This was done without the loss of a wagon

The Eighteenth corps, Smith's, were transferred from White House to Bermuda Hunture by the second corps, which in turn cap-tured more of the enemy's redoubts further south, and this corps was followed by the Ninth with the result above stated. All the troops are now up except two divi-sions covering the wagon trains, and they will be up to-night.

The enemy in their endeavors to reinforce Petersburg, abandoned their intrenchments in front of kermuda Hundred. They no doubt expected troops from the north side of James river to take their places before they were dis-Butler took advantage of this and moved this morning the enemy still occupied Peters-burg. Major Morton was killed in an assault yesterday. Nothing has been received to-day from Sherman or Hunter.

LATER. SECOND DISPATCH.

OFFICIAL REPORT OF GENERAL SHERIDAN

Washington, June 18-11 P. M.

Dispatches from Gen. Sheridan have just been received. He reports a victory over the enemy at Trevillian station on the Virginia Central railroad a few miles south of Gordons ville, where Gen. Lee a few days ago reported a rebel victory. The official report is as fol-

"I have the honor to report to you the rival of my command at this point, and also to report its operations since leaving New Castle Ferry. I crossed the Pamunky river on the 7th inst., marching via Aylett's, and oncamping on Herring Creek.
On the morning of the 8th I resumed the march via Polecat Station, and encamped three miles west of the station. On the 9th I marched through Chilesburg and near Matchett, encamping on E. N. E.

Creek, near Young's bridge.
On the 10th I marched via Andrews' Tavern and Teviman's Store, crossing both branches of the North Anna and encamped at Buchchilds, about three miles north of Trevilian Station. My intention was to break the railroad at this station, march through Mechanicsville, cut the Gordonsville and Charottsville road near Lind-ay's House and then to march on Charlottsville. But on our arrival at Buchchild's House I found the enemy's cavalry in my immediate front.

On the morning of the 11th, General Torbert with his division and olonel Gregg's Brigade of General Geary's division attacked the enemy and after an obstinate contest drove him from the successive lines of breast works through an almost impassable forrest back on Trevillian Station.

In the meantime General Custer was ordered with his brigade to proceed by a country road so as to reach the station in the rear of the enemy's cavalry. On his arrival at this point the enemy broke into a complete rout, leaving twenty officers, five hundred men and three hundred horses. hundred norses.

These operatio s occupied the whole of the day—at night I encamped at Trevillian Station and on the morning of the 12th commenced destroying the railroad from this point to Louisa court house. This has thoroughly been executed the time house.

executed, the ties burned and the rails rendered unservicable. The destruction of the railroad occupied until 3 o'clock of this day.

I directed General Torbert to advance with his division and General Davis' brigade of General Gregg's division in the direction of Gordonsville, and attack the enemy, who had concentrated and been reinforced by infantry during the night, and had also constructed rifle-pits at a point five miles from Gerdonsville. The advance was made, but as the en-emy's position was too strong to assault no general attack was made.

On the extreme right of our lines a portion of the Reserve brigade carried the enemy's forts twice, and was twice driven therefrom by infantry. Night closed the contest.

I found on the examination of the command that there was not a sufficiency of ammunition left to continue the engagement next day. Trains of cars also came down to where we were engaged with the enemy.

The reports of prisoners and citizens were that Picketts' old division, or a portion of it, were coming to prevent the taking of Gordonsville.

I therefore, during the night and next morning withdrew my command over the North Anna, via Carpenters Ford, near Miners Bridge. In addition, the animals were for the capting days in which we ware engaged with the entire days in which we were engaged without The surrounding country afforded nothing but grazing of a very inferior quality, and generally at such points as were inaccessi-
