HARRISBURG, PA.

Monday Afternoon, September 1, 1862. A HUMBUG. &c.

We are afraid we are very close to the truth when we pronounce Gen. Pope to be, in our opinion, a humbug—almost as extensive an in-sect as Fremont. Buell, we fancy, is asleep, trying to dream out what the war's about, the problem that troubled him so at first. Ulysses has fallen into the power of the Cyclops, and instead of poking out his eye, as his great namesake did, has had both his own done for We fervently pray that the next shower may bring us down a few live Generals instead of myrieds of toads. We can dispense with the reptiles, but the Generals we want. Patriot and Union, (Tory organ,) of Saturday last.

We submit the above as a fair specimen of these mean and cowardly attacks, which are daily appearing in the Tory organ of this city. Creek. While Gen. Pope, at the head of inferior number of Greek. bers, is pushing the advance of the traitor toe to the Capital of the country, while he is defende ing the ablest and most manly leaders of the rebellion, and while he is proving himself the most consumate General of the land, a journal that boasts of its achievements to this Government and friends, and prides itself on its de fence of the Constitution, presounce him humbug. Pope is a humbug in the estimation of the Breckin idgers and the organ, because he is leading loyal men to victory.

FRANK HUGHES is reaping an earlier harvest than even he, in his most sanguine moments, anticipated. He has been so lucid and so zealous in his defences of what is Constitutional that the ardor of his adherents and followers of Schuylkill, regularly organised bands of men are prepared to resist the draft—and while doing this, these men do not hesitate to declare that there is no Constitutional authority to compet them to take up arms in defence of the Government. This is take up arms in defence of the Government. This is the latest construction of the Constitution, advocated by the Breckenridgers of Pennsylvania. It is the last sample of aid and comfort ley. Commissioner-Samuel S. Dreher Strouds they are able to give their traitor allies of the south. Their next effort will be to organise bands to oppose the passage of troops either.

Magnificent Valor of the Union Troops

Special Dispatch to The Press. NEAR CENTREVILLE, Aug. 81-6 P. M. Last evening, about five o'clock, McDowern's left flank was turned, it is said, by a body of rebel cavalry, supposed to be five thousand strong. McDowern's corps being on the left of our army at the time, and the rebel cavalry being supported by infantry, McDowern's entering supported by infantry. tire corps was almost instantly swept oway. The charge was fearful. Our officers say that it exceeded, in fierce impetuosity, anything the ever saw, or heard, or read or in history,
