HARRISBURG, PA.

Saturday Afternoon, October 4, 1862.

THE CENTRE CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT.

The declination of William F. Reynolds, as the Democratic (?) candidate for Congress in the district composed of Centre, Clinton, Lycoming and Tioga counties, only convinces us of the conspiracy in that locality to defeat Mr. Armstrong.

We now appeal to all loyal men of that district to spurn the bait which is held out to them, and to reject the treasonable plots which have been concocted to defeat Mr. Armstrong.

Judge Hales' personal friends may seek to bolster up his claims as they please, but we can only see in these proceedings, so far as he is concerned, the politician's movements to gratify personal ambition and hold on to place and power at the sacrifice of every principle of manly honor and political integrity.

Again we appeal to the loyal men of that district to support Mr. Armstrong. He is honorable, loyal and generous. He has ability of the first order——is admitted to be a legislator of rare powers and statesmanship, so that in voting for him and sending him to Congress, the people will be securing a man who will never resort to any mean hypocrisy or trickery to confuse their organization in a time when we may again need harmony, with the sickly plea that personal claims outweigh all other loyal and patriotic considerations.

Let the word then ring through the Centre Congressional district, for the Union, for manly integrity, for Armstrong and for victory.

ACTIONS SPEAK LOUDER THAN WORDS.

In the last State Senate, Dr. E. D. Crawford was regarded as among its ablest members, and while he was in the opposition to the great principles which are now represented by the state and national administrations, he never forgot for a moment that he owed a duty to his country, from the discharge of which no party mandate or caucus dictation could intimidate or restrain him.

When the resolution instructing our U. S. Senators to vote for the expulsion of the miserable spy, informer and traitor, Jesse D. Bright, was before the State Senate, Dr. Crawford urged, and voted for, its passage.

This incensed the whippers-in for his district, and on account of this Dr. Crawford was rejected, when he was actually the choice of two-thirds of his party for re-nomination.

His sin was too great for forgiveness. He had voted for the humiliation and disgrace of a traitor, and that was an insult—an outrage to democracy. Hence his rejection.

George H. Bucher is the candidate nominated over Dr. Crawford. Bucher was opposed to the expulsion of Bright. Hence his nomination. This is a bitter pill for the independent men of Cumberland, Perry, Juniata, and Mifflin to swallow.

Of course the attempt will be made to administer it. Kirk Haines, who is the loyal Union candidate, and who is withal a man of sterling good parts and excellent qualifications, will be made the Senator from this district.

"THE GALLED JADE WINCES."

The Tory organ of yesterday makes a lame reply to our article exposing its shameful deception in seeking to screen its "southern brethren," and place the blame of commencing the war upon the Republicans.

Congress declared the war was forced upon the country by the disunionists of the south: The Tory organ insists it was forced upon its disunion "southern brethren" by the aggression of the north.

This is in perfect keeping with its uniform course since our national troubles began. It always finds occasion to extenuate the heinous crimes—the treason and perjury of its southern allies.

It says the war was occasioned by the rejection of the Crittenden compromise. Granting this only for argument's sake, we ask who caused its rejection? Andy Johnson, of Tennessee, a life-long Democrat, says "southern traitors," as was said in the speech of the Senator from California: They did it. They wanted no compromise. They accomplished their object by withholding their votes. It was not conservatism that the leaders wanted; they wanted POWER; THEY WANTED TO DESTROY THIS GOVERNMENT!

And this is just what the vile aiders and abettors of the southern conspirators here in the north now seek. They have lost the "loaves and fishes," and, if necessary to regain them, they are ready and willing to assist in destroying the government of our forefathers. They were good Unionists as long as they were in office, but when they were turned out they became traitors to regain their lost power.

