THURSDAY EVENING, SEPTEMBER 22, 1864.

NO COMPROMISE, BUT SUBMISSION!

For Justice and the Right AGAINST TRAITORS TO LAW AND ORDER

The loyal men of the city of Harrisburg, un daunted in the presence of the common enemy, and ready always to raise their voices or their defence of a common country, will assemble in

GRAND MASS MEETING. ON SATURDAY EVENING, SEPTEMBER

24, 1864, for the purpose of organizing still further for the protection of the national honor, the preservation of the National Union, and the perpetuation of the National Government, in A GLORIOUS TRIUMPH AT THE POLLS

BY THE ELECTION OF LINCOLN AND JOHNSON. The Farmers, Mechanics, Merchants and Laboring men of Dauphin county, are requested to be present, in their might, and testify their allegiance to the national authority, and by their presence, also, evidence their ABHORRENCE OF TREASON. The Committee have the best assurance to know that several eminent and distinguished speakers from abroad, and among them, the Hon, John Cessna, will be present to address the meeting. Hon. John C. Kunkel, and others of our fellow-citizens at home will also speak on the occasion.

By order of the County Committee.
JOHN J. SHOEMAKER, Chairman. J. M. Wiestling, Secretary.

MILITARY RELIEF FUND.—The regular monthly payment to the families of volun-teers will be made on Friday afternoon, the 23d inst., at the Sheriff's office, in the Court House, left hand side, between the hours of four and six. Owing to the fact that a large number of names are alike, it would be well for each applicant to mention the full given name of their husband, in order to prevent mistakes and expedite business.

GEÔRGE BERGNER, Pres't. O. Edwards, Sec'y.

BUEHLER HOUSE.—This valuable hotel property is offered for sale, by the proprietor. A fine chance is offered to capitalists for profitable investment.

WOOD WANTED .- The Quartermaster General of Pennsylvania advertises for proposals for supplying the camp of the State Militia with good wood, to be delivered at Carlisle. See advertisement.

YESTERDAY, (to use an old phrase,) 'the sun crossed the line"—the time of rising and setting of the great luminary being six o'clock. Autumn has commenced. We may expect the usual equinoctial rains shortly. PERSONAL.—We had the pleasure yesterday of meeting, Lucius Rodgers, of the McKean Miner. Mr. R. has been nominated for the Assembly. He is a fearless friend of his country, and we hope he will succeed.

To be Let.-The directors of the poor of this county will let the mill belonging to the county, for one year from the first of April next. There will be a public letting of the property on Tuesday, the 4th day of October,

"Who's Jim?"-Such was the inquiry of scores of persons, after the appearance of the evening edition of the TELEGRPH yesterday. "Jam was alluded to as having been prominent in the copperhead mass failure of Tuesday night, and for the enlightenment of our readers, we can only write that he is a clever fellow, too good for copperhead uses—a favorite of the ladies, young, handsome and a bachelor.

FATAL ACCIDENT ON THE CUMBERLAND VAL-LEY ROAD.—Yesterday as one of the trains on the Cumberland Valley railroad was passing along in the vicinity of Carlisle, an aged man named Fields, who was partially deaf, was walking on the track, and although the whistle was sounded and every effort made to stop the train, Mr. Fields was struck by the locomotive and instantly killed. It is supposed that owing to his deafness Mr. F. did not hear the Rouse's THEATRE. - Miss Bella Golden is winning golden opinions by her fine persona-tion of numerous difficult parts in the grand plays that are being presented at Rouse's theatre. All who have been at this select place of amusement this week, pro-nounce Miss Golden the most accomplished actress that has ever appeared in Harrisburg, and when such is popular opinion, there is no room for doubting the professional superiority of the lady above mentioned over all rivals whose names are heralded to our citi-The immense audiences assembled at Brant's Hall, night after night, are the very best evidence that Rouse's establishment furnishes the best entertainments in the city Everybody goes there—as the patrons always receive full value for their money. To-night THE KING'S RIVAL, and A Grandfather's Ghost will compose the bill. Miss Golden will appear as Nell Gwynne, supported by the whole troupe generally.

LAST GRAND PIC-NIC OF THE SEASON-Novel and Altractive Display.—The livery and hack-men of this city are making arrangements for a grand social pic-nic, to be held in Hoffman's woods, on Saturday next, which they are de-termined shell be the arrangement of the termined shall be the most pleasant and recherche party of the kind held here this season. All respectable citizens are invited to participate in the festivities. A spacious dancing platform has been erected, and exdancing platform has been erected, and excellent brass and string bands will furnish music for the occasion. Those who wish to spend a day enjoyably in the woods, should attend this last grand pic-nic of the season. Refreshments of all kinds will be served up in the best state. Carriagos will be served up in the best style. Carriages will leave Third and Market streets at frequent intervals during the day. Should the weather prove unfavorable, the pic-nic will be postponed until the first fair day.

