

NATIONAL UNION TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT, Abraham Lincoln, OF ILLINOIS. FOR VICE PRESIDENT, Andrew Johnson, OF TENNESSEE.

Notice to the Enrolling Officers. As the Court will meet in this city on Friday, ensuing, for the purpose of granting naturalization papers to all applicants, it would be well for Provost Marshal Clement to detail an officer to enroll all those thus naturalized, that they may bear the burdens as well as the blessings of citizenship, and be made thus subject to the present and all future drafts.

A Bold Game to Carry New York for Treason.

At a late Copperhead meeting held in Middletown, this county, an attaché of the opposition organ in this city, by a slip of his tongue, let out the knowledge of a bold game about to be carried out by Gov. Seymour, of New York, and his friends, to carry that State at the approaching election. It appears that the individual who "let the cat out of the bag," mistook a sound Union man for a Copperhead, and in the course of a conversation asserted that arrangements had been made by which sufficient "proxy votes" would be secured to make Seymour Governor of New York for another term. When surprise was expressed as to how this could be done, the reply was vouchsafed that Gov. Seymour had the appointment of the agents to take the army vote—that these emissaries would take care of his interests, and thus it would only be necessary to collect the names of sufficient New York volunteers, fill up the blank for proxy voting with such as these, transmit the ballots to trusty friends prepared to carry out the scheme, and thus by a fraud, carry the Empire State against the cause from which her commercial marine, her internal trade and vast enterprises have derived their most solid successes.

There is something truly frightful in these developments. There can be no mistake about the affair. It shows the utter desperation of the Copperhead leaders. They first opposed the extension of the elective franchise to the soldier. When good men succeeded in gaining this right for the courage and valor of the land, the Copperhead leaders thus attempt its pollution, and deliberately go to work to corrupt the very means sought to elevate the defenders of the nation. Out upon such baseness. Of course our friends in New York will be on their guard for all these frauds.

A Copperhead Canard Relating to the 205th Regiment P. V.

We are often amused than amazed at witnessing the efforts of the copperhead leaders, first, to rob the soldier of his elective franchise, and after his friends have invested him with the right, to attract his support for his actual enemies. The following is a fair specimen of the way the copperhead organs in this State seek to use the soldier. We give Colonel Mathews the benefit of his quotations and his statements to Adjutant Gen. Russell, as the very best mode of meeting and exposing the falsehood with which he deals! The reader will fully understand the whole matter, after perusing these extracts and Colonel Mathews' letter as they follow below:

205th P. V. REGT.—The 205th is a new regiment of which Col. J. A. Mathews, of Lewistown, is Colonel, and Major Morrow, formerly of this place, is Major. A few days ago this regiment passed through Washington to the front. When passing the White House Mr. Lincoln came out and saluted them. At this point some one in the regiment cried aloud, "three cheers for Gen. McClellan," and our informant says three of the most deafening cheers he ever heard from as many throats were promptly given. Lincoln retired and the regiment went on.—Huntingdon Monitor.

There are so many McClellan falsehoods afloat nowadays, (the partisans of that nominee evidently intending to carry on the campaign by lying,) that we have doubts of the truth of the above, because we know that a number of both officers and men are not McClellanites. Besides we cannot believe that the officers and men of any regiment in the service (unless rebels at heart) would so far dishonor and disgrace their own country as to offer such an insult to the command-in-chief and President when he came out to greet and cheer them on their way. The Huntingdon Monitor however gives it as a truth, and although the authority is doubtful, we commend it to the attention of Governor Andrew G. Curtin as worthy of inquiry.

The above was enclosed in a note by Col. Mathews, and addressed to Adjutant General Russell. It is not out of place to state here that Col. M. is a Democrat of the school who believe in freedom and right:

CAMP OF 205TH REGT. PENNA. VOLS., NEAR CITY POINT, Va., Oct. 13. A. L. Russell, Adjutant General of Penna. GENERAL—I extract from the Lewistown Gazette the enclosed: The editor commends it to the attention of Governor Andrew G. Curtin as worthy of inquiry. Without solicitation from His Excellency, I reply that there is no truth whatever in the statement published in the Lewistown Gazette, as copied from the Huntingdon Monitor, neither do I consider such slang worthy the attention or inquiry of His Excellency. I am, general, respectfully, Your obedient servant, J. A. MATHEWS, Colonel 205th Regiment P. V.

