reflect that a sound mind and budy are the most necessary requisites to promote communities happiness. Indeed, without these, the journey through life becomes a weary playinage; the prespect hearly darkens to the view; the mind becomes abadowed with deepart and filled with the melancholty reflection that the happiness of another becomes blighted with our own.

Disease of Imprudence.

When the mirguided and imprudent votary of pleasure finds that he has imbibes the seeds of this painful disease, it too often hapens that an til-timed sense of shame or dread of discovery, deters him from applying to those who, from a blackton and respectability, can alone befriend him, delaying till the constitutional symptoms on the short of disease make their appearance, such as ulcerated sore threat, diseased mose, nocturnal pains in the head and limbs, dimness of signi, dearness, nodes on the shin bones and arms, bloches on their had face and extremities, progressing with trightful rapidity, till at last the palate of the mouth of the bones of she nose full in, and the victim of this awful disease become a horrid object of commiscration, till death puts a period to his dreadful sufferings, by sending him to "that Urdiscovversed Country from whence no traveler returns."

It is a melancholy fact that thousands fall victims to this terrible disease, owing to the unskillniness of giverant pretanders, who by the use of that Deadly Petron, Mercury, rulu the constitution and make the residue of the miscrable.

Strangers.

Strangers. Trust not your lives, or health, to the care of the many Unlearned and Wortness Pretenders, destitute of knowledge, name or character, who copy Dr. Johnson's adverved the control of the many transfer of the many transfer of the new papers, regularly Educated Physician incapable to Curing, they keep you trilling month after mount taking their filtry and potencians as compounds, or as long as the smallest fee can be obtained, and in despatr, leave you with runded health to sigh over your gailing disappointment.

O WANTED.

THE NEWS.

We give to day such further reports in relation to the recent battles in Virginia as are available. There is yet no official report of the battle of Saturday, but from other sources we learn that it was not as severe as the battle of the previous day, and that our whole losses during that day (Saturday) did not exceed 3,000. The principal fighting did not occur until and no fears are now entertained of turther dislate in the day, when the rebel reinforcements ester. were precipitated upon the left of our line, held by Gen. McDowell, and it became a necessity to fall back toward Centreville. Our losses were heavy, both in men and officers, but that of the rebels was certainly as great. Generals Hatch, Buford and Stahl are reported killed. Gon. Kearney is seriously and Gen. Sigel slightly wounded. On the rebel side Gen. Ewell is reported killed and Jackson wounded.

The position of affirs as we understand them now to be is, that our troops are massed in front of Centreville, extending forward some three miles and holding the crossings of Bull Run. The Divisions of Generals Sumner and Franklin have reached Gen. Pope and other reinforcements are going forth from Alexandria. Gen. Banks who was left with his division at Bristow Station, beyond Manassas, after destroying the rail road property there, fell back and joined General Pope without loss. It will assist the reader in understanding the position of the opposing armies, if he will recollect, that though 11 o'clock A. M. Trial of speed of the horses the present battles have been fought on or Class number 21 (6 in Nand.) will assemble in cation of the forces is different. In the campaign of the Judges stand for exhibition.

12 o'clock M.—Trial of speed of the horses southwest towards Manages Injection and southwest towards Manassas Junction; now 121 o'clock P. M-Dinner. The track will they have approached it from the northwest, be open for promiscuous driving until 2 o'clock. and the present army lines are therefore nearly 2 o'clock P. M.—Trial of speed of the horses at a right angle with those occupied in July designated by the Judges.

27 o'clock P. M.—At the sound of the bell, Class number 8 (Stallions 6 years and over,) will assemble in front of the Judges' stand for terday. Whether this apparent rest is continued on account of the severe lesses and exhaustion of both aides, or is concurred in by Pope Largely Reinforced and Advancing.

Washington, Sept. 2.

The excitement that prevailed in this city on

General Pope had been largely reinforced at Centreville by fresh troops, and his communica-tion by railroad with Washington had furnished him with sbundance of supplies and ammuni-tion. His wounded were rapidly arriving in Washington by railroad water rapidly arriving in Washington by railroad and ambulances, and it was thought he would be ready to day for active offensive operations, having made an advance yesterday. In all these respects he has the advantage of the enemy, and has of course been able to recuperate and bring his army igain into fighting condition more rapidly and effectively.

General Franklin's Corps of the army of the Potomac, with the command of General Sumner, had already joined him, together with the ner, had already joined him, together with the command of General Benks, which was temporarily cut off by the reverse of Saturday.

naving been all forwarded to General Pope. Many speculations are affoat with regard to Many speculations are affoat with regard to the condition of the enemy for supplies and water, but there can be no doubt that the plan of drawing Gen. Pope to the South aide of the Rappahannock, and then making a dash in his rear, was contemplated for a long time previous to its having taken place, and they had doubtless concentrated supplies there for the mergency. The rumored death of the rebel General Ewell, and the wounding of Gen. Jackson, is not generally credited, though in so flerce a conflict they have doubtless lost many high officers. The propriety of making an immediate advance on the enemy is extensively discussed, some preferring that time should be given for the organization and drill of the new troops and others that the blow should be stricken at

ALL QUIET ALONG THE LINES. Arrival of Gen. Banks' Command-HIS FORCES IN GOOD CONDITION

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2. Recent advices received from the vicinity of the late sanguluary conflict of our armies in Virginia, with the enemy, report affairs in that locality as comparatively quiet. The news from that quarter to-day, has been, considering nature have been circulated throughout the city, a great majority of which have been found on inquiry to be entirely unreliable. Parties who left Centieville late yesterday fternoon, report that the command of Gen. Banks, which had been rumored cut up, com-menced arriving at that point about five o'clock P. M. There can be little doubt of the correctness of this report, as our informant states that he witnessed the arrival of this command. It is further stated that a march wenty-five miles was accomplished by them on hat day in order to reach that position.
