SOLDIERS READ!

The following letter from a soldier, in reference to the efficacy and powerful restorative qualitities of DR. McBRIDE'S KING OF PAIN, speaks for itself:

NEWVILLE, CUMBERLAND COUNTY,
Sept. 14, 1864.

Messrs. S. A. Kunkel & Bro., druggists, Harrisburg, Pa.:

GENTS:—I would inform you that I received the bottles of McBride's Great Pain Killer, and enclosed please find five dollars more, for which send me five bottles additional to-morrow. I leave for camp to-morrow. Let me know whether you can supply me with it in the army. I am in Company H, 202d regiment P. V. I have been in very bad health for upwards of four years, and two of the one-dollar bottles have cured me completely, and have made me feel like a man. Besides, I have cured a number of my comrades of various diseases incident to camp-life, and can recommend it to be the best medicine the soldier can provide for himself.

Yours respectfully, JOS. E. WHITE.

A HOME CERTIFICATE.

The following certificate is from a well-known citizen of Harrisburg:

HARRISBURG, Aug. 30, 1864.

TO THE PUBLIC:—It gives me great pleasure to recommend to the public the medicine prepared by DR. J. J. McBRIDE, which he calls the "KING OF PAIN." I was induced to use it as an external remedy for a bruise, which it relieved immediately, and subsequently cured entirely. Its success induced me to use it internally for Diarrhœa, with which I was afflicted in a chronic form for nearly eighteen months, and to such an extent that my kidneys were seriously deranged. The medicine has cured me, and certainly that is saying a great deal in its favor, when I reflect how many other remedies I tried without experiencing anything but temporary relief. For my part, I shall always keep a supply of it in my house, believing as I do that it is a most invaluable family medicine.

DANIEL E. WILT.

☞ The unexampled sale of this medicine proves it to be the most wonderful discovery of the age in the medical art.

DYSPEPSIA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSPEPSIA.

I, ELIZABETH BRANSON, of Brandywine, Del., formerly of Old Chester, Del., do certify that, for one year and a half I suffered everything but death from that awful disease called Dyspepsia. My whole system was prostrated with weakness and nervous debility; I could not digest my food; if I ate even a cracker or the smallest amount of food, it would return just as I swallowed it; I became so costive in my bowels that I would not have a passage in less than from four and often eight days; under this immense suffering, my mind seemed entirely to give way. I had a dreadful horror and evil forebodings. I thought everybody hated me, and I hated everybody; I could not bear my husband nor my own children, everything appeared to be horror-stricken to me; I had no ambition to do anything; I lost all my love of family and home; I would ramble and wander from place to place, but could not be contented; I felt that I was doomed to hell, and that there was no heaven for me, and was often tempted to commit suicide, so near was my whole nervous system destroyed, and also my mind from that awful complaint, Dyspepsia, that my friends thought best to have me placed in Dr. Kirkbride's hospital, West Philadelphia; I remained there nine weeks, and thought I was a little better, but in a few days my dreadful complaint was raging as bad as ever. Hearing of the wonderful cures performed by Dr. Wishart's Great American Dyspepsia Pills and his treatment for Dyspepsia, my husband called on Dr. Wishart and stated my case to him. He said he had no doubt he could cure me. So in three days after I called and placed myself under the Doctor's treatment, and in two weeks I began to digest my food, and felt that my disease was fast giving way, and I continued to recover for about three months, and at the present time I enjoy perfect health of body and mind, and I most sincerely return my thanks to a merciful God and Dr. Wishart, and to his great American Dyspepsia Pills and Pine Tree Tar Cordial that saved me from an Insane Asylum and premature grave. All persons suffering with Dyspepsia are at liberty to call on me or write, as I am willing to do all the good I can for suffering humanity. ELIZABETH BRANSON,

DYSPEPSIA! DYSPEPSIA!

DR. WISHART—I have been a constant sufferer with Dyspepsia for the last eighteen years, during which time I cannot say I ever enjoyed a perfectly well day. There were times when the symptoms were more aggravated than at others, and then it seemed it would be a great relief to die. I had at all times an unpleasant feeling in my head, but latterly my sufferings so much increased that I became almost unfit for business of any kind; my mind was continually filled with gloomy thoughts and forebodings, and if I attempted to change their current by reading, at once a sensation of icy coldness in connection with a dead weight, as it were, rested upon my brain; also, a feeling of sickness would occur at the stomach, and great pain to my eyes, accompanied with which was the continual fear of losing my reason. I also experienced great lassitude, debility and nervousness, which made it difficult to walk by, day or, sleep at night. I became averse to society, and disposed only to seclusion, and having tried the skill of a number of eminent physicians of various schools, finally came to the conclusion that, for this disease at my present age (45 years) there was no cure in existence. But, through the interference of Divine Providence, to whom I devoutly offer my thanks, I at last found a sovereign remedy in your Dyspepsia Pills and Tar Cordial, which seem to have effectually removed almost the last trace of my long list of ailments and bad feelings, and in their place health, pleasure and contentment are my everyday companions.

