

Adjournment of the Legislature. The extra session of the Legislature termi nated to-day at eleven o'clock. Some seventy different local bounty bills, together with a general bill on the same subject, two different supplements to the military bill, a supplement to the revenue bill, and a bill providing for the reception of the votes from soldiers in service, comprise the principal bills passed. The military bill, as now a law, is said to be an efficient one, and we hope that it may be enforced without further delay.

Speaker of the Senate.

The term of office for which Speaker Penney was elected expires with the present session. He resigned this morning and WM. J. TUBBELL, Esq., was elected as Speaker of that body. Mr. T. is an able gentleman, and will fill the Speaker's chair with honor to himself and the body of which he has been a leading member for the past two years.

AN ATTEMPT TO DIGNIFY A CONCLAVE OF TEATTORS --- Some of the most desperate and deluded copperhead organs in the interior of the State, are working very hard to make sensation in advance for the conclave of traitors which will assemble at Chicago on Monday next. Among the falsehoods coined and circulated to give importance to that assembly, is one to the effect that the President has ordered a large military force to Chicago for the purpose of over-awing and intimidating the dough-face Democracy. Bah! Thepolice of Chicago will be able to deal with the plotters who are to constitute the copperhead National Convention. No doubt all sorts of treason will be enunciated in that body--no doubt men will meet there, sworn to do their dirtiest work to aid the rebellion-and we have no doubt that these wretches will yet receive their due from a Government which hey are daily contemning and outraging. The time will come when such meetings as the approaching Chicago Convention, like the meeting of traitors in the entrenchments of Petersburg, will be beleaguered and invested by a gallant, loyal and patriotic people. Therefore, let the Northern traitor be patient. His time will come quicker than he now dreams of its approach or arrival.

THE FISHING CREEK WAR .-- The Wilkesbarre Record of the Times, of the 24th ult., says that on Sunday the troops at Bloomsburg, four companies of infantry, two of cavalry, with two ten pounder guns, marched out some twelve miles on the way to Fishing Creek. On Monday they would probably meet the rebels. From all accounts it is gathered that some six hundred discontented citizens of Columbia and counties adjacent are in arms, but they will probably disband on the approach of the troops, and take to the woods, or go quietly to their homes. That any number of citizens not drafted will risk the charge of the United States troops, or the worse charge of being traitors, we cannot believe. The deserters must stand alone or desert again.

Gan. Seymour's Address. Some days since, the New York Times contained a letter writton by Gen. Seymour, late a prisoner of war in the hands of traitors .-We have been patiently waiting for room in our columns to print, this letter entire, but a press of matter renders this impossible, and we therefore content ourselves with the publication of a condensation of his soldiery and frank production, reviewing as it does in a most able manner, the position of affairs in the North. It makes due allowance for the carnestness of the rebels, and shows that it has only been from indifference on the part of the loyal people of the North that the rebellion was not long ago brought to a termination. From an intimate knowledge of their condition, he claims that the confederate cause is fast failing from exhaustion, and that at present they are engaged in a desperate but almost hopeless effort for success to come from some unknown source. The tenor of the General's letter is, in effect, that, as an army of occupation, we have always needed more men in the field; and that, when success was almost within our grasp, our deficiency, in that respect, was more apparent. He says : Glance at the summer's campaigns. If Sherman had but 50,000 or 75,000 more men near, the South would be lost, because Hood would be annihilated. If Meade had moved in the spring with reserves of 75,000 or 100,-000 men, Lee would have been hopelessly crushed. Even at this moment a third column of 40,000 to 50,000 rightly moved, would give unopposed blows to the Confederacy from which she could never rise. In view of this, he calls attention to the folly of withholding from the service and thereby prolonging the war, when by one grand effort it could be speedily brought to a close. He scouts all other ideas of peace upon any terms than a reconstruction under the Constitution, and claims that a recognition of the South would result in an immediate dismemberment of other sections of the Union.

