New Advertisments.

THE NEW EDITION

PURDON'S DIGEST HAS JUST BEEN PUBLISHED. PRICE $5 00.

N ENTIBE new edition of this well known A Law Book has just been issued. It is not distinguished by the following superadded features: The laws contained in the various annual Digests published since the date of the eighth edition (1853) have been incorporated in the body of the work. Many thousand new authorities have been cited; the report of the revisors of the Penal Code has been embodied in the notes to the various sections of it, and the appendix contains for the first time, the Acts of Congress for the Authentication of Records, and the Statute of Fraudulent Conveyances, with full and elaborate notes of the cisions explanatory of them. The work has decisions explanatory of them. The work has been prepared by the learned editor, Mr. Brightly, and its freshness and permanent value will be preserved by the continuation of the annual Digests, which have given so much satisfaction. [FROM OFFICIAL HOSPITAL REPORTS.]

MAY 19, 1880.—Elles S., sat. 28, single, never was very strong. Two years ago she had an attack of acute rhoumatism, from which she was confined to her bed for two week; and subsequently from a relapse for four more. She has been well since then till last Satur day, while engaged in house cleaning, she took cold, had pain in her back, felt cold, hot had so decided chill. Two days later her ankies began so swell, which was followed by swelling of the time joints and of the hands. She has now dult pain in her shoulders, and her knuckles are very tender, red and painful; both hands are affected, but the right is most so. This, then, is a case of soute rheumatism, or, as it is new fashionably called, rheumatic lever. It is a well remarked typical case. We will carefully watch the case, and from time to time call your attention to the various symptoms; which present themselves. My chief object in bringing her before you now, is to call attention to a remedy which has recently been recommended in the ireatment of rheumatism. Im can propylamine. Dr. Awenarius, of St. Petersburg, recommends it in the highest terms, having derived great cenedit from its use in 250 cases which came under his care. Various commendatory testimonials respecting it have appeared in our journals, and I propose therefore to give it another visial. I must confess I am always moredulous as to the worth of new remedies, which are vaunted as specifies; but this comes to us recommended so highly, that we FROM OFFICIAL HOSPITAL REPORTS.

Mar 23, 1860.—I will now exhibit to you the patient for whom I prescribed Propylamine, and was then inhuring under an attack of acute rhoumaism. She has steadily taken it in doses of three grains every two hours intermitting it at night.) The day after you saw her; if ound her much more comfortable, better than suc expected to be for a week or more, judging from her other attack. (The patient now walked into the room.) The approximation of the intermediate of her interference of her interference will be a seadily pregressed, and you cannot ultimostics a marked change in the appearance of her inter, which are new nearly all of their natural size.—

Here is another patient who was placed on the use a. Le same medicine on Sunday last; she has long been suffering from c.hronic rheumatism, and I found her at that time with an acute attack supervening upon her hirodic affection. The wrists and knuckles were much swollen and tense. She took the chloride of Propyiamine in three grain doese every two hours, and you will perceive that the swelling of the joints has much dimitiated.

THREE DAYS LATER !!

THREE DAYS LATER!!

May 26, 1860.—This is the case of acute rhoumatism eated with propylamine, the first of those to which is alled your attention at our last clinic. One is still very comfortable, and is now taking three grains thric. daily. In this case it has seemed to be followed by very satisfactory reasiles. The second case to which your attention was called at our last locuare, has also continued to do well? I will now bring before you a very characteristic case of acute rheumatism, and if the result be salfactory, I think, as good jurymen, we anall justly renderious verdict in favor of propylamins.

He is a seaman, set. 26, who was admitted a few days ago. Has had ocassional rheumatic pans, but not so as to keep his bed, with eight days ago. The pains began in his right knee, subsequently affected the left knee, and tater, the joints of the upper extremities. It these joints are all swollen, tance and tender. His bongue is furred his skin, at present dry, though there has been much streaming. His pales in full and strong, and about 90.—He has now used propylamine for twenty-four hours. This gentleman is what may be called a strictly typical case of acute rheumatism. There was exposure to come and wet, and this exposure is followed by a feeling in coldness, severs articular pain, beginning, as it usually does, in the lower joints. There is fever and the profuse sweating, so generally attendant on acute rheumatism. I did not bring this patient before you with the intention. does, in the lower joints. There is fever and the profuse sweating, so generally attendant on acute rheumatism. I did not bring this patient before you with the intention of giving you a lecture on all the points conjected with rheumatism, but to again give a trial to the new remedy we are testing, and to exhibit to you this typical case, as I have called it, than which there could not be a fairer opportunity for testing the meditione in question. We are, therefore, avoiding the use of all other medicines, even anodynes, that there may be no misgivings as to which was the efficient remedy. You shall see the case of a future clinic.
