APPOINTMENT OF A CHAPLAIN --- Bey, John C. Gregg, of the Methodist Episcopal Church of or Bainbridge, has been appointed chaplain of the 127th Penn'a (Col. Jennings) Regiment. This is an excellent a pointment.

CAMP CURTIN .- If any person has any religious reading which they would have circulated in Camp Curtin among the soldiers, and will Ca leave them at Mr. German's book store T will see that they are judiciously and faithfully taken care of. JOHN W. DAVIS. -----

THE PANORAMA OF THE GREAT REBELLION .-This popular and highly attractive exhibition still continues to attract numerous audiences at Brant's Hall. The painting is a veritable prodicy in art, with the hand of genius breathing through every part of it, and we advise all who have not yet enjoyed the pleasure of beholding Ca it, to do so this week, as next Saturday is positively the last night of its exhibition in this

DEPUTY U. S. MARSHAL,-Hon. A. O. Hiester of Susquehanna township, has been appointed Deputy United States Marshal, to make the enrollment for and superintend the draft in this county, which is to commence on the 8rd of lin September. Mr. Hlester was sworn into office and received his credentials yesterday. His appointment to this important post will give gen- Ca eral satisfaction to the people of our county.

Col. ALLABACH'S REGIMENT .- The Washing ton Republic of this morning says : "Yesterday afternoon about half past four o'clock, the ON 181st Pennsylvania regiment, Col. Allabach, 1,200 strong, passed up the avenue, en route for Dixie. They were armed with the new muskets, and carried two splendid national flags. They carried a full drum corps, and were headed by the Colonel-a fine looking Ca soldier-on foot."

Col. JOHN SOMMERS, late of one of the Maryland Regiments, and a native of Pennsylvania. is now in this city. He was formerly connect ed with the volunteer organization of the City of Lancaster, and as an officer, ranked very high in points of ability and discipline. The experience of such men should not be lost to their native State, and we trust that Col. Sommers may find a position in the forces of Pennsylvania, where he would be of invaluable service to his native State and to the Union.

FROM THE DAUPHIN COUNTY REGIMENT. Correspondence of the TELEGRAPH] CAMP WELLS, Va., August 19, 1862. The many relations which exist between the citizens of old Dauphin and nearly every member of this regiment prompt me to inform the readers of the TELEGRAPH of our condition and prospects. The interest of the people of Har-risburg in the prosperity and success of the 127th regiment is beyond question deeper and more intense than in any other ten companies enlisted in our country's cause. This is natural for in its ranks are more of Dauphin county'

sons than in all other regiments combined
