HARRISBURG, PA. WEDNESDAY EVENING, AUGUST 17, 1864.

NATIONAL UNION TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT, Abraham Lincoln, OF ILLINOIS.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT. Andrew Johnson, OF TENNESSEE.

Jestina Union County Convention. The loyal citizens of Dauphin county are invited to meet in County Convention for county officers, at the Court House in the city of Harrisburg, on Tuesday, the sixth day of September, 1864, at 10½ o'clock, A. M. Meetings for the election of delegates will be held in the various townships of the country, at the usual places of holding said elections, between the hours of five and seven P. M., and the several wards and beroughs between the hours of seven and nine P. M., on Saturday, September 8d, 1864. H. THOMAS.

Chairman Union County Committee. S. S. CHILD, Secretary.

WITH ALL DUE DEFERENCE to the wisdom of those called to legislate for the interests of the State, we cannot refrain from protesting against the manner with which the military bill is being delayed by the offer of absurd and ridiculous amendments. The idea of any State proposing to organize a military force and making it exempt from the law or calls of the National Government, is supremely ridicolous, and every amendment proposed to secure such a force for Pennsylvania, is so much farcical legislation, humiliating and disgusting in the sight of sensible and earnest men. The military power of the National Government is supreme over all the States. A State may organize its militia, but a State cannot recruit armies and hold them against the call of the National Government for troops. Hence the utter folly of entertaining the amendments seeking to nullify these plain truths in law. Such amendments can only be regarded as the merest ebulition of partisan rancor-a covert way of giving expression to treason which secretly rankles at the heart. Besides, they delay just legislation, and should therefore not be entertained at this time. Hence every effort should be made to give the militia bill a speedy passage.

THE SECRET OF THE VIOLENCE with which the copperhead organs assail the Government and the people engaged in the effort to put down the slaveholders' rebellion, is explained by the fact, that the rebels need the sympathy of the world, and this course of the copperhead organs in the loyal States is deemed the surest way to elicit it. The rebel leaders now insist that they are not fighting for slavery-that they care nothing for slavery-that their struggle is for independence. If they are not fighting for slavery, why do their organs in the North so constantly abuse the abolitionists? If the rebellion is one for independence, and not for slavery, why is it that the safety of slavery alone excites the solicitude of traitors North and South? These are questions which such arch-hypocrites as Jeff Davis and George W. Woodward cannot plainly answer. But if Davis can deceive the world with professions of fighting for independence, and the copperheads in the meantime delude the rabble with cries against the nigger and the abolitionists, the labor of both will be performed, even if their object fails.

OFFICERS' ORDNANCE ACCOUNTS .- It will be of service to officers of the army to know, that where it is possible to do so, they should transact their own business with the Ordinance Department, either personally or by letter. Great care is taken to reply promptly to all communications, and it is the intention of the department, while it holds every officer to a strict accountability for ordnance property, to afford him freely every facility in its power necessary to a correct and speedy adjustment of his accounts. We are glad to hear that the Ordnance Bureau has come to this decision of facilitating the settlement of officers' ordnance accounts, as heretofore great personal injury has been done brave and honest men by the decisions of the Chief of the Ordnance Bureau. When the war was first precipitated, many of the volunteer officers were unacquainted with the nature of such accounts, many more were placed on duty where it was impossible to keep a record, and yet these were all held to a strict answer, the same as if they were old efficers, familiar with the entire routine of the service. Such men as these suffered unjustly. Many still continue to suffer. Hence we are glad to hear that the head of the Ordnance Bureau has concluded to facilitate the settlement of accounts on its books. It would be well if the head of every department and bureau connected with the Government would also afford the people like facilities.

A SIGNIFICANT CHANGE. -- We referred to the fact, the other day, that the Copperhead National Convention would assemble on the o'clock, P. M. birthday of the first traitor to his country, Benedict Arnold, and now we need only remark that the change from the 4th of July (the day originally fixed for the meeting of the cops) to that of the 29th of August, is significant, and indicates truly the tendency of modern Democracy. The next National Convention, after the one of the 29th, of the min unto now lead what is called the Democratic party, will be called for infidel purposes, because from treason to infidelity is but a logical result.

An address of sympathy has been issued by the people of Geneva to the people of the United States. It reminds the latter that Switzerland has also had her intestine struggles, and that she issued from them stronger than she was before. It will be the same with the United States. Sketch of Licutenant John W. Kelley. late Executive Officer of the Monitor Tecumseh.

Lieutenant Kelley entered the Naval Academy as midshipman in February, 1853, and remained there until June, 1857. Shortly atter he received his first orders to sea, and atter he received his first orders to sea, and joined the steam frigate Mississippi, Captain William C. Nicholson, ordered to the East Indies. Returning in that ship to Boston, in Jandies. Returning in that ship to boston, in January, 1860, after having visited all the ports in China and Japan open to foreigners, he again returned to the academy, passed his final examination in June, 1860, and received orders to the sloop-of-war Brooklyn, under command Captain Farragut, who was directed by the department to superintend the survey of the Chiriquoi lagoon. In December, same year, he was ordered as master of the shoopof-war St. Mary's, in the Pacific, and while attached to that vessel received his commission as lieutenant. In 1862, wearied of the inactivity of the life he was leading, he applied for active service, was detached, came home, and on the 21st of April received orders to the frigate Sabine, Commodore Ringgold, where he remained for more than a year as executive officer, until October, 1863, the ship then going out of commission at Boston. He then applied to the department for service on an iron clad, and was ordered to the Mon-itor Tecumseh, Commander T. A. M. Craven, then nearly completed. On the 23d of April, 1864, she sailed for and arrived safely at Hampton Roads, and, after a short stay in James river, left for Mobile to assist in the reduction of that place, under the gallant Far-ragut (for whom, personally and profession-ally, Mr. Kelley has always entertained the highest regard and admiration,) and, in lead ing the fleet past the forts, the Tecumseh was blown up by a torpedo and totally de stroyed, with nearly all her officers and crew, by the skill and energy which he displayed in preparing the Tecumseh for sea. He leaves, to mourn his sad loss, a father, mother and brother, besides a large circle of friends, to whom he had endeared himself by his kindness of heart, his urbanity and gentlemanly de portment. The writer, one among the number, has enjoyed, uninterruptedly, the closest intimacy with him for the past seven years, and his earnest prayer is, that he may have been one of the fortunate ones that escaped hour of need.

Lieut. Kelley was a brother to James R. Kelley, Esq., member of the House of Representatives from Washington county, and we deeply sympathize with him in the loss of a beloved brother.

OFFICIAL REPORT OF GEN. LOGAN.

COLONER :- I have the honor to report that in pursuance of orders I moved my command position on the right of the 17th Army Corps, which was the extreme right of the army in the field, on the night and morning of the 27th and 28th inst., and during my advance in line of battle to a more desirable position, we were met by the rebel infantry from Hardes and Lee's corps, who made a desperate and determined attack at 11±0'clock and the battle commenced, and lasted intil about three o'clock in the evening. During that time six successive charges were made, which were six times gallantly repulsed each time with fearful loss to the enemy. Later in the evening my lines were several times assaulted vigorously, but each time with

The enemy's loss could not have been less in my judgment, than 6,000 or 7,000.

DEMORALIZATION IN REBEL ARMY.

Additional particulars have been received of the action of Sunday. Part of the 2d and part of the 10th corps engaged the enemy in the afternoon, near Deep Bottom. The 10th, under Gen. Birney, took part of a line of works, with four eight-inch brass guns, and a number of prisoners. His loss was small. The enemy fell back to a strong position, and the 2d division of the 2d corps was drawn up in line of battle beyond where Hancock captured the four guns two weeks ago. Col. Macy had his horse shot from under Col. Maey had his horse snot from under him, and mounting Gen. Ratiow's horse the animal became unmanageable and fell on the Colonel, badly bruising him. Col. Macy was wounded in the Wilderness and had returned to the field only a day or

The division lost at least 300 men in the engagement and 3d Divisions, which were in support, lest about two hundred and lifty from the effects of the robel artillers.

The wounded were all brought off, and are

Sergeant Ball, of the 36th Wisconsin regiment, was killed, and about twelve were wounded in that regiment. Sergent Fuchs, of the Thirty-sixth Wisconsin, color bearer, was badly wounded. This is the third time he has been wounded in the present campaign. Lieutenant Kelley, of the One Hundred and Twenty-fifth New York, and Lieut. Wheelhouse, of the Second New York artillery, are wounded. Our troops still hold their position in front of the enemy's works, which are very strong and well defended, owing to the nature of the country in the vicinity.
