PENNSYLVANIA HOSPITAL.

[FROM OFFICIAL HOSPITAL REPORTS.]

MAY 19, 1860,—Eilen S., let. 23, single, never was very strong. Two years ago she had an attack of accute rheumatism, from which she was confined to her bed for two weeks and subsequenty from a relapse for four more. She has been well since then till last Satur day, while engaged in house cleaning, she took cold, had pain in her back, felt cold, hot had no decided chill. Two days later her ankles began so swell, which was followed by swelling of the knee joints and of the hands. She has now dull pain in her shoulders, and her knuckles are very tender, red and painful; both hands are affected, but the right is most so. This, then, is a case of acute rheumatism, or, as it is now fashloushly called, rheumatic fever. It is a well remarked typical case. We will carefully watch the case, and from time to time call your attention to the various symptons which present themselves. My chief object in bringing her before you now, is to call attention to a remedy which has recently been recommended in the treatment of rheumatism. I mean propylamine. Dr. [FROM OFFICIAL HOSPITAL REPORTS.] treatment of rheumatism. I mean propylamine. Dr. Awenarius, of St. Petersburg, recommends it in the Awenarius, of St. Petersburg, recommends it in the highest terms, having derived great benefit from its use in 250 cases which came under his care. Various commendatory testinoulals respecting it have appeared in our journals, and I propose therefore to give it another trial. I must confess Lam always incredulous as to the worth of new remedies, which are vaunted as specifies; but this comes to us recommended so highly, that we are bound to give it a trial.

BAME CASE FOUR DAYS LATER !

MAY 23, 1860.—I will now exhibit to you the patient for whom I prescribed Propylamine, and was then laboring under an attack of acute rheumatism. She has steadily taken it in doses of three grains every two hours (intermitting it at night.) The day after you saw her, I tound her much more comfortable, better than she executed to he for a west or work indicate them have executed to he for a west or work indicate them have executed to the for a west or work indicate. iound her much more comfortable, better than she ex-pected to be for a week or more, judging from her other attacs. (The patient now walked into the room.) The improvement has steadily progressed, and you cannot ial to notice a marked change in the appearance of her joins, which are now nearly all of their natural size.— Thue far our experiment would have seemed very suc-cessful; but, gentlemen, we must wait a little while be-fore we can give a decided opinion as to what is to be the result.

the result.

Here is another patient who was placed on the use of less ame medicine on Sunday last; she has long been suffering from a bronic rhounatism, and I found her at that time with an acute attack supervening upon her chronic affection. The wrists and knuckles were much awoilsn and teuse. She took the chloride of Propylamine in three grain doses every two hours, and you will perceive that the swelling of the joints has much diminished.

THREE DAYS LATER!!

THREE DAYS LATER!!

MAY 26, 1860.—This is the case of acute rheumatism treates with propylamine, the first of those to which I called your attention at our last clinic. She is still very comfortable, and is now taking three grains thrice daily. In this case it has seemed to be followed by very satisfactory results. The second c-se to which your attention was called at our last lecture, has also continued to do welr I will now bring before you a very characteristic case of acute rheumatism, and if the result be satisfactory, I think, as good jurymen, we snall justly render our verdict in favor of propylamin

He is a seaman, set. 26, who was admitted a few days ago. Has had ocassional rheumatic pams, but not so as to keep his bed, until eight days ago. The pains began in his right knee, subsequently affected the left knee, and later, the joints of the upper extremittes. These joints are all awollen, tense and tender. His tongue is furred; his skin, at present dry, though there has been much seventing. His pulse is full and strong, and about 90.—He has now used propylamine for twenty-four hours. This gentleman is what may be called a strictly typical case of acute rheumatism. There was exposure to cold and well, and this exposure is followed by a feeling of coldness, severe articular pain, beginning, as it usually does, in the lower joints. There is fever and the profuse sweating, so generally attendant on acute rheumatism. I did net bring this patient before you with the intention of giving you a lecture on all the points conjected with rheumatism, but to again give a trial to the new remedy we are testing, and to exhibit to you this typical case, as I have called it, than which there co uld not be a fairer opportunity for testing the medicine in question. We are, therefore, avoiding the use of all other medicines, even anodynes, that there may be no misgivings as to which was the efficient remedy. You shall see the case of a future clinic.

THE RESULT.

A FAVORABLE VERDIOT.

Jume, 1860.—The next of our convalescents is the case of acute rheumatism before you at our clinic of May 36th, which I then called a typical case, and which it was remarked was a fair opportunity for testing the worth ot our new remedy. It was therefore steadily given in three grain doese every two hours for four days. The naticat has got along very, nicely, and is now able to walk about, as you see. I do not hesitate to say that I have neves seen as severe a case of acute rheumatism to soon restored to health as this man has been, and without being prepared to decide positive by as to the value of the remedy, we have used, I feel bound to state that in the cases in which we have tried the Chloride o Propylamine, the patients have regained their health Propylamine, the patients have regained their health much earlier than under the treatment ordinarily pur-sued. I wish gentemen, you would yourselves try it, and report the results.

For a full report of which the above is a condense extract, see the Philadelphia Medical and Surgical Reporter. It is the report after a fair trial by the best med cal authority in this country, and makes it unnecessary to rive numerous certificates from astonished doctor and rejoicing patients.
