

THE TELEGRAPH
IS PUBLISHED
MORNING AND EVENING,
BY GEORGE BERGNER.
OFFICE THIRD ST., NEAR WALNUT.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

SINGLE SUBSCRIPTION.

The Daily Telegraph is served to subscribers in the city at 5 cents per week. Yearly subscribers will be charged $5.00 in advance. Those persons who neglect to pay in advance will be charged $6.00.

EVERYDAY TELEGRAPH.

The Telegraph is also published weekly, and is furnished to subscribers at the following cash rates:

Single copy, weekly.....$1.50

Three copies to one Post Office.....4.00

Ten copies to one Post Office.....10.00

EVENING EDITION.

From our Morning Edition.

The Seasons of Life.

By JOHN M'CURDY.

Spring.
Tis SPRING-TIME, and all things are lovely,
The bleakness of Winter is o'er;
In the vale and high up in the mountain,
We hear its shrill piping no more.

The clear brook is free from its fetters;
The glad bird now warbles its song;
And the trout in the bright crystal fountain
Is sporting the pebbles among.

Down there, where the rivulet murmurs,
The wild bird sings sweetly its lay;
There flowers of the fairest are springing,
And lambkins are seen at their play.

The bee that is soon kissing each blossom,
Is fondly enjoying this hour;
His hum may be heard as he revels,
So wildly in ev'ry gay flower.

And such are the hours of our childhood!
All sunshine, and blossom, and song;
No cloud fills the heart with its sadness,
As the time passes swiftly along.

Summer.
Tis SUMMER, and sunshine and tempest,
Alternately sweep o'er the land,
And hill-top and valley are teeming,
With gifts from God's bountiful hand.

Look round o'er the land in its beauty,
Rich cereals wave in the breeze,
Like the flow of the blue restless billow,
That rolls on the breast of the sea.

The lowing of flocks in the valley;
I heard in the soft calm gale;
And the song of the milkmaid is ringing,
As lightly she trips 'through the vale.

The blossoms of Spring-time have vanished,
That round us their sweetness once shed;
All are gone! but the fruit that replaced them
Smiles o'er us profusely instead.

We, too, like the field and the forest,
Have cast off the blossoms of Spring—
And the heart, like the far-sounding eagle,
Has mounted on Hope's buoyant wing.

Autumn.
Tis AUTUMN, and sad is the murmur
That steals through the vale with a sigh,
When twilight is closing around us,
And clouds spread their pall in the sky.

The lone bird that darts through the forest,
Is pensive, and sings not its lay;
And the sear leaf is dropping around us,
In token of Nature's decay.

The landscape o'er clad in its beauty,
Has lost all the charms that it wore,
And the lamb that once skip'd on its bosom,
Is seen to rejoice there no more.

The brook, where the wild bird beside it,
Trill'd sweetly his notes at the dawn,
Had charms that oft won us to 'wo them,
But now all those charms are withdrawn.

The song of our Summer is ended,
Like those of the brook and the bird,
And naught but the chill of life's Autumn,
Above and around us is heard.

Winter.
Tis WINTER, and all things are cheerless,
Chill dreariness covers the plain,
And the song of the brook and the river,
The ice-king has bound with his chain.

The forest, in strains of deep sadness,
When mov'd by the blast that is drear,
Laments for the robes that adorn'd it;
When Summer's bright visions were here.

The mead that was lovely with verdure,
Now sleeps 'neath a mantle of snow,
And the prospect extended before us,
Speaks only of sadness and woe.

The gladness of spring-time and summer,
Now sleep in the grave of the past,
And we hear but the wail of the tempest—
The roar of the wild chilling blist.

Such, too, is the fate that awaits us—
When storms we no longer can brave—
When all things before us turn dreary,
Then death calls us hence to the grave.

Late Southern News.

New York, April 8.

Richmond papers of the 28th ult. report Governor Vance, N. C., addressing the troops in General Lee's army.

The Bremner is indignant because regiments which had been recruited by John Morgan had been taken from him and given to Gen. Grigsby, a pet of Jeff. Davis', leaving the former with only five hundred men.

A letter from Mobile reports that eight Federal vessels were still lying off Fort Morgan, and ten on Fort Morgan. There is no news of importance contained in the papers.

Release of Federal Prisoners at Richmond.

Fort Monroe, April 7.

Two steamers, the New York and Express, left early this morning under flag of truce for City Point, to bring down the Federal officers and soldiers now prisoners of war at Richmond. They numbered about one thousand.

