PENNSYLVANIA.

Vote at the October Election for Congressional Representatives.

The following may be regarded as the official vote of Pennsylvania, for Congressional Representatives, at the October election. In compiling this vote, we had to be governed by the returns as made by the different Prothonotaries, and as the majority of these officials made no distinction in what was called the "home" and the "soldiers' vote." the aggregate of both votes are only given in the tabular statement below. In order to get the "home" and the "soldiers" vote, circulars have been issued from the State Department. requesting the different Prothonotaries to furnish statements of the polls in the camps con-

-It is now conceded in official circles, that it will be impossible to ascertain correctly the of agricultural productions, the work will result of the "home vote" at the October election, for the reason that many Prothonotaries failed to make the necessary distinction in their returns. This being the case, bets which were made on that result, can never be fairly decided. Indeed, we understand that in Philadelphia and elsewhere, all such bets are being withdrawn.

Simon Cameron.

The Columbia County Republican, referring of a late date, in acknowledgment of the services of Gen. Simon Cameron, as the Chairman of the Union State Central Committee, thus adds its testimony to what we then attested :

To his sagacity, energy, and wisely directed efforts are we indebted for the great victory we all rejoice over. We well understood and fully appreciated the wisdom of the course he adopted. We felt that the swelling up of the aggregate home vote was of no consequence whatever in comparison to securing local majorities in as many Legislative, Senatorial and Congressional Districts as possible. In these we have made great and important gains. We have not only largely increased our Congressional delegation, but we have secured a large working majority in both branches of our Legislature. This will insure us the next United States Senator. For these glorious results the People of Pennsylvania are very much indebted to the distinguished gentle man whose name heads this article. -What is here so candidly admitted by the Republican, the Chambersburg Repository objects to, with the affected sarcasm that "none but a fool" could write such an article as was published in the TELEGRAPH some days since. referring to the motives which controlled Gen. Cameron in his management of the October election. The Repository distorts our assertion when it seeks to make us say that Gen. Cameron had risked defeat at one election. that he might insure victory at another. The Repository refers to the brilliant victory in other States, in October, and then fiercely demands to know why the same rule did not produce the same result there as here? Our only answer is, that in other States the Union men were not divided by petty personal spites, and that there, unlike here, there were no malcontents ready to sacrifice every political good to gratify any personal objection to those wielding the organization of the party struggling for the country. There were men in our own ranks so base, so completely possessed by their own self-estimation, and rankling with such petty spite and jealousy, as to be ready to jeopard the cause in October it such a reselt would have tended to the mortfication and disgrace of Gen. Cameron-No man in Pennsylvania understands this truth better than A. K. M'Clure. But never mind that. Gen. Cameron then knew and still knows what he is about. And what is still more gratifying, he knows who would jeopard the flag of the party to which they profess to belong on account of principle, in order to impair his influence; while such as these also begin to understand what he means, when he enters a contest for victory. Of course we feel withered by the sarcasm of the Repository people, but it is fortunate for us that the giant M'Clure never eats what he kills.

County Superintendents' Convention. This Convention is to be held at Pittsburg, commencing on the 29th inst. To the County Superintendents attending, the privilege of returning free of charge has been granted, provided full fare was paid in going to the Convention on the following lines of railway, viz: Atlantic and Great Western, Philadel phia and Erie, Philadelphia and Reading, Pennsylvania Central, Allegheny Valley, New Castle and Beaver Valley, Lackawanna and Bloomsburg, Cumberland Valley, Pittsburg and Connellsville, and the Erie and Pittsburg.

THE RESULT OF THE CONTEST at the polls is an immense advantage to the national cause It expresses the will of the people upon the great question of the rebellion, plainly and boldly. It will encourage our armies and incite our soldiers to go on in a career of victory. It is worth more than a battle won, for it shows that the policy of the country is fixed and unrelenting. Had the result been otherwise, the hopes of the loyal would have been cast down, our brave defenders would have felt that their efforts had been in vain, and that there was no sympathy among their fellow citizens in their privations and dangers. They could not have struck new blows with the vigor of resolution when they felt that they were only risking their lives in what their countrymen had declared at the polls to be a useless war. They may rejoice, as every patriot will rejoice, that the Union is not to be abandoned, and that the authority of the Government will be restored over the revolted States at any cost.

THE QUARTO VOLUME ON AGRICULTURE, being the second volume of the regular series taining Pennsylvania soldiers and in the dif- of the Census publications, is in the press, erent election districts throughout the State. and will be presented to Congress early in the coming session. In addition to the tables contain a full review of the progress of agriculture up to the present time, and present an exhibit of the improvements in agricultural machinery, as well as of the advance in agricultural science and its results on our productions. It will also contain a history of the grain trade of the United States, domestic as well as foreign, and persent much general. information of interest to the farmer and invaluable to the statesman.

> A COLORED NATIONAL BANK,-We understand preparations are in progress among efficient and energetic parties for the establishment of a National Bank for colored depositors at Philadelphia. The movement will be accomplished, in all probability, within a short time, and we have no doubt it will lead to similar establishments in several of our large cities at an early date. The importance of such institutions, in these days of large payments of bounties to colored soldiers, and of the improved pecuniary condition of this class of our citizens generally, will, upon consideration, be patent to all our DISTANCES IN SHERMAN'S CONTEMPLATED MARCH. -From Atlanta to Augusta, by railroad. is 171 miles. From Augusta to Charleston, 137 miles. From Atlanta to Macon, 103 miles. From Macon to Savannah, 190 miles. From Augusta to Savannah, 132 miles. The country from Atlanta toward Augusta is quite rolling, and in places rocky, with plenty of valuable to the enemy, but has harmed no small streams and springs, and abundance of woods and forage for an army. It is really a well settled farming country. There are to an article which appeared in the TELEGRAPH | but few swamps, and the roads generally are good.

