

Andrew Johnson. OF TENNESSEE.

Enropean Governments and the Federal Efforts to Crush the Slaveholders' Rebellion.

One of the most embarrassing obstacles in the way of the success of the national effort to crush the slave-holders' rebellion, has been the sly and open manner in which European governments contributed to the success of the plans of the Southern leaders seeking the overthrow and destruction of the American Union. We have always believed that the governments of the old world had a large share in the influence which hurried forward the precipitation of the slave-holders' rebellion. England and France, assuming the lead in securing the division and antagonisms of the States North and South, expected to be rewarded for their perfidy to religion and freedom, by the creation of vast markets for the absorption of their mechanical products. The manufacturers and moneyed men of England, particularly, never satisfied with the success of a neighbor, and always jealous of the advancement of a rival, regarded the mighty developements of the American States as the indications of their own decay, the influence of their own restriction in the control of the markets of the world. Indeed, the American people have had a double jealousy to contend with as presented by the nations of Europe. The success of free government aroused the envy of the aristocracy-while the prosperity of free labor excited the fear and the jealousy of those who conducted large mechanical operations with pauper labor. Thus controlled by their personal pride, their feeling of superiority and their lust of gain, the aristocracies and the moneyed men of Europe have always been the foes of American progress in free government and success in mechanical industry. Hence, it is only fair to suppose, and not unjust to charge upon the representatives of these classes in Europe, a large share of the responsibility in bringing about the slaveholders' rebellion. Certainly, no observing man will deny that the rebels are indebted to European aid for the ability with which they have been able to prolong the war. Europe furnished the rebellion with every material but men; and the men would have been forthcoming also, had it not been for the fear of revolution at home, which renders a seat on every throng the most unpleasant elevation in the universe. But what has been the result of the deception and treachery practiced towards the American people by the rulers and aristocracies of Europe? The object certainly was to destroy the American Union and en slave the American people. Yet after three years of struggle-after fighting the most implacable enemy that ever wielded a weapon against a friend-after withstanding the influence of the world, and maintaining the power and integrity of the National Government in the face of the most appalling opposifion, we now discover that European governments are quietly commissioning agents to visit the battle-fields of the Union, and there, if possible, learn the secret of the wonderful succes of the American people. The tyrants of Europe, by this act, confess their own inferiority while they acknowledge the superior marshal skill and courage of the American people. Governments thus seeking this knowledge from the American people, will not soon offer to meddle in the affairs of the American nation-and thus we may safely infer that the bugaboo of European intervention to put an end to the war for the restoration of the American Union, has been forever dispelled. -But, we have other lessons to teach the tyrants of Europe, besides those connected with our prowess in battle and superiority in arms. To be sure such lessons are essential in the teaching of a nation surrounded with as many false friends as have so long hung upon the bounty and flourished in the glory of the American people. Still, we must teach the governments of Europe, henceforth, that we have other strength besides that of our power in battle-that we have the recuperative energy and qualities to recover from the sacrifices which we have made-that we are able to meet all our financial obligations-that we can take care of the widows and orphans made by the slave-holders' rebellion-that we can support the disabled-and that we intend to take our place among the nations of the world, a power in their councils and an influence in their destiny. Such are the compensations we must reap from our suceess. Such are the lessons elicited by the devotion on the one side and the perfidy on the other, of those identified with the struggle for and against the American Union.

A LITTLE BIT OF HISTORY .--- By reference, says the Troy Times, to the Constitutions of New York, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Virginia, Maryland, North Carolina, formed before the date of the Constitution of the United States and in force at its adoption. and also to the Constitutions of Georgia and Pennsylvania, formed soon afterwards, it appears that in respect to the qualification of electors for the most numerous branch of the State Legislatures, there was no distinction on account of color in those nine States. Connecticut and Rhode Island, being under the old royal charters, could have none. South Carolina, by its Constitution of 1776, allowed negroes to vote, but in 1778 the privilege was restricted to "every white man," &c. In Delaware, by act of February 3, 1787, emancipated slaves and their issue, were debarred. "the privilege of voting at elections or being elected." And even this seems to have been a violation of the letter of the Constitution of the State. It is well known among intelligent men, that the practice of admitting free men of color to vote, obtained universally at first, among all of the original "old thirteen." In Virginia; negroes voted side by side with white men until 1830!

"WISE AS SERPENTS."-The National Com mittee of the Democratic party will sit until the 20th instant to decide whether or not to to hold their Convention on the fourth day of July. This is wise, remarks the Chicago Tribune, for if Lee should whip Grant, the Convention will want to side with Lee. "claiming his genius and chivalry as its own." If Grant's reverses shall render a further prosecution of the war necessary to save the Nation, it would need to adopt a peace platform, while if his successes should have ended the war. it could then go in strong for a vigorous prescoution of the war.

IT IS ASCERTAINED, writes the Washington correspondent of the Chicago Tribune, that Fremont's letter of acceptance was submitted to a member of the Democratic National Convention before being sent, and was modified at that member's suggestion in several important particulars. The paragraph relative to confiscation, for example, being framed in accordance with his views, despite the opposition of some of Fremont's radical friends.

THE NEW ARTIC EXPEDITION .- We see by the New York papers that preparations go forward at a lively rate for the departure of Capt. C. F. Hall's new Artic expedition. Donations of a great many articles needed for the outfit are being made daily. The contributions in cash are nearly as large in amount as are needed for the expedition. The time for departure has not yet been decided upon.