The Underwriter's boat Atlantic attempted to visit Cape Henry to day to look after wrecks, but the sea was so rough that she was compelled to return.

Markets by Telegraph.

New York, April 8.

Cotton firm; sales of 1,500 bales at 76 cts. at $8.75@100 for State, $7.45@75 for Ohio, $7.35@75 for Southern. Wheat advanced 10; sales 28,000 bus. at $1.69 for Chicago spring, $1.56 for Milwaukee club, delivered in June. Corn dull; sales of 26,000 bus. at $1.31@1.32. Pork buoyant, at 25c. Lard heavy. Whisky firm, at $1.09@1.11.

DIARIES! DIARIES!!

ANOTHER assortment of Pocket and Desk Diaries for 1864 just received and for sale cheap at SCHIFFER'S BOOKSTORE, Harrisburg.

APPLES—200 barrels of New York Stock, a choice variety, just received, and sold low, in quantities, to suit all. At the new BOYER & KOEPEL.

Pennsylvania Telegraph.

"THE UNION—NOW AND FOREVER." Webster.

BY GEORGE BERGNER.

HARRISBURG, PA., SATURDAY EVENING, APRIL 9, 1864.

PRICE TWO CENTS.

REMARKS OF
HON. JOHN D. WATSON,
OF PHILADELPHIA.

Delivered in the House of Representatives, March 30, 1862, on the bill relating to the Payment of Interest on the Public debt.

In rising, sir, to speak to this question, I do so with feelings of great reluctance and regret—reluctance that I am obliged to part company with those at home who have been my social, moral and political mentors—men to whom I have been accustomed to look up, through long years of pleasant association, as my guides. To part company with them occasions me more regret than I can express. But high above all personal considerations, Mr. Speaker, rises the great duty which I owe to this grand Commonwealth, in which I have lived and prospered; and the duty which I owe to my country and her flag—my duty to sustain this glorious republic in all her difficulties, and to help her to victory.

But, although we have so improvidently suffered the field of circulating medium to be fished from us by private individuals, yet I think we may recover it in part, and even in the whole, if the State will co-operate with us.

Thomson J. F. Yancey, dated April 18, 1861:

"That was in 1818, when the nation had but eight millions of inhabitants."

"But this, the only resource which the Government could command with certainty, the State has unfortunately foolish away, may corruptly alienated to swindlers and shavers, under the cover of private banks."

That is one extract. But I wish to show that I have not garbled anything in these letters; that I have not searched out any isolated passages.

I will read a number of passages showing that Thomas Jefferson was really the author of the present paper circulating medium of the United States. I read from the same letter, page 140:

"But, although we have so improvidently suffered the field of circulating medium to be fished from us by private individuals, yet I think we may recover it in part, and even in the whole, if the State will co-operate with us.

Thomson J. F. Yancey, dated April 18, 1861:

"That was in 1818, when the nation had but eight millions of inhabitants."

"But this, the only resource which the Government could command with certainty, the State has unfortunately foolish away, may corruptly alienated to swindlers and shavers, under the cover of private banks."

That is one extract. But I wish to show that I have not garbled anything in these letters; that I have not searched out any isolated passages.

I will read a number of passages showing that Thomas Jefferson was really the author of the present paper circulating medium of the United States. I read from the same letter, page 140:

"But, although we have so improvidently suffered the field of circulating medium to be fished from us by private individuals, yet I think we may recover it in part, and even in the whole, if the State will co-operate with us.

Thomson J. F. Yancey, dated April 18, 1861:

"That was in 1818, when the nation had but eight millions of inhabitants."

"But this, the only resource which the Government could command with certainty, the State has unfortunately foolish away, may corruptly alienated to swindlers and shavers, under the cover of private banks."

That is one extract. But I wish to show that I have not garbled anything in these letters; that I have not searched out any isolated passages.

I will read a number of passages showing that Thomas Jefferson was really the author of the present paper circulating medium of the United States. I read from the same letter, page 140:

"But, although we have so improvidently suffered the field of circulating medium to be fished from us by private individuals, yet I think we may recover it in part, and even in the whole, if the State will co-operate with us.

Thomson J. F. Yancey, dated April 18, 1861:

"That was in 1818, when the nation had but eight millions of inhabitants."

"But this, the only resource which the Government could command with certainty, the State has unfortunately foolish away, may corruptly alienated to swindlers and shavers, under the cover of private banks."

That is one extract. But I wish to show that I have not garbled anything in these letters; that I have not searched out any isolated passages.

