TOWN AND COUNTRY.

Extra Fine Vanilla Beans at Reily's Drug Five companies are being raised in Altoona for State defence.

Sweet foratos have made their appearance in our market, and sell at the rate of about $3 per bushel.

UPWARDS of twelve thousand dollars have already been contributed by our citizens for the relief of the Chambersburg sufferers.

VISIT TO CHAMBERSBURG.—Both Houses have agreed to pay a visit to Chambersburg, and will leave for that place to-morrow morning at eight o'clock.

HOT WEATHER .- The present "spell of weather" is the hottest that has been experienced here for several years. With the thermometer at 100 degrees in the shade, our people are sweltering, and wishing for the speedy advent of autumn.

NOTICE TO MEN BELONGING TO CAPT SAN-No's CAVALRY COMPANY. - The Provost Marshal has received notice to arrest all men belonging to Captain Sanno's company, as deserters, who do not report at Captain J. M. Opdycke's office within twenty-four hours,

THE Philadelphia Ledger of yesterday says that the Mayor is absent, and has not signed the bill to pay four hundred dollars for one year's service, and that "the matter must remain uncertain." The "big bounty" may yet fizzle out in Philadelphia.

H. Robinson, of Company B, 9th Pennsylvania Cavalry, was, on Friday last, found dead in the middle of Salt River Road, seven miles from Louisville, Ky. The body was divested of clothing, and bore marks of violence. There is no doubt but that he was foully mur-

A man named Keyser, a shoemaker, who resided near Rider's switch, on the Northern Central railroad, was killed, a day or two ago, by a passenger train. Keyser was standing on the track, and persisted in remaining thereon, until the cow-catcher in front of the locomotive caught and threw him several feet in the air, with the above stated result.

A LETTER from the 46th Pennsylvania regiment informs us that the losses in its ranks have been very severe. On the 28th of April the regiment numbered eleven hundred men -now it can muster but three hundred. It has participated in all of Sherman's battles since the above date, and has reflected great honor upon the old Keystone State.

THE people of Reading have made application to the State authorities, for one thousand stand of arms for the use of the citizens. The idea, it seems, is to raise a regiment for home defence, which would also be useful in case the rebels should threaten Harrisburg, Columbia, York or Lancaster, as it would take but a few hours to transport a regiment to either of those points.

ORDINANCES. -- We publish, to-day, three ordinances passed by the city council, and approved by the Mayor. One of them provides for the payment of night policemen on duty in June and July; another authorizes the money borrowed for the erection of a truck house for the Mount Vernon Hook and Ladder Company, to be used for the payment of the debt on the Good Will Engine, which was assumed by council: the third ordinance imposes a fine for blowing off steam from the cylinders of locomotive engines in certain parts of the

OUR CITY is infested with recruiting agents from other counties, who are endeavoring to entice our citizens to enlist, to the credit of the counties to which the respective agents belong. We would caution our people against being led away by any of those strangers, even if they offer higher bounties than are paid here. All who enlist to the credit of any place in Dauphin county will have their families provided for to a considerable extent, by the relief paid by our commissioners. This item alone will more than equal the extra bounties offered by any other counties or Yesterday the agent of a certain county entered one of our business establishments, and endeavored to obtain recruits. Being somewhat of a "gassy" nature, he was subjected to a sprinkling from those at hand, and had to leave instanter. Served him right.

LORETTO SPRINGS .- This delightful resort, located on the Allegheny mountain, in Cambria county, one mile from the village of Loretto, and four miles from Cresson station on the Pennsylvania railroad, is open for the reception of visitors. As a resort from the summer's heat, Loretto Springs are not surpassed. Every convenience necessary to the comfort of visitors, has been provided. The table and bar are provided with the best in the market. The bath houses are in fine condition. The water of the springs possess rare medicinal qualities, and contain in large proportions valuable mineral properties. A splendid band of music is in attendance. There is a daily mail to and from Loretto. Half-price tickets are issued by the Pennsylvania railroad company to Crosson, at which place coaches are always in readiness to convey passengers to the Springs. Full particulars can be obtained by addressing F. A. Gibbons, proprietor, Leretto P. O., Cambria county, Pa. and the second s

THERE were several cases before the Mayor since yesterday morning. Four drunken soldiers were handed over to the military authorities. Susan Demas, a colored woman, found on the streets at a very late hour, went up for | Third St., Harrisburg, Pa. 30 days. Julia B. Taylor, colored vagrant, was sent up for 10 days.

SERIOUS CHARGE. -- A colored man, named James Brown, was arrested yesterday by officer Campbell, on a charge of "assault and attempt to ravish"-his intended victim being a respectable white girl of but fourteen years of age. Brown was committed to prison for trial at court, in default of $1,000 bail. There seems to be sufficient evidence to prove him guilty, and if convicted he should receive the extreme punishment allowed by law. The outrage is too horrible to contemplate, and unless such evil characters are properly disposed of, our wives, daughters, sisters and mothers are not safe even in the vicinity of their own homes.

