

NATIONAL UNION TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT, Abraham Lincoln, OF ILLINOIS.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT, Andrew Johnson, OF TENNESSEE.

ELECTORAL TICKET. SENATORIAL. MORTON M'MICHAEL, Philadelphia.

County Committee. The members of the County Committee are requested to meet on Saturday afternoon next, at two o'clock, at the office of the Secretary, J. M. Wiestling, Esq.

PENNSYLVANIA ELECTION. The Union Triumph Decisive. We find it impossible to give definite returns of the election held on Tuesday last but sufficient is known to state the result as follows, viz:

A MAJORITY ON THE HOME VOTE! A UNION MAJORITY, BY ADDING THE SOLDIERS' TO THE HOME VOTE, OF AT LEAST 20,000. SIXTEEN MEMBERS OF CONGRESS CERTAIN, AND WITH THE SOLDIERS' VOTE EIGHTEEN. A MAJORITY IN THE STATE SENATE. We have at least 18 members of the Senate without the soldiers' vote, and when that is received we expect to record the triumphant election of two additional members.

A LARGE MAJORITY IN THE HOUSE. We have returns sufficient to announce the election of 61 members of the House of Representatives.

VICTORY! VICTORY! VICTORY!!! The Burning of Powder and a Grand Copperhead Rejoicing.

There is something as facetious in the impertinence of a genuine copperhead, as there is something audacious in the courage of a hide-bound traitor. The one fights as boldly in a bad cause, as the other sneakily seeks its triumph; and however soundly both may be drubbed, however terribly the one may be lashed with the fury of war, and the other crushed by the sublime power of the ballot box, both are as ready to shout victory in defeat, as they are to lie and cheat, and resort to foul means to secure success.

The firing of a salute, however, was the most cunningly devised trick of all those resorted to by the copperheads, to keep up their courage. A friend sought an explanation of the salute, but he could elicit nothing satisfactory, and therefore came to the conclusion that the powder was burned in honor of Phil. Sheridan's successful hunt for copperheads on Sunday last.

THE DEFEAT OF W. H. MILLER! THE REDEMPTION OF THE XIVTH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT! EIGHTEEN UNION MEMBERS OF CONGRESS! A MAJORITY IN BOTH BRANCHES OF THE LEGISLATURE!

THE POWDER BURNED BY THE COFS, while firing a salute of cheer to their friends in the South, was paid for by Col. R. J. Haldeman, who boasts that he never paid a dollar of income tax—who refused to contribute a penny to the support of the soldier's family, and who has but one victory to glory over, namely, the defeat of an effort to organize a battalion in this city to resist rebel invasion. Gay Richard! ain't he?

The Efforts of an Agent of Foreign Princes and Foreign Powers to Control the Pennsylvania Election.

It is now fixed beyond all contradiction, that the money which the Copperhead State Central Committee disbursed during the canvass for the election held on Tuesday last, came directly through Mr. Augustus Belmont, as a contribution of the Princes, Aristocrats and speculators in Europe, who have so long been plotting the overthrow and extinction of civil and religious liberty in the United States. The fact is well established, that Mr. Belmont sent one check of a hundred thousand dollars to the city of Philadelphia, while his agents in the counties bordering on the New York State line, were busy distributing money to corrupt the masses wherever that means was deemed necessary to carry a candidate. The money used by the copperhead leaders, in the late campaign in the State, was originally intended for disbursement in the South, to support the rebel arms, but was attracted from that purpose, in the hope that its expenditure in Pennsylvania would effect more important objects for the foreign holders of Confederate securities, by securing a political triumph for the treason sympathizers in the north.

These facts should at once arouse the spirit of every freeman in the State of Pennsylvania, to meet the further attempts of Mr. Belmont, as the agent of Foreign Brokers, to secure the corruption of the people of the north, in order that political victories may be won favorable to the cause of treason in the south. The game being thus uncovered, the Union men of the State know exactly what to do to counteract the influence of foreign gold in the American ballot-box. Failing in the south, to uphold the rebel cause—failing on the ocean to secure the sway of rebel pirates—failing in a fair fight, to overwhelm the freemen of the Union battling for the safety of the Government, these miserable foes of the Union have also failed in their attempt to control and corrupt the ballot-box. It will require but one more effort, and we will have conquered our enemies alike all over the world.

The Effects of a Collapse. Should the National arms continue to make progress against the rebellion at the rate of the last few weeks, we are warned by the effect of our latest victories to look for a collapse of the bubble which speculation has inflated, so precipitate as to produce, in all probability, an extensive crash in commercial affairs. With a view to that, more than possible contingency, we desire to point attention to two or three facts which argue that the effects of such a catastrophe, at the present time, must be very much circumscribed and different from those experienced in former crises of the same kind.

1. The working classes, cannot suffer, now, as under ordinary circumstances, from the reduction of industrial operations and the loss of employment, consequent upon a general derangement of business—because labor is too scarce. The labor market is but barely supplied with the hands which are absolutely required to keep the country fed and clothed, and which must, therefore, under any condition, be kept employed.

2. People are more generally out of debt than ever before in the history of the country. Old debts have been paid off to an immense extent, during the past three years of abundant currency, high prices and high wages, while few new ones have been incurred. Merchants have made cash purchases more largely than ever before, farmers have cleared off mortgages from their farms, mechanics from their houses and lots—pecuniary independence is the rule among all classes, and the failure of one cannot involve the ruin to others which it usually does.

3. Workingmen, with their large earnings, have saved more, in spite of the high cost of living, than formerly, as shown by the immense increase of deposits in the savings' banks. With the appreciation of currency, consequent upon a downfall of gold, their savings will grow in substance upon their hands, making them really richer by the consequences of a financial crisis, rather than poorer. The plain argument from these unquestionable facts is, that a collapse ensuing now must prove materially disastrous to very few beyond speculators, whom it will be impossible to commiserate much, while the mass of the people are likely to feel it only beneficially, in a fall of inflated prices.
