HEADQUARTERS PENNSYLVANIA MILITIA, Harrisburg, Sept. 10, 1862.

In view of the danger of invasion now threat-ening our State, by the enemies of the government, it is deemed necessary to call upon all the able-bodied men of Pennsylvania to organ ize immediately for the defence of the State

First, That Company organizations be made in accordance with the number required under 80 privates as the minimum, and 98 privates as the maximum standard of each company.

Second. As the call may be sudden, it is desirable that the officers and member of each company provide themselves with the best arms they can secure, with at least sixty rounds of ammunition to suit the kind of arms in posses-sion of the soldier. Such persons as cannot secure and bring arms with them, will be furnished by the government after their arrival at the place of readexvous.

Third. Each officer and member of the company shall provide himself with good stout clothing, (uniform or otherwise,) boots, blanket and haversack, ready to go into camp when called into service.

Fourth. Each company organization to be perfected as soon as possible, and report the name of officer in command, the number of men and the place of its headquarters, to these headquarters, in order that they may be promptly notified to move when their services are re-

Fifth. Organizations, when ordered to move, will be furnished with transportation by the government.

Sixth. On arrival at the place of rendezvous they will be formed into regiments or such other organizations as the Governor, Commander-in-Chief of Pennsylvania, may direct.

Seventh. So far as practicable and as may be found consistent with the interests of the public service, companies from the same localities will be put together in such larger organizations as may be formed.
