THE PEOPLE'S CHOICE FOR PRESIDENT,

ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

HARRISBURG, PA.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, MARCH 30, 1864.

Borrowing Money to Pay Bounties.

The bill legalizing negotiations for money to pay bounties having become a law, our cotemporaries throughout the State are engaged in its discussion, some assenting to, and others dissenting for its provisions. A candid view of the subject will not fail to convince the dispassionate citizen, that the bill fairly covers the whole ground sought to be reached. It authorizes counties, townships, cities, boroughs, wards, and school districts, to assess and collect taxes to liquidate the indebtedness growing out of the payment of such bounties. The Legislature could not go further. It could not compel any district to pay bounties, any more than it could control the amount of such a bounty. It is optional altogether with the people, how large such a bounty shall be, and, indeed, whether such bounties shall even be provided for. The bounty bill merely legalizes the action of those who desire to be liberal on this subject. But here it must stop, as no law would be constitutional which aimed at compelling the authorities of any district to provide a bounty for those entering the army.

—Of course, the great object of the people of each district will be to avoid the draft. This is all right and proper. But in doing so, we beg to warn the people against two great errors. The first is, to avoid the delusion of cyphering a district out of the draft. It must be borne in mind that the Government wants and must have men to fight its battles. If one district contrives by good management to escape contributing in men what it fairly owes to the Government, the cause of the nation is just robbed of so many supporters, and in proportion it must suffer. The second error to avoid is, not to borrow money to meet bounties, on too long a credit. On this point the Lancaster Examiner forcibly remarks that the people never will be better able to pay a good round sum in taxes to meet bounty debts, than now; therefore, borrow and levy your tax in such a way as to pay it off in one or two years. No one will object to paying now. Everybody will pay willingly, because all are able to pay, and feel that a good and patriotic cause is served by it. If we do not pay, our children after us will have to bear the burden. Let us not leave them local legacies of taxation in addition to the great National debt which will be for them and their posterity to discharge. A wise foresight indicates the policy of paying as we go in this matter, and the county, city, ward, township, borough or district that shall follow our advice, will see the day to rejoice for having taken it.

At Them Again.

The Evening Bulletin indulges in another fling at the Philadelphia delegation, in the Legislature, in its last edition. These attacks are becoming so frequent and so bitter, that we are induced to interpose for the purpose of protesting against their further repetition. Philadelphia never had an abler working delegation in the Legislature than she has this session. They are alike efficient on the floor, and industrious in committee. Hence the folly of making a personal issue with these gentlemen on a subject of vital public interest. It is not the best way of reaching the judgment of a legislator. If the Bulletin and its friends are opposed to what it calls a "mammoth railroad scheme," the way to make their opposition effective is to petition the Legislature, protesting against the passage of such a bill. But why this measure should be so odious to the Bulletin, puzzles more than one of its good friends in this vicinity. Certainly no one will deny that the enterprise is called for by the growing population and trade of the metropolis. In fact, it is an enterprise designed expressly to benefit the business and workingmen of Philadelphia, by affording them a cheap and certain communication between their residences and places of business.

As we declared a day or two since, we have no personal interest in the railroad bill in question, now before the Legislature. In one sense, we do not care whether it becomes a law or whether it is defeated. But as a matter of principle, we cannot refrain from at least confessing that the measure is one of utility —that those in the Legislature, who are laboring for its passage are actuated by a pure motive to serve their constituents—and that the surest plan to secure the passage of the bill is, to continue indiscriminately abusing members of the Legislature.

Personal and Political.

From information received through various reliable sources, it is now known that the exact place in which the body of Col. Dahlgren was buried was a matter of public notoriety in Richmond. There is hardly a doubt but that when Ould made an excuse for not complying with Admiral Dahlgren's request, suggested on the ground that the place where the body was interred could not be found, he deliberately stated what he knew to be false.

The estimation put upon Mr. Jeff. Davis in North Carolina is shown by this observation in the late speech of Gov. Vance. He said: "If every man in this county (Wilkes) who had used abusive language towards Jeff. Davis and the confederate government were to be put in jail, he would have to address his entire audience through prison bars."

General Lee has declined a present of a house which the City Council of Richmond proposed to purchase for him.

Mr. Stanton has just broken up a ring of horse contractors, by throwing one of the leaders into the Old Capitol Prison.

Very few officers are now in Washington, imperative orders to the front having been issued.

Paymaster W. P. Norris, of Philadelphia, died at Memphis on the 22d.

A National Bankrupt Law.

The indications are that Congress will not pass a bankrupt law during this, and probably not even at the next session. The members of the present Congress have yet to exhibit the evidence that they have a high regard for the prosperity of that large class of business men who "went under" simply because they could not reach their debtors after such as these had taken up arms in opposition to the Government. The men who were made bankrupt by the rebellion should at least have an extension to pay their debts until the war is over, the Federal authority again acknowledged in the revolted States, and a prospect thus had of making collections in the South.

If Congress, at its present session, had passed a well digested bankrupt law, we believe that the business of the whole country would have been largely benefitted. There are thousands of men, active and energetic business men, who are compelled to stand aloof from the industrial pursuits and merchandising, simply because they are hunted down by hungry creditors, who will not permit them to advance a step in prosperity. Whilst this state of affairs continues, the business of the country must of course suffer. We now want all the active energy and enterprise that can be thrown into business. We want these for the creation of sources of revenue; for the development of our national resources, and for the full expansion of our commercial facilities and power. If Congress, however, will not assist in removing the load which hangs on the shoulders and holds so many good men down in penury, we must lose the services of all such people. But let us still hope that wiser counsels will prevail, and that a law contemplating this relief to thousands of honest men now staggering through life with immense loads of debt, will be passed before many months have elapsed.

