Affairs at Baltimore City.

BALTIMORE, July 9th. The city has been full of rumors to-day of disaster to our forces under Gen. Wallace, at Frederick. As near as we can get at the truth the enemy appeared in large force in front of Frederick last evening, and Gen. Wallace not deeming himself strong enough to resist them, fell back to Monocacy bridge. There he was attacked this morning in overwhelming numbers and forced to fall back on reinforcements which were sent to their relief.

LATER ACCOUNTS.

BALTIMORE, July 9. It may, without exaggeration, be said to-day, that we are having something of an excitement. All day the streets have been teeming with rumors from the front. In the city active arrangements are being made in anticipation of the emergency, which it is confidently believed is only barely possible and not probable to occur.

Proclamation by Gov. Bradford.

BALTIMORE, July 9—Evening.—The following proclamation has been issued: CITIZENS OF BALTIMORE.—We have been unwilling to create an unnecessary alarm or agitation in this community by any appeal for your immediate assistance in resisting the threatened invasion that might be deemed premature, but we have no longer such an apprehension and feel no hesitation in declaring that in our opinion the danger which now threatens the city is imminent, and if you would avert it, every loyal man must at once prepare to meet it.

Official Report.

WASHINGTON, July 10—10 A. M. Maj. Gen. Dix: An official report from Major General Wallace just received, states that a battle took place between the forces under his command and the rebel forces at Monocacy yesterday, commencing at 9 o'clock, A. M., and continuing until 5 o'clock, P. M.

NO MOVEMENTS OF IMPORTANCE.

WASHINGTON, July 9. It is ascertained from parties that arrived on the mail boat from City Point, that on Thursday night the rebels brought a battery to bear upon a working party of ours who were engaged in throwing up earthworks nearer to Petersburg, and for a time a sharp cannonading took place. Our men had also brought up a battery to oppose that of the rebels and the latter was soon silenced.
