PUBLIC SALE OF THOROUGH BRED DURHAM CATTLE .-- Mr. Edward J. Evans, of York, Pa., advertises in an other column, a sale of Thorough Bred Ducham Cattle, on Friday next on the Fair Grounds of the York County Agricultural Society, embracing animals of both sexes from three months to four years of age, and all of the best blood. A fine opportunity is thus afforded the public to purchase.

SINGULAR SUICIDE - A singular case of suicide occurred in Pitt township, Allegheny county, on Saturday. It would seem that a man named Winters, residing near the Copper Works, got into a difficulty with one of his neighbors on Friday, and his wife fearing that it might termin te in something serious, hurried to the spot where the parties stood, and begged her husband to quit quarreling and accompany her pose of corroborating its truthfulness. It makes and stabbed. His only offence was in not give into the house. He refused, stating that he no attack on the government. ON HOSPITAL TREATMENT. --- We are always will cheerfully give place to the following communication, written by an official in one of the hospitals of this city :

Editor of the Telegraph :-- I was much please to read in last evening's TRLEGRAPH, a short but well written and truthful card concerning hospital treatment, and believing it to be our duty to ask permission to present to your readers what we know concerning a case to which we suppose some of your articles referred, name ly: the junishment of a patient for disobedience.

We all know that there exists a wide spread, deeply cherished, just and commendable sym-pathy for the poor soldiers, who are lying sick in our hospitals. We know also that there is a credit without inquiry any and every assertion, that some di contented ones may make concern ing their condition and treatment therein; and shield them, if possible, from or over-rate their punishment; but this, instead of having a beneficial tendency, and being a favor, is an injury, and treenly tions.'' vet we neverwhich all would be "continsion worse confoundand in corroboration of this truth, let us now refer to the case in point. Here is a young man, a patient in a hospital, who, regardless of and indifferent to the kindly advice of his officers and to the "Bules and Regulations" of the hospital, which are only "wise, just, and good," absents himself from roll call and stays out after bed hours without s thus setting a bad example to his fellows. Then because he is justly punished truit of his own ill doings upon those who are truch to the ever listening cars of the soldier's truest friends, the ladies, or seeking to insert in the press a gross misrepresentation of the whole matter A "story" of "tyranny, oppression and out rage," said to be practised upon "poor soldiers, helpless from wounds and insensible from suf fe ing," thus endeavoring to solicit the aid of the public to shield them from just punishment. and grant to them and others, more opportunithe for insubordinate language and conduct. Yours, SELF DEFENCE

The writer's statement of what he calls facts, in the above communication, is of course worthy of respectful consideration, but we venture gently to remind him that his defiance of public opinion and the power of the press, savors at once of an indiscretion which needs counsel and direction. Public opinion, in this land of the free, is always potent; and those in higher po-sitions than the subordinate of a hospital, have discovered this fact, with sorrow and regret. SECESSION SYMPATHY IN BALTIMORE. From our own Correspondent.

BALTIMORE, Monday, Oct. 20, 1862. There has been somewhat of a lively time at Fort McHenry. On Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday last, a number of prisoners had arrived from the hospitals at Frederick and elsewhere.

The charming rebel ladies of Baltimore sympathised with their friends in distress. They furnished them with good things to eat and drink, with blankets and other comforting necessaries. This was all well enough. Every-thing that went into Fort McHenry went under es from Gen. Wool, and of course it seemed passes from all right.

But on Thursday and Friday other things began to appear-canteens, haversacks, C S. A. officers' uniforms-all under permission of Gen. Wool. Then the men rebelled. There were some veterans of the Peninsula theremen who had fought and bled for the Stars and Stripes-and they revolted against such trait torous aid and comfort to the enemy. They attacked certain carriages, on Friday evening, owned by Baltimore ladies, and filled with these contraband goods. They destroyed the goods, and damaged and turned back the carriages.

In consequence of these proceedings, General Morris, commanding at: Fort McHenry, has is responsible for their early recovery. To this *e Morris, commanding at Fort McHenry, has la-dies named will send to the sued an order forbidding any carriage to come (Dr. Bailey's) by 104 o'clock, hope that our friends will continue to furnish us within the fort, and ordering a strict inspection of all articles brought by any parties to the rebel prisoners.

The most energetic destroyers of contraband goods on Friday were men who had been pris oners at Richmond, and who realised the differ. ence between the treatment of prisoners of war here and there.

A short time since, a man calling himsel "Capt James Preston of the Confederate Army" arrived in this city, claiming to be a southern soldier seeking aid and comfort in " Maryland my Maryland." He collected $150 in cash and
