HARRISBURG, PA. SATURDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 8, 1864.

A Grand Torch-light Procession at Lykens.

The citizens of Lykens township will have a grand torch-light procession on Monday evening next.

Hon. DAVID FLEMING and other prominent speakers will address the meeting.

REMEMBER the Union rally at Middletown, to-night.

Do not forget the big Snake hunt, on Tuesday next.

SANFORD'S Opera Troupe is performing in Erie, to crowded houses.

The bankers of Philadelphia have thrown out the notes of the Farmers' and Mechanics' bank of Milford, Delaware.

PIZZONS.—Wild pigeons have made their appearance in this neighborhood, in considerable numbers. We notice our sportsmen bringing them in daily.

NEWSPAPERS SUSPENDED.—The Connecticut Reporter suspended because of the times and high price of paper. The Lycoming Gazette, published at Williamsport, has also suspended.

The last grand Union rally previous to the October election, will take place at the Court House, on Monday night. Able speakers will be present. Let the loyal citizens of Harrisburg turn out in their might.

CHESTNUTS were offered in market this morning, at 25 to 30c per quart. The mountaineers report them scarce. A few visits from Jack Frost will cause a tremendous fall of chestnuts and prices.

A NUISANCE.—The dozens of dogs running at large in the streets, baying, every hour, snarling, fighting and fighting among themselves, are not averse to tasting human flesh, especially in the evening. A good dog is frequently valuable to its owner, but those many curs that run yelping through the streets are of no earthly account.

The Theatre will be open this evening, on which occasion we may expect to see there another of those fashionable audiences which have filled the Hall during the past forty-four consecutive nights. A splendid bill is presented to the patrons of the Theatre. In order to obtain comfortable seats, tickets should be procured at Bannart's drug store. The curtain will rise at half-past seven o'clock.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—A horse, attached to a light wagon containing three ladies and a boy, took flight in Sasquehanna Depot on the 9th ult., and ran away. In turning a corner the wagon tipped, and the three ladies were thrown out. One of them—Mrs. Sarah B. Badly, wife of Joseph Badly—was instantly killed. Another was seriously hurt, but the other lady and boy escaped uninjured.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—Jesse Poole, conductor of one of the mail trains on the Northern Central railroad, was seriously injured, on Thursday morning, at the Baltimore depot. He was attempting to couple two cars and was caught between the bumpers. Two of his ribs were fractured and injuries of an infernal character inflicted. He was placed on the train and removed to his home at Bolton.

MARKET presented the usual busy appearance, this morning. It is amusing to witness the collisions of baskets, buckets, and crinolines, etc., as the people are passing to and from the market. A case or two of pocket-picking occurred. Prices were generally on the decline. Splendid butter was sold as low as 30c per pound.

Rev. GEORGE U. HARN.—This gentleman, who entered the U. S. service as captain in an Ohio regiment, (and who was also out in the three months' service), and was subsequently reported to have been killed, is yet alive. He is a prisoner at Richmond. Rev. Harn, who is a minister at the opening of the rebellion, and who was one of the patriots of that place, marched forth to defend the good old flag. He was severely wounded and captured after the first Vicksburg battle, and since then has been in the hands of the rebels. As nothing was subsequently heard of him, it was supposed that he was numbered with the dead. Two Wooster soldiers, just exchanged, from Libby Prison, state that they know of him very recently. It is believed that owing to his conspicuous opposition to the rebels and his heroic denunciation of their unwholesome cause, he is prevented from writing to his friends.

Rev. Geo. U. Harn was at one time pastor of the old Mulberry Street Church, in this city, and has hundreds of personal friends here, who will rejoice to learn that he is yet alive.

A COPPERHEAD LANDLORD REBUKED BY A LOYAL LADY.—A certain copperhead landlord, who is the possessor of at least one or two houses in the upper part of the city, has made himself, of late, very obnoxious to some of his tenants by his abuse of the Government, and deploring that the laborers have to pay so much for the necessities of life.—In order to give a fair illustration, we will call our landlord "D."