THE FOLLOWING is the list of naval prizes up to the 1st of June, 1864: Steamers, 232; schooners, 627; sloops, 159; barks, 29: brigs, 32; ships, 15; yachts and small craft, 133. Total, 1,927. The aggregate value is $17,000, 000, to be distrbuted among the naval captors.

THE London-correspondent of the Hamilton, (C. W.) Journal of Commerce thinks that a war between England and the German powers, if with heavy losses, taking four guns and 400 Deaths at the Washington Hosprisoners, and holding the position. During the afternoon he again pushed the enemy still further, getting within about a mile and a half of the city, and taking some more prison-ers. Shells were thrown into the town, one of which struck a church.

A prisoner taken yesterday reports that 35 -000 of Lee's men were to have arrived on the field that morning, and trains were running almost hourly from Richmond, bringing troops close to Petersburg, landing them, ai d hurrying back.

Many of the men brought in are from Tennessee, this being their first fight in this quarter. They acknowledge having been completely surprised yesterday morning, and say that the Army of the Potomac fights dif-ferently from the armies of the West. At the same time, they say we cannot take either Petersburg or Richmond.

They had been accustomed to throwing up breastworks at every change of the line. were busy at this work when ordered to surrender.

Our success here was most complete, and without very heavy loss. The fighting on the remainder of the line during the day was rather of a desultory nature, and very little change took place in the positions of either party. Late in the evening our left was still further advanced, and fighting continued further advanced, and ugnoing continuou nearly all night. Colonel Mix, of New York, is reported killed; also Colonel Kelly, commanding 2d Brigade, 1st Division, 9d Corps. Lieutenant Colonel Baird, 126th New York; Captain S. O'Neil, 69th New York; Adjutant McDonald, 63d New York, and Adjutant Heish, 99th Penn-sylvania, all killed. Lieutenant Colonel Mc-Gee, 69th New York, wounded in face. Col. Beaver, commanding 4th Brigade, 1st Division, 2d Corps, wounded in the hip, and Col. Crandell, 125th New York; in the face. Col. Ramsey, 4th Brigade, 2d Corps, hand shat-tered; Major Butler, 69th New York State Militia, thigh fractured; Major Blake, 5th New York Artillery, wounded in the head.

This morning considerable firing is going on,, but nothing definite has been learned in regard to it. The 5th Corps came up last night, and rein-

Reports were current yesterday that Gen-eral Butler had advanced to the Richmond and Petersburg Railroad, and was engaged in destroying the track, when Lee surprised him, and drove him back to his entrenchments with heavy loss. Nothing official has been received ed at headquarters in regard to the matter. Troops were sent to his support yesterday afternoon. Firing at intervals has been heard in that direction.

> OFFCIAL GAZETTE. WASHINGTON, June 19, 9 45 F. M.

To Major Gen. Dix, New York: This evening a dispatch from City Point, dated at 9 o'clock this morning, reached the Department. - It reports that our forces ad vanced yesterday to within about a mile in front of Petersburg, where they found the enemy occupying a new line of entrenchments, which, after successive assaults, we failed to carry, but hold and have entrenched positions.

From the forces of the enemy within the new line it is inferred that Beauregard has been reinforced from Lees army. No report has been received by the Department concern ing the casualties of our army in its operations since crossing the James river, except the death of Major Morton, mentioned yesterday. General Sherman reports to-day that the enemy gave way last night in the midst of darkness and storm; and at daylight our nick-ets entered his line from right to left. The Phe the whole army is now in pursuit as far as Ohattahoochie. He starts at once for Marietta. No miliatary intelligence from any other quarter has been received to-day. EDWIN M. STANTON,

Secretary of War.

INLAND LINES. The War in Virginia. المستنفي والأنديسية Details of Grant's Advance on Petersburg

Ротомас, Јппе 16, 6 р. м. Smith's command, which crossed the James river at Point of Rocks, on Tuesday evening, advanced early yesterday morning on the City Point and Petersburg railroad, and found the enemy near Harrison's creek and drove them into their fortifications some half a mile beyond. The line of battle was formed with Hancock's colored division on the left. A charge was made, and the entire line of works, was taken, with sixteen guns, three hundred pris oners, and several battle flags.

The position was one of great strength, and should have resisted an attack from a much heavier force.

The colored troops are reported as behaving admirably, taking their part in the line at the same time with white troops. Our loss in the entire affair was not over 200, of whom some 40 were colored.

The 2d Corps came up in the evening, and took position on the left of Smith. In the morning an advance was made by the 2d Corps, under General Birney, and the enemy were driven from another strong position with considerable loss in k-lled, wounded and pris-

In the afternoon Burnside came up and took the left of Hancock, and at 6 p. m. a combined advance was made along the line, and a desperate struggle ensued on the left and centre, both with artillery and infantry, which lasted till long after dark, Birney's division gaining a breastwork in their front. A large humber of prisoners were taken by this corps. This morning another advance was made along the line at daybreak, and Burnside has sent in about four hundred pris oners, sixteen of whom are officers. Most of the prisoners are Tennesseeans, and from Beauregard's army. They also took a battle-flag. General Hancock has also captured a number of prisoners, who are on the way to our rear.

Our guns new command Petersburg, and can shell the city at any time. Among the wounded is Colonel Egan, commanding 1st brigade, 3d division, 2d corps. He was struck by a piece of shell in the back, but the wound is not of a serious character. Col. Tannatt, of the 1st Massachusetts Heavy Artillery, was wounded, and Major Hamilton, 110th Pennsylvania, killed. Gen. Grant returned to headquarters, from City Point, last evening, and this morning has gone to the front. Our loss is said to be about 1,000 yesterday,
