Goodman and wife were returning home from Lancaster, on the Colebrook road, the dearborn wagon in which dey were driving was caught by the engine of a passenger train west on the Pennsylvania alroad, throwing them out and breaking the vehicle to small pieces. Mrs. Goodman was pitched on the cowcatcher and dragged a disance of 200 yards before the train could be tance of 200 yards before the train could be stopped. One of her arms was cut off, and one of her legs and one of her feet badly in-jured. She was taken to the residence of John Hiestand, close by, where she died at 11 o'clock the same evening. Several physicians were in attendance, but could render her no relief. Mr Goodman fell alongside the railroad track and was hurt about his head and other parts of his body. REV. J. L. PHILLIPS, M. D., Missionary to India, will preach in the house of the First Free Baptist Church, corner of State and Fourth streets, to-morrow morning and evening. Dr. Phillips is a very superior speaker, and all who can should hear him: On this occasion the main audience room of the new building will be used, though it is not quite completed.

A MISSIONARY ADDRESS will be delivered before Cavalry Free Baptist Sabbath School; West Harrisburg, to-morrow afternoon, at 3 o'clock, by Rev. J. L. Phillips. This mission school for colored children, under the pastoral care of Rev. C. J. Carter, is in a highly flourishing condition, numbering about one hun-dred and twenty scholars. On the occasion above referred to, a collection will be lifted for the benefit of the school.

"ALL RIGHT, MY COVY !"--To-night BLACK EYED SUSAN and JACK SHEPPARD will appear at Brant's Hall, in the plays of the same name. There is an admirable cast of characters in both pieces. Miss Nellie Sprague will sustain her famous part of Black Eyed Susan, and Miss Fanny Denham will appear in her notorious character of Jack Sheppard. The two plays named furnish a fine entertainment for Saturday night, and, as usual, the Theatre will be crowded.

HARRISBURG, Nov. 11. -- Considerable excite-ment was caused in political circles to-day, originating from the development of the fact that certain parties holding responsible situa-tions as clerks in the Lepartment here, cast their votes against Lincoln on Tuesday. Among the number is a son of Mr. Coburn, holding a twelve hundred dollar situation under his father in the Department of the Superintendent of Common Schools. It is said that he openly boasts of having helped to defeat Mr. Lincoln. Of course the friends of the Administration very naturally ask why the countenance, much less favors are extended to these gentlemen.

