HARRISBURG, PA. Saturday Afternoon, September 27, 1862.

NOTICE.

Quarter Master Hale, desires to state, that his department is now over supplied with lint and bandages. In return for the prompt liberality of the people, he is also grateful, and feels that those thus meeting the wants of the wounded, have earned the highest praise.

There will be preaching in the Methodist Church, Locust street, to-morrow evening only.

LIBERTY. CHARLES SNYDER, of this city, who was taken prisoner in one of the battles before Richmond under Gen. Pope, has been paroled and arrived at Fortress Monroe recently.

ARRESTED FOR A LARCENY.—Officer Campbell this morning arrested Henry Heylon, on the charge of having stolen a watch, &c., from Joseph Hoffman. He was committed to prison to answer.

THE PEOPLE'S UNION EXECUTIVE Committee of the several wards of the city of Harrisburg, are requested to meet at the Park House, at 7 1/2 o'clock, P. M., on Monday, the 29th inst.

A PHILANTHROPIST who has been devoting some time to the hospitals in this city, informs us that while visiting the one in which the Scotch prisoners are cared for, he found that yesterday and this morning, they were all enjoying themselves hugely in reading the Tory organ. Of course they would be—as that sheet is likely to afford some relief than any lotion which our surgeons could offer.

WE WERE NOT AWARE, until this morning, that the School Department of the State of Pennsylvania had taken charge of the Breckinridge candidates for the Legislature in this county. We noticed a clerk in that Department gallantly introducing him to the people as a Democratic candidate for the Legislature.

CAPT. DARR, of Snyder county, while proceeding with his boat in the canal, and when just in the act of passing the bridge below Chestnut street, his boat struck a pier, and almost instantly sunk. It was loaded with lumber, and the water in the canal will have to be drawn off before the boat can be raised.

GETTYSBURG was visited by a very destructive fire on Wednesday evening last. The flames were first observed issuing from the stable of Mr. Nicholas Codori, on the alley between Chambersburg and West Middle streets.

The fire had scarcely been extinguished, when another was discovered in a stable some distance from the first, in which hay, gears, carriages, wagons, sleighs and harness to an invaluable amount were destroyed.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—About half past six o'clock on Thursday evening a terrible accident occurred on the P. R. R. at the first bridge east of Parkburg. The train was going east, conveying returning militia, from West Chester and vicinity.

Another.—About three o'clock yesterday morning another accident occurred, resulting in the death of John Ott, a brakeman on a freight train. The train was near Bohrerstown, Lancaster county, when the coupling was disconnected by some means between the cars, and part of the train left behind.

Still Another.—On Wednesday night last, about 12 o'clock a train carrying troops passed through Carlisle, and ran over a young man named John Shriver, who was lying on the track, and the engine and entire train passed over his body, tearing and mangling it most horribly.

THOMAS SEARCH was killed by the morning passenger train over the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad on Thursday last, between Lewisburg and Northumberland stations. He was in the act of driving a hog over the track, when the cow-catcher knocked him off, killing him instantly.

HENRY NEWCOMB, an employe on the Railroad, was killed at Lewisburg station lately, in the act of coupling cars.

CLOSED.—The Freeburn House—charges selling liquor to minors, habitual drunkards, on Sunday, and for keeping a disorderly house.—There is another hole on Third street, where liquor is sold without discretion, and should also be returned.

SOMETHING NEW.—Messrs. Coyle and Herr, Proprietors of Herr's Hotel, have just received from Havana, a superior lot of Havana Segars, of the "Albama" Brand. We judge a statement of the fact is sufficient to draw smokers to Herr's to procure a supply of that justly celebrated brand. sept25-dm&e2d

SELF-MUTILATION TO AVOID BEING DRAFTED.—A young man living in Bloomfield township, Crawford county, made his appearance before Dr. Ray, at Centerville, on Thursday last, for the purpose of getting exempted from the draft. In order to disqualify himself for military duty he had cut off his right fore finger above the first joint.

LINT A HUMBUG.—A writer in the Boston Post says of lint:—"Every ounce of lint sent to the army does mischief. Its only use is to cover up the blunders of bad surgery. It is seldom used by the best surgeons here. In the army it is crowded into wounds by men who know no other way to stop hemorrhage, and there it remains till it becomes filled with filth and maggots. It retains the discharges till they putrefy, and produce intolerable stench.

SANFORD'S OPERA HOUSE.—This great institution is in full tide of success. As an evidence of this, drop in and see for yourselves. It is refreshing to see a crowded house at any place of amusement—the performers invariably exert themselves the more. Sanford has a grip upon the public which he intends to hold, and is determined to let them know it, if advertisement at all is any assistance. He gives it to them (see entire column in this issue) with such stars as Sam Sharpley, Myers, Flake, Williams and others.

