HARRISBURG, PA.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 26, 1864. NATIONAL UNION TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT,

Abraham Lincoln, OF ILLINOIS.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT.

Andrew Johnson, OF TENNESSEE

The Speakers at the Mass Meeting To-Night. The Vice President of the United States Hon. Hannibal Hamlin, will be one of the speakers at the meeting, in the hall of the House of Representatives, to-night. Among the ablest men in the country, having had s vast experience in public affairs, and being identified with the great measures devised for the rescue of the land from rebellion, Vice President Hamlin is one of those best fitted to discuss the great issues of the issue, and assist in guiding the nation into the paths of peace and prosperity. No intelligent man should fail to hear him to-night. Major Harry White, long a prisoner at Richmond, where he suffered all the horrors of rebel inhumanity and Southern barbarity, will also address the meeting this evening, in the House. Major White has troops of friends in Harrisburg, who will give him a glorious greeting this evening. He will relate the story of his suffering while in the hands of the chivalry, and thus add another chapter to the history of the ignominy of modern Democracy, and adduce another argument against investing the sympathizers with treason with civil power.

Naturalizing Discharged Soldiers.

There is no test of devotion so good as that which is established by a disposition to peril life and limb for that to which we profess attachment. For instance, the man who is willing to fight in defence of a Government, facing danger and death in its behalf, is deserving of its highest recognition and best rewards' Congress was imbued with this spirit, when in 1862, an important amendment was made to the naturalization laws of the United States, by which an alien of the age of twenty-one years and upwards, who had enlisted, or might thereafter enlist in the armies of the United States, either in the regular or volunteer forces, may become a citizen by virtue of his service. The act was passed July 17, 1862. It secures to any alien who has been a soldier and has been honorably discharged, the right of citizenship upon his own petition, without a previous declaration of intentions. He must prove that he has resided in the United States one year before his application, the ordinary manner, and must also produce proof that he has been honorably discharged. There are many aliens who have been in service and whose time has expired, to whom this privilege will apply, and it is as well that the

"The Peace Democracy."

That faction of the copperhead organization known as the "Peace Democracy" are pandering to the cowards and mercenaries of the North, with promises of an early settlement of the war on the basis of the Federal Union, hoping thereby to delude their victims with the idea that such a settlement can only be effected by placing the Democratic party in power. There is a question attached to these Democratic promises, which it would be well for timid people always to put to the men preaching their power to secure an early peace. Why did not the Democratic leaders maintain the peace of the country when they had the control of the affairs of the Government? Before the war had assumed its present magnitude, before the rebellion had thrown off the mask which concealed its bloody antagonism of freedom, the Democratic party was in authority, and had the power to make peace. When South Carolina left the Union, James Buchanan was President of the United States-the U.S. Senate was controlled by a Democratic majority—the Supreme Court was Democratic-the sinews and resources of war were commanded by Democrats, and yet the Democracy were unable to maintain the peace! They were not only unable to preserve the peace, but they actually, in their official capacity, embezzled the funds and appropriated the property of the Government, to give magnitude and strength to treason. Keeping these facts in view, how can any man be deluded with the "Democratic" declaration that the "Democratic" party, if placed in power, will be able to restore the land to peace. Certainly that which "Democratic" officials could not preserve, "Democratic" politicians cannot restore. The only party capable of re-inaugurating peace, is that which is able to meet armed rebellion with arms, take it by the throat and choke it either into obedience or into the grave.

An Old Democrat on the Presidency.

The Hon. Robert J. Walker, of Mississippi, has written a letter from London, in which he unfolds his sentiments on the Presidential question very fully and clearly. He has doubtless had abundant opportunities of witnessing the operations of the traitors on the other side of the Atlantic, besides being fully informed himself as to the merits of the issues of the day, and he speaks in the most unhesitating manner in support of the constitutionality of the acts of President Lincoln during the war for the suppression of the rebellion. Of the Emancipa tion Proclamation he says: "As a war mea. sure it was perfectly constitutional." He asks the soldiers to remember the slander and the insult awarded them at the Chicago Convention. He asserts that an armistice would re-cotton and other textile fabrics, and our commerce generally, and it would be but the harbinger of that foreign recognition so much sought after by the rebels. He adds that "there will be no recognition of the independence of the South by France or England, or any other Power, if Abraham Lincoln should be re-elected in November next." In addition to all this "the National character will be immensely exalted." These are the opinions of one of the foremost of American Democratsa Southern Democrat, and as such, are entitled to the respectful consideration of all who love their country.

The Insulter of the Heroes of Pennsylvania.

It is a little strange, that the 'Democratic party," always the party that heretofore embroiled the country in foreign wars—that provoked war with France—that brought about the last war with Great Britain-that came near a third war with that Government, but ignominiously backed down because the issues then did not concern slavery, and that hurried on the war with Mexico, because the object was to strengthen slavery by the acquirement of territory out of which to erect slave States-it is very strange that this party should not only be for peace at a time when on successful war depended the safety of the Government, but that it should accept as a candidate for the Presidency, a soldier who had bolstered up his own reputation by slandering and vituperating the brave men who fought where he was too cowardly to lead or follow. When General McClellan was surprised by the rebels at Fair Oaks, in the Peninsular campaign, he threw the whole blame of the affair upon General Casey's division, which he had pushed out far in advance. McClellan in his official dispatch to the War Department, said that "Casey's division, which was in the first line, give way unaccountably and discreditably," and also that "all the troops, with the exception of Casey's division, behaved splendidly." The men of the division thus libelled by General McClellan, knew that they had done their very best, but had to give way in consequence of the superior numbers of the enemy and the bad generalship of the commander of the army. A large number of Pennsylvania troops were attached to Gen. Casey's division. These troops were brave and gallant men-men who entered the fight to serve their country and rescue it from the hands of traitors. Yet, in order to cover up his own incompetency and reckless neglect of duty in permitting the enemy to surprise his command, George B. McClellan did not hesitate to slander his companions-in-arms and place a foul stain on the front of American valor. Is such a man worthy of the highest position in the gift of the American people?