By way of inaugurating this party, the liv ery and hackmen well have a GRAND CARRIAGE

REMEMBER THE LAST NIGHT but two of the famous Union scout and spy. Miss Major Pauline Cushman, and Mr. J. M. Ward, the celebrated Irish comedian, who appear at the New National Theatre this evening.

ATTENTION, FRIENDS OF THE TWO 201ST REG-IMENT.—The 201st regiment are deficient in hospital stores. Beds and hedding are required. Any such articles sent to G. A. Oglesby, Pennsylvania Avenue, near the Round House, will be forwarded on Saturday.

SIXTH WARD MEXTING—Get out of the Draft.

—A meeting of the citizens of the Sixth Ward will be held at the Market House, in said Ward, at seven o'clock this (Thursday) evening, to make arrangements for raising an inependent company for one year's service .--As this is the last chance to avoid the draft, every one should attend. The citizens of other Wards are invited to attend.

Another Accident on the Pennsylvania Raileoad.—The fast line from the West, due here at six o'clock this morning, had not arrived at this station at 12 o'clock to-day. We evould of course gather no information explan-atory of this delay, except such rumors as were cautiously whispered outside of the rail-road depot. from which we inferred that an-other dreadful accident had occurred, somewhere in the vicinity of Altoona.

To THE PUBLIC.—C. L. Bowman, No. 1, corner of Front and Market streets, respectfully announces to citizens and strangers, that he will open on Saturday of this week, and Monday of next week, a large assortment of new style dress goods, with a general stock of fall and winter dry goods. Cotton and foreign goods have not declined, though there has been some abatement in the premium on gold. The cheapest class of goods now in the market, and the most useful at this season of the year is domestic woolen goods. Our motto is small profits, and a disposition to please those who patronize us.

Our townsmen, Messrs. S. A. Kunkel & Co., have been favored by Dame Fortune, and are in a fair way to become the most popular firm in the State, if alleviating the sufferings of the human race will entitle any one to fame. In securing the right to manufacture Dr. Mc-Bride's King of Pain, Messrs. Kunkel & Co. have indeed been fortunate, as it is without doubt the most popular medicine now in the market. It has performed almost miraculous cures, and a demand has been miade for it that can scarcely be supplied. Certificates of the most remarkable cures are in the possession of the above-named firm. All who are afflicted should procure a bottle of the King of Pain.

Sword Presentation.—This morning Capt. Harvey W. M'Night, of the 210th Penn'a reg't. was made the recipient of a very beautiful sword, which was purchased by the members of the Captain's company, and presented to him as a token of their respect for their com-mander. The presentation speech on behalf of the company was made by private Ed-mund Misenhelder, whose remarks were very appropriate to the occasion, and expressive of the estimation in which Capt. McNight was held by those under his command. The captain responded, thanking the generous donors for their valuable gift, and in a brief but stirring speech, he asserted his determination to make good use of the sword, and never disgrace it. Both addresses were listened to with marked attention on the part of those present.

IMPORTANT ORDER-A Matter in which Every One is interested.—An order has just been issued in relation to the draft, which says: "If the quota of any district shall be entirely filled by volunteering, after the draft, but before the drafted men are sent to general rendezvous, then the person drafted will be excused. Volunteers will be accepted and counted on the quota, as well as drafted men, till it is filled; and when filled, and before the drafted men shall have been sent to the general rendezvous, for every additional volunteer mustered in a drafted man will be excused, the person to be excused being taken from the bottom of the list of those drafted, in the reverse order in which they were drawn; but in no instance will a substitute be exonerated or excused." Under the above it will be seen that those districts behind in their quota here may yet get "out of the draft" by proper exertion. Let a sufficient bounty fund be raised and enough men may be had within the next two days to fill their quotas

LOCKING THE DOORS OF PASSENGER CARS. It is a rule at all railroad depots that person before they can enter a passenger car, mus show their tickets to employees stationed a the doors thereof. It is a custom with con ductors, the moment a train starts, to lock al the doors of the cars. The object of this is stated to be the prevention of the escape of passengers who may have entered the train without purchasing tickets. The inconsist-ency of such a claim is apparent in the face of the fact that no passenger can even get his trunk checked or enter a car without first showing his ticket. If the door in the passenger car burned near Thompsontown had not been locked, the Pennsylvania railroad would not be responsible to-day for the murder of six innocent passengers. There is scarcely an accident occurring on any road in connection with a passenger train that is not aggravated and increased in its horrors by this foolish habit of locking the doors of the cars. We refer to this fact in no spirit of hyper-criticism We do so merely to counsel the managers of our railroads, as well for their protection, as for the safety of the lives and limbs of travelers.

