camp was not disgraced by their Captain on the battle field of the 30th of June, or at the battle of Drainesville, when he was sergeant and led his company in the charge. He is not a Jerseyman but a Philadelphian. He is a carpenter by trade and was driven out of Richmond just before the war broke out, and had to leave his tools behind. You will see by the list of wounded prisoners released from Richmond, that he is paroled with them.

He says his wound is very painful. I may give you more particulars when I hear from him again.

Yours very respectfully, JOSEPH HORN, No. 783, Germantown road, Philadelphia. To His Honor, W. H. KEPNER, of Harrisburg.

POSTAGE STAMPS USED FOR SMALL CHANGE.—Many of our business men have purchased postage stamps and are paying them out instead of small change. This may answer the desired purpose so long as they are kept clean and are not pasted on other paper, but whenever they are defaced or soiled they become at once worthless; they cannot be exchanged, redeemed or even used on letters. Postmasters are strictly forbidden to recognize defaced stamps on mail letters with a stamp that from appearance has been used before. All such letters thrown in the Post Office are held for postage, and the person for whom they are intended is informed of the fact that a letter is in the office for him, which will be forwarded on the receipt of a regular stamp.

It is very doubtful whether the Secretary of the Treasury will avail himself of the power vested in him to issue postage stamps as currency; but if he does, the stamps will be entirely different from those used on letters. They will be printed on different paper, and the Post Office Department will have nothing to do with their issue. We append a full official explanation of the law as recently passed, so that persons may not plead ignorance of the law itself, which we published in full a few days since: "Under the provisions of the act, the Secretary of the Treasury and not the Postmaster General, is directed to furnish postage and postage stamps to the Assistant Treasurer, and such designated depositaries of the United States as the former may select, to be exchanged by them on application for the United States notes, and from and after the first day of August next, such stamps shall be received in payment of all dues to the United States less than five dollars and shall be received in exchange for United States notes, when presented in sums not less than five dollars, to any Assistant Treasurer or designated depositary selected as aforesaid. Hence the law does not make postage stamps a legal tender nor does it require Postmasters to receive them in exchange for United States notes. It is expected that the Secretary of the Treasury will furnish postage stamps to be used as a circulating medium under the law, in such form that they cannot be attached to letters or other mailable matter.

Such stamps will be exchanged by Postmasters for the regular postage stamps, besides being redeemable in treasury notes by the Assistant Treasurers and such designated depositaries as the Secretary of the Treasury may select. No postage stamps can be thus exchanged at the post offices or redeemed by the Treasury Department unless furnished through the agency of the Department. Postage stamps now sold by the Postmaster are not exchangeable or redeemable by them, and if such stamps are gummed to postboard or other paper, which soils or renders them unfit to be used on the prepayment of postage, they will be rejected for postage, because when so soiled they cannot be distinguished from stamps which have already been used for postage.

The postage stamp currency law does not take effect till the 1st of August. It is understood that the postage stamps will in no case be redeemed by the Post Office Department or Postmaster to receive them, if so changed or altered by pasting on other paper or otherwise, as to render them unfit for postage uses. It is absolutely necessary to prevent fraud. Already defaced postage stamps are being brought up and passed at their nominal value, after having had the defacing ink extracted and being pasted on paper to conceal the loss of gum.

THE FIGHT AT TOMPKINSVILLE.—Statement of Harrisburger.—We previously announced the arrival in this city of Mr. Geo. W. Leamy, of the Lochiel Cavalry, who was captured by the rebels at the fight at Tompkinsville, Kentucky, and paroled. Mr. Leamy has since called upon us, and gave us a very graphic description of that engagement.

He says that Major Jordan, of this city was in command of a battalion of the Lochiel Cavalry, consisting of companies E, C, I and M, encamped near Tompkinsville, Kentucky. At half past five o'clock on the morning of the 9th July, the pickets were driven into camp, by a rebel force under Colonels Morgan and Hunt reported at 1,500 strong and two pieces of cannon. Major Jordan, at once gave the command to "saddle horses," and drew up his men in line of battle. A portion of the enemy under Morgan, consisting of four regiments of mounted infantry, soon appeared, and after dismounting, opened fire upon our men, aiming, however, too low to be effective. The Lochiel boys returned the fire with pistols and carbines, but with what effect is not known.

