

construed in giving the black soldier also a right to exercise the elective franchise. In order to convince every doubting mind that such a construction cannot by any contortion of the English language, be placed on the Constitution after this amendment has been adopted, we publish the first section of the third article of the Constitution, which reads as follows:

SECTION 1. In elections by the citizens, every WHITE FREEMAN of the age of twenty one years, having resided in this State one year, and in the election district where he offers to election, and within two years paid a State or county tax, which shall have been assessed at least ten days before the election, SHALL ENJOY THE BIGHTS OF AN ELECTOR ; but a citizen of the United States who had previously been a qualified voter of this State, and removed therefrom, and returned, and who shall have resided in the election district and paid taxes as aforesaid, shall be entitled to vote, after residing in the State six months : Provided, That WHITE FREEMEN, citizens of the United States, between the ages of twenty-one and twenty-two years, and having resided in the State one year, and in the election district ten days, as aforesaid, shall be entitled to vote although they shall not have paid taxes.

To this section an amendment is proposed in the shape of a new section, and which is to be ratified by the voters on Tuesday next. The amendment to be adopted reads as follows. viz :

"SECT ON 4. Whenever any of the QUALI-FIED ELECTORS of this Commonwealth shall be in any actual military service under a requisition from the President of the United States, or by the authority of this Commonwealth, such electors may exercise the right of suffrage in all elections by the citizens, under such regulations as are, or shall be prescribed by law, as fully as if they were present at their usual place of election."

Any man of common sense will at once observe that this cannot under any circumstances give the colored soldier a right to vote. The amendment is as clear as it can be made THAT NONE BUT THOSE WHO ARE QUALIFIED ELECTORS in actual military service may exercise the right of -warage. expressly that none but "WHITE FREE-MEN" shall be entitled to vote, and the amendment is merely intended to give soldiers who are qualified voters when at bome. the right when they are absent fighting any of the enemies of the country-a privilege which has been denied to them by Judge Woodward and the Democratics Supreme Court.

Recruiting in Robel States. We want the farmers and mechanics of the free and loyal States, from whom the great body of our troops have been recruited, to mark well the fact how the proposition to raise men to fill up the ranks of our decimated armies in the robel States, is now treated by the copperhead organs of the country. The idea of recruiting in the rebel States, embraced the success of two leading objects. First, the loyal men of the free States, having made the most noble sacrifices for the cause of the Union, were to be relieved, as far as possible, from the burdens of service in the field; and second, the loyal men of the South, who as yet have had few opportunities to strike effective blows for the Government, were to be encouraged in every effort they were willing to make for the suppression of the rebellion. Every Southern man, now idle and on the verge of starvation, who can be induced to volunteer to fill up the quota of a Northern.

Western or Eastern district, saves a mechanic and laborer to such sections. EVEBY NEGRO IN THE SOUTH, EVERY SLAVE WHO IS WILLING TO STRIKE & BLOW FOR THE OVERTHROW OF REBEL-LION AND THE EMANCIPATION OF HIMSELF AND FAMILY, SAVES & WHITE MAN TO THE FREE STATES, AND ENSURES MANY & WHITE MOTHER AND HER CHILDREN FROM WIDOWHOOD AND ORPHANAGE. These were the objects to be gained by authorizing the Governors of free States to fill up their quotas on the draft by recruiting in the rebel States. Yet in view of these facts and objects, almost the entire copperhead press of the country now oppose the business of recruiting in the South, by assailing its practicability and ridiculing its effectiveness. It is the object of the Democratic leaders in the North, to keep the world in the faith that the South is a unit in rebellion. Any encouragement to volunteer for the defence of the Government, by the people of the rebellious States, would destroy this delusion. And while the Democratic leaders are thus anxious to maintain the treasonable unity of the South, they are equally solicitous for the complete exhaustion of all the resources in men and means in the North. The more drafts that are made in the North, the more capital the Democratic leaders hope to create against the Government. The less aid the Government can derive from the loyal men of the South, the rebellion is thereby made more respectable.

