

HARRISBURG, PA. SATURDAY EVENING, APRIL 9, 1864.

Union State Convention.

The loyal men of Pennsylvania, comprisin the National Union party, will meet in State Convention, in the Hall of the House of Representatives, at HARRISBURG, at noon,

ON THURSDAY, APRIL 28TH, 1864. Each district will be entitled to the same representation it now has in the State Legis lature, and the delegates will be chosen at such times and in such manner as shall be directed by the respective county committees.

The State Convention is called for the purpose of placing in nomination an Electoral Ticket, selecting delegates at large to the Na-tional Convention of the Union Party, to be held at Baltimore on the 7th of June next, and taking such action as it may deem proper in reference to the approaching Presidential canvass.

The selection of the district delegates from Pennsylvania to the National Convention is left, where it properly belongs, to the people assembled in their county conventions, but the different county committees are earnestly requested to adopt such measures as will pro-cure a full attendance at their respective conventions, and thereby secure, in the choice of delegates, a full and fair expression of the will of the people.

The committee cannot forbear to congratulate all lovers of liberty and the Union upon the recent triumphs of the good cause in New Hampshire and Connecticut, and to express the hope, shared by all loyal men, that they are only the forerunners of more splendid victories soon to be won in the same cause alike by the bullet and the ballot. In behalf of the Union State Central Committee. WAYNE McVEAGH, Chairman. GEO. W. HAMERSLY, | Secretaries. W. W. HATS,

Speech of Hon. J. D. Watson.

The speech which appears on our first page to-day, on the subject of paying the interest on the State debt, is one of the ablest which its talented author has made during the session. We have-heretofore referred to Mr. Watson as being in the front ranks of those in the Legislature who labor with zeal to promote the interests of the constituents whom they directly represent, as well as caring for the credit of the Commonwealth with which they are identified. A perusal of this speech will convince the reader that our good opinions of Mr. Watson are well founded.

The Removal of the Capital.

The action of the State Senate, yesterday, in reference to the removal of the Capital of Pennsylvania from Harrisburg to Philadelphia, has elicited a variety of opinions, and created a feeling of the most intense character in favor of and in opposition to the project of the removal. There are those who boastingly assent to the proposition, declaring that the fact of Harrisburg being the seat of the State Government, is no benefit to the local trade of the city-no profit to its mechanical industry -no advantage to its growth and influence. Men who talk in this spirit, compose the class who have no share in the real interests of the city-no pride in its political glory-no just appreciation of the prosperity in store for us. provided we can continue to wield the advantages we possess geographically by continuing to attract to us, as the political centre of the Commonwealth, the resources and the business created and developed by the gigantic operations in which the Government is now aged. It must be borne in mind that if the capital is removed, with the removal will go a trade the loss of which must inflict a blow on the prosperity of the city, from the effects of which it is now doubtful whether we have the recuperative elements to recover. To be sure we have a rich territory about uswe have capital that is ready to compete large ly in manufacturing, agriculture and mining. Still, with all this, the check which the growth of the city would receive by the removal of the capital, in all probability might have the effect to leave us stranded on the shores of the Susquelianna, to relapse into the insignificance of an inland borough, instead of expanding, as is now or was the prospect, to the proportions of a prosperous, thrifty, hospitable and influential inland city. We want the citizens of Harrisburg to ponder these facts seriously. We are all interested in the retention of the capital-the humblest with the most opulent -so that the man or woman who, by word or deed, seeks to stir up a fend between the city and the Legislature on this subject may be'regarded as an enemy of Harrisburg, who de serves no better fate than to be placed on the first passing raft, and thus floated to tide water as a compulsory exile from a locality whose welfare he or she had not the wit or the discretion to appreciate or defend. There has been too much talk, of late, of a personal character, in reference to the Legislature. There is too much bitter invective even now being hurled at individual members of that body, denying to them the common accomplishments of decency and decorum, and charging on them habits and practices which those who thus gossip would do well to correct in themselves. As a body, there are as respectable men in the Legislature, as can be found in any circle claiming to be refined and intelligent, in Harrisburg. It is not well to attribute the vice, which now curses Harrisburg, to such as these. Indeed, it would be far better if those who have lately given a license to their tongues on these subjects; would correct their own morals, and remember the Italian proverb; that "curses, like young chickens, always come home to roost." The people of Harrisburg have a plain PRICE $1 WER BOTTLY at this juncture. Let us all show that it is our earnest de-Sent by express to the sojourn in our midst of those th the public business as pleasant Let the city authorities do their fan26-codaw6m Abusiness. Let the council which

ies. There are others beside the people of Monroe Doctrine :" Harrisburg who have an interest in retaining the capital in its present location. These will speak in time; but, until then, it becomes us to make every honorable effort to change the feeling on the subject which now seems to pervade the Legislature. p.

