PENNSYLVANIA HOSPITAL. [FROM OFFICIAL HOSPITAL REPORTS.]

[FROM OFFICIAL HOSTFAL RIPORTS.]

MAY 19, 1860,—Elien S., set. 28, single, never was very strong. Two years ago she had an attack of acuts rheumatum, from which she was confined to beep hed for two weeks and subtegenity from a relapse for four more. She has been well times then till last Baturday, while engaged in house cleaning, she took cold, bad pain in her back, felt cold, bot had no dedded chill. Two days later her ankies began so swell, which was followed by swelling, of the knee joints and of the hands.—She has now dull pain in her shoulders, and her knuckles are very tender, red and painful; both hands are affected, but the right is most so. This, then, is a case of scute rheumatism, or, as it is now fashionably called, rhesensite fever. It is a well remarked typical case. We will carefully watch the case, and from time to time call your attention to the various symptoms which present themselves. My chief object in bringing her before you now, is to call attention to a remody which has recently been recommended in the treatment of rheumatism.—I mean propylemate. Dr. Awenaritis, of St. Petersburg, recommends. it—in the highest terms, having derived great benefit from its use to 550 cases which came under his care. Various commendatory testimoulais respecting it have appeared in our journals, and I propose therefore to give it another strial. I must confess I am always muredulous as to the worth of new remedies, which are vaunted as specifies; but this comes to us recommended so highly, that we are bound to give it a trial.

SAME CASE FOUR DAYS LATER! SAME CASE FOUR DAYS LATER!

MAY 23, 1860.—I will now exhibit to you the patient for whem I prescribed Propylamine, and was then laboring under an attack of acute rheumatism. She has steadily taken it in dose of three grains every two hours (intermitting it at night.) The day after you saw her, I found her much more comfortable, better than she expected to be for a week or more, judging from her other attack. (The patient now walked into the room.) The improvement has steadily progressed, and you cannot all to notice a marked change in the appearance of her libits, which are now nearly all of their natural size.—In far our experiment would have seemed very successful; but, gentlemen, we must wait a little while believe we can give a decided opinion as to what is to be the result.

the result.

Here is another patient who was placed on the use of the same medicine on Sunday last; she has long been suffering from a broule rhoumatism, and I found her at that time with an agust attack-unpercenting upon the chroate affection. The wrists and knuckles were much swellen and tense. She took the chloride of Propylamins in three grain doses every two hours, and you will perselve that the swelling of the joints has much diminshed.

THREE DAYS LATER !!

THREE DAYS LATER!!

MAY 26, 1860.—This is the case of acute rheumatism ested with proplamine, the first of those to which I alled your attention at our last clinic. She is still very comfortable, and is now taking three grains thrice daily. In this case it has seemed to be followed by very estimated to the control of th

THE RESULT.

A FAVORABLE VERDICT.

June 9, 1866.—The next of our convalescents is the case of acute rheumatism before you at our clinic of May 38th, which I then called a typical case, and which it was remarked was a fair opportunity for testing the worth of our new remedy. It was therefore steadily given in three grain doese every two hours for four days, the patient has got along very nicely, and is now able to walk shout, as you see. I do not hesitate to say that I have never severe a case of acute rheumatism so, soon, settored to bealth as this man has been, and without being prepared to decide positive by as to the value of their-genedy we have used, I feel bound to state that in the cases in which we have tried the Chloride o Propylamine, the patients have regained their health much earlier than under the treatment ordinarily pursued. I wish gattensen, you would yourselves try it, and report the results.

For a full report of which the above is a condensed extract, see the Philadelphia Medical and Surgical Reporter. It is the report after a fair trial by the best med cal authority in this country, and makes it unnecessary to give numerous certificates from assonished doctor. and reloiding nationis.