From the 201st Regiment. CAMP AT MANASSAS JUNCTION, VA.,

Wednesday, Nov. 9, 1864. EDITOR TELEGRAPH-Dear Sir ; I wrote you esterday, and remarked that I was ashamed of the meagre vote of company I(saac.) beg to make a correction, or rather an expla-nation in regard to the vote polled. We polled thirty-three votes in our company—two men (Fow and Corporal Black voting elsewhere,) and Schweng Fleming and Moulfair in the hospital, which would have given us thirty-six reliable Beenblicen ballos—making, our me reliable Republican ballots-making our majority seven instead of two votes. Besides these five scattered votes, we had the promiso of three man (God save the mark !) who were loud in their protestations of loyalty to the Administration and the country and its flag, (men who voluntarily came to us, time and again, and denounced M'Ciellan and the Chicago Platform)-these men, who own no soul of their own, and are as incapable of self-government as is a pig to perform on the tight-rope—voted the unmistakable bold-faced Copperhead ticket, and afterwards had the au-dacity to assure us they were "all right."— Due unfortuneting we have better and are But, unfortunately, we know better, and pro-nounced them traitors to their own party, as well as a disgrace to the opposition. They are known from A to Z in company I, and the honorable portion of the opposition as heartily despise them, as we disclaim them as gen-tlemen or honorable soldiers! An honorable foe, when placed hors a combat, is justly entitled to all the protection and civility the usages of war provide; but a sneaking, cowardly guerrilla deserves neither mercy nor quarters, on any terms. This rule applies to politics, especially in this important era of the history of our country, and the rule is carried out (rather bluntly, perhaps) by the soldier in his country's service. It is pretty ireely applied in this meridian, and to the sorrow of some penitent Copperheads who threw away their ballots and their manhood alike on the result of yesterday's election. Some of these makes came around our quarters late in the snakes came around our quarters late in the evening with the taunting question, "Where is company i's handsome majority?—the snakes were about, eh, corporal!" "Yes, snakes, gentlemen—by a tremendous effort, with the foreign vote of Germans, Welsh and Irish— you undertook to silence the proud and manly defonders of our acounty and her doe by defenders of our country and her flag, but you were foiled in the attempt. We claim the votes of five men elsewhere, belonging to company I, which, added to our thirty-three votes, would count thirty-eight---giving us a majority of seven votes—victory enough over a pack of as bitter Copperheads as the city of Harrisburg could send beyond its limits—men who are as determined in their opinions, and as tenacious to party spirit as the politicians of a certain township in Berks county are said to be, who, to this day, vote for the brave old man and loyal statesman of the Hermitage, Gen. Andrew Jackson!' This morning, however, when the telegraph operator here put out his bulletin board, announcing the glorious results of the States whose freemen spoke out in thunder tones their approval of the re-election of Honest Old Abe, the Union soldiers could hardly contain themselves--everybody loyal was "Where are the snakes, now?" we received an-swers of "Go to the d----l"--""don't believe the telegraphic reports"--""den't believe the telegraphic reports"--""den't believe the telegraphic reports"--""den't believe the telegraphic reports "--""den't believe the telegraphic reports "---""den't believe the telegraphic reports "---""den't believe the present but we have so to may be the present but we have so to may be a so to the states the various articles and manufactures rempt from duty, while a general clause of the 9ith section make provision for lovying a tax of five per cent. on all manufactures not in the act otherwise provided for. I treat prison-ers the same as the Yankees treat ours. Eat your fill, then follow up your regiment." George's description of the noted guerrilla corresponds precisely with the one I gave your readers the other day. Mose was particularly anxious to know the whereabouts of the 8th Illinois Cavalry. Don't blame him for asking; he knows the lads by reputation. The 202d regiment just came down from Gainesville. WHAT CONSTITUTES A LOTTERY .--- A case in volving the question whether gift enterprises constitute a lottery came up a day or two since before Judge Thompson, in the Phila-delphia Criminal Court. It appears that a society in New York, known as the Jewelers' Association, recently commenced a system of concerts in that city, one of the features of which was, that every person purchasing a ticket should receive a gift in jewelry, worth from fifty cents to fifty dollars. The concerts proved such a success in New York that it vas resolved to give a series of similar enter tainments in Philadelphia, but the authori-ties there held that the scheme was illegal, and had the Actuary of the Association ar-rested, on a charge of setting up a lottery.— The defendant was committed by the Mayor, but a writ of habeas corpus was sued out inmediately and the prisoner taken before Judge Thompson, for the purpose of ascertaining whether, under the law, any offence had been committed. Judge Thompson in his decision remarked that 'A lottery, according to the construction which the Court is bound to put upon the act of Assembly, means where any-thing of value is obtained by chance. In this case a party went in and bought a ticket and was told as an inducement to buy, that he would also have the right to draw from a box an envelope which contained something of majority of instances, led to the purchase of a ticket." The Court thereast value, and it was that inducement which, in a ticket." The Court, therefore, refused to dis-charge the prisoner. Under this ruling every one of the gift enterprises from time to time gotten up here are illegal, and the managers liable to indictment. Many of these affairs are brazen swindles, and it would prevent a great deal of imposition if the law against there were viscilly apforced them were rigidly enforced.

DOCTOR CRANE.-This distinguished phy sician delivered a highly interesting locture in the Court House, last evening. The audi-ence was composed of our most intelligent citizens, who speak in the highest terms of the Doctor, and of his lecture, which was re-plete with valuable information. We have the pleasure of announcing that Dr. Crane will deliver another free lecture, this (Satur day) evening, in the Court House. The ladies and gentlemen of our city are cordially invited to attend.

BANNVART-Dear Sir: In the habit of speaking very frequently, and in places where the vocal organs are very much taxed, have found the need of some gentle expec torant, and that want has been supplied in your excellent Troches. I consider them very far superior to any

Luzenges that I have ever used, in removing speedily that huskiness of the voice arising from its too frequent use, and impairing the offec tiveness of the delivery of public addresses. Yours, &c., JNO. WALKER JACKSON, Paster of the Locust St. Methodist Church. To C. A. BANNVART-Dear Sir : Having used your Troches, I am free to say they are the best I have ever tried, and take great pleasure in recommending them to all persons afflicted with sore throat or huskiness of voice, arising from public speaking or singing. Yours, &c., G. G. RAKESTRAW, Yours, &c., G. G. RAKESTRAW, Pastor of Ridge Avenue Methodist Church DISTRICT ATTORNEY'S OFFICE, HARRISBURG, Feb, 29, 1864.

To C. A. BANNVART-Dear Sir: I have found your Troches to be invaluable in relieving parseness and in strengthening the muscles of the throat. They impart clearness to the voice, and are certainly of great benefit to all
