Home Vote--What it Means and What It Proves.

The calculations necessary to arrive at a correct statement of the result of the election yesterday, must all start from points other The members of the County Committee than those by which we heretofore indicated are requested to meet on Saturday afternoon the decision of the ballot box. In the first next, at two o'clock, at the office of the Secplace, the vote polled at home, is no indicaretary, J. M. Wiestling, Esq. A punctual attion of the popular sentiment of the State. That vote only partially represents the feeling of the people of Pennsylvania, and until we get the returns from the citizens of the State who are absent meeting the brunt of battle, contending alike for the honor of the Commonwealth, the integrity and authority of the nation, the result of the election cannot be correctly known. The home vote, as a general All hail ! to the Keystone State ! We have thing, will fix the fate of candidates. But met the enemy, and he is ours! Pennsyl-there is a higher and a nobler object at stake than the mere success of men, however vitally that affects the operation of measures.

Our own view of the result is, that the people are all right, and that the copperhead leaders have not succeeded in changing a single vote that was cast last year for Andrew G. Curtin. We believe that every man who supported Curtin in 1863, if he was alive yesterday, and exercised the right of the franchise, voted the Union Republican ticket. Whatever may have been the falling off of the vote in certain districts, it will be made up by the soldiers in our favor-while with the solat the November election, by polling the Dem., 34. votes of a large number of men in districts which were known to be sure at the last election, and where • many men, our friends, aware of this fact, did not go to the polls. When every vote is known to tell in the general result of the State, and when that result tary operations now in progress, depreciating is known to decide the great object in view, we are confident in being able to overwhelm our foes with an avalanche of defeat. Our op ponents did their very best. They established their force in every district. However singular it may appear, in their strongholds they fought as if they were desperate, believing that they could only succeed by a mighty effort-while in districts where the vote is always against them, they labored secretly, imagining that they could rob the Union men of victory. Hence, we know exactly what the foes of the government are capable of accomplishing. We know their full strength. This knowledge is of the utmost importance to us for the great battle that is yet to be fought. We are thus not only enlightened as to what we can do, but we are solemnly impressed and admonished as to what we MUST DO. There must, we are confident there will be no halting or kesitation among our friends at the coming election in November. Our foes have nothing to lose in November because they gained all they could and were defeated yesterday. We have everything to gain-a gain by the increase of our majorities-a gain by our country from the bloody grasp of trai. Snyder..... 188 the true men who have thus stood firmly by tors. Close up in front, then, friends of the right! They have saved the nation, and the Union! There must be no sleeping, no

All we have a platform, and for whom, as Vice President of right to ask from the soldier, in the struggle. the United States, Mr. Guthrie intends to vote, at the ballot box, is to increase our majorities in favor of the right. And that he will gal.

-With Ohio, Indiana and Pennsylvania against them, the enemies of the Union and the Government in the loyal States, should be satisfied. But we have no right to be satisfied until we have completely established our power to sustain the Government at the ballot box.

These results indicate the spirit of lovalty and patriotism which pervade the people.

Our opponents fought the battle on the worst issues which they could create against the Government. They misrepresented the mili-exaggerated the necessary expenses of the government, so as to appal the taxpayers with visions of extortion and bankruptcy, hoping thereby to excite the cupidity of the masses,

and thus extort an opposition to the Govern-

--The Philadelphia Press thus hopefully and elegantly refers to the suming up of the grand result. There is a counsel in what is here said, which, we trust, will not be lost on our friends all over the State:

That a substantial victory was achieved in Pennsylvania yesterday by the Union forces, on the home vote, is beyond controversy. It must not be forgotten that we have made all our calculations upon the vote of the election last year, when Governor Curtin was re-elected by a majority of 15,335, and when, on a reasonable estimate, from 15,000 to 20,-000 soldiers voted—at least two-thirds of whom supported Curtin. Yesterday we had few or none of these men voting in their re-spective election precincts. The thousands who dd thr w their ballot, have not yet been count-d. Under the law of the last Legislature, the return of the soldiers' vote must be made by the election officers in the various camps and hospitals to the Prothonotaries of the respective counties, which cannot be pub-lished for some days. This vote is estimated variously at from 30,000 to 40,000, of which at least two-thirds, judging by the intelligence dicady received, will go for the Union can didates. We think, therefore, the Union majority on the home and soldiers' vote will be at least 25,000. When it is recollected that we fought under the most dreadful disadvantages, it is indeed a substantial triamph. And this is more apparent when we remember that we have carried both tranches of the Legislature, and gained at least three members of Congress. and with the soldiers' vote shall not be surprised if we gain one or two more. Whereever the Union vote has fallen off heavily, as in Lancaster, Erie, Chester, and so forth, this is to be attributed to the enormous proportion of Union men in the army. But frankness compels us to say that all these counties, including several others, not necessary to name, our friends must at once veorganize if th y w ult be worthy of their ancient fame at the November election.

Which of the Millers?

Such was the question asked by many an anxious citizen as the announcement was made, Miller is certainly defeated. WHICH OF THE MILLERS? We are happy in being able to answer that question. The defeated Miller is WILLIAM HENEY. The Fourteenth Congressional District is thus redeemed from as foul a disgrace as ever rested on any people-a disgrace, because every plighted faith has been violated-the interests of an enterprising people neglected, and the patriotism of intelligent communities entirely ignored, by the representation of Mr. Wm. H. Miller.

A Question and an Answer.

feasting, no pausing between this and vember. All the glory in which we expect G F Miller's maj. .214 venuer. All the glory in which we expect to robe that victory, must be derived from our own vigilance, that eternal vigilance which is the price of liberty.

Close up in Front? Forward? The contest yesterday, must only be regarded as the first shock of the great battle which is fast approaching and which will he fought in November. It was a reconnoissance in force to feel the numbers and position of the enemy. Having fully accomplished all we desired, and ascertained the exact strength and position of the enemy, it now becomes necessary for the front along the whole line of the great Union army to be closed up, every man at his post, every soldier ready for the mighty struggle, and then! Forward! for victory! The contest of yesterday taught us that our foes do not intend to present us with a triumph. The bold bad men who have deluded ignorant people into their support, and who lead the factions composing the Democratic party, are determined to die hard. Defeated yesterday, they will only fight the fiercer a month hence. Utterly lost to shame or the influence of principle, our opponents are resolved to fight the coming contest for results of personal revenge, for the creation of an anarchy, if possible, throughout the free States, which will ingulph the whole country in the bloody wave of civil war. —Our friends must at once set about re-organ izing. The man who stands aloof from his party now-the man who neglects to make every effort for the increase of our vote, has no claim upon the blessings of a good government, no interest in the hope of a government, no interest in the hope of a speedy end of the war and restoration of the whole country to peace and prosperity. Let us all go to the work, from this hour forward until the polls colse in November, and the last loyal vote has been cast. Nothing now but ac-tion will wrow our deterministics to invert tion will prove our determination to increas our success in November.

Ohio, Indiana and Pennsylvania.

The home vote in these three great States clearly establishes the devotion of the peo ple to the great cause of human liberty, civilization and Christianity. There can now be no louger any doubt about the result in these three States in favor of Mr. Lincoln: With a proper effort, these States can be carried by the same vote-and it would be well if our friends in this State, particularly, would conduct the Presidential campaign as if the result depended alone upon their individual efforts. Indeed, we must not rely on the vote Mr. James Guthrie, one of the makers of the Chicago Platform, asks, in a late speech of the soldier to elect Mr. Lincoln.