-We want the farmers and mechanics of the free States to ponder these facts. It needs no great sagacity to discern them, as they are set forth in the course of every copperhead organ in the land, now opposing any effort by the Government to crush rebellion. The whole subject is worthy of the most serious attention of the masses of the people.

SECRETARY FESSENDEN has issued regulations for the collection of the special war tax of five per cent. on the incomes of 1863. The assessment is made on the basis of the returns for that year, and in cases where deductions have been made on account of dividends or interest received from corporations, or on account of Government salaries, such deductions will be added to the old returns and the assessment made upon the whole amount. Ten davs, notice is to he citer he essessment to persons whose old returns were not made in detail, requiring them to be so made to October 1. The distinction heretofore made between incomes of resident and non-resident citizens is abolished. One hundred per cent to be added by the assessor to all returns in cases where they are proved fraudulent immediately after November 1. All lists made in accordance with these regulations will be returned to the Collector, and the subsequent proceedings for the collection of the duty will be similar to those for the collection of other taxes. A SHREWD CONSCRIPT. - The Buffalo Commercial Advertiser tells a story about one of the aldermen of that city who was drafted, but was averse to army service. It appears that the Common Council of Buffalo possesses the power to pardon convicts in the penitentiary. Some time since a noted scoundrel was sentenced to a term of imprisonment, and upon this individual the "conscript" father" fixed his attention. He visited the prisoner, and found him ready to go into the army as a substitute. The next thing was to get the rogue pardoned out. This was accomplished through the favor of the Board; but when the culprit was released he utterly declined to enter the service, and is now ready the rebels on the 19th of May. These guns to undertake any little job of mischief that | are now at City Point. may present itself. GENERAL SEYMOUR. - The Troy Times says : The wife of General Seymour has received several letters from her husband, who is now in Charleston, under the order of Gen. Jones assigning Federal prisoners to localities exposed to the fire of our shells. General Seymour states that he is in good health and spirits, and speaks of a recent order he has seen, instructing the confederate officers to treat him humanely during his stay there. The order was countersigned by Davis, and was prompted in consideration of Seymour's humane treatment of the rebel wounded after the battle of Sharpsburg."

following dispatch from City Point : CITY POINT, Wednesday, July 27-10 A. M -I think I am safe in saying that the ball is about opening—that the grand conflict is at hand. Heavy cannonading and musketry firing took place this morning all along the lines, particularly in Gen. Butler's Depart ment, and up, on both sides of James Biver. A strong pressure was made on Gen. Butler's line yesterday, and the pressure is thus being returned this morning. There were heavy movements of entire army corps last night, the nature of which it may be premature to definitely mention. The wildest enthusiasm and the highest ex-pectation prevail here. There need be no fear for the result when the tug of war comes The army is in magnificent condition. I have no doubt but that another day's dis patch will bring you details of a most gratify ing character.

Surg. Gen. King.

The Pittsburg papers announce the resignation of Surg. Gen. King, P. V. This announcement is premature. He tendered his resignation some weeks since, but it is not known out of offical circles, whether Gov. Curtin has accepted it; although it is inferred, from the circumstances which induced Surg. Gen. King to this step, that the Governor will. be constrained to part with one of his most efficient supporters and counsellors. As soon as the letter of acceptance has been received, we shall publish it in connection with Surg. Gen. King's letter of resignation. And in the meantime we cannot refrain from expressing, what is the common feeling of this communnity, our deep regret at the prospect of losing socially, professionally and officially, so good a man Dr. King.

PREPARING TO ENFORCE THE DRAFT.-It should be understood that the statement made in some papers to the effect that Grant expects the late call for troops to be filled by volunteering is untrue, as is also the additional statement, that there will be no draft, even if the call is not filled by volunteering. The War Department is making all the preparations for the draft, whenever it is needed, and in fact, the authorities of at least one or two States are doing very little to encourage volunteering, claiming that it is better at this state of the war to drait. On the other hand, reports show that in some sections quotas are being rapidly reduced by enlistments. It is well known that the term of service of some thousands of troops expires this summer. Towns and cities have had recruiting agents at work among veterans for a month or more before the last call, and with such success that not a few agents, early and energetic in the field, report the quotas of their respective towns nearly filled.