THE CONDITION OF THE WOUNDED IN THE LATE TERRIBLE RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—The men who were injured by the collision on the Cumberland Valley railroad, yesterday, are comfortably lodged in one of the warehouses of the Harrisburg cotton mills, corner of North and Second streets. We visited these victims of carelessness last night, and found that they were all doing as well as the condition of their injuries would permit.

With the exception of the escaped slave, Harris, all of the injured will recover. Harris, however, was so badly injured, that he cannot possibly survive until this morning. Every attention that skill could devise or kindness suggest, has been shown him, and while we were present in the building, we noticed the Rev. Frank Moore ministering to his relief and his comfort, and giving him such Christian counsel as the hour and his condition seemed to demand.

Our people and our physicians have been most assiduous in their attention to these unfortunate. They need for nothing which is necessary for their comfort.

THE LATE RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—Elsewhere we give an account of the condition of the wounded, who were injured in the catastrophe on the other side of the river yesterday morning.

INCIDENTS OF THE ACCIDENT.—While the wreck of cars were being removed, we noticed one man whose left foot and arm were firmly held in the jam, assisting in the removal with his right arm, giving directions as calmly and as practically as if he was not in danger and entirely unhurt.

Another man, whose head and face were only visible, displayed the utmost coolness. He was full of information, and almost gaily remarked that both his legs were "badly smashed." The ladies of Harrisburg were very prompt in hurrying over the bridge to render what assistance they could, and in furnishing the necessary lint and bandages for the wounded.

WHO ARE RESPONSIBLE? Of course, in an accident like this, the first cry is, Who is to blame? Who are responsible? It matters little to the sufferers, after they have been maimed and mangled, and after they have undergone the terrible operation of an amputation, who is to blame. The railroad company must deal with those who are to blame, while the injured will deal with the railroad company, which is responsible to every man—responsible for the injury inflicted—responsible to the families of those who were killed—responsible for every expense incurred in the whole affair—and responsible for the loss which is to follow, in the way of support to families.

THE MERE DISCHARGE of an engineer, or the reprimand of a brakeman will not excuse the company. A greater example than this is needed for the wholesale slaughter. Let it be made by mulcting the company in heavy damages for every man wounded or killed.

AN EXCELLENT ASSOCIATION is about starting in Chicago, which should have its counterparts through the country. It is a "Gratuitous War Claim Association," for the purpose of collecting bounties, pensions, and back pay of deceased soldiers, and also for the prosecution of all war claims.

INDIFFERENCE TO DEATH DURING BATTLE.—A soldier, who was in all the battles before Richmond, remarks that "it is astonishing how indifferent to danger a man becomes in action, after being in a short time. While supporting the battery some of our men lay down on the ground and slept soundly, utterly regardless of the shells that were bursting around them. If I had not seen this, I certainly never would have believed it."

THE FOLLOWING GEM is too good to be lost, and hence we transfer it to our columns, where its beauty can be the better appreciated by our critical readers:

WE ARE COMING, FATHER JEFFERSON. We are coming, Father Jefferson—not as we went away. Two hundred thousand stand and strong, all eager for the fray—From the Potomac's winding stream, and Maryland's loyal land, We are coming, Father Jefferson, a whipped and used up band.

WE ARE COMING, FATHER JEFFERSON, some twenty thousand less, A sad mistake you made, dear dad, although you did your best, For Maryland loves her country, and you were misinformed—We're coming, Father Jefferson, seeking shelter from the storm.

WE ARE COMING, FATHER JEFFERSON, to get away from Blacky. He's close upon our rear, dear dad, we hear his rattle crack. He has whipped our greatest Generals, and we're coming sadly home, With fearful eyes we're looking for old Richmond's sunny dome.

WE ARE COMING, FATHER JEFFERSON, see that the way is clear, We are fearful that young Sigel is ahead with "Lager Bier." We fear that grim old Heintzleman is close upon our track, We are coming, Father Jefferson, if we only can get back.

ONE OF THE UNRECORDED INCIDENTS OF THE CAMP.—Many a glorious incident of the field, and many a humane action in the hospitals of the army, will be described by the lips of our soldiers, but how few of these will be recorded by the pens of the country. Yesterday we happened to be in conversation with one of our brave Dauphin county boys, a soldier from gallant old Wilmocoo township, who had seen the brunt of the hardship of the march and the brunt of the battle, and who knew what it was to suffer some of the imposition of the hospital.

He was with McClellan in the swamps, and was wounded in one of the severe skirmishes which took place in that locality. He was sent to the hospital, and then, to use his own homely but emphatic language, "he suffered lots and gobs of pain, and thought that at one time he would be compelled to fall back in good order into the grave."

