HARRISBURG, PA.

Tuesday Afternoon, August 19, 1862.

Our usual local variety is excluded to-day to give space to the proceedings of the Union County Convention.

To OFFICERS.—Military swords, sashes and belts can be obtained at the Merchant Tailor Store of Geo. W. Glover, Market street, a few East of Third.

The DROUTH.—Powell's Valley and parts of Lebanon county have been favored recently with refreshing rains, but other portions of the county are suffering from the drouth, and the corn crops will be seriously injured should it continue much longer.

MILITARY RELIEF COMMITTEE.—The regular weekly meeting will be held this evening at 7 o'clock at the office of A. J. Herr, Esq., in Walnut street opposite the county prison.

GEORGE BRENNER, Pres't.
A. J. HERR, O. EDWARDS, Sec'y.

ORGANIZATION OF A REGIMENT.—The one hundred and thirty-fourth regiment was formed at Camp Curtin last evening. The companies composing it are from Butler, Beaver and Lawrence counties. Its field officers had not been appointed this morning.

SOMETHING TASTY.—The restaurant under Wyeth's Hall, has been remodelled and much improved, and is now one of the neatest establishments of the kind in the city. It is a perfect bazaar of a refreshment saloon, and as the proprietor, Mr. James Carothers, knows "how to keep a hotel," of course he is well patronized.

PATRIOTIC INSTITUTION.—Loyessville Academy, located in Perry county of this State, has given a striking example of attachment to our glorious Union. All the students in the institution, with the exception of one or two, have enlisted under their former efficient principal, Captain D. Tressler, and are now in Camp Curtin, ready to march in defence of their country.

AN OMEN OF SUCCESS.—A short time ago a beautiful phenomenon was observed on the moon about twelve o'clock at night. A brilliant vane composed of white, red and blue encircled the moon, which, whilst it excited the admiration of all who saw it, on account of its brilliancy and beauty, was regarded by many as an omen of the speedy triumph of our glorious country's flag.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—A serious accident happened to Mr. John Bolton as he was returning home from Linglestown on Saturday afternoon. It happens that as he was descending a hill, a portion of the harness broke, causing the horse to take fright, and whilst attempting to stop the animal he was kicked in the breast, causing a very dangerous wound, and a copious flow of blood from his mouth. Yesterday he was still living, but his situation is thought to be critical.

FATAL RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—Thomas Freeman, a brakeman on the Northern Central Railway, was killed on Friday at the summit, about twenty-one miles this side of Baltimore. The train in which he was breaking became separated by the breaking of a coupling, and the rear portion shocking heavily against the front, he was thrown off and instantly killed. The body was taken to Baltimore, and an inquest held by Coroner Greentree. The jury rendered a verdict in accordance with the above facts. Deceased was about thirty-five years of age, and leaves a wife and four children.

A YOUNG LADY SHOT BY HER BROTHER.—A young lady, a daughter of Mr. George Dunkle, residing a few miles beyond Linglestown, was recently severely wounded by the discharge of a gun in the hands of a younger brother about eight years old. It appears that the boy was under the impression that the gun was not loaded, and snapped it at his sister for amusement or to frighten her. Unexpectedly the gun was discharged, inflicting a dangerous wound in her side. As she was stooping at the moment, the charge composed of small shot entered her body obliquely, and consequently injured no vital part, as she is still living and good hopes are entertained of her recovery.

MATCH GAME OF BASE BALL.—The much-talked-of match game of base ball between the Keystone Club, of this city, and the Mountain Club, of Altoona, will take place at 10 o'clock to-morrow morning, on the grounds of the Keystone Club, a short distance above the Round House. The nine selected by the Keystone Club are Messrs. C. Gemmel, Head, McGargie, Frish, Wallace, Grouse, Snodgrass, Williams and Hunt. S. D. Young, scorer. The names of the Altoona nine have not been ascertained. The match has excited much interest among the knights of the "Bat and Ball" in our city, and we have no doubt there will be a large assemblage present to witness the friendly contest.

THE GREAT REBELLION.—We were present last evening during Davis' exhibition of the Panorama of the Great Rebellion, and having had the pleasure of beholding this triumph of art and science delineation once before, we were impressed with the many improvements and extensive additions he has made to this National work. The Panorama now embraces in its scenery the most eventful actions and incidents of the rebellion, with portraits of distinguished statesmen and soldiers, who are instrumental in carrying out the great objects of the government for its suppression. A work of this kind must be seen, and not described, to be properly appreciated. Let none of our readers fail to be present during the brief period of its exhibition in this city.

Tickets can be had at Bergner's Bookstore, Bannwart's Drug Store and at the Brady House.

Geo. J. SHUMAKER, Secretary.

A CARD.—As no newspaper will be issued in this place for some days, I take this mode of meeting a series of base slanders on me, which appeared in the columns of the Harrisburg Telegraph, of the 16th inst., over the signature of "VINTAS," and dated at this place, the 13th.

So far as the malicious epithets applied to my father, by this concocted and cowardly article, I am concerned, and I am not permitted to speak; nor have I any explanation to make, of the inaccuracies of an article that appeared in the Patriot and Union of the 11th, to which "VINTAS" assumes to reply. Those inaccuracies show sufficiently that the article was not dictated by any member of my family or by any intimate friend. But it is the specific falsehood of "VINTAS" about myself that I desire to meet.

