THE PEOPLE'S CHOICE FOR PRESIDENT, ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

HARRISBURG, PA. TUESDAY EVENING, APRIL 26, 1864.

The Pennsylvania Reserve Corps.

The Legislature recently made some general inquiries, concerning the condition of the troops from this State, now in the service of the United States, and more particularly with reference to the condition of the Reserve Corps. In reply to the resolution of inquiry, Gov. Curtin transmitted the correspondence which he had with the Provost Marshal General and the War Department. The main facts elicited by this correspondence, have already been given to the people; but after a careful repernsal of the letters of His Excellency and those of Brig. Gen. Canby, we are convinced of one thing, namely, that Gen. Canby either has a poor appreciation of what is due to the private soldier, or he is unwilling to recognize the binding of a contract between the Governor of the State of Pennsylvania, and those of its citizens who answered his appeals for aid in enforcing and sustaining the national authority and honor. The organization of the Pennsglvania Reserve Corps was a work independent of any call of the War Department. When Gov. Curtin was busy in recruiting the Reserve, many wise men were preaching that the war would not last sixty days. The men who rallied to the State standard, did so with the most explicit understanding that they were not to leave the limits of the Commonwealth; that whatever might be their term of service, it would be computed from the hour they were mustered into and passed to the control of the State. The understanding on their part was as explicit as the terms of any contract which ever bound man and man to the fulfillment of an obligation. The faith of the State was thus passed to the men who then gallantly armed for its defence, and when the State of Pennsylvania, by the prompt action of Gov. Curtin, transferred the Reserve Corps to the service of the National authorities, every obligation which bound her to those men, was placed in the hands of the Federal Government for fulfillment. The men of the Reserve had enlisted in Pennsylvania for three years. Before the Reserve was transferred to the War Department, a portion of that time had already been consumed given by the men in good faith, and understood by them when they entered the service of the National authorities, that it was for the unexpired term of service which they owed the State of Pennsylvania. Had a word been uttered to alter this impression at the time the Reserve was mustered into the service of the United States, the men would have revolted, not that they shrank from the service of the Government even for an unlimited term, but that their independence and true manhood would not permit them to submit to injustice from any quarter.

Already we see the effects of this breach of faith with the Reserve Corps. By its arbitrary decrees the War Department may be able to retain the Reserve Corps in the field for a few days, weeks or even months beyond the time when the men feel that their term of service is fairly ended. But such an advantage will be barren of all results save such as will really destroy the confidence of those men in the faith of the Government, and impel them, at the end of their term, indignantly to zens to sustain the government of the countefuse all further re-enlisments. They will try by every means in their power, till the redo this, not that they love their country less than when they first rushed to its rescue; but that they despise duplicity, whether it is evinced in the armed efforts of a Southern traitor to overthrow, or the arbitrary decisions of an imperious and intolerant official officer to render that Government to a certain extent odious. Our table is now covered with letters, written by the brave boys of the Reserves appealing to us to proest against the hardship of the decrees of the War Department, which keep them in the field, arbitrarily, over their clearly understood term of service. Though dripping with the blood of many a hard fought-field, they are not anxious to retire to their homes because they are weary of the fight. Though their ranks have been decimated, and they presented but skeletons of their former full-flushed healthful vigor, they still feel that they have rights which are as sacred as any of those which attach themselves to power, and which no man in authority can violate and maintain the honor and integrity of the Government which he represents. It is not fair thus to harass, with decisions unsupported by justice, the already over-worked and almost worn-out men in the field. They should have the benefit of every doubt in making a decision or enforcing a construction of a law. They have a right to be heard and respected in the highest councils of the nation, while those who deny them these claims, are unfit to control their actions and direct their valor.

-Perhaps we have couched our sentiments on this subject in language which may appear too strong and even offensive to those in authority. If such be the case, our excuse must be our regard for the faith of the Government, which should not be violated recklessly; and our respect for its brave defenders, who cannot be treated unjustly with impunity.

The Tory Organ's Good Joke.

The meanness and the hypocrisy of the drivellers and pimps who control the columns of the Tory Organ were never exhibited in a truer light, than that which they reflected in connection with the contest for the sword at the New York Sanitary Fair. While the favorite of all the tories in the country, M'Clellan, was supposed to have a chance of proven that Grant had two votes to M'Clellan's one, the Tory Organ affects to treat the affair with contempt. Oh! Figs!

Lancaster County.

The Union men of Lancaster county held their convention in Lancaster city yesterday, at which every district in the county was fully represented. Samuel H. Price, Esq., of the city, presiding.

Hon. Thaddeus Stevens and Thos. E. Franklin were unanimously elected to represent Lancaster county in the Union National Convention.