Why don't the "Tory organ" offer some comments on Frank Hughes' treasonable resolution? What's the matter with the Chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee? Has the Tory organ not yet received a copy of the resolution? We can furnish it one. Will it publish it? Give the people light. "Tell the truth and shame the devil." You can't deceive the intelligent people. They know the cause of the rebellion, and the designs of its instigators, as well as you do; and all your efforts to misrepresent and mystify the matter, will only sink you deeper and deeper in inconsistency and baseness, and consign you more certainly to that contempt and ignominy you seem to court and justly merit.

A FABRICATION OF THE TORY ORGAN EXPLODED.

A writer in the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin has lately been paying some attention to the Tory organ in this city, and successfully explodes the falsehoods with which that sheet dally teems. In a recent attempt at one of those base fabrications for which the Tory organ has become so celebrated, its editors assert that the national debt is over $2,000,000,000, and then goes on to say:

"The tax which every assessed man and woman must pay after the election, is to pay the interest on a portion of the $2,000,000,000 debt, every farthing of which was contracted by a Republican administration, to carry on a war brought upon the country by the refusal of a Republican majority in Congress to accede to the Crittenden compromise."

To this writer in the Bulletin replies that, independent of the lie in reference to the amount of the debt (for every one knows that the debt is not half the amount stated) let us call attention to the other lie which has been so often repeated by these Breckenridge journals through the course of this rebellion, viz.: "that this war was brought on by the Republicans refusing to adopt the Crittenden compromise." Is it not astonishing that they will persist in such infamous misrepresentations, when it is well known that the Democrats had possession of both Houses of Congress at that time, and that the Crittenden compromise failed in the Senate, because six Southern Democratic Senators refused to vote on it? But don't take our word for it; let us see what a Democratic Senator says on the subject. We believe no one will deny the Democracy of Andrew Johnson, of Tennessee, as true and honest a Democrat as ever lived. In a speech he made some time since at Nashville, he said:

"Treason was the pretext for disunion in 1862, and the slavery or negro question is the pretext now. How do the facts stand when we come to examine them? Let us go back to the proceedings of the last Congress. What was the true phase of the times? A compromise, you remember—the Crittenden proposition—was introduced. The Southern Senators, including Benjamin, Toombs, Iverson, and a list of others, pretended that if the measure passed the South would be satisfied; but they desired everything but compromise. Senator Clark offered an amendment which he believed would be acceptable to the South. I had critically kept pace with these pretenders. Their protest was only to disguise their real intentions. When the vote was put on Clark's amendment—mark well—only 66 ballots were recorded. The amendment was adopted by two votes, thus defeating the original compromise. Who is responsible for this work of destruction? Six Southern Senators standing there and refusing to record their votes. If the Crittenden compromise had been adopted, they would have been deprived of a pretext for their treason. Judah Benjamin, a sneaking thief and perjurer, and an unscrupulous traitor, was sitting near me while the vote was being taken. I told him it was his duty to come to the relief of the country by voting on this important proposition. He sneeringly answered that 'when he wanted my advice he would make the request.' I said, you are a Senator, and I demand that your vote be recorded. With six others, he contrived to defeat the measure by slipping out. They wanted no compromise."

Now we ask, is it not alarming that when the nation is struggling for its very existence, a party should be so base as to attempt to cripple the government and get into political power through such a system of infamous lies and misrepresentations? Can any honest and true patriot support such a party? It is said that General Banks has for years been devoting himself to the study of military matters, in anticipation of the present crisis—He has paid special attention to the artillery service, and understands it thoroughly. At the last battle of Winchester, as the enemy were rapidly advancing in superior numbers, he dismounted on the field of battle, in face of the galling fire, and personally assisted in placing a certain battery in position. In several instances he sighted the guns himself, handling the pieces like an old artilleryman, to "make assurance doubly sure."

THE NEW YORK HERALD AND THE VALOR OF PENNSYLVANIA.

