"INDEPENDENT IN ALL THINGS—NEUTRAL IN NONE"

VOL XVIII. HARRISBURG, PA THURSDAY AFTERNOON, OCTOBER 9, 1862. NO 35.

Miscellaneous NICHOLS & BOWMAN, WHOLESALE AND RETAIL GROCERS, Corner Front and Market Streets, HARRISBURG, PENN'A.

FRIENDS OF THE SOLDIER, READ! FATHERS, YOU THAT HAVE SONS IN THE ARMY, READ! READ!

BROTHERS, YOU THAT HAVE BROTHERS FIGHTING FOR YOUR COUNTRY, READ! READ! READ!

At a period when the hot shot and bombs were falling thick and fast around the gallant band who were defending their country's honor in Fort Sumter, Gov. Curtin had sent into the Legislature of the State, then in session, a message suggesting the better organization of the militia, and asking for an appropriation of five hundred thousand dollars to place the state on a war footing.

The bill as it passed, can be found in the last year's volume of the laws of the state, page 229—and the proceedings attending its passage in the House, in the Journal of 1861, page 957. We extract the yeas and nays as they appear substantially on the Journal of the House:

YEAS—Messrs. Abbott, Acker, Alexander, Anderson, Armstrong, Ashoom, Austin, Ball, Barsley, Bartholomew, Blais, Bixler, Blair, Blanchard, Bliss, Boyer, Bressler, Brewster, Burns, Butler, (Crawford), Byrne, Clark, Cowan, Craig, Douglas, Duncan, Ellenberger, Elliott, Frasier, Gibboney, Goehring, Gordon, Graham, Happer, Harvey, Hayes, Killman, Hood, Hofius, Huhn, Irvin, Koch, Lawrence, Leisenring, Lowther, M'Gonigal, Marshall, Moore, Mullin, Ober, Osterhout, Patterson, Pierce, Preston, Pugh, Kelly, Ridgway, Robinson, Boller, Seltzer, Shafer, Sheppard, Smith, (Berks), Smith, (Philadelphia), Stehman, Strang, Taylor, Teller, Thomas, Tracy, Walker, White, Wildey, Williams, Wilson and Davis, Speaker—76.

DR. LEWIS HECK

Freemen of Dauphin county! Soldiers! who marched at the first call of danger to the defence of the capital of your country, and who still rest upon your arms night and day around the limits of that capital, are you ready to vote for a man who so lightly estimated the honor of your country and the lives of its defenders? Dr. Heck is one of the old Breckenridge Democrats who sympathized and still sympathize with and confide in the course of the traitor Breckenridge, and showed his attachment for those who are at the head of this rebellion by refusing to make an appropriation to arm the great state of Pennsylvania to aid their overthrow and its suppression.

Freemen, remember that this is the record of Dr. Heck whilst he was in the Legislature. Let us now examine his action at a later period.

On the 7th day of August, 1862, the Democratic County Convention met at the Court House, in this city, for the purpose of nominating a ticket. Dr. LEWIS HECK was a delegate to that Convention, and assisted in nominating himself as a candidate for the Legislature. We copy the following from the Patriot and Union of August 8, 1862, viz:

"Dr. HECK moved that the resolutions passed by the Democratic State Convention on the 4th of July be adopted by this Convention. "The reading of the resolutions was called for, and after reading of which they were adopted amid applause."

The resolutions and nominations of that Convention have thus been fairly and openly approved by Dr. HECK, and we give him all due credit for his action in having them adopted. He stands therefore squarely up to the platform which the friends of the traitor John C. Breckenridge advocated in this State.

The candidates nominated by that convention are also the avowed enemies of the country. Isaac Slenker and James P. Barr, for Auditor and Surveyor General, are both on the record as the abettors of rebellion. Slenker seconded the efforts of Buchanan to steal or purchase Cuba—and he was also in favor and would now establish, if he had the power, the slave trade in every port of the Union. Barr is known to have so far defended treason as to have incurred the wrath and run the danger of a halter at Pittsburg.

Such is the record and such the company in which we find Dr. Heck. First, We find him voting against arming the State. Second, We discover him in a Convention called to endorse the proceedings of those who openly oppose the National Government. Third, He refused to vote money to pay those who were willing to defend the honor and glory of the Commonwealth. Is such a man fit to occupy a seat in the Legislature?

FRANK HUGHES' TREASON UNVEILED.

