This distressing affection—which readers life miserable and marriage impossible—is the pensky paid by the victims of improper indulgence. Young persons are too apt to commit excesses from not being aware of the droadful consequences that may ensue. Now, who that understands the subject will pretend to deay that the power of procreation is lost sooner by those failing into improper nabits than by the prudent. Besides being deprived the pleasures of healthy offigring, the most serious and destructive symptoms to both body and mind arises. The system becomes demaged, the physical and mental functions weakened, ican of procreative power, servous irritability, dyspeosia, palpitation of the feart, indigestion, constitutional debility, a wasting of the frame, cough, operunction, doesy and ideath.

Beffee that a seepe and and and soly are the most necessary requisites to promote connubial happiness. Indeed, without these, the journey through life becomes a weary pill grimage; the prospect hourly darkans to the view; the mind becomes shadowed with deepair and filled with the metanchely reflection that the happiness of another becomes blighted with our own.

DISEASE OF IMPRUDENCE.

When the misgaided and imprudent votary of pleasure finds he has imblied the coats of this painful disease, too often happens that an illitimed sense of shame or she dread of discovery deters him from applying to those who from education and respectability, can alone befriend him. He falls into the hands of ignorant and designing pretenders, who, incapable of curing, sich his pecuniary substance, keep him triding month after month, or as long as the smallest fee can be obtained, and in despair leave him with rulned health to sigh over hisgalling disappointment, or, by the use of the deadily poison, Mercury, hasten the constitutional symptoms of this terrible disease, such as after the constitutional symptoms of this terrible disease, such as after with frightful rapidity till death puts a period to his dreadful sufferings by sending him to that undiscovered center from whence no traveler rature. INDORSEMENT OF THE PRESS.

The many thousands cured at this institution year lafter year, and the numerous important surgical epers tions performed by Dr. Johnson, witnessed by the report ers of the Sun, Clipper, and many other papers, notices of which have appeared again and again before the public, besides his standing as a gontleman of character and y exponsibility, is a sufficient guarantee to the afflicted.