When speaking of the tender of service to the Government by my old company, he says that when the company had resolved to go, "Young Bigler was of course compelled to yield and accompany his company;" thereby forcing the inference that I had been virtually driven into the service. No imputation could be more unfounded and unjust. So far from my being amongst the first to declare my determination to go, and that I exerted myself to the utmost of my influence thereafter to raise the company and have it accepted by the Government.

Then again, he says that a "few hours before the commencement of the seven days fighting at Richmond, this valorous young Bigler resigned and took up a position far away from the line of battle." On this point the over zeal of this slanderer has defeated his purposes, for every military man knows that a resignation does not release the officer until it is accepted; and how could the resignation be sent to the proper Department, be considered in its turn, with hundreds ahead of it and be returned in a "few hours." With this complete answer I could drop this point, but it is due to truth and myself that the circumstances connected with my resignation should be known.

The truth is, I sent in my resignation about the middle of May last, whilst the Regiment was lying idle at Falmouth, on the Rappahannock, and when no one anticipated a fight.—On the 6th or 8th of June the Regiment was ordered to advance towards Richmond, and no action was taken on my resignation till the twelfth of June, six days before the fighting commenced, when an honorable discharge reached me from the proper officer. It will thus be seen that had I been especially anxious to avoid the dangers and privations of the fight, I could have left the field immediately, for the North; but I remained during the entire struggle, and for days after it and did what I could properly, though most of the time I was too far exhausted to do much more than take care of myself. My position was peculiar. I had no command and no one had command or care that it was well known to many of my comrades, that although I was laboring under a painful infirmity, which rendered me unfit for service on foot, as certified by both the Regimental and Brigade Surgeons, I should have withheld my resignation had I known that the Regiment was about to be advanced towards Richmond. It does not become me to talk of my own actions. I only pretend to have done my duty, and to have an honorable discharge from the service for reasons deemed sufficient by the proper officers. I served fourteen months to the best of my ability, and now I would not hesitate to stake all that I have or in this world goods, that if the man who has slandered me, because he bears political malice towards my father, will give the public his proper name, it will appear that he has never served his country in the field, a day in an hour in his life; and I hereby brand him, whoever he may be, a slanderer, poltroon and coward, and pledge myself, that whenever he comes on from his cowardly retreat, and gives me his name, to convince him that there is quite as much courage in my blood as he will choose to deal with.

JOHN W. BIGLER.
CLEARFIELD, Aug. 16, 1862.

A MODEL ESTABLISHMENT.—Among the many improvements lately made in our city, to which we can point with pride as an evidence of prosperity and as a determination on the part of our business men, no longer to remain behind the "light house," is the completion of Eby & Kunkle's large brick building at the corner of Market and Fifth streets, which is alike creditable to the owners and ornamental to that part of our city.

The building is not only one of the largest, devoted to the grocery business, outside of New York, but the stock challenges competition.—Without going into detail, we may safely say that the firm keep on hand everything usually kept in a grocery store, (liquors excepted,) and that they sell at very small profits. Their clerks are civil and accommodating, and have strict instructions under no circumstances whatever to misrepresent or take advantage of any customer. A general invitation is extended to the public to visit the new building and examine the extensive stock, whether they purchase or not.

TO THE AFFLICTED.—The undersigned would respectfully inform those who are afflicted with Rheumatism, Dyspepsy, Consumption of Liver and Kidney, Coughs, Fevers, and all diseases arising from impurity of the blood, that she is prepared to furnish Mrs. Westhoven's German Vegetable Medicines at very moderate rates. I have also on hand a quantity of invaluable Salves for Sore Eyes, Frozen Feet and Piles. References can be given as to their wonderful efficacy, whenever called upon. There need be no apprehension in regard to my competency in administering it, as I have had it on hand for the past six years. As they are now sold at reduced prices, no family should be without them over night. They can be had at any time at my residence, in Fine street, between Second and Front.

Aul3 dim MRS. L. BALL.
Mrs. BALL.—In justice to you, and from a desire to promote the welfare of the community, I take great pleasure in stating, what this medicine has done for me. I was afflicted with the dyspepsia for about one year, and was unable to walk, sit or stand with comfort. I took medicine from different physicians, without obtaining discoverable relief. I finally despaired of my recovery, as did also every person that saw me. Your Tonic strengthened my stomach, removed the swelling and gave me a first-rate appetite. I now enjoy good health, and would recommend all to give it a trial. My store is in Third street, three door from Market.

PURIFY THE BLOOD.
NOT a few of the worst disorders that afflict mankind arise from the corruption that accumulates in the blood. Of all the discoveries that have been made to purify it out, none have been found which could equal in effect AYER'S CATHARTIC EXTRACT OF SASSAPARILLA. It cleanses and renovates the blood, it sells the vigor of health into the system, and purges out the humor which makes disease. It stimulates the healthy functions of the body and expels the disorders that gang and rot the blood. Its extraordinary virtues are not yet widely known, but when they are it will no longer be a question what remedy to employ in the great variety of afflicting diseases that require an alterative remedy. Such a remedy, that could be relied on, has long been sought for, and now, for the first time, the public have one on which they can depend. Our space here does not admit certificates to show its effects. But the trial of a single bottle will show to the sick that it has virtues surpassing anything they have ever taken. Sufferers from Scrofula, Scrofulous Swellings and Sores, try it, and see the rapidity with which it cures.