THE KEYSTONE STATE TO BE CHAINED TO SLAVERY

On Tuesday afternoon we printed, from the Miner's Journal, of the 27th ult., a startling record. It was clearly shown in that record, over the signature of one of the ablest members of the bar in Schuylkill county, that Frank Hughes, chairman of the Breckenridge State Central Committee, was tainted with a secession feeling and professed a "traitor sympathy, at once insulting to loyal men and dangerous to loyal communities. This exposure was sustained by the testimony of two of the most respectable and loyal men in that region, David Lomison, whose reputation for veracity and integrity no one will challenge, and Jerome K. Boyer, a Douglas Democrat, now a candidate for the Legislature on the Union ticket in Schuylkill county. Nevertheless, the revelations were so shocking to the loyal heart of our noble State, that many people were loth to believe it. The first of the charges were that Hughes was heard to say: "I am a delegate to the Democratic State Convention at Harrisburg, and I am going over to attend the Convention, and when there, I intend offering a resolution before that Convention, that Pennsylvania secede from the Union, and join herself with the south, and leave Rhode Island, and Connecticut, and Massachusetts, and them d—d little petty states, to subsist on their codfish and Plymouth rock."

We now ask attention to the resolution since openly avowed by Francis W. Hughes himself, under his own name, as having been prepared by him to be offered at the Democratic State Convention referred to. It will be perceived that it argues in favor of the secession of Pennsylvania from the Union, and her addition to the dominion of Rebeldom under the auspices of Jeff. Davis. Yet this is the author of the address of the Democratic State Committee which we have been asked to believe loyal and patriotic. It is published in an extra from the office of the Democratic Standard, at Pottsville, on Monday morning, September 29th, 1862: "Resolved, That Pennsylvania owes her growth in population, and the increase of capital and wealth of her citizens, chiefly to the advantages which the American Union had afforded for the development of her natural resources; and that her glory and paramount interests are identified with the continuance of that Union."

"Should, however, causes hitherto related by the Democracy of the country read assunder the bonds that bind together these States, and should the fifteen slaveholding States, claiming to be driven by the necessity of mutual protection against the effect of such causes, successfully establish another confederacy, then Pennsylvania must regard her relation to the facts which circumstances beyond our control have produced."

"She cannot then refuse to perceive that she must either take her place in some northern fragment of a once glorious Union, and rest content to be shorn of the greater part of her manufacturing industry, and of her export and import trade—to hold a secondary and helpless relation to the northeastern States, with no outlet or approach from the ocean for her great eastern or her great western metropolis, except through the waters and before the forts and guns of a foreign nation, and thus practically (for the want of ability to protect) be made to yield up all reliable direct foreign trade."

"Or she may, if a member of the new confederacy, become the great manufacturing workshop for a people now consuming annually $800,000,000 worth of products and manufactures from an imported through the northern States; her cities become the great commercial depots and distributing points for this confederacy, and her wealth, population and glory be promoted in a degree unparalleled in the history and prosperity of any people! "That it will be the right and duty of her citizens to consult their own best interests in a position so momentous, and decide between the lawful alternatives. And that in stating the truths here announced, we have no desire to conceal that our object is to present to the people of other States the position they may severally occupy if the coercion disunionists in their midst succeed in defeating an equitable compromise of existing difficulties!" (Signed) FRANCIS W. HUGHES.

Respect to our Russian Minister.

A letter from St. Petersburg, dated September 8th, gives an interesting account of the marked attention bestowed upon Gen. Cameron, our Minister to Russia, from which we extract what follows:

The American who comes to Europe, strikes the bitter butt-end of hostility on reaching England, in France he finds, at best, a courteous indifference; in Germany a mild, phlegmatic sympathy; but here, a genial warmth of feeling, such as no nation rarely exhibits towards another. Russia, by the manifestation of this feeling, has already done us good service, and we should not forget it when our days of trial are over. Gen. Cameron, I am glad to learn, both knows how to value and to reciprocate this service, in every way consistent with his position. He has been treated with marked attention, both here and at the imperial palaces of Tsarsko-Selo and Peterhoff. At the latter place, the immense systems of fountains and artificial cataracts, which are only set in motion by the command of the Emperor, were specially made to perform on the occasion of his visit. His family were conveyed through the parks and gardens in court equipages, and afterwards sumptuously entertained at the palace. These unusual courtesies, exhibited at a time when the press of England was howling for intervention, and that of France, more cautiously, following in the same track, have—as they were meant to have—a welcome significance.

