ADDRESS OF THE UNION STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE.

We print, to-day, The Address of the Union State Central Committee, to the loyal men of Pennsylvania, and in order to make room for this document, we omit our usual summary of other matter.

A PERTINENT QUESTION.

The Bucks County Intelligencer asks why it is that none of the Breckinridge leaders appear as speakers or partakers in the great Union war meetings now being held throughout the country?

THE DETAILS OF THE DRAFT.

Hon. A. K. McClure has kindly volunteered to aid Gov Curtin in the details and the preparations for the draft, a work of great importance.

Mr. Davis, in his message to the rebel Congress, is very severe upon the Yankees for countering his Confederate shipmasters, and boasts that none of the Southerners have been mean enough to engage in this business.

ADDRESS OF THE UNION STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE TO THE LOYAL MEN OF PENNSYLVANIA.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE UNION STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE, Commonwealth Buildings, No. 618 Chestnut street.

PHILADELPHIA, August 26, 1862.

FELLOW CITIZENS: In times of war the political organizations of peace are surrendered or postponed to the public emergency.

The State Central Committee would impress upon the people of Pennsylvania that the one great subject for them to consider is the danger to the Republic.

It is unnecessary to restate the causes of the war and the opponents have made them the substance of many and misrepresentation.

The election of Mr. Lincoln to the Presidency, so fortunate to the country, and so fruitful of saving consequences to the whole people baffled the immediate purposes of the conspirators.

Let the people decide whether that interest is deserving of confidence which, in the midst of war, refuses to abandon the prejudices of party strife, and in the midst of national peril devotes itself to the work of dividing the people.

of all slaves who aid to defend the flag of the Union, or the punishment of the reckless partisans in the adhering States who aid and comfort the rebel enemy, demoralize the people, and paralyze the arm of the Executive.

In the fulfilment of these grave duties, we have to the standard of our country men of every class and opinion.

It is a fact that you cannot too carefully ponder that the leaders of the opposition to the Government in this State are the same, with discreditable exceptions, who encouraged the policy which encouraged the traitors to commence the rebellion.

We address you, loyal brothers and friends, in the earnest hope that you will not desert your country in this momentous crisis.

Every independent laborer who is patriotic and co-operative. The comfort and necessities of our fellow citizens in the field of war—the support of our patriotic President and our fearless Governor, that they may fulfill their great trusts efficiently.

To elect these gentlemen, will require the concerted and cordial co-operation of the loyal citizens of the State.

Let the people decide whether that interest is deserving of confidence which, in the midst of war, refuses to abandon the prejudices of party strife, and in the midst of national peril devotes itself to the work of dividing the people.

FROM GEN. POPE'S ARMY

Rebel Attack on Rappahannock Station.

Withdrawal of the Union Forces.

All Quiet at Warrenton.

FROM PASSENGERS arriving here to-day, it is ascertained that on Saturday the rebels commenced operations with a will, using their artillery at Rappahannock station, and it soon became evident that this position would have to be abandoned.

There is no definite information as to the actual position or numbers of the enemy. It is generally reported in Warrenton, however, that the rebels were falling back beyond the Rappahannock, towards Culpeper.

GENERAL MORGAN'S POSITION

Big Rebel Army Near Him.

The Rebels Repulsed at Fort Donelson.

CINCINNATI, August 26.

A special dispatch to the Commercial, from the Chaplain of the Seventy-first Ohio Regiment, dated Fort Donelson, 26th inst., says that the rebels, under Col Woodard, the same that took Clarksville, made an attack on the fort and were repulsed, with the loss of thirty killed and wounded.

The rebels sent a flag of truce previous to the attack, and demanded a surrender. The question was put to the officers, and every man voted "No."

The fort was under the command of Major Hart with four companies of the seventy first Ohio—Colonel Rodney Mason's Regiment.

Col. Charles Anderson, of the Ninety-third Ohio, has been appointed commander of this post.

LATER FROM EUROPE.

Arrival of the Steamship Persia.

SANDY HOOK, Aug. 27.—10 o'clock A. M. The steamship Persia is now passing this point. Her arrival is two days later than before received.

The New York correspondent of the Times charges the North with a loss of enthusiasm, and says that if some signal humiliation befall McClellan or Pope, the independence of the South would be secured.

Napoleon's fête day passed off without political significance—he made no speech. He reviewed the National Guard on the 14th, the first time since the coup d'état.

New York, Aug. 27.—The Persia arrived at 11 o'clock. It is reported that the Tuscaroras left Warrenton by the Government orders.

The London Times contends to give a gloomy picture of American affairs, and says there is no likelihood of a termination of the war by ordinary means.
