The Publication of Army Movements

HEADQUARTERS OF THE ABMY, WARHINGTON, Sept. 19.

Major General S. G. Foster, commanding the Department of North Carolina, has called attention to an article in the New York Evening Post of September 10th, in which are published the numbers and positions of his troops.

He remarks that New York papers always reach the enemy a few days after their publica-tion, and that such information from our friends is more injurious than gained by the rebel

LARGE FIRE AT BUFFALO. BUFFALO, Sept. 19. At one o'clock this morning a fire broke out in the brick building, corner of Water and Nolens streets, used as a grain drying house.—

The fire spread rapidly to the Evane & Sterling's elevator, which, with their contents, were destroyed. The fire then crossed Nolens street, communicating to Bell's foundry, Klein & Dorson's pump and block factory, and a number of ten-ant houses on Evans, Eby and Lecoulaleaux streets, all of which were burned. Crossing the Evans ship canal, the fire spread to Evans, and the warchouses in this victority were stored with between 20,000 and 30,000 barrels of whisky and high priced wines, owned by Mr. Williams, the larger portion of which were saved.

David Bell's loss is estimated at $50,000 to $70,000. The loss of Evans is not known, but is mostly covered by insurance. The loss will probably reach a buf williams. probably reach a half million of dollars. Some thirty or forty buildings were destroyed. The elevators contained 18,372 bushels of wheat, 14,000 bushels of corn, and 28,900 bushels of