While he was in the hospital at Harrison's Landing, he noticed a quiet, benevolent, middle aged lady, hovering over sick beds like a ministering angel, and passing among the wounded with the power of a health-giving, soothing and inspiring influence. One day the kind manly lady told a number of sick Pennsylvanians, that she would order a lot of oysters to be sent to the hospital, as she believed that stewed oyster broth would be invigorating to the system.

The oysters came, but the surgeons and some of the nurses in charge decided that they were not the thing for the sick—that a soldier should not luxuriate on oyster broth—that it would unfit him for his usual rations when he was discharged from the hospital—and therefore surgeons and nurses had a grand time over a splendid oyster supper that night. The next morning the same lady returned, as ever the bearer of comfort and cheer to the wounded; and upon inquiring after the health of her sons, as she called all in the hospital, desired to know how they had relished their oysters. The poor sick boys hesitated for a moment, and then informed her, that the oysters had been decided unfit food for common soldiers—and that the gentlemanly nurses and brave surgeons had regaled themselves with those she had sent, in an oyster supper. A frown suddenly gathered on her features, but it as suddenly gave way to the placid smile which was wont to render her countenance so beautiful in the eyes of the sick men to whom she ministered.

At this moment several of the nurses and surgeons appeared; and having heard that the old lady was inquiring as to the disposition of the oysters, and learning that she was informed as to their conduct, attempted to look very dignified, and in an imperious voice wanted to know why the old woman was interfering with the men, and what right she had to sow discontent among the patients.—She gently remonstrated, and in a seeming supplicating voice, said that she thought she had some right in the hospital. One of the surgeons next inquired as to how she sustained that right. This was answered by the old lady that she had a son in the army: "Plenty women have sons in the army, and still they have no right to interfere with the hospitals," was the insolent rejoinder. "What is the name of your boy, mother," was the next question.

"George B. McClellan," mildly replied the lady. Had a bomb shell suddenly burst in the midst of those surgeons and nurses—or had the entire rebel army suddenly rushed on the hospital, the confusion could not have been greater among all present. The surgeons and nurses, scarcely knowing what they did, added to their humiliation by their awkward apologies—while the sick soldiers who were within hearing of what was going on, rose on their pallets, cheered and then fell back again weeping and sobbing with ecstasy of joy.

It was the mother of Major General George B. McClellan who had been the nurse and the benefactor of the sick soldier. What mother in the land will refuse to invoke Heaven's richest blessing on her head?

DR. HECK'S RECORD!

His Liberality to the Soldiers!

At a period when the hot shot and bombs were falling thick and fast around the gallant band who were defending their country's honor in Fort Sumter, Gov. Curtin had sent into the Legislature of the State, then in session, a message suggesting the better organization of the militia, and asking for an appropriation of five hundred thousand dollars to place the state on a war footing. When the bill proposing to make this appropriation came before the Legislature, Dr. Heck voted against it, and thus practically declared his disregard of all that aimed at the defence of our homes and the preservation of our liberties.

The bill as it passed, can be found in the last year's volume of the laws of the state, page 229—and the proceedings attending its passage in the House, in the Journal of 1861, page 957. We extract the yeas and nays as they appear substantially on the Journal of the House:

Yeas—Messrs. Abbott, Acker, Alexander, Anderson, Armstrong, Ashcom, Austin, Ball, Barnaby, Bartholomew, Blise, Bixler, Blair, Blanchard, Bliss, Boyer, Bressler, Brewster, Bruns, Butler, (Crawford,) Byrne, Clark, Cowan, Craig, Douglas, Duncan, Eilenberger, Elliott, Frasier, Gibboney, Gosharing, Gordon, Graham, Happer, Harvey, Hayes, Hillman, Hood, Hofius, Huhn, Irvin, Koch, Lawrence, Leisinger, Lowther, M'Gonigal, Marshall, Moore, Mullin, Ober, Osterhout, Patterson, Pierce, Preston, Pughe, Raily, Ridgway, Robinson, Roller, Seltzer, Shafer, Sheppard, Smith, (Berks,) (Smith, (Philadelphia,) Siehman, Strang, Taylor, Toller, Thomas, Tracy, Walker, Whites, Wilday, Williams, Wilson and Davis, Spicker—76.

NAYS—Messrs. Brodhead, Butler, (Carbon,) Caldwell, Cope, Dismant, Divins, Donley, Duffield, Dunlap, Gaskill,

HECK,

Hill, Kline, Lichtenwalner, M'Donough, Manifold, Morrison, Myers, Randall, Relf and Rhoads—21.

