PENNSYLVANIA HOSPITAL.

[FROM OFFIGIAL HOSTITAL REPORTS.]

MAY 19, 1860,—Ellen S., set. 28, single, never was very strong. Two years ago she had an attack of soute rheumands memor which she was confined to her bed for two weeks and subsequently from a relapse fer four more. She has been well since then till last Satur day, while engaged in house decaning, she took cold, had pain in her back, felt cold, hot had no decided chill. Two days later her ankles began so swell, which was followed by swelling of the tree joints and of the hands. She has now dull pain in her shoulders, and her knuckles are very tender, red and painful; both hands are affected, but the right is most so. This, then, is a case of scute rheumatism, or, as it is new fashionably called, rheumatic fever. It is a well remarked typical case. We will carefully watch the case, and from time to time call your attention to the various symptoms which present themsolves. My chief object is bringing her before you now, is to call attention to a remedy which has recently been recommended in the treatment of rheumatism. I mean propylamine. Dr. Awmarius, of St. Petersburg, recommends it in the highest terms, having derived great benefit from its use in 250 cases which came under his care. Various commendatory testimonials respecting it have appeared in our journals, and I propose therefore to give it another trial. I must confess I am always moredulous as to the worth of new remedies, which are vauuted as specifies; but this comes to us recommended so highly, that we are bound to give it a trial. [FROM OFFICIAL HOSPITAL REPORTS.]

SAME CASE FOUR DAYS LATER!

SAME CASE FOUR DAYS LATER!

May 23, 1860.—I will now exhibit to you the patient for whom I prescribed Propylamine, and was then laboring under an attack of acute rheumatism. She has steadily taken it in does of three grains every two hours intermitting it at night.) The day after you saw her, I found her much more comfortable, better than she expected to be for a week or more, judging from her other attack. (The patient now walked into the room.) The improvement has steadily progressed, and you cannot it to notice a marked change in the appearance of her ints, which are now nearly all of their natural size.—nur far our experiment would have seemed very successful; but, gentlemen, we must wait a little while before we can give a decided opinion as to what is to be the result.

the result.

Bere is another patient who was placed on the use of the same medicine on Sunday last; she has long been suffering from o tronic rheumatism, and I found her at that time with an acute attack supervening upon her chronic affection. The wrists and kunckles were much swellen and tense. She took the chloride of Propylamine in three grain doese every two hours, and you will perceive that the swelling of the joints has much diminished.

THREE DAYS LATER!!

THREE DAYS LATER!!

MAY 28, 1860.—This is the case of acute rheumatism cated with propylamine, the first of those to which I alled your attention at our last clinic. She is still very comfortable, and is now taking three grains thrice daily. In this case it has seemed to be followed by very satisfactory ressits. The second case to which your attention was called at our last lecture, has also continued to do wel? I will now bring before you a very characteristic case of acute rheumatism, and if the result be satisfactory, I think, as good jurymen, we shall justly render one verdict in favor of propylamin

He is a scamma, set. 28, who was admitted a few days go. Has had coassional rheumatic pains, but not so as to keep his bed, until eight days go. The pains began in his right kines, subsequently affected the left kines, and later, the joints of the upper extremities. These joints are all swollen, teuse and tender. His tongue is furred, his skin, at present dry, though there has been much weating. His pulse is full and strong, and about 90.—He has now used propylamine for twenty-four hours.

This gentleman is what may be called a strictly typical case of soute rheumatism. There was exposure to cold and wet, and this exposure is followed by a feeling of coldness, severe articular pain, beginning, as it usually does, in the lower joints. There is fever and the profuse swesting, so generally attendant on acute rheumatism.

I did not being this patient before you with the lutention of giving you a lecture on all the points consocied with rheumatism, but to sealing the x trial to the new remedy we are testing, and to exhibit to you this typical case, as I have called it, than which there could not be a fairer opportunity for testing the medicine in question. We are, therefore, avoiding the use of all other medicines, even anodynes, that there may be no misgivings as to which was the efficient remedy. You shall see the case of a future clinic.

THE RESULT.

A FAVORABLE VERDICT.

JUME 9, 1860.—The next of our convalencents is the case of acuter heumatism before you at our clinic of May 26th, which I then called a typical case, and which it was remarked was a fair opportunity for testing the worth of our new remedy. It was therefore steadily given in three grain doses every two hours for four days. The pattent has got along very uncely, and is now able to walk about, as you see. I do not nesitate to say that I have neven seen as severe a case of acute renematism so soon restored to health as this man has been, and without being prepared to decide positive by as to the value of the remedy we have used, I see hound to state that in the cases in which we have tried the Chloride o Propylamine, the patients nave regained their health much earlier than under the treatment ordinarily purvised. I wish gentlemen, you would yourselves try it, and report the results.

For a full report of which the above is a condensed extract, see the Philadelphia Medical and Surgical Reporter. It is the report after a fair trial by the best med cal authority in this country, and makes it unnecessar; to give numerous certificates from astonished doctors and rejoicing patients.
