HARRISBURG, PA. Friday Afternoon, October 17, 1862.

CORRECTION .- In our list of the persons draft ed, printed on the first page of this evening's TELEGRAPH, the following corrections were handed us by the Commissioners after we had put the first side of the paper to press: In Lower Paxton township, the name of Geo

Laske should read George Look.

In South Hanover township, the name of Joseph Early should read Joseph Laby.

New Publications. - A number of very delightful books of fiction have been received at Bergner's Cheap Bookstore, Market street. The Banditti of the Prairies, or the Murderer's Doom, and The Iwin Lieutenants; or the Soldier's Bride, are among the number, and are both published by T. B. Peterson & Brother, Philadelphia. The Iwin Lieutenants is one of the great French romancer, Dumas', brilliant and most thrilling productions.

THE CHLORATE OF POTASH has now come into extensive use for the removal of feetid breath. It is chiefly used, diluted with water and alchohol, to rinse the mouth. It may be made by condensing chorine gas in a solution of potash. A solution of soda will answer nearly as well. We recommend this prescription to some of the Breckenridgers, because after the lies they uttered in the late contest, they must surely have bad breaths.

IMPROVEMENT IN SHAWLS .-- To add to the ornamental usefulness of shawls, G. Smith, of North Brixton, England, adds what he terms "a leaf," or several leaves, to either square or long shawles, by which he states they are rendered and elegant. This leaf is "P. K. Boyd, united to the shawl either by weaving or careful sowing, in such a manner that when the shawl is worn, it may present at the back two, or if required, any number of leaves, each falling within the other.

A BRIGHT DAY AFTER A BLEAK NIGHT .- Last night was about as bleak as thick darkness, Miss S. R. Bryan, rain and wind could make it, and this morning on the contrary, was as bright and beautiful as "Chas. L. Bailey, sunshine and a balmy atmosphere were capable of producing. It is always thus, that light follows the darkness; and the good old encouragement, that the darkest hour is always before the day, has its illustration in the gorgeous sheen which shed its splendor in our paths to day.

THE NOTORIOUS ELEPHANT "Hannibal," belonging to Van Amburg & Co.'s menagerie, a few weeks since, at Caldwell, Illinois, killed a man, who in the absence of Haunabil's keeper, irritated him. In order to prevent any further accidents from the elephant, Mr. Van Amburg had his enormous tusks sawn off, a few inches from his jaw. If some of those who visited Hannibal, and were injured by his resentments, had been as well trained as the elephant, Hannibal could have retained his tusks, and his victims not have lost their lives.

EFFECTS OF INDUSTRY.-All the performances of human art, at which we look with praise or wonder, are instances of the resistless force of preseverance. It is by this that the quarry be- Mrs. David Unger, comes a palace, and that States become united Mrs. James Colder. by electric wires. If a man were to compare the single stroke of a pickaxe, or one impression with the spade, with the general design and last result, he would be overwhelmed by the sense of their disproportion ; yet these petty Miss Simons, operations, incessantly continued, in time surmouat the greatest difficulties, and mountains are levelled and oceans bounded by the slender force of human beings.

IMPORTANT TO DRAFTED MEN.-Those who are drafted occupy a position at once peculiar, and in our estimation, important. When a man voluntarily performs a daty, he is doing it Those ladies who cannot serve when appointed very often from interested motives. He feels must find a substitute. that he can do better by its performance than by its neglect-or he enters on the discharge of a voluntary duty, because it was the only duty at the time, which would or could pay. Thus with enlistments in the army. While those who volunteered deserve their full share of credit, those who remained at home were compelled to do so by motives equally as high and as patriotic as those which impelled other men to volunteer. Therefore, the subject of volunteering and drafting should be equalized. While war was in progress, all other interests and pursuits could not stand in apathy or slothfulness. On the contrary, war created a demand for labor-for mechanics-for industrious and enterprising men, and it is from this class, principally, that the drafted men must come. When the subject is viewed in this light, it is rather honorable than otherwise to be drafted; and when the drafted man accepts his fate to serve his country, cheerfully and with alacrity, we claim for him the highest honor. He is really crackers. making a sacrifice. He first by his labor and energy contributed to the support of war, supplying it with material, opening to it resources, apple butter.

Mrs. Mollie Smith, loaf of bread, crock of Sore Eyes, Frozen Feet and Piles. References operations, and at last yielded to the demand apple butter, current jam, jug of blackberry can be furnished as to their wonderful efficacy, which summons his person to the ranks. In this light every sensible drafted man will view his position.