In our sense it may not be worth while to repeat an insult offered by the New York Herald, because those connected with that sheet, from the old knave Bennett, down to his dithered penny-aligner, have been kicked, horsewhipped, snubbed and spit upon so often, that they are beyond all hope of reform or influences of reproach. And yet, we cannot refrain from repeating the insult which was lately offered to the Pennsylvania Reserve Corps by that sheet. It was an insult coupled with a falsehood as black as Bennett's own heart, or at least that portion of it which he has not pledged at some shrine of lucre or of lust. The Herald accuses the Reserve Corps of cowardice—of having shrunk from the enemy and fled in terror from his reach. Of course we can make no other reply to this, than to declare that the Herald lies—lies knowingly and deliberately, but for what purpose, whether for money or for the gratification of malice, of course we are unable to decide.

The Pennsylvania Reserve Corps has earned for itself a fame which will live and shine in splendor while the history of the valor devoted to the overthrow of this rebellion is printed, read and admired. No nobler body of men ever obeyed a word of command. No more patriotic soldiers ever marched into battle. No people, of a like number, combining in their organization the representatives of all business interests, of all departments of industry, of every profession and of all stations in society, ever displayed a greater amount of patriotism or an equal degree of devotion to the government under which they lived. It is ungrateful, nay, it is cowardly and dastardly to deny such men their just meed of praise. It seems that this denial, too, should be reserved to fill the measure of infamy for which the New York Herald has so long been striving. When will the Herald's day of retribution come! Soon, very soon.

ABOLITION! ABOLITION! ABOLITION!!!

The ceaseless stereotyped cry of the Breckenridge press of this State, led on and controlled by that arch demagogue, secessionist and traitor, Frank Hughes, is solely intended to mislead and deceive the honest, well meaning, but less informed portion of the people, who yet adhere to what their leaders facetiously style the democratic party! They hope by the clamor they keep up about abolition, to divert the attention of their dupes from the atrocious conduct of the southern dealers in human souls, in plunging the people of the nation into all the bloodshed and devastation of this most causeless and unprovoked war.

They hope by this and other kindred and unfounded charges, to mislead the people into the choice of members of our next legislature, in order that the rebel Hughes may be elected to a seat in the Senate of the United States, the object, aim and end of all his actions, and the mainspring of his political villany. And also to elect members of Congress who will oppose and cripple the administration of President Lincoln, by voting against all necessary measures to suppress this infamous rebellion, sustain the government and protect the people in their inestimable rights of life, liberty and property.

This unfounded clamor was set on foot and is persistently kept up by an unprincipled faction under the garb of democracy. By a traitorous clique, who unblushingly call themselves democrats! Falsely claiming to be the only true, pure and consistent advocates and supporters of democratic principles! In support of their vile and unfounded cry of abolition, they point to the action of the present Republican Congress, in enacting at the late session a law, approved by President Lincoln, abolishing slavery in the District of Columbia. And this, the only measure of that Congress, or of the Republican party, favoring the least in any respect of abolition; is held forth by these traitorous demagogues as the unpardonable sin against democracy and democratic principles. And yet these worthies carefully conceal from their dupes, the uncontroverted and incontrovertible fact, that a precisely similar measure was recognized and admitted to be true democratic doctrine and sound democratic principle, in those days when democracy really had a meaning attached to it, and the democratic party had well defined and well established principles governing its political and legislative actions.

A reference to the Legislative record of the State exhibits the undeniable fact that an intemperately democratic legislature of this State passed a resolution, which was approved of by that undoubted, uncompromising democratic Governor, John Andrew Shultz, on the twenty third day of January, 1829, "relative to the abolishing of slavery in the District of Columbia," by which it was enacted:

"That the Senators of this State, in the Senate of the United States, be and they are hereby instructed, and the Representatives of this State, in Congress, be and they are hereby requested to procure, if practicable, the passage of a law to abolish slavery in the District of Columbia, in such manner as they may consider consistent with the rights of individuals and the Constitution of the United States." If it be true that democracy is based upon principles, that Breckenridge democracy is the only true, pure democracy; that the mantle of the genuine democratic party has fallen upon their shoulders, and they are the only reliable guardians of democratic principles, and of the honor and consistency of that party—how does it happen that they denounce as wrong and treason to the principles of democracy, the provisions of an Act, precisely similar to that which an honest, upright, loyal legislator and Governor of that party, earnestly recommended the passage of in 1829. Upon no other reason can this be accounted for, than upon the well established fact, that in the rampancy of their traitorous propensities, they have no hesitation in proclaiming the grossest misrepresentations and falsehoods, circulated as they hope and intend, to distract and divide the people of the loyal States, in order that rebellion may flourish, the Union be prostrated, and they share the power and patronage of that government, which they secretly hope and pray will be administered by Jeff. Davis and his myrmidons, those accomplished thieves and traitors FLOYD, COMB and other democrats of their stripe and fashion. The people see in this attempt to deceive them with their senseless cry of abolition, what reluctance is to be placed in these worthless, now so industriously engaged in prowling through this and other counties of the State, bellowing forth the unfounded cry of "abolition," "nigger war" and other standard falsehoods.

In our sense it may not be worth while to repeat an insult offered by the New York Herald, because those connected with that sheet, from the old knave Bennett, down to his dithered penny-aligner, have been kicked, horsewhipped, snubbed and spit upon so often, that they are beyond all hope of reform or influences of reproach. And yet, we cannot refrain from repeating the insult which was lately offered to the Pennsylvania Reserve Corps by that sheet. Of course we can make no other reply to this, than to declare that the Herald lies—lies knowingly and deliberately, but for what purpose, whether for money or for the gratification of malice, of course we are unable to decide.

From Washington. Col. H. F. Sanders, 19th Wisconsin Volunteers, having marched with a detachment of his regiment, in April last, from Racine to Erie Duchien, without having his commissariat duly provided, and having contracted for the subsistence of his men at an extravagant price without due regard to the interests of the Government, has by direction of the President, been dismissed from the service of the United States. The Military Commission, of which General Hunter is president, is understood to be investigating all the circumstances relating to the surrender of Harper's Ferry, and has summoned a large number of witnesses in the case. Major A. Schwarz, of the Second Illinois Light Artillery, is discharged from the service of the United States, in order to enable him to accept the appointment of Chief of Artillery to Gen. Seigel's Corps d' Armee.

FROM THE ARMY OF THE POTOMAC.

Grand Review of the Troops by the President and General McClellan. HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, October 3, 1862. The President, accompanied by Gen. McClellan, has to-day reviewed the several corps of the Army of the Potomac, beginning with Gen. Burnside's, which is located near the mouth of the Antietam, and concluding with that of Gen. Franklin at Bakersville, and embracing those of Porter and Reynolds. At each point the people collected in large numbers, and manifested the greatest enthusiasm towards both the President and General McClellan. The prevailing spirit of loyalty was clearly indicated by the greetings which on every hand was showered upon these distinguished personages. The President, after visiting Gen. Richardson, who lies wounded near by, in the morning, will be escorted to Frederick, where he will take a special train for Washington.

THE WAR IN KENTUCKY.

A General Engagement at Hand. LOUISVILLE, October 3. The order which has been enforced for the past two weeks against the sale of liquors has been rescinded, and all kinds of business have resumed their accustomed channels. Gen. Bragg has issued a proclamation threatening an immediate and vigorous enforcement of the Confederate conscription act in all parts of Kentucky under the control of the rebels. This afternoon, on the approach of General Crittenden's division of United States troops to Mount Washington, a large rebel force retreated one and a half miles from there. Crittenden's force was then drawn up in line of battle on the Ohio, and a battery was being placed in position. Simultaneously General Rosecrank's command commenced surrounding the enemy. Soon after volleys of musketry were fired, and it is presumed that a general engagement took place. Mr. Markland, agent of the Post Office Department, has arrived, with two wagon loads of mails from Nashville, with the 10th alt. The Van of General Boell's wagon train, consisting of 1800 wagons, has just reached Louisville, the rear resting on Salt river, twenty-two miles distant, and coming up rapidly. Refugees from the interior of Kentucky are returning homeward in the rear of our army. The cars of the Louisville and Frankfort Railroad proceeded a few miles beyond Leverage to day. No rebel force was encountered. It is supposed that the cars will commence running regularly next Monday. The reports of the burning of bridges over the Kentucky river, near Frankfort, are false, though it is thought that they will be destroyed as our troops approach them. The rebels threaten to burn Lexington and Frankfort, if they are compelled to evacuate those places. The southern telegraph line has been opened, and is working to Bowling Green this evening.

