

THE RESULT OF THE ELECTION.

In referring to the result of the election, yesterday, we are moved by but a single emotion, and that is of gratitude to God, for His interposition in thus matching the 'land of the free and the home of the brave' from impending ruin. The victory is one of the most brilliant any people ever achieved in the cause of right. It settles forever, the perpetuity of the Union. It fixes, eternally, the power of the Government to enforce its laws. It leaves no doubt on the minds of our enemies, that we are in earnest in the purpose to push their war to a bitter end. It illustrates the ability of the brave and the loyal. It is a picture of patriotism that will retain its beautiful colors forever. And it reminds the traitors at home and the despots of Europe, that the free masses of the American people are moving to their emancipation, and will shortly move to the emancipation of the oppressed in all parts of the world. Truly may we give thanks to God for such a victory! Its glory belongs alone to Him! He touched the hearts of the great masses at the proper time. He inspired them with the faith, that this was the home of the poor man—the last refuge of the oppressed of all nations! In that inspiration the victory was won! And in a like inspiration its benefits will be perpetuated.

Our Country and Our Countrymen.

We are of those who cultivate no acrimony during the progress of an election, nor do we allow ourselves to carry any animosity beyond a political contest. If, after the polls have been closed, we have been defeated, it is our business to submit to the result, and acknowledge that we have been worsted and quietly set about repairing damages. There never was a political party contending for power in this country, but the one now in rebellion, which ever attempted to set aside the vote of a majority. The Whig party, the Anti-Masonic party, the Abolition party, and the Republican party, each in its turn has been defeated. And to their honor, all history bears testimony that they gracefully and fairly submitted to defeat, going forward and supporting the Government as it was administered by their political opponents, with the good grace becoming men and patriots.—When we were victorious, when our friends have triumphed, neither one of us, have made such victories the occasion of brutal rejoicing. Even now, in the presence of one of the most sublime victories ever achieved, our friends are calm and sober—showing that they feel the importance of the result and are ready to ascribe the credit to the proper cause. This is as it should be; and we allude to the fact as the best evidence that the people mean to maintain the Government, and that even the domestic foes of that great system which now claims a hemisphere for its empire, will be allowed, if they behave themselves in the future, to share its glories and enjoy its benefits.

In this connection we deem it due that we should offer a few words of advice to that large portion of our countrymen, who have suffered themselves to be duped, to be deceived and deluded by what are called "Democratic leaders." The masses of the Democratic party are honest. The workingmen who belong to that organization are true to the country. The poor men who have for long years followed the phantoms of Democracy, were patriotic in their belief that they were securing a country for themselves and their children—a country whose equalities would protect them in the enjoyment of their simplest rights. But at length the spell is broken. The scales are falling from the eyes of the poor and the honest men, and we have now the spectacle of politicians calling themselves "Democrats" detected in a complicity with traitors to destroy the proudest attributes of real Democracy, as these are centered in the safety of a free Government. With the slave-drivers of the south, the Democratic leaders of the free States sought the overthrow of free Government that all labor might be enslaved. This charge is as true as is the allegation that the Democratic leaders are the allies of the traitors in arms. And these are facts which we want the poor man to remember. These are truths which we want the honest men who have so long been deceived by the Democratic leaders seriously to consider. Remember, even if you insensately labored at the beck and nod of traitors, to defeat the men who are struggling to save the Government, you will all derive an equal share of the benefit resulting from a loyal victory. You and your sons and daughters will live to enjoy the blessings and the equalities of a great free Government which the leaders of your party labored to destroy, but which by God's providence is now forever perpetuated. Had the Democratic leaders succeeded, the poor man in a year after such a victory, would have had no land—no country—no home! The slave-holders' lash would have been heard in every workshop in the land. The roll of slavery would have been called in Independence Square and at the foot of Bunker Hill Monument. The blood-hounds of slavery would have growled and barked in every Northern village as they rushed on their bloody trail in pursuit of the fugitive. This was the purpose of the leaders of Democracy. It has failed, and we want the poor men who allowed themselves to be used by demagogues and traitors to remember these facts. We do not ask any of these to attach themselves to the political organization in opposition to the Sham-Democracy, but we ask the poor men of the land, the honest portion of the Democratic party, to beware how they again lend themselves to a scheme to rush their country to ruin, and God and the great instruments He has seen fit to use for our rescue, may not again turn aside to save us from a destruction we invite!

Frauds in the First Ward. The election frauds perpetrated in the first ward, in Harrisburg, are so glaring, that it is absolutely necessary to have a thorough examination of the same. We have positive evidence that a father, who had voted for years in the ward, was challenged to produce his naturalization papers, and returned with those of his son, dated in September, 1864. One of our friends placed a private mark on the document, and during the afternoon the son returned, and voted again on the same paper. This was done after the proper challenge had been made.