Freemen of Dauphin county! Soldiers! who marched at the first call of danger to the defence of the capital of your country, and who still rest upon your arms night and day around the limits of that capital, are you ready to vote for a man who so lightly estimated the honor of your country and the lives of its defenders? Dr. Heck is one of the old Breckinridge Democrats who sympathized and still sympathize with and confide in the course of the traitor Breckinridge, and showed his attachment for those who are at the head of this rebellion by refusing to make an appropriation to arm the great state of Pennsylvania to aid their overthrow and its suppression. This man is again before you, and again solicits your vote that he may again disgrace the halls of legislation with his presence and his conduct.—He desires to be returned that he may aid in embarrassing the future efforts of our noble old commonwealth in assisting to redeem the land from rebellion by enforcing the laws and vindicating the federal authority. No patriot, no brave, loyal lover of his country can vote for Dr. Heck.

A MODEL ESTABLISHMENT.—Among the many improvements lately made in our city, to which we can point with pride as an evidence of property and as a determination on the part of our business men, no longer to remain behind the "light house," is the completion of Eby & Kunkle's large brick building at the corner of Market and Fifth streets, which is alike creditable to the owners and ornamental to that part of our city.

The building is not only one of the largest, devoted to the grocery business, outside of New York, but the stock challenges competition.—Without going into detail, we may safely say that the firm keep on hand everything usually kept in a grocery store, (liquors excepted), and that they sell at very small profits. Their clerks are civil and accommodating, and have strict instructions under no circumstances whatever to misrepresent or take advantage of any customer. A general invitation is extended to the public to visit the new building and examine the extensive stock, whether they purchase or not.

Dr. Johnson, Member of the Royal College of Surgeons, London, Graduate from one of the most distinguished Colleges in the United States, and the greater part of whose life has been spent in the hospitals of London, Paris, Philadelphia and elsewhere, has effected some of the most remarkable cures of those who were overgrown with disease, and who were afflicted with all the most dangerous symptoms, being alarmed at sudden deaths, and with frequent fainting attacks, and with symptoms of mental derangement.

Take Particular Notice. Dr. J. addresses all those who have neglected themselves by improper indulgence on solitary habits, which not only body and mind, but also the business, pleasure, and domestic enjoyments of life.

Marriage. reflect that a sound mind and body are the most necessary requisites to promote conjugal happiness. Indeed, without these, the journey through life becomes a weary pilgrimage, and the prospect of a bright future to the view; the mind becomes shadowed with gloom, and the heart with a singular appearance, a "out the eye, cough and symptoms of consumption."

Young Men who have injured themselves by a certain practice in indulged in when alone, and frequently tarried from evil companions, or at school, the effects of which are nightly felt, even when asleep, and if not cured renders marriage impossible, and destroys both mind and body, should apply immediately.

Disease of Impudence. When the misguided and imprudent votary of pleasure finds that he has imbibed the seeds of this painful disease, it too often happens that he frequently tarried from or dread of discovery, deters him from applying to those who, from aunction and respectability, can alone befriend him, delaying till the constitutional symptoms on the head and limbs, dimness of sight, deafness, nodes on the skin, nose and ears, blotches on the face, and uncontrollable profuse sweating, with rigid rigidity, all at last the palate of the mouth or the bones of the nose fall in, and the victim of this awful disease becomes a horrid object of commiseration, all with pain a period to his dreadful suffering, by sending him to that Unhappy Country from whence no traveler returns.

It is a melancholy fact that thousands fall victims to this terrible disease, owing to the unskillfulness of ignorant practitioners, who by the use of mercury and blood purgatives, ruin the constitution and make the residue of life miserable.

Strangers. Trust not your lives and health to the care of the many Unlearned and Worthless Pretenders, destitute of knowledge, name or character, who copy Dr. Johnson's advertisement, or style themselves in the newspapers, regularly Registered Physicians, and who, for a few dollars, keep you trifling months after months taking their filthy and poisonous compounds, or as long as the smallest fee can be obtained, and in despair, leave you with ruined health to sigh over your appearance, such as all Dr. Johnson is the only Physician—overseeing.

Indorsement of the Press. The many thousands who in the last thirteen years after, and the numerous important Surgical Operations performed by Dr. Johnson, witnessed by the reporters of the "Sun," "Clipper," and many other papers, notices of which have appeared in all the newspapers before the public, besides his standing as a gentleman of character and respectability, is a sufficient guarantee to the afflicted.

Skin Diseases speedily Cured. Persons writing to me for information, or for their letters to his Institution, in the following manner: JOHN M. JOHNSON, M. D., of the Baltimore Lock Hospital, Baltimore, Md.