Correspondents and their Labor.-Every raid brings an avalanche of this busy, industrious corps. The appearance of any one of them upon our streets is a sure indication that there is something in the wind. Those in power, and who are supposed to have superior information in regard to the movements of the enemy, are generally far behind the specials in their facts. We have been amused, time and time again, in listening to them recount their amusing incidents, and in witnessing the rapidity with which they grasp and interpret a point. Some military minds are so obtuse that they do not realize the fact of the foe's intention in his feints and flank movements. Not so the live special; he has it all down to dots, when he intends or will make his new base, and in nine cases out of ten their conjectures prove correct. These men are never idle. While others are wasting hours in slothful repose, they make night serve a purpose, and in crowded railway cars, they will accomplish distance, take their rest and return to the point from which they started without being missed. The topography of the country they have at their finger ends, and but a few days ago, we saw two of them lying on their face, full length of the flose, tracking the enemy upon one of Barns' new maps, which they declare to be excellent. What would our readers think of traveling to Philadelphia and back in a day, and make an extra trip to Lancaster and return, and do this three days in succession? Yet this was done by one whom we know, and nothing was thought of it.
The reply to an interrogatory about its being severe work, was, "Oh! that's nothing; my paper made the hit." We wish this spirit could be engendered in some of our military rulers. Like birds in autumn, the specials have flown back to Washington and the Potomac. They put in practice daily the zeal we have here faintly described.

A VERDANT VICTIM.--The Philadelphia Press gives the following statement of how a countryman was "taken in" in that city, theothter day:

A tall countrynan from the romantic region of West Chester, Pennsylvania, called at the Central Station yesterday and related how he was duped out of $20. He had arrived in town on the previous night, and while walk-ing around yesterday morning "seeing sights" he was accosted by a courteous young man, who offered to walk around with him for a short "spell." He entered into conversation with the representative of unsophisticated rural felicity; was decidedly courteous and unremitting in his attention. The neighborhood of Third and Chestnut street was reached and just at this moment a man came from a store near by and asked the man who was accompanying the countryman if he could let him have the amount of the bill of $20, as he had promised.

"Upon my word," replied the individual thus accosted, "I had forgotten all about it." The conversation was so conducted that the countryman offered twenty dollars to his "friend" to relieve him from the temporary embarrassment. This offer was accepted, the money paid over, and the countryman and his cicerone passed on. The front of the Girard Bank was looked at; the towering proportions of Dr. Jayne's building were admired; the handsome proportions of the Merchants' Exchange came in for a share of ob-servation; and presently Harmony court became an object of attraction, and the two passed through that narrow thoroughfare, but how they became separated is a mystery that the countryman could not solve. He was politely requested to wait a few moments at a He waited for an hour; his dinner hour had passed, and being a stranger got be-wildered, and could not tell exactly where he was. The detective to whom he related his misfortune sympathized with him, but could not adopt any means to restore the lost twenty dollars. The representative from the country will, from sad experience, become a

GREAT DISTRESS IN CHAMBERSBURG.—The following is an extract from a letter from one of our prominent citizens from a resident of Chambersburg. The establishment alluded to is the Garman Referenced Rock and Name of the Chamber State of the Common Referenced Rock and Name of the Chamber State of the Cham is the German Reformed Book and Newspaper Concern:

Our town is entirely ruined. It cannot be exaggerated. Language cannot describe the destruction. It must be seen to be realized. I saved my house and effects by much exertion. Four-fifths of the town is destroyed. It was the most barbarous and cruel act ever recorded. I could tell you of acts that came under my own observation that would be a disgrace to the most barbarous people on the face of the earth. Our establishment is entirely destroyed, nothing being saved. Our loss is $40,000 at a low estimate. We had put in within the last month $3,500 of machinery. I do not think it will be rebuilt—the loss is too great. I am at a loss what to do. Threeourths of our people are turned out of doors with nothing but what they have on their backs. I have a family in every room in my house. Much distress must exist, but thanks to the surrounding country, our present wants are being supplied. We must receive heavy aid from abroad for some time to come, otherwise we must suffer much. Our town will never be rebuilt unless aided from abroad. If you want to see a desolated place come up.

The Election in Potter County-12 to 1 for the Soldiers.

COUDERSPORT, Pa., August 5, 1864. DEAR SIE:—The vote on the amendments to the Constitution in this county (official) stands as follows: For the first amendment, 1025, against, 87 for the second, 1053. 52; for the third, 1016, against, 61. In fif teen townships there were no votes against the amendments—the copperheads refusing to vote. Some say they were afraid of th soldiers. Until we see returns that "beat" us, we shall claim to be the banner county of the State—938 majority out of 1112 votes!

HIGH PRICE OF GOODS.—The prices of all the necessaries as well as the luxuries of life, have now reached a point beyond anything ever before known in the history of Harrisburg; and the indications are that they will go still higher, to which consumers must submit. How poor men can pay rents and sub-sist their families, is a mystery to us. There is no necessity for the existence of such a state of things, and concert of action on the part of consumers, especially with regard to those things that can be dispensed with, will soon cure the evil, by buying your goods at Brant & Bowman's cheap dry goods store, corner Second and Walnut, formerly J. Kahnwiler's. They are determined to close out their entire stock, at least 20 per cent. below city prices. Call and see. No charges for showing goods. No charges for au9-2t