The Employment of Idle Officers.

Lieutenant General Grant has already accomplished one good work, in ordering all idle officers to their commands. If it is true, as is rumored, that the Major Generals so long absent from the army are to be placed in service, it is another cause for congratulation. The people could never rightly understand why officers receiving large salaries should be allowed to remain inactive. Hence, the announcement that Fremont, M'Clellan and others of like and less grade, are at once to be ordered to the army, will give universal satisfaction. It will be particularly pleasing to see M'Clellan and Fremont in the field, as there is a sort of military and political rivalry between these gentlemen, which can nowhere be so splendidly adjusted as in a struggle to put down the rebellion. The personal friends of these officers, respectively, deny to each other any merit for either rival. One side alleges that the other is deficient in military force and ability. Let both, then, take the field, and by the blows which they give rebellion the coming summer establish not only their military reputation, but fix themselves forever in the gratitude of the American people.

—While Lieutenant General Grant is thus ordering idle officers to the front, we trust that he will not omit to give the post of Harrisburg a thorough combing. There are officers at this post who have been wasting a large amount of valuable time, and who should be immediately invited to take part in the contest where powder is burned, blows given and work done. There is no denying the fact, that at this post there has been a great waste, owing to the number of officers in service here, a number which could be reduced at least one-half, and the interests of the Government greatly subserved thereby.

SERIOUS AFFRAY AT CHARLESTOWN, MO.

A Fight Between United States Soldiers and Copperheads

ST. LOUIS, March, 29.

A special dispatch to the Democrat, from Charleston, Coles county, says that the Copperheads came into that town to attend court yesterday, with guns concealed in their wagons, and armed with pistols.

Some soldiers in the court house yard were drawn into an affray, and a general fight occurred. The county sheriff sprang from the judges' stand and commenced firing a pistol at the Union men. Mayer York, a surgeon of the 54th, was one of the first victims.

The Union men being outnumbered at the court house, ran to the houses and stores for arms, and they were fired upon from the windows. Ten or twelve were wounded. Col. Mitchell, of the 54th regiment, was badly wounded. Oliver Sales was killed. James Gooderich, Wm. Hart, L. C. Jeffreys, and several soldiers belonging to the 54th, were wounded severely.

The 54th regiment arrived in the afternoon, and formed on the square. Nelson Wells, the man who fired the first shot, was instantly killed. John Cooper, a prisoner, was shot while trying to escape.

Colonel Brooks, with a squad of men, went in pursuit of a gang of Copperheads about seven miles distant.

Captain Williamson has some twenty prominent secesh implicated in the affair under guard at the Canal House. Colonel Mitchell had a conference with the Hon. O. B. Franklin and Judge Constable, who seemed very anxious that steps should be taken to prevent any further outbreak.

MILITARY COMMANDS IN KENTUCKY—CAPTURE OF A RAILROAD TRAIN.

LOUISVILLE, March 29.

In pursuance of directions from General Schofield, and in accordance with General Grant's orders, Kentucky has been divided into two districts.

The Western district comprises all between the Nashville railroad and Cumberland river, under General Ewing, with headquarters on the railroad. The Eastern district comprises all between the Nashville railroad and the Big Sandy river, under General Hobson, with headquarters in the field, the whole to be under the command of General Burbridge, with headquarters at present in this city.

That part of Kentucky west of the Cumberland river belongs to the Department of Tennessee.

The express train which left Louisville on Monday morning for Lebanon was captured by guerrillas and two passenger cars were burned. A guard of seventeen Federal soldiers on the train surrendered without firing a gun. This guard has been ordered to Louisville under arrest.

Federal scouts have proceeded for miles beyond Bull's Gap, and report no signs of Longstreet's forces.

Gen. Vaughan has been appointed provost marshal of Louisville, vice Major Fitch, who rejoins his regiment.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

LEWIS'

PATENT CALENDAR CLOCKS!

The Measurement of Time and the Record of Dates Combined.

THE GREAT IMPROVEMENT OF THE AGE!

A. F. ZIMMERMAN, No. 52 Market street, Harrisburg, has received the agency of the Combined Measurer of Time and Recorder of Dates, to which wonderful piece of mechanism he respectfully invites the attention of the public. The great advantage of this clock is, that the machinery of the calendar is entirely disconnected with the works of the clock; that it is simple in its construction, requiring none of the cleaning necessary to the works of an ordinary clock and it can be transported without the least liability to damage.

LEWIS' PATENT CALENDAR CLOCKS,

This Calendar is self-setting; the 24-hour wheel of the clock moves the Calendar at midnight for the following day, and the mechanism of the Calendar is such that it sets itself for the long and short months, thus, without any attention (except to keep the clock wound) it will not only point out the time of day but also the day of the week, day of the month and month of the year, giving 31 days to Jan., March, May, July, Aug., Oct. and Dec.; 30 days to April, June, Sept. and Nov., and to February it will give 28 days for three successive years and on the fourth year 29 days, thus making all the changes, including Bissextile or Leap Year. mar24-d2w
