BY TELEGRAPH. FROM ARKANSAS. Expedition Down the Mississippi. AN ATTACK BY GUERRILLAS. The Rebels Driven off With Twenty-Seven Killed. HELENA, ARK., Sept. 26.

Recently an expedition consisting of the transports Italian, Alabama and Ram Queen of the West, carrying about 250 troops and several pieces of artillery, left Old Town and sailed down the river as far as Ureca, forty miles below the mouth of the Arkansas.

As the expedition descended the river it was fired upon by guerrillas at Prentiss, a town on the Mississippi shore, opposite Napoleon, at Island No. 76, killing at the latter place one man. One of the Italian's boats shelled the woods along the shore but with what damage is not known. On the return trip a large force of guerrillas, numbering 1,500 or 2,000 under command of Villiquette, occupied the shores here, and opened a brisk cannonading on the boats with volleys of musketry, the boats returned the compliment with shot and shell, killing 24 of the rebels and driving them back in the country in the direction of Bolivar, after which part of the forces disembarked and burned the town of Prentiss.

The transports were shelled by musket balls and two 6 pound cannon shot passed entirely through the cabin of the Alhambra, our loss is 8 killed and several wounded. From Missouri. The Whereabouts of the Rebel Army. General Schofield Preparing to March Against Them. SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Sept. 26. Portions of the rebel army under Gen. Hindman and Raines are now at Granby Mines, Newton county, near the Arkansas line. General Schofield is preparing to march against them, and as his army is in excellent condition and composed of the best troops in the State, there is every reason to believe that he will be successful if they wait an attack. If they retreat, they will be driven out of the State, and portions probably occupied by troops that will prevent another inroad.

The latest advices from the rebel army state it to be a motley crowd of mariners, some well armed, but the most having such weapons as could be gathered through Arkansas. Their number is about twelve thousand. Gen. Schofield, at his own request, has been relieved from his distinct command, and now commands the army of Missouri in the field. The Army of the Potomac. AFFAIRS AT HARPER'S FERRY. CAPTURE OF REBEL CANNON. BALTIMORE, Sept. 28.

The American of last evening contains the following: We this morning conversed with a gentleman who left Harper's Ferry at five o'clock last evening, who reports one of the pontoon bridges up and another in the course of construction, whilst a large force is engaged on the railroad bridge. A large force of cavalry and artillery, numbering over five thousand men, under command of General Sumner, started on a reconnaissance from Harper's Ferry at three o'clock on Friday afternoon, towards Charlestown. A mile from the Ferry they started up a picket of one hundred and fifty rebel cavalry, capturing some of them and who in the afternoon cannonading was heard in the direction of Charlestown, but no intelligence had been received at the Ferry as to the result of the reconnaissance, which was intended to feel the position of the enemy up towards Sheppardstown and Martinsburg.

LATEST FROM HEADQUARTERS. We also had the pleasure of an interview this morning with Captain Prime, of the New York 5th, who is detailed to look up and forward to the regiments all stragglers and convalescents who may be found in the Northern cities. Captain Prime informs us that the army is in fine condition and excellent spirits, anxious to move on the enemy again at the earliest possible moment. Their confidence in General McClellan has increased ten fold, and the wisdom of his declining to dash across the river into the trap the enemy had prepared for him, is now universally admitted. A grand movement of the army was, however, momentarily expected, and every arrangement was making for it, but no one had the slightest idea as to the course that would be taken, the General keeping his own counsel. Anticipated that the next week would be big with events of importance. Our troops are learning some of the tactics of the enemy, and since the Rebels were driven over the Potomac at this point have kept them awake with reconnaissance and dashes across the river. When General Pleasonton drove their rear-guard over we succeeded in capturing three fine pieces of artillery and two scores of prisoners. A day or two later Col. Warren, commanding a brigade at this point, sent over a company of the 5th New York and brought back another fine brass piece. The Rebel pickets fell back as our men advanced, and the drummer of the 5th, whom Col. Warren had sent over as a punishment for showing some nervousness under fire on a previous occasion, brought the gun over. An attempt was also made to bring off a caisson, but the Rebels rallied and took it off. The regiment was drawn upon the canal bank during the affair, and some shots were exchanged, but without serious results. One man, Sergeant Crowley, of the 5th, was wounded in the leg.

Yesterday afternoon the 62d Pennsylvania Regiment, Colonel Switzer, with a section of the 1st New York Artillery, the whole attached to Griffin's Brigade, crossed the river at Reynolds's Ford, below Sheppardstown, and brought over four hundred rifles mostly marked London, 1862, and one fine 12 pound rifled brass piece, of English manufacture. The affair was accomplished rapidly, and with entire success. The Rebel pickets fell back as our men advanced, without resistance, and not even a shot was exchanged. These little affairs have an excellent effect upon the men, and their cheering, as the men with their prizes reached this side, was hearty and enlivening.

TO GRiffin's Brigade, crossed the river at Reynolds's Ford, below Sheppardstown, and brought over four hundred rifles mostly marked London, 1862, and one fine 12 pound rifled brass piece, of English manufacture. The affair was accomplished rapidly, and with entire success. The Rebel pickets fell back as our men advanced, without resistance, and not even a shot was exchanged. These little affairs have an excellent effect upon the men, and their cheering, as the men with their prizes reached this side, was hearty and enlivening.

Later From Europe. Details of the News by the Anglo Saxon. Excitement in American Affairs. THE ENGLISH PRESS RAVING Building of Vessels for the Rebels. The stirring news from America brought by the steamship Europa, and subsequent steamers was the theme of universal comment.

The defeat of General Pope's army was regarded as most disastrous for the north, but the valor displayed by the northern troops in the second Bull Run was generally admitted. The London Times admits that the Federal troops fought with more than ordinary courage, and that their two days fighting rescues their military character from reproach, but everything except that honor for them is but dust. The gallant stand which the Federal army made, only takes the sting of disgrace out of their overthrow.

The London Daily News admits the severity of the defeat of the Federal Army, and thinks that there will be more bloody battles in Maryland. The London Times argues that the Federal government is brought to the verge of ruin, and believes that such a term may be safely used when it is no longer safe to execute the function of the government in the capital.

It urges that had as the prospects of the Federal now appear, there is no element of better prospect in the future. The London Star considers the northern cause hopeless, because the emancipation of the slaves in the southern States has not been proclaimed, and urges the adoption of that measure. The London Herald thinks that the North will do well to consider the expediency of making a compromise with the South at once.

The London Morning Post, points out the grounds on which the Confederate government may claim recognition from the European Powers. The question of substitutes for cotton attract more and more attention, but practical men express but little faith in the substitutes offered. The excitement in jute and hemp has subsided. It is reported that three of the finest steamers on the Clyde, the Iron, the Giraffe and the Olydesdale, have been sold to the Confederate Government.

The Liverpool Telegraph says, besides the commissions committed to other ship builders by the Confederate government, which are being pushed forward with all possible despatch, a large iron plated ram is being constructed on the river Mersey, without any attempt being made at concealment. This ram will be of the most formidable character, and will attempt to run the blockade at Charleston.

The same Journal says, that a vessel is lying at Liverpool, taking in a cargo of iron plates destined for plating a southern vessel which is awaiting their arrival in Charleston. POST OFFICE NOTICE.