"A Wicked War Between the North and the South."

We occasionally read a pompously written article in some of the many tory organs published in the rural districts, that the struggle in which the Government is engaged, is a "wicked war between the North and the South." The copperhead leaders have long been laboring to create the impression at home and abroad, that a few fanatics in the North provoked a few hot. headed gentlemen in the South, to engage in the conflict which has at length resolved itself into a fearful civil war between the North and the South. If such were really the true condition of the conflict between the parties engaged in this war, the treasure already devoted by the Government, and the human ives sacrificed, might all be accounted as thrown away-as wasted without the hope of a returning benefit. But those who assert that the struggte is a war between the North and the South, either beg the question, or take their position with a view to influence the conflict against the Government. If this war is one between the North and the South, why are there are so many Union men in the South, who have suffered for their country, who have fought for its safety, and who have perished in its defence? Why are there so many dough-faces in the North, who are either the secret or the open foes of the Government? These are questions which those who claim that the struggle is a war between the North and the South, never consider and of course can never answer. The war is a struggle between slavery and freedom. Slavery, ever aggressive -ever jealous of power and grasping for gain-provoked the quarrel. It was the object of those who sought the destruction of the Union, to reorganize the Government on a basis of slavery. The landed aristocracy of the South were opposed to yielding the control of the Government to the landed proprietors of the free States-proprietors who, while they represented the wealth of the section to which they belonged, still stood identified with labor, a fact, in the estimation of the Southern aristocracy, sufficient to disgrace all in association with such people. The owners of great plantations and large numbers of slaves, were the originators of the rebellion. These men reelled not only against the political franchises and power of free white labor in the North. but against the same element in the South. It was never declared by the leading traitors, that success to Southern rebellion would be the elevation of Southern labor, any more than it would exercise the same influence on the labor of the North. The slave-holders wanted all labor to be enslaved. Hence, instead of the war being a conflict between the North and the South, it is simply a fight between the influences of slavery and the intersts of freedom. The Union men of the South understand this subject. So do the copperheads of the North. The copperhead seeks to make it a war between the North and the South, in the hope of uniting the people of the latter section against those of the North. Such is the secret of this war. The minions of slavery in the North are ready to adopt any cry that will strengthen the cause of rebellion. They would make this a war between hell and heaven, if they thought the victory prevail among those with power in the premi- tem of government, since known as "The Extract from President Monroe's Annual Message; Dec. 2, 1823. "The political system of the allied Powers

s essentially different in this respect from that of America. This difference proceeds from that which exists in their respective Governments. And to the defence of our own, which has been achieved by the loss of so much blood and treasure, and matured by the wisdom of our most enlightened citizens, and under which we have enjoyed unexampled fa-cility, this whole nation is devoted. We owe it, therefore, to candor and to the amicable relations existing between the United States relations existing between the United States and those Powers, to declare that we should consider any attempt on their part is extend their system to any portion of this hemisphere, as dangerous to our peace and safety. With the existing colonies or dependencies of any Erronean Power, we have not interfered and European Power, we have not interfered, and shall not interfere. But with the Governments who have declared their independence and maintained it, and whose independence we have, on great considerations, and on just principles, acknowledged, we could not view any interposition for the purpose of oppressing them, or controlling in any manner their de tiny, by any Europeon Power, in any other light than as the manifestation of an unfriendly disposition towards the United States."