The following delegates were then chosen or the State Convention:

Senatorial-John Brady and David H. Coch-

Representative-George W. Mehaffey, Col. W. S. Amweg, W. H. Shirk and J. K. Alexander. The following resolutions, of immediate State and national interest, were then offered by Col. Dickey, and unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we regard Abraham Lincoln as the representative of the Great Union sentiment of the people of the United States, a statesman and a patriot; one who "hath borne his faculties so meek, hath been so clear in his great office," as to justify all that his warmest friends ever claimed for him, and who, from the faithful and impartial performance of his duties, has extorted a tribute of praise even from his bitterest political foes.

Resolved, That we, in the name of the people we represent, cordially endorse, approve and pledge ourselves ever to sustain the Presi-dent in his wise and patriotic determination to crush out the Rebellion, punish treason, restore the Union, maintain the supremacy of the laws, and forever abolish Slavery, the great national sin, and cause of all our national troubles. Reselved, That the delegates from this Congressional District are hereby instructed to support Abraham Lincoln for nomination as Union candidate for President of the United States, to adopt such a platform of principles as shall sustain and support him in the determination that the Union shall be restored, freedom upheld and disseminated, traitors punished, the Constitution preserved and so amended that "liberty shall be proclaimed throughout the land to all the inhabitant thereof." tants thereof.

Resolved, That in Andrew G. Curtin, we have a Governor, in whom as Pennsylvanians, we feel a just pride, who is ever ready with his great talents to bring to the aid of the Union, the power and services of our Great State; who is the soldier's friend, the foe of our country's foe, and in whose hands the flag of our State will never be tarnished and her honor ever jealously guarded and de fended. Resolved, That we give thanks and praise to our gallant soldiers of the Republic who have so nobly and patriotically left their homes, kindred and business; taken their lives in their hands and gone forth to meet our country's foes, and battle for us, our children, our country, for freedom and liberty to all men

Resolutions were also offered endorsing the attitude of the Representatives in Congress and the Legislature, after which the Convention adjourned.

The Patriotism of the Presbytery of Har-risburg.

The following paper, written by the Rev. Robinson. of this city, was unanimously adopted by the Presbytery of Harrisburg, at its recent meeting in Carlisle. The paper breathes the true spirit of Christianity and patriotism, and is another evidence of the devotion of the Presbyterian ministry to the cause of the coun-

"Called once again, in the providence of God, to convene while the civil war, caused by an unholy rebellion, is still raging in our beloved country, this Presbytery deems it to be eminently proper to renew the expression of its sentiments in regard to matters that vitally affect the interests of government, liberty and religion, put in peril by the conspirators against our national Union.

And that we may not be misunderstood, nor our position be in any manner equivocal, we do hereby solemnly reaffirm the testimony we have given on former occasions, so far as it bears upon the wickedness of the rebel lion, in its inception, in its continuance and in its objects, and upon the duty of all citibellion be utterly suppressed. This duty of unconditional, unreserved loyalty to the constitutionally elected government of the nation, we desire distinctly to reaffirm as a principle of our holy religion and a part of our alle

We desire further to put upon record that three years of terrible strife and suffering in the destruction of property, the loss of life, the sorrows, the desolations, and the sad moral influences of the war, have in no degree altered our conviction that our duty to our country, to posterity and to God demands that we count these sacrifices cheap to gain the great end of exterminating treason, preserving the supremacy of law and saving the country from anarchy and ruin; but on the other hand have greatly deepened our abhorrence of the principles, the spirit and the conduct of the leaders of the rebellion, and of all who by word or deed or by silence show any sym pathy for them or for their object.

And rising above the transient passions and political excitements of the day to those larger interests of human liberty, we return thanksgiving to God that through his mighty providence that system of human bondage which is the root of the whole insurrectionary movement and whose permanence was the avowed object of its leaders, is melting away —that by the powerful hand of war, by the action of disenthralled States and our National Legislature, we hope soon to see the last vestiges of the great iniquity removed from the country.

We would also exhort our brethren everywhere and all who love our common country to rebuke and oppose this spirit of disloyalty, to speak words of truth and soberness, to dis countenance all lovers of sympathy with treason—to give a cordial support to all who are entrusted with civil or military authority—to pray for our rulers, and the officers and men of our army and navy, to be unremitting in kind attentions and charities to those who toil or suffer for us in this war-to stand by the country, patient, unconquerable, hopefully waiting on God, till he gives to a disciplined, purified and re-cemented nation a peace based on principles of everlasting righteousness.