We will comment no further on this exposure than to state, that the reader may place an estimate on all the stories which he hears of the soldiers' opposition to Mr. Lincoln, similar to that which Col. Mathews places on the Huntingdon Monitor—namely, that they are but the outgrowth of the secret traitor to perform their share of the work of impairing the credit of a loyal man.

Who Began the War.

It is a bold charge with the Democratic leaders during the progress of the political campaign in which the people are now involved, to assert that the war is unjust, that the sacrifice is too great, and that peace must be had on any terms. But who began the war? Can or will the Democratic leaders answer this question? While they are hesitating let us ask the people to ponder these facts: Every State which seceded from the Union, was governed at the time by representatives of the Democratic party in the Executive and Legislative Departments thereof.

The first gun ever fired at the flag of the United States, by an insurgent enemy, was from men professedly Democratic, holding position in the Military Department of the Federal Union, and at the time under the protection of a Democratic Administration.

The slave holders' rebellion was armed by a Democratic Secretary of War.

The vessels to serve as piratical cruisers for a Southern Confederacy were furnished by a Democratic Secretary of the Navy.

A Democratic President confessed, when armed rebellion was precipitated, that he had no power to quell insurrection or coerce a seceding State.

WHO BEGAN THE WAR? Let us look at dates:

SECESSION. 17th Nov. 1860 South Carolina seceded. 18th Nov. Legislature of Georgia appropriated $1,000,000 to arm the State. Seceded 19th January, 1861.

9th January, 1861, Mississippi seceded. 10th January, Florida seceded. 11th January, Alabama seceded. 23rd January, Louisiana seceded. 23d February, Texas seceded. Now then for WAR.

Dec. 27, 1860.—Capture of Fort Moultrie and Castle Pinckney by South Carolina troops. The revenue cutter Aiken was also captured.

Jan. 2, 1861.—Capture of Forts Jackson and Pulaski by the Savannah troops.

Jan. 4. Fort Morgan, in Mobile Bay, taken by the Alabama troops.

Jan. 9.—The steamship Star of the West fired into and driven off by the South Carolina batteries on Morris Island.

Jan. 10.—Forts Jackson, St. Phillips, and Pike, near New Orleans, captured by the Louisiana troops.

Jan. 15.—Capture of Pensacola navy yard and Forts Barrancas and McCall.

Jan. 12.—Capture of Baton Rouge arsenal by Louisiana troops.

Jan. 31.—New Orleans Mint and Custom House seized.

Feb. 2.—Seizure of Little Rock arsenal by Arkansas troops.

Feb. 4.—Capture of the revenue cutter Cass by the Alabama authorities.

Feb. 16.—Colonel Waite, U. S. A., and San Antonio captured by Col. Ben. McCullah and his Texas rangers.

March 2.—The revenue cutter Dodge seized by the Texan authorities.

—During all the period quoted above, the Democratic party was ruling, having a President, a majority in the Senate, the Supreme Court sympathizing particularly with the Democratic leaders, the Army and Navy largely composed of Democrats, and yet with all this power, armed rebellion showed itself and defied the civil as well as the military force of the Government. Are the people willing to trust the Democratic leaders again with the power of the Government? We think not—nay, we are certain that they will not. Nor will it be hard for the people to understand from the record just quoted, WHO BEGAN THE WAR?

A Change of Opinion.

It is undoubtedly the fact that upon mature reflection many persons whose first impulses led them to favor McClellan are now turning from him to the support of the Union candidates. One of the chief causes which has induced this change has been the development which has been made of the position and sentiments of the Vice Presidential candidate with whom he has been associated upon the ticket. It is considered by all thoughtful men that under no circumstances will it be safe to run the chances of Mr. Pendleton wielding the power of the nation. His antecedents are well known by those who have watched his Congressional career, and at least it is no difficult matter to ascertain where he stands. Giving him whatever credit he may be entitled to for the frankness with which he has avowed his sentiments, he is not the less dangerous for that avowal.