BUFORD'S ADDRESS TO HIS TROOPS WESTERN KENTUCKY TO BE HELD BY THE RÉBELS, &C. CAIEO, April 7.—The Cairo News has been furnished with an order, issued by General Buford, commanding the Second division of Buford, commanding the second division of Forrest's cavalry, congratulating the troops on the success of their Kentucky campaign. He praises their conduct during the attack on the fort at Paducah, and alludes feelingly to the loss of Colonel Thompson, command ing the Third brigade. He asserts that they ilenced the guns of the fort and compelled one of the gunboats to withdraw from action. The rebel loss is set down at fifty killed and forty wounded, and the Union loss at twenty-Beconcludes by informing the division of his intention to hold Western Kentucky. The actual loss of the Union forces was fourteen killed and forty-two wounded. Rebel prisoners admit a loss of three hundred killed and three times as many wounded. The latest Memphis advices report nothing Consumption has destroyed more of the human family than any other disease, and the human family than any other disease, and the best physicians for many years have despitied of a cure, or a remedy that would head the lungs, but for more than two hundred years the whole medical world has been impressed that there was a mysterious power and efficiency in the Pine Tree Tar to heal the lungs; therefore they have recommended the use of Tar Water, which in many cases had a good effect; but how to combine the medical properties so as to heal the lungs, has ever been a mystery until it was discovered by Dr. L. Q. C. WISHART, of Philadelphia, Pa., the proprietor of "Wishart's Pine Tree Tar Cor-

Many, not only of the people, but physi-cians of every school and practice, are daily asking me, "What is the principle or cause of your success in the treatment of Pulmonary Consumptian ?" My answer is this:

The invigoration of the digestive organs the strengthening of the debilitated system. the purification and enrichment of the blood, must expel from the system the corruption which scrofula breeds. While this is effected by the powerful alterative (changing from disease to health) properties of the Tar dial, its healing and renovating principle is also acting upon the irritated surfaces of the lungs and throat, penetrating to each diseased part, relieving pain, subduing inflammation, and restoring a healthful tendency. Let this two-fold power, the healing and the strengthening, continue to act in conjunction with Nature's constant recuperative tendency, and the patient is saved, if he has not too long delayed a resort to the means of cure. I ask all to read the following certificates. They are from men and women of unques-tionable worth and reputation:

DR. WISHART-Dear Sir:-I had a very dreadful cough and sore throat for one year, and my whole system was fast giving way, and I was prostrated on my bed with but little hope of recovering. My disease baffled the power of all medicines, and in a short time I must have gone to my grave, but thank God, my daughter-in-law would not rest until she and related my case to you, purchased one bottle of your Pine Tree Tar Cordial and i commenced to use it, and in one week I was much better, and after using three bottles i am perfectly well, and a wonder to all my friends, for they all pronounced me past cure. The Masses of the "Democracy" Rebuking

Senators Beardslee, Bucher, Clymer, Dono van, Glatz, Hopkins, Kinsey, Lamberton, Latta, Montgomery, M'Sherry, Reilly, Smith, Stark, Stein, Wallace, and others of the copperhead minority in the Senate, whose shame less conduct in obstructing the organization of that body, elicited such universal shame and indignation, were in the habit of flippantly asserting that their action would be ndorsed by their constituents. As an evidence of the manner in which the people andorse the conduct of the men alluded to, we quote the resolution appended below. It was offered in the "Democratic" convention of Bucks county, and is taken from the proceedings of that body as they appeared in fhe Doylestown Democrat of the 27th of March The mover of the resolution was a Mr. Garrison, a member of the Democratic State Central Committee, and it was couched in the following language:

Resolved, That the committee on resolutions be instructed to report sentiments for the sance tion of this convention, endorsing and approx-ing of the course of the Democratic members of the State Senate during the present session, and tendering them the thanks of the law-abiding people of the State for the firmness, zeal and ability with which they resisted and finally overthrew the arbitrary and revolutionary do trines set up by the Abolition members of that body. to the effect that the Senate is a perma nently organized body, and that the election of a Speaker, at the organization of the Legislature, is a useless formality.

This resolution was referred to the commit tee-"fresh from the people-who refused to report it. Having raised the issue, and the convention having declind to approve, T DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION of Bucks county vir-TUALLY CONDEMNED THEIR OWN SENATORS FOR THEIR ARBITRARY AND REVOLUTIONARY SCHEMES. There is a significance in this fact, calculated to win back from their errors any other set of men but the demagogues who compose the minority in the State Senate.