Since the above was written and in type, the following protest from the survivors of the fearful accident at Thompsontown, yesterday, reached us in the columns of the Phila-delphia Press. It tells a story which admits of no comment:

PROTEST OF THE SURVIVORS. THOMPSONTOWN, Pa., Sept. 21. "We, the passengers whose names are affixed here, protest at having the doors locked on the Pennsylvania Central Railroad or any other. In the great accident this morning many lives might have been saved had the doors been unlocked. This we know to be true. We ask, for humanity's sake, that all railroads forever after see that the doors are kept unlocked. We think it due to the public to publish this, our protest, and withhold our patronage from all roads that keep their doors locked while in transit."

HARRISBURG, Sept. 21, 1864. EDITOR THEGRAPH: —I beg leave to call the attention of the people of the country to the unkindness, not to say meanness, of Gen. Sheridan in whipping Early without giving him the least notice of his intention to do so, and just as he (Early) was about to leave. He did not act near so generous or chivalrous as did Gen. Lee, who gives Grant fourteen days to leave his front, and when these are expired, will, in all probability, give him fourteen more, or leave himself.

Why does not Sheridan reciprocate ? Gen. PROCESSION this evening, passing through the principal streets with gay turn-outs, headed by a band of music. A handsome display may be suticipated.

Why does not substitute and reciprocate to such meanness. If he had been there, Early might have staid as long as he wished the more than a long as he wished the tion of Life—Three Passenger, a Bagguye and Six Freight Cars Wreeked and Destroyed by kire.—About four o'clock yesterday morning a most fearful collision occurred on the Pennsylvania Railroad, near Thompsontown station, about thirty-eight miles west of this

What is called the Fast Freight had reached Thompsontown running behind its schedule time, with a full knowledge of the fact that the fast line from the West was momentarily expected at that station. The freight train had hardly stopped, and the fagman had scarcely reached the end of the train to unfurl his signal when the fact line from the unfurl his signal, when the fast line from the West came thundering along. The engineer of the latter train was running on his own time, calculating, of course, that the road was clear, and from the fact that this train not stopping at Thompsontown, the reader can imagine the fearfulness of the collision when it occurred. The engineer of the fast line had but a moment to observe the flagman of the fast freight, when he immediately put on his patent brakes and reversed his machinery, action of the liver.

was so suddenly confronted. The effect of the collision was terrific. The baggage and three passenger cars of the fast line were literally smashed together. At once a scene of fearful confusion, intense excitement and heart-rending suffering ensued. One of the passenger cars, containing some thirty passengers, was discovered to be on fire. Those in charge of the trains, with the passengers who were not injured, made every effort to rescue the unfortunates in the burning car. The brakesman, (L. Imbrie,) and the conductor, (John Mullison,) who were on the platform of the cars, supposed to have been there in answer to the signal of the en-gineer, to assist in stopping the train, were literally mashed together, and then almost entirely consumed, their charred remains mingling, as it were, in a common crisp. FURTHER DETAILS.

Since the above was written and in type, we have been able to gather some additional facts from passengers who were on the train at the time of the collision. Some of these posi-tively assert that there were at least thirty-five passengers who lost their lives in the burned car. From others, again, who reached the scene of the wreck a few hours after the occurrence of the accident, we learn that only six persons lost their lives in the burned car. One passenger, a large-framed man, in attempting to make his way through the window of the car, succeeded only partly, and while held in the narrow window frame, became a prey to the flames. Those who examined the burned car insist that if more than six persons had perished, their charred bones would have a majored to tall the story. yould have remained to tell the story.

CARE OF THE WOUNDED. As soon as the news of the accident reached this city, Mr. Samuel D. Young, Superintendent of the Division on which the accident occurred, summoned a number of our most eminent physicians, preparing himself also with every necessary article of relief, and proceeded at once to the scene of the disaster. Whatever relief medical assistance could afford was promptly rendered, and we are happy to state that the wounded were all able to pass to their various destinations in the trains which left this city yesterday afternoon and evening. character to prevent her removal further than this city, was lodged at the United States Hotel, where she is now kindly cared for.