-In addition to this foul aspersion of the valor of Casey's division, George B. McClellan has also been guilty of libelling other soldiers of Pennsylvania. We all remember his attack on the Pennsylvania Reserves—an attack which has no equal for malignity and untruth and also prove his good moral character in in the annals of libel. He charged the Pennsylvania Reserves with cowardice, denounceing those who commanded its regiments with incompetency, and struggling with falsehood to show that they had disgraced the service. Gen. McCall, the commander of that corps, terms of the law should be generally under- publicly repelled these attacks, proving conclusively that McClellan was governed entirely by personal feeling in these assaults, and that they were indulged in to save himself from the obloquy which he sought to cast on others. We want the veterans of the Penn sylvania Reserves, as well as their friends, to remember that the man who now seeks an elevation to the Presidency by their aid, did not hesitate at an attempt to disgrace them foreverwhen he believed that the libel would secure him from the condemnation of his countrymen, earned by an incompetency in the command of the army.

McClellan on His Dignity.

The friends of Gen. McClellan are in the habit of placing their favorite on his dignity, and claiming for him an exemption from all personal animadversion, as a shield to protect him from the criticism for which he is so fair a subject. When McClellan is thus put upon his dignity, we are reminded of the proud scorn with which he was induced, in his ignorance, to treat our greatest of captains, the man who for half a century maintained the martial glory and fame of his country-Maj. Gen. Winfield Scott. When McClellan was transported from Western Virginia, and placed in command of the Army of the Potomac, his first act was one of insubordination and insult to his superiors, for which he should have been courtmartialed and dismissed the service. Puffed with his own arrogance and flattered into a base conceit, he deliberately refused to resognize Gen. Scott, and grossly insulted the veteran chief by reporting direct to the War Department instead of to the commander-inchief of the army. It was this insult which drove Gen. Scott from the service. The old hero could not brook the slight of a boy if not of a martinet, who by just such assumptions as these, was led from error to error, until he had well nigh wrecked his government and disgraced his country. All over the land there are still thousands of old solders who served with Scott on the frontiers and in Mexico. Will these heroes permit this insult of the old chief to go unrebuked?

Indiana Election. Official returns have been received from all but twelve counties, showing a Union majority of 21,911. The counties to hear from may reduce this eight or nine hundred, but Morton's majority, we are confident, will not be less than 21,000.

The footings of the returns, so far as received, are: Democrat

Union majority...... 21,911 In 1862 the Democratic majority was 7,176. Now the Union majority is over 21,000. Better than all, is the election of eight Union Congressmen out of eleven. In 1862, the sult in the ruin of all our manufacturers of Unionists had but four.

DESPAIRING APPEAL FOR HELP.

WASHINGTON, October 26

The following has been received at the War Department : On the 26th instant, of diptheria, MINNIE A., only child of Robert and Ellen Kennedy, aged 4 years, 5 months and 3 days.

GAYLESVILLE, ALA., Oct. 24, VIA ROME, GA., Oct. 25—Maj. Gen. H. W. Halleck, Chief of Staff:-The following is a copy of the address of Beauregard, on assuming command of the Army of the West:

HEADBUARTERS, MILITARY DIVISION OF ! THE WEST, Oct. 17.

In assuming command at this critical juncture, of the Military Division of the West, I appeal to my countrymen of all classes and ections for their generous support and confidence. In assigning me to this responsible position, the President of the Confederate States has extended to me the assurance of his earnest support. The Executives of your States meet me with similar expressions of their devotion to our cause. The noble army in the field, composed of brave men and gal-lant officers, are not strangers to me, and I know that they will do all that patriots can achieve.

The history of the past, written in the blood of their comrades, but forshadows the glorious future which lies before them. Inspired with these bright promises of success, I make this appeal to the men and women of my country o lend me the aid of their earnest and cordia co-operation. Unable to join in the bloody conflicts of the field, they can do much to strengthen our cause, fill up our ranks, en-courage our soldiers, inspire confidence, dispel gloom, and thus hasten on the day of our final success and deliverance.

The army of Sherman still defiantly holds the city of Atlanta. He can and must be driven from it. It is only for the good people of Georgia, and the surrounding States, to speak the word, and this work is done.

We have abundance of provisions. are men enough in the country liable and able for service to accomplish this result. To all such I earnestly appeal to report promptv to their respective commands, and let those who cannot go, see to it that none remain at home who are able to strike a blow, in this critical and decisive hour.

To those soldiers of the army who are absent from their commands without leave, I appeal in the name of their brave comrades, with whom they have in the past so often shared the privations of camp and the dangers of the battle field, to return at once to their duty. To all such as shall report to to their respective commands, in response to the commands of the c this appeal, within the next thirty days, an amnesty is hereby granted.

My appeal is to every one of all classes and conditions, to come forward freely, cheerfully and with good heart to the work that lies be-

My countrymen! respond to this call on have done in days that have passed, and with the blessing of a kind and over-ruling Providence, the enemy will be driven from your soil. The security of your wives and daughters from insults and outrages of a brutal foe shall be established soon, and be followed by a permanent and honorable peace. The claims of home, country, wife and children, uniting with demands of honor and patriotism, summon us to the field. We cannot dare not, will not, fail to respond. Full of hope and confidence, I came to join in your struggles, sharing your privations, and with your brave and true men to strike the blow that shall bring success to our arms, triumph to our cause, and peace to our country.