The Monroe Doctrine.

The recent action of Congress in reference to the attempt of certain European powers to gain footholds on this hemisphere, has excited the inquiry of the general reader, as to the JOHNSTON, HOL distinguished by liberality, following extract from President Monroe and following extract from President Monroe's anmored that the former was preparing to at tack Memphis.

Confiscated goods to the amount of $49,000, consisting mostly of cotton and sugar, were sold here to-day by order of the United States District Court. Eighteen hundred bales of cotton yet remain to be sold. Two hundred and two bales mixed and inferior quality, in bad condition, sold at auction at 41c. a 57 tc. Over one hundred bales of cotton have been brought up by the naval dispatch boat New National from Red river, as have also two nine-inch Dahlgren guns, being part of the armament of Fort De Russy. These guns are part of the armament taken from the Harriet Lane and Indianola.

The steamer Forsythe has been released and left for Memphis. Several thousand dollars worth of contraband goods were found in her hold. The clerk is held for examination. The election returns received indicate that L. Hummick, republican, has probably been elected Judge of the Thirteenth circuit.

XXXVIIIth Congress---First Session

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

WASHINGTON, April 9. Mr. Colfax (Ind.) offered a resolution pro posing the expulsion of Mr. Long, of Ohio for the sentiments he uttered yesterday in favor of the recognition of the Southern con-federacy. Mr. Colfar said he had offered the resolution not as the result of consultation, resolution not as the result of consultation, but on his own responsibility. If these sentiments are to go unrebuked, we could not complain of foreign governments recognizing the confederacy. If thus, from this Hall, the giving of aid and comfort to the enemy is unrebuked, you ought not to ask of your soldiers to peril their lives for those who openly adhere to their destruction.

He had pondered upon his duty and felt that he had a double obligation on him to pre sent this resolution, and as the presiding of-ficer of the House to administer the duties of the chair and the rules impertially, and the other as a representative from Indiana. Mr. Cox (Ohio) replied, saying that Judge Conway, Lincoln, ex-representative Stanton, of Ohio, and others, had heretofore declared themselves in favor of the resolution, and for themselves in favor of the resolution, and for the people to establish their separate inde-pendence, if they had the power to do so. Remarks were called forth by interrogations from Messrs. Colfax, Garfield and Julian. Mr. Cox continued his remarks, declaring that the Democratic portion of the Ohio delayation the Democratic portion of the Ohio delegation were against the recognition of the Southern Confederacy. He would not destrey the Conconteneracy. The would not desarry the con-stitution for any purpose; for without it there would be no Union, and, therefore, no well regulated liberty. We have, he said, to take the old States to restore the Union. That will be the issue next autumn. We never will yield the country to secession or abolitionism.

Read the following from Utica: DB. WISHART-Dear Sir:--I take pleasure in informing you through this source that your Pine Tree Tar Cordial, which was recommended for my daughter by Dr. J. A. Hall, of mended for my daugner by Dr. J. A. Hall, on this city, has cured her of a cough of more than five months' standing. I had thought her beyond cure, and had employed the best of medical aid without any benefit. 1 can cheerfully recommend it to the public as a safe and sure remedy for those similarly afflicted, as I know of many other cases besides that of my daughter that it has entirely cured of long standing coughs. Yours respectfully, JOHN V. PARKER, Dagnerrean Artist. 126 Genessee street, Utica, N. Y.

* • * • :--I have used Dr. Wishart's Pine Tree Tar Cordial in my family, and can cordially recommend it as a valuable and safe medicine for colds, coughs and to those predisposed to consumption. Dr. G. A. FOSTER, 160 Genessee street,

Utica, New York

The above are a few among the thousands which this great remedy has saved from an untimely grave.

We have thousands of letters from phys cians and druggists who have prescribed and sold the Tar Cordial, saying that they have never used or sold a medicine which gave such universal satisfaction.

The Tar Cordial, when taken in connection with Dr. Wishart's Dyspepsia Pills, is an iu-fallible cure for Dyspepsia. The PINE THEE TAR CORDIAL, will cure Coughs, Sore Throat and Breast, Bronchitis, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Diptheria, and is also an excellent remedy for diseases of the kidneys and female complaints.