A POSITIVE CURE FOR DYSPEPSIA.

HEAR WHAT MR. JOHN H. BABCOCK SAYS.

No. 1028 OLIVE STREET,
Philadelphia, January 22d, 1863.

DR. WISHART—Sir:—It is with much pleasure that I am now able to inform you that, by the use of your great American Dyspepsia Pills, I have been entirely cured of that most distressing complaint, Dyspepsia. I had been grievously afflicted for the last twenty-eight years, and for ten years of that time have not been free from its path one week at a time. I have had it in its worst form and have dragged on a most miserable existence—in pain day and night. Every kind of food that I ate filled me with wind and pain, it mattered not how light, or how small the quantity. A continued belching was sure to follow. I had no appetite for any kinds of meats whatever and my distress was so great for several months before I heard of your Pills, that I frequently wished for death. I had taken everything that I had heard of for Dyspepsia, without receiving any benefit; but on your Pills being recommended to me by one who had been cured by them, I concluded to give them a trial, although I had no faith in them. To my astonishment, I found myself getting better before I had taken one-fourth of a box, and after taking half a box, I am a well man, and can eat anything I wish, and enjoy a hearty meal three times a day, without inconvenience from anything I eat or drink. If you think proper, you are at liberty to make this public and refer to me. I will cheerfully give all desirable information to any one who may call on me

Yours, respectfully, JOHN H. BABCOCK.

DYSPEPSIA! DYSPEPSIA!

I, Samuel D. Haven, have been a great sufferer with Chronic Dyspepsia and Inflammation of the Kidneys for three years. I employed three or four of the most eminent physicians of Philadelphia, also of Burlington county N. J. They did all for me they could, but all to no purpose. I was constantly filled with awful pain and distress, and with constant belching of wind and sour acid. My tongue was covered with a white coating of mucus until it cracked in large furrows, and was dreadfully sore! Oh! I oftimes wished for death to relieve me of my sufferings, for I had lost all hope of ever being well again. I made it a subject of prayer to God that he would direct me to some physician or medicine that would cure me. I was told to read an advertisement of MEDICAL.

Dr. Wishar's in the Philadelphia Ledger, of a great cure made upon Mr. John Babcock, of 1028 Olive street, Philadelphia, by the great American Dyspepsia Pills. I went to the Doctor's Office, and placed myself under his treatment, and told him if he failed to cure me, it would be the last effort I would make. It has been six weeks since I commenced the use of his medicine, and I am now a well man, free from all pain and distress, and can eat three hearty meals a day with comfort, and feel perfectly well. Dr. Wishart, I want you to publish my case, as I want every poor dyspeptic suffering as I was, to call on me, and I will tell them of the great cure I have received from your invaluable medicine. NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

U. S. 7-30 LOAN.

THE Secretary of the Treasury gives notice that subscriptions will be received for Coupon Treasury Notes, payable three years from August 15th, 1864, with semi-annual interest at the rate of seven and three-tenths per cent. per annum—principal and interest both to be paid in lawful money.

These notes will be convertible at the option of the holder at maturity into six per cent. gold bearing bonds, payable not less than five nor more than twenty years from their date, as the Government may elect. They will be issued in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000 and $5,000, and all subscriptions must be for fifty dollars or some multiple of fifty dollars.

The notes will be transmitted to the owners free of transportation charges as soon after the receipt of the original Certificates of Deposit as they can be prepared.

As the notes draw interest from August 15, persons making deposits subsequent to that date must pay the interest accrued from date of note to date of deposit.

Parties depositing twenty-five thousand dollars and upwards for these notes at any one time will be allowed a commission of one quarter of one per cent.

Special Advantages of this Loan.

IT IS A NATIONAL SAVINGS BANK, offering a higher rate of interest than any other and the best security. Any savings bank which pays its depositors in U. S. Notes, considers that it is paying in the best circulating medium of the country, and it cannot pay in anything better for its own assets are either in government securities or in notes or bonds payable in government paper.

It is equally convenient as a temporary or permanent investment. The notes can always be sold for within a fraction of their face and accumulated interest, and are the best security with banks as collaterals for discounts.