FROM NEW YORK.

Capture of a Valuable Prize. NEW YORK, October 4. The prize steamer Sunbeam, from New York, N. O., was brought here this morning. She was captured while running the blockade at Wilmington, N. C., with a cargo of brandy and gunpowder. The prize is valued at a quarter of a million. The steamer was built at Birkenhead, and measures 200 tons. The Captain represents that she was from Liverpool, bound for Mexico, putting in for coal. SAFETY OF CAPTAIN SERGEANT, OF THE STEAMER PHANOM. BOSTON, Oct. 4. A telegram from San Francisco, states that Capt. Sargent, of the ship Phantom, who was reported as drowned when his ship was lost on Pratas Shoals, has been picked up with his spouse, amounting to $500,000, and arrived at Shanghai.

ANDERSON CAVALRY. THE office for recruits for this organization has been re-opened at the old place, Coler's Stage Office, Market Square. Any persons of good character who may desire to enlist, or obtain information as to the duties of the Troop, will please call on or address WILL C. KELLER, Lance Corporal. NOTICE TO VOLUNTEERS. AN office to recruit for MAJ. ROBERTS' BATTALION OF HEAVY ARTILLERY has been opened on Third street, near Market.

VOLUNTEERS! THERE is no branch of the service which offers so many inducements to the volunteers, as that of heavy artillery for sea coast fortifications. Being in all cases placed under the command of regular and competent army officers, the instruction and drill are of themselves no light considerations, added to which is the care and provision made for the comfort of the men. Good weather-proof quarters, well cooked and plentiful food, clothing well ordered and supplied, every convenience taken to retain the health and comfort of the men, and they are freed from the anxieties and privations inseparable from all services of undrilled, unattached corps. They soon become warmly attached to their positions, and when exposed to service, go out with the confidence and courage of men who fully understand their business, and mean to do it. Fortress Monroe has for a long time been a school for artillery, and since the breaking out of this rebellion, has been a point of peculiar interest to the whole country; and from the very prominent position, affords every advantage of seeing and knowing all that may interest and instruct the War Department and Govern. Curtin has authorized Maj. J. Roberts, of the regular army, and late of Fortress Monroe, to recruit a battalion of heavy artillery for that post for three years or the war; and it is designed to make the same a complete school for the soldier-fitting man at the expiration of their enlistment to take any position in either or any branch of the service. None but able bodied, sober, men need apply. Men ambitious and desiring to raise themselves to positions of honor, will find this the finest chance yet offered.

Muringer's Patent Beef Tea. A SOLID Concentrated Extract of Beef and Vegetables, and immediately used as a nourishing and delicious Soup or Beef Tea. Highly approved by a number of our Physicians who use it in our hospitals for the sustenance for our wounded. DIASPHOROUS FOR USE.—Out up one fifth part of a cake of the extract, pour on boiling water, about a pint, more or less, according to the strength desired in a few minutes it will be entirely dissolved. This admirable article condenses into a compact form, all the substantial and nutritive properties of a large bulk of solid vegetables, and is a rich and healthy diet which it dissolves into a rich and palatable soup, or tea which would require hours of preparation, according to the usual method, is an advantage in many instances of life to obvious to need saying.