There is another point in regard to drafted men, which it is well should be made public. It is this: Any person who is drafted can at any time before being mustered into the service and dried fruit. of the United States, enter into the ranks of the three years men. A number of young men who were drafted, yesterday, on hearing this at once enlisted into Capt. Bowen's Battery of heavy Artillery, for Fortress Monroe, where they will have less exposure and hardship during the whole three years than they would in six months militia service.

- We submit this fact to any of our friends who may have been honorably drafted to bear arms for the defence of the Government.

THE FOLLOWING interesting table will present furnished by the draft:

THE LOCHIEL CAVALRY IN THE BATTLE OF PERto the citizens of this county the number of RYVILLE, KY.—The following is an extract from skirts, from 75c. up to $2.50. A large assort persons we have in the army and the number a letter written by Capt. Detweiler, to a friend a letter written by Capt. Detweiler, to a friend lars and sleeves, at all prices. White cambrics, in this city. It is dated at Camp Perryville, jacconetts, nantucks, brilliants, and plain and Ky., Oct. 10, 1862:

By this time, you have doubtless heard of the heavy battle near Perryville, on the 8th inst., and I write you this letter to inform you that I am safe, though our regiment was un er heavy fire from early morning until after dark; ings, gentlemen's one half hose, and children's we did not lose a man; two horses were killed, and two men wounded. The fighting was terpleces of carpet to be sold cheap. Kentucky and two men wounded. The fighting was ter-rific nearly all day. The loss on both sides, from what I have learned, will not be less than 1,200—perhaps 1,500. Their loss was the heaviest. We routed them completely—demorality with borders, and a great many other notions and small was the many other notions. zing the whole wing of the army with which we were engaged; captured their ammunition train, and took, it is said, over 4000 prisoners besides some heavy artillery, and killing many of their officers, among whom is a Brigadier-General. We lost two Brigadiers—Jackson and Tirrell—both good men. I was over the battle field yesterday, and saw terrible sights, I assure you. The Seventy seventh and Seventy. ninth Pennsylvania regiments, Cols. Ham-bright and Stombough, were also in the fight. I have not yet heard how they came out.

A NIGGER OFFERING A REWARD FOR HIS MAS-TER. —As it was one of the features with the different Tory Organs in this state, during the late election, to horrify their readers with stories of imaginary negro outrages, they will not object to the parentian of the following out. not object to the narration of the following out- two st rage which an escaped slave commits on his master. It is an extract from the Kentucky correspondent of the Cincinnati Times:

The darkies of secession masters still continue to flock into camp. There is in camp here a regular witty darkey, who formerly belonged to a Mr. Duncan, now in the rebel army. This negro can read and write—in fact he is a very

"N. B.—Pensons huntin' for him please look in all de 'last ditches;' as I ofter heard him talk about goin' into the diein' business "'Spectfully submitted.

This "poster" created a great deal of merri-ment in camp, while the Kentucky residents who came across it thought Jim a mighty 'sassy nigger.'

Notice. — We have the pleasure this morning of announcing to the public that our fall and nter stock of dry goods is now complete, and while there is no disputing the fact of a large advance in prices, we have determined to dis pose of the heavy descriptions of cotton goods at such small profits that they will come within the reach of all. We respectfully invite an ex-Yours, &c., amination by the public.

URICH & BOWMAN, South Eas. cor. of Front & Market Sts.

A Model Establishment.—Among the many improvements lately made in our city, to which we can point with pride as an evidence of prosserity and as a determination on the part of our business men, no longer to remain behind the "light house," is the completion of Eby & Kunkle's large brick building at the corner of Market and Fifth streets, which is alike creditable to the owners and ornamental to that part of our city.

The building is not only one of the largest, devoted to the grocery business, outside of New York, but the stock chillenges competion .-Without going into detail, we may safely say that the firm keep on hand everything usually kept in a grocery store, (liquors excepted,) and that they sell at very small profits. Their clerks are civil and accommodating, and have strict instructions under no circumstances whatever to misrepresent or take advantage of any customer. A general invitation is extended to the public to visit the new building and examine the extensive stock, whether they purchase

MRS. BALL :- I am happy to inform you that your medicine has been a complete success in curing me of Dyspepsia. Before taking it, my appetite was gone, and I could eat nothing without much distress. My appetite is good—I eat hearty three times a day without the least pain, and have gained four pounds in three months. I take leasure in recommending it to all my friends, as I am certain, it is a sure cure.