The glory of the United States would be extinguished forever if George H. Pendleton should obtain the Presidency of the nation. He has stated in terms as broadly and as explicitly set forth as possible that he is in favor of letting the Southern States depart, and with pathetic earnestness declared his intention of giving them the last adieu with so much tenderness that their flinty hearts would be touched by the remembrance. If he in fact entertains such an idea of the susceptibility of Southern feelings, his means in the past of obtaining a thorough knowledge of the character of Messrs. Davis & Co. have been misapplied. As the canvass advances it will be found that the name of Mr. Pendleton will inflict more damage to the ticket than anything which can be ascertained in regard to the Presidential nominee. No disclosures or discoveries will strike the minds of the people with half the effect of the publication of the record of George H. Pendleton. He is not a negative man by any means, and the strength of his convictions would render him in fact not an associate of General McClellan, but the controller of his political actions. The people can easily foresee the result of such a combination, and whatever predilections may exist in favor of the former, they will be extinguished by the fear of the supreme authority falling upon the latter. The acceptance of the nomination of Mr. Pendleton was artfully confined to the short, unmeaning and insignificant verbal acceptance at the Convention, for fear of a disagreement between the candidates. The artifice was too shallow to deceive even the most unwary.

THE COMMISSIONERS detailed to take the vote of Pennsylvania regiments in Sherman's army, did not get beyond Chattanooga. Be it that the communications were cut off, and it was impossible to reach the main body of our troops. Indeed, passes could not be obtained beyond Chattanooga.

Hear the Words of a Soldier.

General Rosecrans, who probably understands the present condition of affairs, as well as any man in the army, says: "Whenever they (the rebels) have the power, they drive before them into their ranks the Southern people, as they would also drive us. Trust them not. Were they able, they would invade and destroy us without mercy. Absolutely assured of these things, I am amazed that any one could think of Peace on any terms. He who entertains the sentiment is fit only to be a slave; he who utters it at this time is, moreover, a traitor to his country, who deserves the scorn and contempt of all honorable men."

Those who gabble about a compromise will do well to peruse these lines with care and attention. They contain the assertions of a hero who has been at the front since the war began, and has perilled everything in behalf of his country.

A VOTE FOR ABRAHAM LINCOLN is a vote for peace in its most glorious sense, because his re-election will establish the power of the government to resist any effort for its overthrow, thus rendering it useless for any combination to seek its destruction.

On Thursday last eleven guns, captured from the rebels by Sheridan, arrived at Winchester, and on Friday two more came in. They were formerly United States guns, and were probably obtained at the time of the seizure of the arsenals, forts, &c., by the rebels. Sheridan was sending in large droves of captured oxen and sheep. The destruction of mills, barns, &c., was going on, so that the rebels will no longer be able to maintain themselves in the Shenandoah Valley.

A considerable force of our troops had been sent to Front Royal, to guard the railroad, which is to be opened to Manassas Junction, so as to secure communications with Alexandria. The repairs of the road have already been completed to Rectortown.

The Shenandoah Valley.

GUERRILLA SKIRMISHING LAST WEEK—ARRIVAL OF CAPTURED GUNS AT WINCHESTER—LARGE DROVES OF CATTLE CAPTURED BY SHERIDAN—THE DESTRUCTION OF THE VALLEY PROGRESSING.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18. It is estimated that during the past eight months 10,300 refugees—men, women and children—have arrived in Memphis, 900 of whom have been sent to Cairo, being received here by an agent, who provides them with food, shelter and transportation to any point north of the Ohio river they may select for a home. Only 498 of those received at Memphis are over the age of 14, and 5,400 are under that age. Nearly every steamer from below has a number of this class of persons aboard. Gen. Forrest is reported to have been seen fifty miles back of Paducah on Sunday.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18. A gentleman who left Winchester on Saturday last reports a good deal of skirmishing with guerrillas in the Shenandoah Valley. Nothing serious, however, had occurred, and the supply trains were moving regularly, under strong escorts.

On Friday last our pickets at Martinsburg were driven in by a guerrilla force. On Thursday last eleven guns, captured from the rebels by Sheridan, arrived at Winchester, and on Friday two more came in.