The firing between the parties continued with much spirit for fifteen or twenty minutes, when the enemy commenced throwing shells from their cannon. At this juncture, seeing that his force would be overpowered, Major Jordan gave the command to retreat, which was done in good order in the direction of a rough piece of woods, where they were intercepted by another large force of rebel infantry. A brief though spirited action ensued, our boys being driven through the woods into the main road, where they were overtaken by a body of Texas Rangers six hundred strong. Nothing daunted, however, this additional force was also engaged, and a running fight of six or seven miles ensued, resulting in the death of a number of the rebels and our own force, including Lieut. Sullivan, of this city. It was during this running fight that Maj. Jordan was made prisoner, caused by his horse stumbling. A number of others, including Mr. Leamy, were also captured by having their horses shot under them.

While in pursuit of our boys along this road, a body of the rebels stopped at a house and called for some water, when a young lady, a Miss Stevens took water out to them. They asked her if she had seen any Lincolites pass there. She told them no, but she had seen some Union men pass there. The rebels then asked where they were. She said she did not know, and if she did, she would not tell them. One of the party then shot her in the stomach with seven buckshot, setting her apron on fire. She lived until Sunday morning and expired.

The loss on the Union side in the fight was four killed, six wounded, and nineteen prisoners. The prisoners, with the exception of Maj. Jordan, were paroled. He was sent back to Tennessee. The rebel loss, according to the best information gained, was ten killed, and it is not known how many wounded. Col. Hunt was mortally wounded, it is thought. The rebels burned all the wagons, tents, commissary stores, &c., and left for Glasgow, Ky.

The rebels took all the good horses they could get in the country, and broke open the stores in Tompkinsville, taking the goods and sending a great many of them to Tennessee. Mr. Leamy speaks very highly of the energy and bravery displayed by Major Jordan on the occasion.

A MODEL ESTABLISHMENT.—Among the many improvements lately made in our city, to which we can point with pride as an evidence of prosperity and as a determination on the part of our business men, no longer to remain behind the "light house," is the completion of Eby & Kunkle's large brick building at the corner of Market and Fifth streets, which is alike creditable to the owners and ornamental to that part of our city.

The building is not only one of the largest, devoted to the grocery business, outside of New York, but the stock challenges comparison. Without going into detail, we may safely say that the firm keep on hand everything usually kept in a grocery store, (liquors excepted), and that they sell at very small profits. Their clerks are civil and accommodating, and have strict instructions under no circumstances whatever to misrepresent or take advantage of any customer. A general invitation is extended to the public to visit the new building and examine the extensive stock, whether they purchase or not.

Both of the Principals devote their whole time to the school, aided in the department of instruction by competent teachers. The military instruction and drill, (under the charge of an experienced instructor,) is arranged so as not to interfere with the regular studies, occupying a part of the time appropriated to exercise and recreation. Pupils are received at any time and charged only from the date of an admission. Tuition—$125 per session of five months.

For circulars, or further information, address either of the Principals. Reference is also made to the Rev. Mr. Cattell, Harrisburg.

From the Rev. Dr. Hedge and the Rev. Dr. McGill, Professors in the Theological Seminary, Princeton, N. J. I have for several years been intimately acquainted with the Rev. Thomas W. Cattell. He has had charge of one of the best schools, and I can safely say that he has never known any one in whose fidelity and devotion to the people, I have equal confidence. He is a good scholar, and a successful teacher. I know no one who has a greater facility in gaining the love of the scholars or who excels over them in a better influence.

I am aware of the responsibility in asking in such terms of commendation of a teacher, but I am attached to him, and I do not believe that any other man in this State, in which I have been employed, has a more successful influence.

I have great confidence in the Rev. Jas. P. Hughes, as a teacher, both in his aptness to give instruction, and his tact in the administration of discipline. I have had two sons under his care, and I can say that the most careful observation I can make to recommend the Edgehill school as one of safe and thorough instruction. ALEXANDER T. McGill. 1/11-41d