I will read a number of passages showing that Thomas Jefferson was really the author of the present paper circulating medium of the United States. I read from the same letter, page 140:

"But, although we have so improvidently suffered the field of circulating medium to be fished from us by private individuals, yet I think we may recover it in part, and even in the whole, if the State will co-operate with us.

Thomson J. F. Yancey, dated April 18, 1861:

"That was in 1818, when the nation had but eight millions of inhabitants."

"But this, the only resource which the Government could command with certainty, the State has unfortunately foolish away, may corruptly alienated to swindlers and shavers, under the cover of private banks."

That is one extract. But I wish to show that I have not garbled anything in these letters; that I have not searched out any isolated passages.

I will read a number of passages showing that Thomas Jefferson was really the author of the present paper circulating medium of the United States. I read from the same letter, page 140:

"But, although we have so improvidently suffered the field of circulating medium to be fished from us by private individuals, yet I think we may recover it in part, and even in the whole, if the State will co-operate with us.

Thomson J. F. Yancey, dated April 18, 1861:

"That was in 1818, when the nation had but eight millions of inhabitants."

"But this, the only resource which the Government could command with certainty, the State has unfortunately foolish away, may corruptly alienated to swindlers and shavers, under the cover of private banks."

That is one extract. But I wish to show that I have not garbled anything in these letters; that I have not searched out any isolated passages.

I will read a number of passages showing that Thomas Jefferson was really the author of the present paper circulating medium of the United States. I read from the same letter, page 140:

"But, although we have so improvidently suffered the field of circulating medium to be fished from us by private individuals, yet I think we may recover it in part, and even in the whole, if the State will co-operate with us.

Thomson J. F. Yancey, dated April 18, 1861:

"That was in 1818, when the nation had but eight millions of inhabitants."

"But this, the only resource which the Government could command with certainty, the State has unfortunately foolish away, may corruptly alienated to swindlers and shavers, under the cover of private banks."

That is one extract. But I wish to show that I have not garbled anything in these letters; that I have not searched out any isolated passages.

I will read a number of passages showing that Thomas Jefferson was really the author of the present paper circulating medium of the United States. I read from the same letter, page 140:

"But, although we have so improvidently suffered the field of circulating medium to be fished from us by private individuals, yet I think we may recover it in part, and even in the whole, if the State will co-operate with us.

Thomson J. F. Yancey, dated April 18, 1861:

"That was in 1818, when the nation had but eight millions of inhabitants."

"But this, the only resource which the Government could command with certainty, the State has unfortunately foolish away, may corruptly alienated to swindlers and shavers, under the cover of private banks."

That is one extract. But I wish to show that I have not garbled anything in these letters; that I have not searched out any isolated passages.

I will read a number of passages showing that Thomas Jefferson was really the author of the present paper circulating medium of the United States. I read from the same letter, page 140:

"But, although we have so improvidently suffered the field of circulating medium to be fished from us by private individuals, yet I think we may recover it in part, and even in the whole, if the State will co-operate with us.

Thomson J. F. Yancey, dated April 18, 1861:

"That was in 1818, when the nation had but eight millions of inhabitants."

"But this, the only resource which the Government could command with certainty, the State has unfortunately foolish away, may corruptly alienated to swindlers and shavers, under the cover of private banks."

That is one extract. But I wish to show that I have not garbled anything in these letters; that I have not searched out any isolated passages.

I will read a number of passages showing that Thomas Jefferson was really the author of the present paper circulating medium of the United States. I read from the same letter, page 140:

"But, although we have so improvidently suffered the field of circulating medium to be fished from us by private individuals, yet I think we may recover it in part, and even in the whole, if the State will co-operate with us.

Thomson J. F. Yancey, dated April 18, 1861:

"That was in 1818, when the nation had but eight millions of inhabitants."

"But this, the only resource which the Government could command with certainty, the State has unfortunately foolish away, may corruptly alienated to swindlers and shavers, under the cover of private banks."

That is one extract. But I wish to show that I have not garbled anything in these letters; that I have not searched out any isolated passages.

I will read a number of passages showing that Thomas Jefferson was really the author of the present paper circulating medium of the United States. I read from the same letter, page 140:

"But, although we have so improvidently suffered the field of circulating medium to be fished from us by private individuals, yet I think we may recover it in part, and even in the whole, if the State will co-operate with us.

Thomson J. F. Yancey, dated April 18, 1861:

"That was in 1818, when the nation had but eight millions of inhabitants."