Finally, General Seymour urges, in most earnest words, the immediate reinforcement of the armies. "What we now need," he says, "is men, only men." And he shows what costly sacrifices we suffer because we have not men enough.

Tens of thousands of lives are lost because our array of strength is so disproportionately less than that against which we battle. Everywhere we meet on nearly equal terms, when we might well have four to one. The cost to us in blood and treasure of a prolonged war can hardly be foreseen ; the economy is infinite of such an effort as the glorious North should put forth. The South will fight as long as the struggle is equal. It will submit to such preponderance as we should show in every field

"FATHER ABRAHAM" is the title of a neat and spirited campaign paper just started in Reading by our friend, Capt. E. H. Rauch & Son. It is decidedly the most "plucky" publication in the State, and being published in the very centre of the darkness and delusion of Berks county copperheadism, exhibits a fearlessness which deserves a liberal support and a loud applause. We know of no man in the fraternity better fitted for the task he has undertaken in the publication of Facher Abraham, than our good triend Capt. Rauch.

EVERY VOTE polled against granting the soldiers the right to vote, was given by a copperhead and enemy of the Government and the soldiers. Let our soldiers when they vote in October and November remember that fact. PENNSYLVANIA LEGISLATURE. REPORTED EXPRESSLY FOR THE TELEGRAPH. SENATE.

EXECUTIVE CHAMBER, HABRISBURG, Aug. 25, 1864.

To the Sena's and House of R presentatives of the Commo wealth of Pennsylvania:

GENTLEMEN :- The bill, entitled An act it egulate elections by soldiers in actual militaservice, has been just presented to me withn half an hour of your final adjournment. There has been no time to examine its provisions. I have signed it, because if I should fail to do so our soldiers would be deprived of the enjoyment of their franchise at the elections which will occur before your next meeting, and because, under these circumstances think I ought to assume that the provisions of this bill have been carefully and wisely framed and considered by the Legislature.

A. G. OURTIN. Information being received from the Governor that he had no further communication to make, the SPEAKER, at 11 o'clock, adourned the House sine die.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY POTOMAC, August 23d. No engagement has taken place since Sunday, as the enemy has fallen back to their lines two miles from Petersburg, where they are seen busily erecting strong works similar to those we first encountered on our arrival here They are working night and day with a large number of men, as though they were afraid of an attack before they get their works completed. Their main line runs near and west of the ead works to the South Side road, which is said to be strongly defended. Their picket line extends nearly a mile south of their works, with videttes thrown out near the Davis House. The Richmond papers acknowledge a heavy loss in officers and men on Thursday morning, but claim that they have taken 3,000 prison-

rs. No doubt many reported missing will turn up, as some of our own men have a bad habit after a little reverse of retreating to the rear. Of this loss, Gen. Crawford's division sustains the greatest proportion, he having lost about 2,000, mostly prisoners. Col. Tilden, who was missing after the fight of Friday, is safe. He was captured and with others taken to Petersburg, but during the excitement of loading them on the cars, he managed to elude the vigilance of the guard and ran into some bushes, where he lay concealed till chance gave him an op-portunity to get away, and he came into our lines on Monday, August 14.

AFFAIRS IN NOBILE-PROCLAMATION OF THE MAYOR.

Late Mobile papers contain the following : General Higgins, a young and popular offi-cer, is second in command to General Maury at Mobile.

t Mobile. The Mayor has issued the following procla nation to the people of Mobile: The enemy's vessels, as you all know, have run past the forts and are now in the bay, so that the outer water defences are of no further present use for the security of our city and nomes. What the purpose of the enemy is we have not yet discovered—whether to hold command of the bay, in order to dominate the forts, or by his shallowest vessels to attempt to draw near enough to open a bombardment on it, it is now impossible to say.

We must act without this information. We must gather every man fit for defence into some organized body, and hold ourselves in readiness to repel attack, come from what quarter it may. This is the only way to make quarter it may. This is the only way to make our efforts useful, and to stand strong against the-progress of the foe in case he should approach us within reach of the weapons that we have at command.

