We prepared for the worst, and many, we regret to say, have realized all and more than they expected. DESTRUCTION OF THE WELDON RAILROAD. A walk to-day from the Fourteen Mile crossing to a point a distance of four miles, showed truly a sad scene. On both sides of the track the enemy have swept fences and crops, leaving scarcely a vestige remaining...

re-appearance of Grant's beaten remnants at Washington. Even as signs, then, or weather-vanes to show how the wind blows at any given moment, those indications are fallacious, especially in a season of change and tempest like the present. Accordingly, while we await the next news coming from the North, it was well to fix in our minds that, whatever that news may be, it will be out of date on the first of October, out of the memory of men on the first of November, and by New Year's day will be with the days before the flood.

Burning of the Frigate Brandywine. WASHINGTON, Sept. 4. The Navy Department last night received a despatch announcing the burning of the U. S. Frigate Brandywine, store-ship, at Norfolk, Va., with all her stores. Cause of fire not yet known nor any particulars.