DESTRUCTION OF MAILS AND BAGGAGE. The baggage car caught fire from the burnng passenger car, and in the confusion which ensued, the mails and a greater portion of the baggage were destroyed. These are very important, being through mails from the great west. It is, of course, impossible to stimate the value of the baggage destroyed, but it is fair to suppose that it is great.

ARRIVAL OF THE REMAINS OF THE DEAD. The remains of six dead bodies were brought to this city last evening. These were of course in a condition to be beyond recognition—the faces and arms of all being entirely consumed. Superintendent Young at once ordered the placing of these remains in charge of J. Brisbin Boyd, undertaker, by whom they will be interred at the expense of the railroad company.

CORONER'S INQUEST.

Of course a coroner's inquest will be held on the remains of the victims by this fearful accident, by which all of the facts will be developed, and from which the public will learn who is responsible. It is time that an example be made of the guilty parties in such transactions, in order that the employees and managers of railroad compa-nies may be taught a severe lesson, and that the lives of the traveling public may be here-after regarded by such as these as worth pre-serving by common care and ordinary vigilance. One of the painful incidents connected with this transaction is presented in the fact, that the wife of conductor Mullison was in this city, awaiting the arrival of her husband to accompany her to their home in Middle town. It is not for us, of course, to describe the poignancy of her grief, which followed the announcement of the crushing calamity of her great loss. Had the flagman of the freight train been left off by the conductor of that train, at a proper distance from the sta-tion, it is alleged that this accident might have been avoided, as the freight train was behind time. When the freight train stopped at the station, the flagman had not reached the end of his train to give the signal, when the collision occurred.

The remains of conductor Mullison could only be recognized by the keys and ticketpunch found under them.

THE LATEST. Thursday Noon.—We are pleased to learn that Mr. Bookes, Mail Agent, who was report-ed dead, is still living, and hopes are entertained of his recovery. His escape from the flames was almost miraculous.

Mr. John Adams, of Johnstown, Juniata county, was burned in the ruins.

A Friendly Confab between Sally and Flora.

REPORTED BY JENEINS, WHO OVERHEARD IT ALL.

"How are you, Miss Flora, the belle of Broadway, With your silks and your satins, and flowers so gay—Your new-style cloak of frosted gray—Your waterfall hat, like Niagara's spray—Where did you get them, and what did you pay? Oh! dear, those fine trimmings of valvet and green, Are fit to adorn the robes of a queen—They are the loveliest I ever have seen!

Such a love of a hat as that, I declare,
Ought to make the Jones House officers stare,
Whether young or old;
But do tell me, Flora, if my friendship is dear,
That I may in similar attire appear,
Where such things are sold."

" Well, Sally, I'm not very selfish, you know— And never have but one string to my bow— So 'twill give me great pleasure, my dear, to impart A secret that will thrill and gladden your heart. it a time when gold has reached a fabulous price, It takes a pile of greenbacks to get anything nice,
Even from gity marts of trade.
But you need not go so far as that, my dear,
So long as we have fashion's bazaar right here,
Where all such things are made.

At Mrs. Mayer's blue front, No. 13 Market street, You will find an assortment full and complete, Of the finest fall goods; Cloaks, Mantillas, Bonnets, and fancy Sacques, Ribbons, flowers, trimmings, and the prettiest hats, Together with nubias and hoods.

But this is not all, a thousand things more
Grace the shelves of the blue front store.
It is there that ladies resort by the score,
And gain ingress and eggess in sections of four,
so great is the crowd,
All anxious and enger to see the fall styles,
Arranged in boxes, and bundles, and piles,
Just arrived from France and Great Britain's isles,
And are lovingly longed for with maidenly smiles.
By the meek and the proud.
But Sally, dear, I would have you to know.

By the meet and the proud.

But, Sally, dear, I would have you to know,
That Mrs. Mayor's prices are exceedingly low,
And this is the secret of the constant flow,
Of custom—not confined to the high or low,
But by people of every station,
The fabrics are the best the market safords,
And all that with beauty and fashion accords;
'Cheaper than the cheapest'—these are the words
That cause almost an ovation."

Remember Mrs. Mayer's sales rooms, No. 13 Market street, where all the Paris, London an New York fall styles of Cloaks, Circular, Sacques, Mantillas, Bonnets, Hats, Hoor Skirts, Woolen Goods, and Ladies Fancy Goods of all kinds have just been received, are now open for inspection, and will be sold as cheap as they can be bought at retail in the Atlantic cities, if not cheaper.