The Court has been absent from St. Petersburg the greater part of the summer. The Emperor has just returned from a week's visit to Moscow, which is still more truly the Russian capital than this city. Gen. Cameron left and returned on the same day as His Majesty, profiting by the occasion to make acquaintance with that portion of the empire. In addition to the superb palaces on the Kremlin, the imperial treasury, and every other place of interest, were at once thrown open to the General and party. I understand that two or three prominent Russian noblemen, having anticipated his visit at an earlier period, had made arrangements to charter a steamer and take him to visit their estates on the Volga. It is to be regretted that he was not able to be absent from his post for the time which such a journey would require. At the Foundling Hospital the party was received by the governor and directors in person, and conducted through the vast building in which Russia annually receives and cares for fifteen thousand of her neglected children.— This institution is probably the grandest charity in the world. Twelve hundred nurses are constantly employed, and whole villages are supported by the fees paid to foster parents.

The Rebel Army in Virginia.

FAIRFAX COURT HOUSE, Oct. 7. A deserter from the rebel army, brought in last evening, makes some highly interesting statements, which are important if true. He belonged to the Second Virginia Cavalry, of Gen. Mumford's brigade and General Slocum's division. The following are his statements: Mumford's brigade, of from nine hundred to ten hundred cavalry, is between Warrenton and the Springs. The force at Culpepper Court House, now commanded by General J. Johnston, consists of three divisions, one of them commanded by General Gustavus W. Smith, another by Gen. Horton; the name of the other division commander he did not know. He heard General Mumford say that Johnston had been ordered to take command of the Department of the West; Gen. Bragg having been relieved. There was much complaint against Gen. Bragg. He saw a young man from Richmond, who told him that the rebels had large forces at Gordonsville. He was with the rebels in Maryland, and heard officers say that their loss at the battle of Antietam was sixteen thousand killed and wounded and four thousand prisoners. The rebels say they obtained eight hundred cavalry and two thousand infantry recruits in Maryland, about six hundred of whom were from Pennsylvania. The force under Lee at Winchester, he says, numbers one hundred and eighty thousand men, and is being reinforced. This is considered here a large over estimate. The old regiments are being filled up with conscripts. He was in the battles at Bull Run, and says that the rebels universally admit that they were whipped on Friday the forty-ninth Virginia, commanded by Colonel (formerly Hon.) Wm. Smith, was brought in yesterday. He was home on sick leave when taken, and gives no information. GENERAL LEE. Advice received by relatives of Gen. Lee

FROM ARKANSAS.

Intelligence from the Rebel Forces. Their Location and Numbers. HELENA, ARK. Oct. 4. Correspondence of the Missouri Republican. We have late and very reliable intelligence from the rebel forces in this State, which are regarded by military men here as worthy of confidence. It is as late as the 18th and 22d ult., and seriously modifies many reports we have heard, some of which have reached the country. According to this information, the rebel forces in Arkansas number and are encamped as follows: Gen. Hindman, at Austin, 25 miles north of Little Rock, with five thousand men and one battery. General Roan at White Sulphur Springs, near Pine Bluff, on the Arkansas river, fifty miles south of Little Rock, with five thousand men, two regiments of whom are conscripts, one unnamed; also a Texas regiment and one battery consisting of three six pounders and one two pounder brass and one siege piece mounted. General McRee, on the Arkansas River, thirty miles north west of Napoleon. General Bains, at Cross Hollow, with a reported force of from four to five thousand, mostly conscripts. Gen. Holmes is commander-in-chief of all the forces at Little Rock, with about two thousand men and ten batteries, one of ten and three 6-pounders, and the other of two rifled 6-pounders, and two pound howitzers. Gen. M. Bride at Batesville, with about two thousand men. Only one hundred and fifty of them are effective. Most of their cavalry force have been dismounted. At present it is not believed they have more than two thousand cavalry in the State. At Arkadelphia, eighty or one hundred miles south west of Little Rock, they manufacture munitions of war, and have removed there all the State records and papers. Though the rebel Generals boast of their intention to invade Missouri, it is not believed by intelligent men in their camps that they intend to do so. If they save the Capitol of their State, it is all they desire at present, and perhaps more than they expect.

FROM SAN FRANCISCO.

Arrest of Sympathizers with the Rebels. SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 7. Sailed, ship Star of the Union, for Callao. Charles Doan, ex-sheriff of San Francisco, died suddenly to-day of apoplexy. Col. E. J. C. Kewen, member elect to the Legislature from Los Angeles county, was arrested by an order from Gen. Wright on the charge of treason. Secession sympathizers are numerous in some of the southern counties of California, having succeeded in controlling the local elections. Kewen has been something of a ring-leader among them. He very probably takes the oath, and endeavors to get his seat in the Legislature.
