Indian Massacre—Just Retribution [From the Cleveland Herald.]

A gentleman of high respectability and unim-peachable veracity, direct from St. Paul and above, this morning gave us some harrowing details of the Indian atrocities in Upper Minnesota. The instances mentioned, he says, are not mere rumors or exaggerations, but can be abundantly vouched for. Whole families have been butchered in the most revolting manner, and the mangled remains heaped together in the houses. The women have been treated with the grossest indignities and then barba-rously murdered. No age or sex was spared by the ruthless fiends, but the most revolting and atrocious cruelties were perpetrated by these "noble savages" on helpless babes and defence-less women. ess women.

Colonel Sibley's forces succeeded in surroundsenti n a messenger to Col. Sibley, protesting their entire innocence of the outrages. They claimed to be a band of friendly Indians, who had captured the white prisoners from the "bad Indions," and were anxious to give them up. their entire innocence of the outrages. Inad captured the white prisoners from the "bad Indions," and were anxious to give them up, Colonel Sibley agreed to treat with them; and thus got them all, Indians and captive whites, into his power. He then told the Indians that he hoped that their story was true, but he should have to give them all a trial, so that he wight purish all the had Indians around the "bad Indians" "Wheat has declined considerable, being more than the bad Indians and captive whites, into his power. He then told the Indians that he should have to give them all a trial, so that he wight purish all the had Indians around the "bad Indians" "North."

"Wheat has declined considerable, being more than the bad Indians around the James river, but there are no sportsmen to shoot them." might punish all the bad Indians among them. The Indians, about six hundred in number, were then surrounded, and a court-martial organised at once, the rescued white captives being used as witnesses. The trial is holding at Big Lake, above St. Peter's. Fourteen Indians have already been tried and thirteen convicted. The fourteenth, a chief named Red Eye, was not convicted, the captive women testifying that he was opposed to the attrocities perpetrated on the captives. Eight of the convicted Indians have been hung, and Colonel Sibley seems to give stern justice to the murderers. The people of Upper Minnesota are greatly excited, and swear that if the Government does not exact a terrible vengeance for the attrocities precised their engeance for the attrocities practised, they will themselves wage a war of extermination against the entire Indian race.

Take Notice, Buell.

The Louisville Journal gives this friendly notice to Kentucky's favorite General:

Gen. Buell now has his opportunity. He has it whether the rebels fight or fly. If they fight, he can and must whip them and destroy their army. If they fly, he must turn their fight into a rout and destroy their army. Nothing less than the destruction of that insolent host which has overrun and despoiled so solent host which has overrun and despoiled so large a portion of Kentucky will eatisfy the expectation and demands of his friends, or silence the clamor and vituperation of his enemies. The recent great Federal victories in Mississippi, resulting in the annihilation or disorganization of the armies of Price and Van Dorn, and the signal defeat of the rebels in Missouri by Gen. Schofield, render Bragg's situation exceedingly critical, and now General Buell has a chance to strike a blow or a series.

"Our Southern Confederacy is sadly afflicted with dishonest Postmasters—especially in North dishonest Postmasters—especially in North dishonest Postmasters—especially in North dis Buell has a chance to strike a blow or a series of blows, that, if struck, will virtually put an REBEL NEWS.—A letter from Frankfort, Ky. Oct. 10, gives some curious accounts of the doings of the rebels while they had possession of that little city. We clip one little item about the news the rebels and the good people of the city had:

While the rebels were here, the people were while the rebeis were nere, the people were cut off from all intelligence, and had no idea of what was going on around them. They saw no papers, not even those from Louisville, though the "Confederate" officers received them daily. The enemy circulated and insisted upon the most absurd stories. McClellan was dead; Washington and Baltimore had beer captured; Lincoln had fled to Philadelphia Leuisville and Cincinnati had been surrender ed; Union Commissioners had gone to Rich mond under a flag of truce, to sue for peace, with kindred and equally probable statements.

So far did the Secessionists carry their system of deception and falsehood, that they caused a sheet was full of telegrams, letters and editorials of the most startling character, all of which