D, talking a long time with several of his lady tenants, was in a very desponding mood, complaining that potatoes, coffee, sugar and flour were so high, and that everything would have to be taxed under this cruel war. He remarked that the Abolitionists would only be defeated, everything would get cheaper.

After listening to this croaker, who had been raising the rind nearly every year since the houses were built, one of the bystanders remarked, "See here, Mr. D., do you pay your D."

"Yes, Madam, was the reply."

"Well, I'm tired of hearing your complaints so constantly; you never say a word against Jeff Davis and his traitors."

"Yes, I wish I could see the rebel Jeff Davis and Lincoln both hung together."

"Yes, and I could see you hung on the other side of Lincoln; it would then remind me of our Savior, who was hung between two thieves."

The copperhead, retired with a flea in his ear. What does the reader think of the honesty of our men? Do they deserve to live in a land where the memory of gallant heroes who perished in defence of the right, now forms the richest heritage of a free people? No.

DROWNED.—A boy named Franklin Lewis, of Middletown, county, was drowned on the 26th ult., in the canal at Wilkesbarre. He was in the act of taking water from the canal with a rope and bucket, and fell over-board. His age was about seven years.

St. Paul's Episcopal Church, corner of Ridge Road and Reservoir. Divine service to-morrow at 10:30 A. M. and 6:30 P. M. In the evening will be delivered the second of the series of discourses on Bible narratives. Subject, "A Sketch of Elijah." All are invited.

A CHANGE.—A lady correspondent of a Providence paper computes that if the ladies would cut their dresses to escape the ground one inch, instead of trailing two inches, as is now the fashion, a saving of one million dollars would be annually effected. Here is a chance for "dress reform," as well as for improvement in neatness.

NOTICE.—Parties still having guns in their possession belonging to Capt. Gibson's company of Minute men, are hereby notified that if the guns and accoutrements are not left at the office of the Daily Telegraph on or before Wednesday, Oct 12, their names will be handed over to the Quartermaster General of the State. W. W. GIBSON.

The communion of the Lord's Supper will be administered in the German Reformed Church, Chestnut street, to-morrow (Sabbath) morning, at 10 o'clock. Preaching at 7 o'clock in the evening. Preparatory services this (Saturday) evening, in the Lecture Room, at 7 o'clock. All of the above named services will be conducted by Rev. B. C. Wolff, D. D.

ENROLLING OFFICER SHOT AT.—The M'Connellburg Republican has the following notice of an occurrence in Fulton county: Enrolling officer Amos Hixon, of Bethel township, whilst serving notices on Daniel Cove, on Sunday last, was fired upon in Whip's Cove, by a gang of Fulton county traitors who were lying in ambush for him. When the shot was fired, he was riding in company with Mr. Isaac Hull. Mr. Hull's horse was shot through the nose.

BURGLARY.—The warehouse of Wunderlich & Neud, in Chambersburg, was burglariously entered on Wednesday evening last by a false key, the safe blown open and three United States bonds for $500 each and some papers stolen. There were several hundred dollars of money in one of the drawers of the safe, but they overlooked that, and did not get it. Payment has been stopped on the bonds. No clue has been had as to the guilty party or parties; but it is evident that they are seasoned burglars.

CHAPTER OF ACCIDENTS.—The following fatal accidents occurred in Cambria county, this week: John Chinger, of Yoder township, was killed by a wagon passing over him—caused by his horses running off. Aradoc Reese, aged eight years, of Johnstown, was thrown from a horse and dragged several hundred yards, and his brains dashed out. A little son of Conrad Apple, of Perkinville, fell into the canal, and was drowned. A little German boy, of Johnstown, was run over by a coal train, and killed.