Twelve more persons attempted to vote, but when they were challenged they left the polls, for the purpose, as they said, to procure their papers, but they never returned. These men have voted for years illegally, and deserve to be punished. When the vote was counted, nine more tickets were in the box than there were names on the tally papers. This might occur at a poll where the number of voters is very large, but in a small ward, like the first, it is almost impossible, without design and fraud. The first ward has been notorious for frauds during the last few years, and it is time that some example be made of the offenders. One of the offenders was indicted last year, but by some hocus pocus the case has never been tried. The grand jury discharged their duty by finding a true bill, but no trial has as yet taken place.

Will George B. McClellan Resign? We want to know, now, in all candor and seriousness, whether George B. McClellan will longer continue to draw the pay of a Major General, which he does not earn. He was tried as a military man, and he proved a failure—a miserable, ridiculous, pretentious and arrogant upstart, who imagined that the honors of an indulgent people first showered upon him, made him greater than the people themselves. He has been tried as the tool of party, as the mere material for the manipulation of demagogues, and in this he again proves a failure. The people have rejected McClellan, and the people now demand that he should resign—that he should return a commission of confidence to a Government which he sought to destroy. Will he do it? Is George B. McClellan man enough to resign?

Since the above was put in type, a telegraphic dispatch from New York announces the fact that Mr. McClellan has resigned! If this be true, we may accept it as the first prompt act of his life, in response to the wishes of the American people. But however gratified we would be to know that the reported resignation is really true, we are inclined to doubt it. "Little Mac" is too much enamored of his brass buttons and his good pay to resign.

THE STAMP DUTY.—Decision.—Inquiry having been made of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, whether notes require an extra stamp for interest, the following reply has been received: TREASURY DEPARTMENT, OFFICE OF INTERNAL REVENUE, Washington, Nov. 1, 1864.—Sir: I reply to yours of the 31st ult., that a note for the payment of five thousand dollars requires a stamp of two dollars and fifty cents. The stamp duty of a note or mortgage is measured by the amount expressed on the face of such papers, and therefore it does not include the amount of interest that may accrue.

Very respectfully, JOSEPH J. LEWIS, Commissioner.

THE AMERICAN BIBLE SOCIETY, during the past month, has given out books amounting to thirty-six thousand six hundred and ninety-six volumes, for various objects. Five hundred dollars was voted for circulating the Scriptures in the valley of Engadina, Italy. It was unanimously decided, after a long discussion, to undertake the work of electing the Scriptures in Arabic. Four sets of plates will be prepared as soon as possible.

SIXTY-THREE thousand, three hundred and twenty-three hogsheads of leaf tobacco were sold in Louisville in the twelve months ending November 1, 1864.

FATAL AFFAIR.—Henry Duncan, of the Second Virginia Regiment, was killed at the camp near Hagerstown, Md., on the 29th ult., in an affray with his cousin, a member of the same regiment. The latter, it is said, acted in self-defense, and therefore was not arrested.

DURING the recent excavations in Rome, a magnificent silk bronze statue of a youthful Hercules, fourteen feet high, was discovered.

A MAN in Vermont set a trap for bears that were troubling his sheep, and going out early one morning found a "warmer" caught, he rushed for his gun, fired and killed a black sheep of his own flock!

THE Erie Gazette says legal proceedings are about to be commenced against several persons in that city, of foreign birth, on the charge of voting for many successive years without being naturalized.

INTELLIGENCE from Illinois says that "all the different crops have been enormous, and exceedingly brisk. Corn sells from the field at fifty cents per bushel."

An excellent and not extensively known shell fish called scallops are caught on the Rhode Island coast in abundance this year, nearly five hundred bushels being caught daily in side of Warwick Creek Light.

A FARMER near Davenport, Iowa, has forty acres of onions, which are estimated to yield 915 bushels to the acre, or 6,600 bushels in all. At $1.50 per bushel, this anti-scorbutic patch will bring $54,900.

A young student once contended with Dr. Johnson that prosaic poetry and poetical prose must be equally good. "No, sir," said the Doctor, "a man may like brandy in his tea, though not tea in his brandy."

The importance of a comma was well illustrated by a return, received by the parish authorities of a Christian district, from their Chief Constable. The document announced the dismissal of a police officer, "for attempting to marry his wife, being alive."

WILLIAM TURNER, and his wife, of New Paltz, New York, went to find some hickory nuts one day last week, locking their three children up in the house. When they returned they found the house in ashes and their children burned to death. The oldest child was about seven years of age.

On Thursday last, from six to eight inches of snow fell in St. Louis.

By Telegraph. VICTORY.

THE UNION FOREVER! Father Abraham and Uncle Andy Elected. No Compromise with Rebels! Pennsylvania!

The Keystone of the Arch! SHE NEVER FALTERS! We find it unnecessary to continue the publication of the returns as they are received from the different counties. It is sufficient to say that the majority for the Union is overwhelming and may reach 30,000!

DAUPHIN COUNTY. The returns received from this county indicate a Union majority of some eleven hundred. The following districts have been received:
