The pending question being on the amendment of Mr. ST. CLAIR, it was decided in the negative, yeas 11, nays 11. Mr. M'SHERRY offered an amendment, providing that persons having conscientious scruples against bearing arms, shall, if drafted, be required to do such duty as is required by the laws of the United States; agreed to, but afterwards reconsidered and lost.

Mr. HOPKINS offered an amendment exempting the militia when called into the service of the Commonwealth from "all other military service." Lost—yeas 12, nays 13.

Mr. BUOHEE offered an amendment providing that the State shall furnish the general Government, with substitutes for men in the Federal service. Lost—yeas 12, nays 13.

The amendment of Mr. TURBELL, which was lost when offered this morning, providing that persons exempt from military duty under the laws of the United States, may be received as volunteers in the State service, without respect of age, was reconsidered and adopted.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES. AFTERNOON SESSION. The House met at 3 P. M.

Mr. SMITH, (Chester) from the special committee on revenues, reported an act to provide for the better assessment and collection of taxes on real and personal estate, and stated that in consideration of the variety of amendments which the bill proposed to the present tax laws, the committee did not deem it advisable for the Legislature to consider the subject at the present session. The bill was ordered to be printed.

The House resumed the consideration of the bill for the relief of Chambersburg. Mr. SCHOFIELD moved to amend by inserting two hundred thousand dollars, instead of one hundred thousand, as the amount to be appropriated. The amendment was agreed to—yeas 45, nays 35.

Mr. M'ELROY offered an amendment, providing that the distribution shall be made among those only who may be in actual need of temporary relief. The amendment after considerable discussion, was agreed to. The bill, as passed finally, is as follows: AN ACT for the relief of Chambersburg.

WHEREAS, On the morning of the thirtieth of July, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four, the insurgent forces under General Johnston and McClelland, entered Chambersburg, and with a barbarity and vandalism unparalleled in the history of civilized warfare, fired and destroyed the entire business portion of the town, including two hundred and sixty-five private dwellings and all the public buildings, and thereby made thousands of its citizens houseless and destitute.

And Whereas, Charity and benevolence are as much the duties of States as of individuals; therefore

Sec. 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the sum of two hundred thousand dollars, hereby appropriated for the relief and benefit of the sufferers from the late destructive fire in the borough of Chambersburg, and its vicinity, the said sum to be distributed amongst said sufferers by the persons and in the manner hereinafter mentioned.

Sec. 4. That the whole amount of State and county tax heretofore assessed and unpaid, upon the personal property and the real estate upon which the buildings have been destroyed by the late fire, within the said borough of Chambersburg and its vicinity, is hereby released to the persons liable for the same, and that for the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four, no taxes for State and county purposes shall be assessed on or collected of the aforesaid real estate of said sufferers,

And it shall be the duty of the said commissioners, within six months from the passage of this act, to file in the office of said Secretary, a statement under oath, showing the whole amount expended, to whom paid, and the amount paid to each.

On motion of Mr. SPANGLER, the House took up and passed Senate bill entitled an act regulating banks. It simply grants an extension of the time within which those banks whose charters have been extended since January, 1864, may accept the acts of extension.

Mr. FROE, from the special committee on the revision of the general bounty law, reported a supplementary bill, which was ordered to be printed.

By Telegraph. From Grant's Army. THE LATE MOVEMENT. ANOTHER ADVANCE TO BE MADE.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18. The usual steamer from City Point this morning, brought higher than seventy rebel prisoners, among them several officers captured in the late movement on the James River.

The passengers represent the affair of Sunday as of greater proportions than at first supposed. The combined losses of the 2nd and 10th corps in killed and wounded, being from 800 to 1,000, while the rebel loss, was also severe.

The position gained by us was still held on Tuesday night, and that day there was severe shelling by us to feel the rebel position. There was indications of another advance on our part yesterday.

New York, Aug. 18. The Commercial's special dispatch states that part of our late advanced troops further on the James river, and up to Wednesday morning had captured two lines of rifle pits and 250 prisoners. The same special says that Gen. Sheridan drove the enemy yesterday.

There is no longer a doubt but that he intends a heavy campaign on the upper Potomac, the Post's special says that Longstreet is known to be in front of General Grant's army on the James river.

From Florida. The Particulars of General Ulman's Success.

New York, Aug. 18. Private letters from Morgazina, give the details of Gen. Ulman's recent success in driving the rebels from the right bank of the Atchafalaya. It appears that Gen. Ulman moved from Morgazina on the 28th of July, with a brigade of cavalry, a brigade of infantry and Capt. Barnes 21st New York battery. The rebels were found strongly posted in a position, enfilading the Main road with their batteries.

Our cavalry drove in their skirmishers, taking several prisoners, and killing the notorious Captain McNelly, the cavalry scout. Our batteries opened the rebel and the engagement lasted from nine to eleven A. M., finding our position would subject us to heavy losses, our forces were withdrawn a short distance to reconnoitre during the night, the next morning it was found the rebels had fled in confusion. Our losses were two killed and thirteen wounded. Deserters report the rebel loss at sixty-three killed and wounded.

The Indian War. The Pirate Tallahassee.

HALETS, Aug. 18. Reliable news from the scene of the Indian outrages is scarce. They seem to control the country from a point 75 miles east of Fort Kearney to the forks of Platt river, and from the Platt south to the Arkansas river. A number of trains have been captured and the conductors killed, and a large amount of property has been destroyed. Gen. Carters is at Omaha organizing an expedition against them, and a portion of the Kansas and Nebraska militia intend moving on the overland stage route.