COPPERHEAD CONCLAVE.—For the last week everybody in Harrisburg has been talking about the eloquent Dan. Dougherty, and expressing an anxiety to hear that able champion of his country's rights and defender of his country's honor. True Democrats who are yet true to their country and their country's flag, were loudest in their expressed desire to hear a patriotic Democrat. The leading copperhead of the city dreaded the consequences and feared the result of Dougherty's convincing arguments, his patriotic earnestness and his burning and thrilling eloquence. They accordingly concocted the scheme to counterbalance its withering influence. One of their shining lights was telegraphed to come with out fail, and make a speech upon the same evening, and within a stone's throw of the same place. That man was Governor Horatio Seymour, of New York, the Grand Sachem of the copperhead party, and the late President of the traitor's Convention at Chicago. Well, the Governor came and the meeting was held in front of the Buehler House, composed of boys, and men who were unable to get into the crowded Court House.

The Governor was indisposed at dinner—a little too much so for the dignity of the office he fills—and a carriage ride to "Haldeman's room," in Chambersburg, during the afternoon increased his indisposition to an alarming extent—thickening his tongue—weakening his knees, but strengthening his treasonable faculties. The Governor made an oily speech, mistifying his audience, and covering up his treason in good English and plausible arguments, calculated to deceive the unsuspecting and aid the cause of treason. He well knew he could accomplish nothing by the expression of open treason; he therefore resorted to devious, obsequious and chicanery. He made an unfair speech, and misrepresented both himself and his party. He pretends to be a "war man," while his very soul is burning with treason. He preaches up McClellan's letter of acceptance as indicative of the feelings of the General and the great and only principle of the party. Governor Seymour is playing his card for the Secretaryship of State, and if McClellan should be elected, he would succeed in his ambitious schemes, and the cabinet would be filled with just such peace men, such dangerous demagogues and traitors as Horatio Seymour. The meeting was also addressed by a Mr. McGee, of New York, who informed the audience that he had been to the army, and "fixed" the New York vote to his own pleasure. When we remember that the New York soldiers vote by proxy, and that this unscrupulous wretch has been appointed by Governor Seymour a commissioner to take affidavits, we may well tremble to think of the villainous frauds which will be perpetrated on the soldier by such infamous copperheads as this McGee. He boasted of what he had done, and was giving a description of his infamies, when his party friends trampled him off the balcony, fearing the consequences of his reckless exposures. This man McGee was so beastly drunk that he was unable to stand without holding on to the iron railing—a beautiful specimen of a New York copperhead, a demagogue, and a balmy-brother stuffer. A few more such men and such speeches throughout the country will make a solid vote for the Union ticket.

Lawyer Ham Spricks—the Geographer of Chicago—also spoke, but the poor fellow is perfectly harmless, and we are not disposed to speak harshly of his infirmities. He made up his mind that McClellan would be elected, and then for his successor he wanted Vallandigham for the twenty-second President of the United States. Poor Ham! will never realize the bright imaginings of his mind, or the fond hope of being the Post Master of Harrisburg.

Paper Colonel Richard J. Haldeman also spoke, but as he announced that he would make a "set speech" between the elections, we will defer any comment upon his remarks, but pay particular attention to Sir Richard after we hear that "set speech."

Senator Clymer was the decenter-looking speaker, and certainly made the best speech of the evening. He was careful in his sentiments and gentlemanly in his manner.

"THOMSONIAN HOUSE" has been selected as the new name for Herr's Hotel, at Harrisburg, under its new proprietor. The name suggests night sweats from "composition tea," "No. 6," and other perspiring incentives of the old Thomsonian doctors.—Berks and Schuylkill Journals.

Not so fast, Mr. Journal. The child has not been christened infant. It is now suggested to have it called Dew Drop Inn (do drop in.)