Convertible into a 6 per Cent. 5-20 Gold Bond.

In addition to the very liberal interest on the notes for three years, this privilege of conversion is now worth about three per cent. per annum, for the current rate for 5-20 Bonds is not less than nine per cent. premium, and before the war the premium on six per cent. U. S. stocks was over twenty per cent. It will be seen that the actual profit on this loan, at the present market rate, is not less than ten per cent. per annum.

Its Exemption from State or Municipal Taxation.

But aside from all the advantages we have enumerated, a special act of Congress exempts all bonds and Treasury notes from local taxation. On the average, this exemption is worth about two per cent. per annum, according to the rate of taxation in various parts of the country.

It is believed that no securities offer so great inducements to lenders as those issued by the Government. In all other forms of indebtedness, the faith or ability of private parties, or stock companies, or separate communities, only, is pledged for payment, while the whole property of the country is held to secure the discharge of all the obligations of the United States.

While the Government offers the most liberal terms for its loans, it believes that the very strongest appeal will be to the loyalty and patriotism of the people.

Up to the 24th of September, the subscriptions to this loan amounted to over $40,000,000.

SUBSCRIPTIONS WILL BE RECEIVED by the Treasurer of the United States, at Washington, the several Assistant Treasurers and designated Depositaries, and by the

FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF HARRISBURG.
ALL RESPECTABLE BANKS AND BANKERS

throughout the country will give further information and

AFFORD EVERY FACILITY TO SUBSCRIBERS.

SOLDIERS' REST, WASHINGTON, D. C.,
Saturday, Oct. 1st.

Editor Telegraph—We left Baltimore on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, tumbled into a train of box cars, and left for Washington, arriving at the U. S. capital at about 2 o'clock, amid a steady shower of rain. We were marched into a comfortable barracks, then into the refreshment department of the soldiers' rest and partook of a hearty meal, all of excellent quality, excepting the coffee, which was on three occasions of the most miserable quality, tasting more like inferior swill than a cup of good coffee, which the soldier so much needs to refresh him.

After dinner we took an hour or two to ourselves, and made for the capitol, which is truly the most magnificent building in the United States—or, (as some of our party expressed themselves,) in the world.

Washington city, as is well known, presents no other attractions of consequence than its public buildings; and to the capitol, therefore, we hastened, and spent an hour or more examining the beautiful paintings by the best masters of the age, and statuary that was wrought by the most prominent sculptors of Italy and our own country. Among the finest paintings placed in the rotunda we noticed—"Surrender of Lord Cornwallis, Oct. 1781, at Yorktown, Va;" "Surrender of Burgoyne, at Saratoga, N. Y., Oct. 1777;" "The Declaration of Independence, Philadelphia, Pa., July 4th, 1776;" "The Baptism of Pocahontas, at Jamestown, Va., 1613;" (a superb picture;) "The Discovery of the Mississippi river, by De Soto, May 1541," (a fine production also;) "Washington resigning his commission in Congress, at Anapolis, Md., Dec. 23, 1783," (a life-like production;) "Embarkation of the Pilgrims from Delft-Haven, in Holland, July 21st, 1620," by Sengstock, (a magnificent painting;) and the "Landing of Columbus, Oct. 1492," by J. Vanderlyn, (a life-like painting.)

The statue of Adam Poe, (as I am informed,) the renowned American pioneer, in the act of rescuing a mother and child from being tomahawked by a ruthless savage, is the result of the labors of a master hand, and occupies a prominent place in front of the portico. You might look upon this particular piece of American genius for an hour, and find still some fine touch of the chisel, the longer you sought to gratify your eye. A "Roman Gladiator" is also worthy of note, occupying a position near the one first mentioned. "The Death of Tecumseh"—a full length piece of statuary—is a most superb production, in the interior of the building. The statue of Gen. Washington, "Ordered to be erected by the General Assembly of Virgina, 1788," occupies a prominent position, and is worthy of note; as are also the busts of "T. Kosciusko," and a bust of "Hon. Fred. P. Stanton," by Horatio Stone, sculptor. There are many more features of interest in this truly magnificent building, which will repay a visit to Washington city at any time.

Saturday night we took a comfortable nap on the floor of the soldiers' rest, and thanked our "stars" that we did not lay on the paving stones in Conway street, Baltimore, (as we did on the night previous,) "for it rained fit to drown us all!"

ALEXANDRIA, VA., SUNDAY AFTERNOON,
Oct. 2, 1864.

