PEOPLE'S UNION STATE TICKET. AUDITOR GENERAL: THOMAS E. COCHRAN, of York County. SURVEYOR GENERAL: WILLIAM S. ROSS, of Luzerne County. HARRISBURG, PA. Wednesday Morning, August 20, 1862.

ARMING NEGROES. Whenever a sympathizer desires to give particular aid to his rebel coadjutors, he brawls lustily against arming the negroes of the south, or, indeed, using them in any capacity in which they may be able to render assistance in crushing the rebellion. On this subject there is much honest difference of opinion, but those who candidly object to the proposition to arm the negroes of the south, nevertheless are willing that they should be used in some capacity, that of digging ditches, the menial work of the camp, or the tolling duties of a sledge. On the other hand, those who clamor against the arming of the negroes, and become so boisterous in their claim that this is a "white man's war," insist that the national government shall do without the aid of the negro, simply because they know that the moment the negro is made an auxiliary in the war to put down traitors, that instant not only the rebellion for slavery, but slavery itself will be put on a terrible defensive. It would leave the rebel leaders no other alternative, but submission or complete and absolute extermination. It would make the material of the rebellion the means of its suppression; and as a relief to our soldiers, it would afford them the amplest opportunities for that perfection in the art of war, of which their traitor opponents boast so large a possession.

THE BARKER-KIDNAPERS must feel a crushing sensation of that kind of bitter remorse which is calculated to consume a man, when they read the dispatches of the traitor Breckenridge, describing his part of the affair at Baton Rouge and the suffering which he inflicted on the loyal soldiers who defended that post. Of course we do not mean those who were induced to support this wretch by the misrepresentations of leading disaffected Democrats. We mean those leaders themselves. We mean such men as Frank Hughes. Such men as those who now hold the organization of the Democratic party, and who like Frank Hughes and James Buchanan, are straining every effort to use that organization for the aid of the rebel cause. Thus while Breckenridge issues his dispatches, gloating over the loyal blood he and his followers have shed, Frank Hughes is printing his addresses, laying the blame of this unholy war against the Union, at the doors of the white laboring masses of the loyal states. There is something melancholy and humiliating in this coincidence. It shows, however they may attempt to disguise the fact, that the rebels of the south and the dough-faces of the north are acting in concert. The one with their sword assail the Union; while the other with falsehood and slander denounce Union men. Both must be humiliated and crushed out before that Union can be saved.

Question becomes pertinent as to whether his friends in the loyal states lose an equal amount of influence or of life in aiding rebellion? Certain it is, that John C. Breckenridge has been winged—and that with one arm, if he is not killed in battle or shot down as a fugitive, he is destined some day to be hung as a common malefactor.

Beriah MAGOFFIN REASSURES.—The Loco Foco Governor of Kentucky, Beriah Magoffin, whose Hebrew pronomen signifies evil, has committed a separate act of patriotism. He has resigned the gubernatorial office for the good of Kentucky and of the Union. We do not mean to say that a desire to do good has caused him to do what he has done, but that the act is in itself meritorious without regard to his intentions. It is so rare a thing to see a Loco Foco resign an office, that the act of Beriah stands out in bold relief, and challenges the admiration of all beholders. It is to be hoped that he may repent of all his sins, and that he may never again be led into the temptations of official position. The last act of official life, that of resigning, is more to be praised than all the rest, and if dough-faces everywhere will follow his prudent example they will do their country a service of incalculable value.

THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE of the Democratic League of New York City have written a letter to Gen. Hunter, thanking him for his stand on the negro question which he has taken in his letter to the Rev. Dr. Tyng. They think the destruction of slavery necessary before the war can be ended, though they fear that before the loyal community can become united in that belief much more blood must be shed. There is no doubt that the League in New York anticipate the shedding of "much more blood" from the conduct of the League in Pennsylvania, where it seems to be the highest purpose of the State Central Committee, of which Frank Hughes is chairman, to excite mob law, induce incendiarism and give aid and comfort to traitors. Such is modern Democracy.

SECESSION POLITICS IN ILLINOIS. The Democrats of Illinois seem to be the most shameless secessionists outside of the rebel confederacy. In some places they actually parade the rebel flag, and their journals are foremost in denouncing the vigorous prosecution of the war. In Jo. Davis county the following circular has been issued: "The progress of the rebellion, and its instigator and abettor, abolitionism, have made and are making towards the destruction of the constitutional form of government secured to the American people, as tending to the establishment of a military despotism, destructive of all civil liberty, imperatively demands the assistance of every lover of his country to beat back the enemies of free government, and to maintain the constitution as it is, and restore the government as it was." To effect this object, organization and co-operation are absolutely necessary.

GEN. JACKSON'S PROCLAMATION. HEADQUARTERS SEVENTH MILITARY DISTRICT, MOBILE, September 21, 1861. To the Free Colored Inhabitants of Louisiana: Through a mistaken policy, you have been heretofore deprived of a participation in the glorious struggle for national rights in which our country is engaged. This no longer shall exist.

FROM WASHINGTON. THE BATTLE AT BATON ROUGE. Official Report of Admiral Farragut. Full Particulars of the Destruction of the Arkansas. WASHINGTON, Aug. 19. The Navy Department is in receipt of voluminous despatches from Admiral Farragut, among which are the following: FLAG SAFF HARTMOND, Baton Rouge, August 7, 1862. SIR.—It is one of the happiest moments of my life that I am enabled to inform the Department of the destruction of the ram Arkansas, not because the community did.

FROM CUMBERLAND, MD. FEDERAL PICKETS ATTACKED. The Notorious Guerilla, Bob Edwards, Killed. BALEMORA, Aug. 19. A dispatch from Gen. Kelly, at Cumberland, Md., says that our pickets were fired on at the bridge on the Romney road, yesterday afternoon, and one man was mortally wounded. A force was sent in pursuit, and overtook a party of bushwhackers and attacked them, killing the notorious guerilla, Bob Edwards. The rest escaped to the mountains.

LATER FROM EUROPE. Further News by the Steamer Europa. St. Johns, N. F., August 19. The interruption of the Nova Scotia line prevented the transmission of a portion of the Europe news last night. It is as follows: The steamer Persia, from New York arrived at Liverpool at eleven o'clock, A. M. on the 9th. The U. S. steamer, Tuscarora, arrived at Kingston on the 9th. The London Times of Saturday has an editorial expatiating on the demoralizing paper currency in America.

THE RECENT ELECTION, OVERWHELMING UNION MAJORITY. The Secession Candidate for Governor Defeated by 40,000 Majority. Overthrow of Secession in Every Department. The Legislature Almost Entirely Routed. Every Secession Candidate Defeated. An Emphatic Decision for the Government. FORTSMON, (N. C.) Evening. The Newborn (N. C.) Progre, in speaking of the election which was held in that State on the 7th, says: "The final result of the election has been received, indicating the defeat of Johnson, the secession candidate for Governor, by an unparalleled majority of forty thousand." "The grand tidings came to hand just as we go to press, of the complete overthrow of secession in every department of this State." "The Union Opposition party have elected nearly every member of both branches of the Legislature by still greater majorities." "Every candidate who advocated a continuation of the war and a separation from the Union, has been defeated in every instance." "It has been a fair and square issue, strictly of a political nature, with no local or local issue of any kind." "Governor Stanley regards this vote as an emphatic decision in favor of the Union."
