THE SITUATION. We had direct information this forenoon from official sources that General Sigel had attacked the rear guard of the rebel army at Frederick; that he was shelling their camp last night, and that the rebels were retreating towards Wil liamsport.

From Chambersburg and Greencastle we hear that Captain Palmer (who was supposed to be captured yesterday by the rebels) had safely returned to Greencastle, after spending a whole day in a rebel camp some five miles from Hagerstown. He states that some five hundred rebel cavalry was encamped at the place, that the men were jubilant, drinking plenty of liquors and living on the fat of the land. Capt. Palmer was so much disguised, that when he returned to his own men, they did not recognize him and would hardly believe that it was himself. The rebel soldiers never suspected for a moment that Capt. Palmer was a spy, and were very communicative, telling him that they would leave to-day for Greencastle and Chambersburg, and were very jubilant over the prospect of entering Pennsylvania. Our forces at Chambersburg are increasing rapidly from all parts of the country. Col. M'Clure has organized them in the most efficient manner, notwithstanding that they are mostly raw troops, they will give the rebels a most terribly drubbing. Gen. Reynolds, a most efficient officer of the dance, and all we want now are the men to man them. The location of the main body of the army is beyond Hagerstown and situated so that they can cross at Williamsport. The heavy rain during yesterday and last night has swollen the Potomac considerable, but we fear not sufficient for to obstruct their crossing. Our former expressed opinion, that they will fall back into Virginia is partially confirmed, but in honor of cur noble army and its commanding General we hope that the rebels will not be permitted to withdraw without a battle. They are now in such a position that we can not only whip them but entirely destroy them. The Mayor of this city has issued a stringent Proclamation forbidding able bodied men to leave the city. This is right and proper; let us all prepare to do battle at a minute's notice.

NOMINATIONS FOR STATE SENATOR. Samuel E. Duffield has been nominated as the Senatorial candidate of the Union men of Duffield is a very popular man in his district, repeatedly declined the tender of office, contented with his profession and his private efforts to serve the people. At this juncture, however, he has been induced to accept a nomination, because he is convinced that he can be of vast service in the position for which he is named. if not for the entire ticket, at least for himself by a majority which will at once indicate his personal popularity at home.

wealth have been moved by the most serious apprehensions of invasion by a rebel force. These facts remind us of an incident in the legislative career of one of our opponents, which it is due to truth and candor, should be laid before the public. At a period when the hot shot and bombs were falling thick and fast around the gallant band who were defending their country's honor in Fort Sumter, Gov Curtin had sent into the Legislature of the state, then in session, a message suggesting the better organization of the militia, and asking for an appropriation of five hundred thousand dollars to place the state on a war footing. When the bill proposing to make this appropriation came before the Legislature, Dr. Heck voted against it, and thus practically declared his disregard of all that aimed at the defence of At the present hour a still greater danger menaces the free states than that which threatened this regiment. aces the free states than that which threatened them when Fort Sumter was attacked.