A most shocking murder was committed on Saturday last, between Shamokin and Sunbury. A highly respected lady of 60 years, wife of Louis Chamberlin, was left alone in the morning, and in the afternoon was found, about forty rods from the house, apparently killed by her own gun, which was by her side. Mr. C. had held a large sum of money, but on Friday deposited it in the Shamokin Bank. It is supposed the unknown murderer was in search of this money, as the house was pillaged, and that he then drove her out and shot her to prevent her becoming a witness!

EXCITEMENT AT NEWPORT.—Copperheads disturb a Union Meeting.—Last night a grand Union meeting was held at Newport, Perry county, and was progressing finely when a shower of rain fell, causing a temporary check to the exercises. During this time the copperheads of the town made an effort to tear down a Lincoln flag which had been flung to the breeze, but the "Iron Boys" of Duncaun happened to be at Newport, and they thoroughly routed the cops, who were glad to retreat and crawl into their holes. Newport will send a good report at the close of election day.

BOLD ROBBERY.—Last night a robbery occurred in Landisburg, Perry county, by which Wm. Linn's store was entered and about $250 belonging to him, besides a sum of money (amount not known), the property of the Widow Snyder—placed there for safe-keeping—was stolen. The proprietor was absent at a political meeting, leaving Mr. John A. Linn in charge of the store. Mr. L. closed the place of business at the usual time, taking the keys home to his own house. During the night his residence was entered by the burglar, who proceeded to his (Linn's) bedroom and took from his pockets the keys of the store as well as the keys of the house, then proceeding to the latter place, an entrance to the inner apartments of the safe was effected by means of iron implements procured elsewhere. All the money in the safe was taken. Fortunately, a number of Government bonds were overlooked, and remained untouched.

DRY GOODS have fallen as a natural consequence of the fall of gold, but at the same time, did it not affect domestic goods as much as imported goods? For the rise of domestic goods was caused by scarcity of raw material, as well as stock on hand, while foreign goods rose on account of exchange, and yet, domestic goods have fallen some 25 per cent. To continue you that goods have come down, see Brown's cheap corner, Second street, opposite Jones', who laid in a beautiful stock of goods at last week's decline, and is therefore able to sell goods 25 to 50 per cent. less than any one in this town. Bannart's Troches.

For the cure of Hoarseness, Throat Diseases, &c., are specially recommended to ministers, singers and persons whose vocation calls them to speak in public. Manufactured only by O. A. BANNART & CO., Harrisburg, Pa. No other orders should be addressed. Sold by druggist every where. Read the following testimonials from some of our eminent clergymen: HARRISBURG, Feb. 8th, 1864. C. A. BANNART—Dear Sir: I have used Brown's Bronchial Troches, Wistar's Lozenges and other preparations for hoarseness and throat troubles, and in comparison with them all, can cheerfully commend your own as a most admirable specific for public speakers and all cases of hoarseness, coughs and colds. I have found them serving in time of need, most effectually. Yours truly, T. H. ROBINSON, Pastor of N. S. Presbyterian Church.

I agree with Mr. Robinson as to the value of Bannart's Troches. W. C. CATTELL, Late Pastor of O. S. Presbyterian Church.

HARRISBURG, Jan. 1864. To C. A. BANNART—Dear Sir: In the habit of speaking very frequently, and in places where the vocal organs are very much taxed, I have found the need of some gentle expectorant, and that want has been supplied in your excellent Troches. JNO. WALKER JACKSON, Pastor of the Locust St. Methodist Church.

I consider them very far superior to any Lozenges that I have ever used, in removing speedily that huskiness of the voice arising from colds of the throat, and impairing the effectiveness of the delivery of public addresses. Yours, &c. G. G. RAKESTRAW, Pastor of Edge Avenue Methodist Church.

To C. A. BANNART—Dear Sir:—I have found your Troches to be invaluable in removing hoarseness and in strengthening the vocal organs. They impart clearness to the voice, and are certainly of great benefit to all public speakers. A. J. HERR
