

NATIONAL UNION TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT, Abraham Lincoln, OF ILLINOIS.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT, Andrew Johnson, OF TENNESSEE.

ELECTORAL TICKET. SENATORIAL.

MORTON M'MICHAEL, Philadelphia. T. CUNNINGHAM, Beaver county.

- 1-Robert P King, 13-Elias W Hale, 2-G. Morrison Coates, 14-Charles H Shriner, 3-Henry Bumm, 15-John Wister, 4-William H Kern, 16-David M'Conaughy, 5-Barton H Jenks, 17-David W Woods, 6-Charles M Runk, 18-Isaac Benson, 7-Robert Parke, 19-John Patton, 8-William Taylor, 20-Samuel B Dick, 9-John A Hiestand, 21-Everard Bierer, 10-Richard H Coryell, 22-John P Penney, 11-Edward Waldy, 23-Ebenezer M'Junkin, 12-Charles F Read, 24-John W Blanchard

Loyalty or Treason.

But one question remains for the decision of those to whom is allowed the great and glorious privilege of the elective franchise: Are you loyal to your Government, or do you sympathize with the rebels now in arms against it? If you take rank among the former, you will go heart and hand for the election of Mr. Lincoln; if you would aid the traitors who are now opposed to Federal soldiers in the field, you will cast your vote for the Democratic nominee.

Let loyal men then, those who are willing to stand by their rights, by the Union, by the Constitution, and by their country as a whole—from the lakes to the gulf, from the Atlantic to the Pacific—awaken to the necessity of one hour. The hour approaches at which labor must cease and all regrets will be of no avail.

The Democratic Peace Plan.

The Democratic leaders, in certain localities, are seeking strenuously to deceive the people with the idea that the election of Mr. McClellan will ensure a speedy peace. They assert that overtures of peace have been made to Mr. Lincoln, by influential men of the South, and that Mr. Stephens, the traitor Vice President, had offered to treat on this subject, with the national Government, but that "the abolitionists had rejected all such proffers."

How is it?

Democratic papers are striving to frighten their readers by saying that if Mr. Lincoln is elected there will be another draft. The people will bear this in mind—whether there shall be another draft or not depends not upon Mr. Lincoln's re-election, but upon the course of the rebels.

When the rebels invaded Pennsylvania a year ago last summer, Gen. McClellan privately expressed the opinion that our army would be defeated, and that he would be summoned to the field to save the national capital.

The UNION PARTY have selected men for the high offices of the nation who have worked their way up from the ranks of the laboring classes. The Copperhead party have selected from the "silk-stocking" gentry; men who were "born with a silver spoon in their mouths," men who have never known what it is to be poor or to work.

What the Democratic Party Has Done.

The question of the slave-holders' rebellion, as it is presented by its own history, is not debatable, so far as the Democratic leaders are concerned. That question involves the great historical truth, namely, that the first influences tending to the encouragement of the slave-holders to conspire against our free form of government, and substitute therefor a system based on slavery, originated with the Democratic leaders.

Harry Davis, the Artist and Soldier.

We ask the special attention of the reader to the extract of a letter from Mr. Harry Davis, which we print in our local columns today. Mr. Davis is the artist who painted the magnificent Panorama of the Great Rebellion, which was first exhibited to the people of this city, and which achieved such great success in the principal cities of the United States.

In directing attention to Mr. Davis' letter, we merely desire to point to the noble example of patriotism he is setting the young men of his adopted country. In the face of the aristocracies of the land of his birth, resisting the temptation of gain, and defying the threats of the hired critic, he stands up for the honor of his adopted country, and maintains its cause in the face of all opposition.

Shall it be the Last Vote?

The Presidential election involves the question as to whether the majority at the ballot-box shall hereafter rule, or whether the aristocratic minority of the land shall thenceforth govern. Every freeman must remember, then, that when he deposits his ballot, he is deciding the question of his enslavement or his eternal freedom.

on Tuesday next, you will decide whether you shall ever again exercise that great right of an American freeman.

Now or Never.

If Abraham Lincoln is re-elected President of the United States, it settles the issue of the infallibility of the national authority. It settles, at once, the ability of the American people to maintain their government at all odds, in the face alike of domestic insurrection and foreign intervention.

The Mutual Banking Association.

The official statement shows that on the 1st Monday of October, 1864, the resources of the national banking association were over $297,000,000, including about $93,250,000 of loans and discount, and nearly $45,000,000 in specie and other lawful money.

The St Albans Robbers.

An application was made before the judges yesterday, for a writ of habeas corpus for thirteen of the St. Albans raiders, in custody here. The application was decided illegal, as the case was not of the hands of the magistrate, and no final commitment had yet been made.

The Rebels Fearful that Lee will Have to Capitulate.

Business letters received from Beaufort, N. C., dated October 28th, state that the recent warm spell of weather had developed eight new cases of yellow fever on that day. The severe frost which must soon come, would, it was believed, eradicate the disease.

The Pirate Tallahassee.

The schooner Goodspeed, Captain Baxter, of and from Boston, via Newport to Philadelphia, was boarded by the Tallahassee when seven miles south of Block Island and scuttled. The captain and crew escaped to Block Island in a boat and reached Newport.

THE COLLIERIES STRIKE IN ENGLAND.

The strike among the colliers of South Staffordshire was becoming somewhat alarming. A serious collision had occurred between them and the police, near Bilston. There was a great disturbance, and many arrests were made.

THE FINANCIAL CRISIS—MORE FAILURES.

The depression in financial and commercial circles in England showed little or no improvement. Failures are daily announced, and it is well known that the announcements would be far more numerous than they are, but for the circumstance that in a large number of cases private arrangements were being made between struggling firms and their creditors.