About 9 o'clock yesterday the order to "march" was given, and we promenaded through the delightful muddy streets of Washington, to the Potomac, got aboard the steamer "Grey Eagle," and ran down to Alexandria in half an hour's time, distant about seven miles by the river. The city of Washington is distinctly seen from here, particularly the magnificent dome of the Capitol. We left two men belonging to Company I in Washington at the hospital—privates Weidle and Smith—the latter very ill with chills and fever. We had a pleasant trip down the river and landed at Alexandria about 12 M. On arriving at the Government wharf here, we were immediately put on terra firma, and escorted through the principal streets to the soldiers' rest, where, after a thorough inspection by one of the U. S. Officials, we were dismissed, and quartered in a neat, clean barracks, then taken to the Government Restaurant, where we partook of a hearty meal, consisting of fine, white bread, pork and good coffee—the latter refreshment we needed much, and we drank plenty of it, I can assure you.

We are all anxious to get out, and run around town to find the "Marshall House," where the gallant Ellsworth met his untimely end at the hands of Jackson.

The 202d went down the river on a transport a few minutes since. The 199th, it is reported, also went down.

It is confidently asserted here, this evening, that we are to perform guard duty in the Valley of the Shenandoah. In a day or two I can inform you of our whereabouts. We are not to go to the front, at this time, so the knowing ones say, at least.

For the present good bye. More anon.

A. H. B.

P. S.—We left Ike to board at Mr. Umberger's Hotel, in Walnut street, near the canal, in your city. Could'nt "see" the propriety of plagueing our pet by carrying him along.

A. H. B.

ALEXANDRIA, VA., MONDAY AFTERNOON,
Oct. 3, 1864.

Alexandria is rather an old looking village, or rather city—containing about 8,000 inhabitants, with clean, well-paved streets, and has some few elegant and stylish private residences—none to compare, however, with the private residences along Front street, Harrisburg.

Corporal F——yd, and your correspondent, strolled along King street, this A. M., and found the famous "Marshall House," where Elmer Ellsworth met his untimely end. It is an indifferent looking, three storied building, with one chimney and a pair of dormer windows on the roof—4 windows on the 2d floor and 4 on the third—and the whole front brick work painted drab color. The front entrance to the bar-room is a wide door, occupying nearly the whole width of the building, and immediately above the door is an ordinary sign, in red and white letters—"Marshall House." From the top of the roof the identical flag staff (from which Ellsworth tore the hateful secesh rag) still stands, and looks as though it had seen its best days, for the guy-rope is nearly rotted off. The steps leading to the roof (where the tragedy occurred) have all been cut away for mementos, (obtained for a consideration, of course,) and are replaced with new material. The House was afterwards carried on by a Philadelphian, who coined money by the increase of business occasioned by people flocking hither from all parts of the United States, to see the spot where "Ellsworth, the gallant Zouave," breathed his last.

Formerly, there must have been considerable shipping done at this point—but now the principal warehouses on private account are closed, and United States Government wharves alone give activity and life to the place.

The Revenue cutter "Adolph Huger, No. 9"—mounting two twenty-four pounders, and a mortar throwing a bomb of two hundred pounds weight, is stationed here, in command of Captain L. Nicholson, U. S. N. The Huger took part in the capture of New Orleans from the rebels, a few years ago, and has been stationed here ever since.

The fine, large side-wheel steamer "Ben Deford," of Baltimore, is lying here fitting out for a hospital boat. All crafts passing up or down the Potomac are required to obtain passes from the proper authorities ere they are allowed to pass the cutter lying off here.

Alexandria is still under martial law, and not a single drop of liquor is allowed to flow here under any circumstances.

The soldiers are strung along the docks this morning in groups, fishing for rock. Some fine specimens were caught, with live bait, this morning, measuring from 12 to 16 inches in length. Raw meat, refuse oysters, and even mackerel bait is used for the purpose.

The boys are all well and in good spirits. We expect to do railroad duty in a few days and will locate somewhere near here, so that we will have mail communication once more. It is annoying, indeed, to be without a mail from home. This, however, will be remedied in a few days.

In making purchases of paper, envelopes, &c., to-day, we made the acquaintance of Mr. Charles Brownold, an obliging and clever Israelite, and brother to Mr. S. Brownold, of our native city. Many of our men made purchases at his place of business, No. 53, King street. We also accidentally met Mr. J. L. Barringer, of Harrisburg, now doing business in Alexandria.

More anon. A. H. B.

GENERAL JOE HOOKER IN NEW YORK AND BROOKLYN.