The advance on us has been unexpected. and our arms cannot impede or repel the encmy in his present position ; but his ulterior intentions may soon be unmasked in such a form as will bring our service into use, and then on your valor will depend the safety of the city.

We must defend this city to the last point of resistance. Let it not be said that Mobile is craven, while we have the illustrious exam-ples of Righmond, Petersburg and Charleston ooking us in the face. Let not the name of this city stand in the historical records of this unexampled war beneath; or in contrast with, these grand instances of heroic fortitude and endurance.

Fellow-citizens, I can only counsel alacrity in this business and a cheerful obedience to your commanders. They are striving with all their might, and they will not lead you to dishonor. My own services will be given to the cause with all the zeal I possess. And so, trusting to the benign influences of God, and our own hands and hearts, I hope we shall escape all danger, gr battle through it to a successful end. R. H. SLOUGH, Mayor. the Red Gauntlet steamer ran the blockade, and came safely into this port.

HALLTOWN, Va., August 24. Nothing of any especial importance has occurred during the past twenty-four hours along our front. A slight scattering fire has been kept up at intervals on different portions of our line of skirmishers, but no movement of definite result has taken place. Our troops, by dint of constant exertion, have contrived to render our naturally strong position one of impregnability, and the works erected by the Army of Western Virginia will long exist as a monument of untiring industry.

Our forces are said to be in possession of Shepherdstown, and I see no reason for doubting it, as a large train of wagons could be seen proceeding in that direction this morn-ing. I have late and reliable advices from General Averill, who reports that no movement has yet been made by the enemy to cross the Potomace in force, and that his command still hold possession of the upper fords, which are being carefully watched. Advices from the mountains state that a heavy no ond

-These demonstrations are the direct result of the teachings of those who believe in State rights, and who have devoted themselves for three years, in connection with their traitor political allies of the South, to overthrow the Government.

THE REPOSITORY AND TRANSCRIPT reached our sanctum this morning, for the first time since the wanton, brutal and unprovoked burning of Chambersburg. It contains a concise but accurate and ably written history of the facts and circumstances attending the destruction of property in and around Chambersburg, which of itself will constitute one of the saddest chapters in the history of the war. Col. M'Clure also devotes several editorial columns to the same subject, paying his on third reading. respects to the New York editorial libellers of Pennsylvania in that seathing sarcasm for which the gallant M'Clure is so peculiar. We welcome the Repository back to its old field of labor and of triumphs, and bespeak for its publishers a support and a success which will soon replace them in that prosperous condition where a traitor foe found them when he applied the torch to their establishment.

JOHN M'CURDY, at one time a clerk in the School Department of the State of Pennsylvania, and lately the editor of the Hagerstown, Md., Herald and Torch Light, has retired from the control of that journal. Mr. M'C. states that various reasons induced him to retire, but adds that neither disappointed hopes in the success of the enterprise or disagreement with his partner constrained him to dissolve the co-partnership. We are sorry to lose M'C. from the corps editorial, as he is decidedly an able writer and a most courteous gentleman.

NOT A SINGLE REPUBLICAN OF Union man in the great State of Pennsylvania, voted on the 2d inst., in favor of depriving our gallant soldiers in the field of a vote at the next election. Every vote polled against the soldiers was cast by a copper head ! We challenge them to deny soundef. This will explain much of the mystification egarding operations of this part of our forces. We were to amuse Early, while the real key movement was executed by Warren on the Weldon Bailroad. Doubtless the falling back of Gen. Sheridan on Halltown was only a seductive snare to allure the rehel General on and keep him engaged. No other items of interest exist in this immediate neighborhood. The ferry is fearfully crowded by army wagons, officials, orderlies, guards, sutlers, and hangers on generally. Yesterday a large number of disloyal citizens from Berryville and Charlestown were sent down on the train, and to-day a squad of rebel prisoners of war departed under a strong guard.