We would also express the gratification w have felt to-day in being permitted to visit the U. S. Barracks near this town; to receive the attentions of the commandant and the worthy chaplain of the post, to speak words of sympathy to the soldiers and to see the flag of our country waving over the ruins caused by the

A JUST REBUKE .- The Union men of Lanter county, in their late convention, passed a resolution compelling every man hereafter nominated for office in that caunty, to pledge himself as having never had any connection with the secret organization known as the Thugs; while the same convention, in acgetting the weapon, the Tory Organ delighted knowledging the services of the Examiner, Exto extol the contest; but since the result has quirer, which has assumed to be a loyal sheet, while it defended the schemes and the corruptions of the Thugs. The rebuke to the Inquirer was well merited and justly bestowed.

The Sixth Congressional District. The Union men of the Sixth Congressional district, composed of the counties of Montgomery and Lehigh, will be represented in the Union National Convention by the following Delegates-Daniel O. Hitner, of Montgomery county; Edwin G. Moore, of Lehigh county Alternates—William Mintzer, of Montgom ery county; and Edwin J. Moore, of Lehigh

-Resolutions endorsing the National and State administrations were adopted, and the delegates unanimously instructed to vote for the nomination of Abraham Lincoln.

Our Steamers Among the Block ade-Runners.

Washington, April 26. The Navy Department has received information of the capture of the schooner Three Brothers, by the United States steamer Nita, off the coast of Florida, and the sinking and entire loss of the blockade-running schooner Wild Pigeon.

It seems that she was discovered by the steamer Hendrick Hudson, who supposed her to be the Electric, a schooner she had boarded the day previously; but she still kept a watch on her, and as the Hudson neared her she saw she was a blockade runner. The Wild Pigeon suddenly luffed directly across the Hudson's bows, and in spite of all that could be done, the Hudson struck her directly amidships, staving her whole side in and sinking her in three minutes.

FORT MONROE, April 25.—The following official dispatch has been received: HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY AND

DISTRICT OF NORTH CAROLINA. GENERAL ORDERS, )

With feelings of the deepest sorrow the Commanding General announces the fall of, Plymouth, North Carolina, and the capture of its gallant commander, Brigadier-General H. W. Wessels, and his command. This result, however, was not obtained until after the most gallant and determined resistance had Five times the enemy stormed the lines of the General, and as many times were they handsomely repulsed, with great slaughter, and but for the powerful assistance of the rebel iron-clad and the floating sharp-shooter battery, the Cotton Plant, Plymouth would still have been in our hands.

would still have been in our nands.

For their noble defence, the gallant Gen.
Wessels and his brave band deserve the warmest thanks of the whole country, whilst all will sympathize with them in their misfortune. officers and men of the navy the Commanding General tenders his thanks for their manding General tenders his thanks for their hearty co-operation with the army, and the bravery, determination, and coolness that marked their part of the unequal contest. With sorrow he records the death of the noble sailor and gallant patriot, Lieut, Com. C. W. Flusser, United States Navy, who, in the heat of battle, fell dead on the deck of his ship, with the lanyard of his gun in his hand. The Commanding General believes that these mis-fortunes will tend not to discourage, but to nerve the Army of North Carolina to equal deeds of bravery and gallantry hereafter. Until further orders the headquarters of the sub-district of Albemarle will be at Roanoke Island. The command devolves upon Col. D. W. Wardrip, of the 99th New York Volun-

the New York Tribune says : "Twenty-five miles above Grand Ecore, from the left bank of Red river, the rebels opened on the transports Clara Bell and Bob Roy, firing twelve shots into them. A force of one thousand mounted infantry—said to be the rebel General Green's command—came down in front of the fattery and revend rel down in front of the battery and poured volleys of musketry into the steamers, which were getting the worst of it, when a small gunboat opportunely came up and shelled and silenced the battery, and compelled the rebels to fall back. General A. J. Smith's corps (16th) subsequently arrived near the scene of action, having crossed over from Grand Ecore, marched up the right bank of the river, and again crossed to punish the enemy. They captured two guns and seven-teen wounded prisoners, who say positively that the rebel general was killed by a shell enemy.

GENERAL POLK MARCHING NORTHWARD, A Successful Attack by Grierson's Cavalry,

THE COMMITTEE ON THE WAR AR RIVED AT CAIRO.

Sr. Louis, April 25. Advices from Memphis on the 22d say that Forrest's entire force was moving towards Alabama, followed by Grierson. Polk was said to be marching north, and Forrest would probably join him.

On the morning of the 21st Gierson's cavalry came upon some of Forrest's troops, near Huntsville, when a sharp fight ensued. The rebels retrected in the direction of Jackson, passing through Lagrange. A number of prisoners, horses, mules, and wagons were captured from them and taken to Memphis. Gen. Price had evacuated Camden, Ark.,

and Gen. Steele occupied the place.
Grierson has picked up a few of Forrest's men, but Forrest keeps his troops well together, and is too strong for a successful attack. His headquarters are still at Jackson, Tenn.