General Hooker was present at the great Union meeting, last evening, in Brooklyn.—In response to the call of the audience, he came forward and said;

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN—I need not tell you that I am totally unprepared for this. I cannot and do not take this demonstration, or any part of it, to myself. I am not worthy of this reception. I am not more worthy than you. We are all in the same boat. You have been working in the cause in one place and I have been working in another. Your victories here are as dear to us in the front as those in the front are dear to you here. The victories of last fall—I speak from a full knowledge of the facts—were hailed with as much joy and enthusiasm in the army as though those victories had been achieved by another army than the army to which I belonged. The victory of Ohio was also hailed with joy, and I felt glad at the result. I hope I may feel many more; and I do not doubt that before next November we will taste of one like which the rebellion has furnished no parallel. I need not tell you that I am rejoiced to find such an assemblage. It shows that it is all right with our cause and our country. Nothing—no reverses, no misfortune, can befall us when our people are animated by the feeling evinced here to-night. If the war has been prolonged it has not been from weakness, but rather from conscious strength. We have never put forth our resources nor strength, although we have put forth such resources as have amazed the world. But it is true that the North has never yet made one great effort to crush the rebellion. It can, and will do it, when it moves for that purpose. The people in these loyal States, and I am proud to say it, have been in advance of the authorities during the whole of this rebellion. They will be so until we reach the end, and that end is not remote. I am rejoiced to meet you to-night, and to meet you under such auspices. Tidings, glorious tidings, reach us from all the armies. The work goes bravely on there. There are no copperheads in the army. [Loud applause.] They will fight well, and they will vote well also. More loyalty, more devotion, never animated the heart and the hands of men more brave. I thank you most earnestly for the kindness that you have received me with this evening. I am unworthy of it. I have in a humble capacity served my country, and have never failed to do my duty, and I trust I never will. I bid you good night.

General Hooker then retired amid renewed and boisterous applause.

HOW ONE MAN MADE UP HIS MIND.—The Boston Transcript of Saturday last, says that a gentleman of that city, who had all his life been an unwavering Democrat, was much exercised in mind when the Chicago Platform was announced and Gen. McClellan's letter of acceptance approved. On the day before a friend met him in the street and saying to him, "I suppose, of course, you will go for the Chicago platform and its nominee." How can I?" was the reply. "My only son, a better man than myself, is fighting in the Federal army, and I cannot bring myself to feel it right that I should stay at home and vote against the cause for which he is suffering."

Gen. Butler Not Killed.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5—P. M.

There is no truth in the rumor that our army had met with a reverse, and that Gen. Butler was killed. The report was doubtless manufactured by the gold speculators.

From Washington.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.

The following deaths of Pennsylvania soldiers were reported yesterday: Lewis W. Kipp, company H, 48th Pennsylvania; Edwin M. Eshleman, company E, 99th Pennsylvania; John Kealy, company A, 99th Pennsylvania.

Private George G. Moore, Company D, West Virginia volunteers, and John Creed, Company D, 23d Illinois veteran volunteers, were yesterday introduced to the Secretary of War by General J. H. Willson, and presented to him two battle flags captured by them at Fisher's Hill, Virginia, Sept. 22d. Their gallantry was duly acknowledged by the Secretary and the fortunate privates were conducted to the office of General Townsend, where the flags were deposited and memoranda taken for the preparation of medals to be given them. Creed's capture of the flag he presented was accomplished, in the absence of ammunition, by knocking the rebel flag bearer down with a stone.

Lieutenant Robert M'Knight, of battery H, 1st Pennsylvania Reserve Light Artillery, was the recipient of a sabre, with belt and sash, from the non-commissioned officers and privates of the battery, on the first inst. Lieut. M'Knight has been promoted from the ranks, as has every other officer of the battery.

It has been decided that all Pennsylvania soldiers stationed within one mile of the Chain building on H street, can deposit their votes at the polls in said building, on the day of the coming election. All outside of said limits can vote at the nearest polls.

On Monday fifty rebel deserters were furnished with transportation to go where their fancy leads them north of Mason and Dixon's line.

Instructions to Rebel Newspapers.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.

The following telegram was found in the telegraph office at Harrisonburg, Va., after our troops entered the place. It is signed by General Cooper, Adjutant and Inspector General of the C. S. A.:

BY TELEGRAPH, RICHMOND, July 11, 1864.

—To the Editor of the Rockingham Register:

It is observed that one of the columns of your paper, of the 8th inst., is headed "News from Early's Army." Silence as to the number of our troops at all points and by whom commanded, has become of the first importance. It is also desirable that the enemy should be mystified as to the whereabouts of Gen. Lee himself. Nor should it be stated that Gen. Ewell has been separated from his corps or where he is. Please bear in mind these suggestions. (Signed.) S. COOPER.