> NEWSPAPER CHANGE. -It is stated in Washington that Thurlow Weed, the veteran editor of the Albany Evening Journal, is now in Washington, negotiating the purchase of the National Intelligencer, which, when acquired, he will make a repository of State papers, statistics, political matters and current news. Mr. Weed has the ability to make and continue a first-class journal, and the Intelligencer occupies a desirable position for acquiring that sort of information, than which none will be more carefully sought and studied in through Georgia cut, will be perfectly harmthe future.

IOWATHE BANNER STATE -- Lincoln has swe Iowa like a hurricane. Every county heard from shows Union gains, and the grand majority, including the soldiers' vote, will exceed 50,000. Some estimates place it as high as 60,000 to 70,000. Iowa has furnished over 60,000 men for the army of the Union, and her people at home are as loval as her soldiers are brave. She has done better at the ballotbox, in proportion to her population, than any other of the Western States, and has fairly won the Union banner of the Northwest.

WE OBSERVE by foreign advices that paper from corn-husks is made in Austria by a Government establishment. The ten-cent notes of the Government are printed on that kind of paper, and large quantities of it have been purchased by private parties. Very beautiful specimens of this species of paper can be seen at the Agricultural Department. The discovery of the invention is one of immense interest and importance.

Major General Sheridan, as many people suppose, does rank where Maj. Gen. M'Clellan left off, when he resigned. Sheridan ranks from the date of his commission, Nov. 8, 1864, if his appointment is confirmed by the Senate, of which there is no doubt. This places Little Phil, the last on the list of Major Generals in the regular army, Maj. Gen. Halleck being the first.

A young man belonging to Andover, Maine, by the name of Poor, walked forty-two miles to cast his first ballot in the late election in that State. It is hardly necessary to add that he gave his first vote for the Union cause.

PERLEY VALLANDIGHAM, a nephew of Clement L., is going to inhabit the Iowa State Prison a while, as a punishment for illegal voting last spring.

THE banner town is in Vermont. Lincoln (appropriately named,) in Addison county, voted, Lincoln, 209; M'Clellan, 0. Well done for Lincoln town.

THERE is no news of any moment from the Army of the Potomac. General Burnside reached City Point, visited Lieutenant General Grant, and went to the front.

THE OIL fever has seized a portion of the people of Union county, several wells being in progress in different portions of that county.

THE Pennsylvania election commissioners and agents have been released on parole from the Old Capitol prison.

THE GREAT SHERMAN EXPEDITION

The Force at His Command. THE ROUTE HE IS GOING.

What He is to Accomplish.

NASHVILLE, November 15.

It has become well known through the North, that Sherman has started on an important expedition from Atlanta, but the conjectures which have been formed relative to its character and destination have been so veri ous, that but little is really known concerning it. It should have been kept entirely secret; but there are other leaks than newspaper correspondents, through which almost everything reaches the enemy in a remarkably brief period. In this instance, two staff officers got drunk, and blabbed the whole thing-at least as far as they knew anything about it-in almost every saloon in Nashville; and I have it on the very best authority, that a major-general, while inebriated, revealed all he knew three weeks since; but who he is, I do not

Under all these circumstances. I deem it altogether proper to give such an outline of the movement as will not interfere with any of Sherman's plans.

HIS FORCE.
The army which left Atlanta consisted of the following troops:
1 14th Corps 9.00
15th Corps
15th Corps 10,000 17th Corps 9,000 20th Corps 9,000 Cavalry 10,000

SUBSISTENCE. Sherman has been chiefly occupying hi sherman has been chiefly occupying his time in laying in a full supply of hard bread and beef cattle; and he has with him of the former sixty days full rations, and several thousand head of the cattle. For all things else he will depend on the country over which he is to pass. His animals can subsist well. Corn and sweet potatoes are abundant. During the week ending on the 5th inst., he gathered in 1,760 wagon loads of corn, 436 loads of sweet potatoes, and a few horses, without sending his foraging parties more than thirty miles from Atlanta. He could manage to live for six months without communicating once with the great North. In reference to his cavalry, he feels certain of his ability to obtain horses enough to keep good his original stock; and perhaps he may be enabled to

ATLANTA.

You have heard a great deal about the proposed destruction of Atlanta, &c. But that is all bosh. Sherman's motto is: "Remove all obstacles to success; permit no wanton destruction of life or property;" and it is upon this that he has recently acted. He has rendered Atlanta untenable; has destroyed such buildings as could have been made others.

THE DESTINATION.

A portion of the army left Atlanta on the morning of the 9th, and followed the railroad to Macon, destroying it as it proceeds; the column will take Milledgeville in its way, and it is probable that the cavalry will attempt to release the Union prisoners.

The second column started on Saturday morning last, and goes direct to Augusta, the chief manufacturing point of the Confederacy, and one in which nearly all the powder used by the Southern army is made. This will be reached in about twelve or fourteen days.

At this point the whole army will concentrate, and then move on one of three points, as Sherman shall deem most proper. These are: Savannah, Charleston or Beaufort; but I know that if nothing occurs to change his present plans, he will go to Beaufort. He beliaves that Savannah, with the railroads less, and there will be no advantage in hold-ing it. The same may be said of Charleston. Let Sherman advance to Branchville, twenty or thirty miles out, and that place is effectually. To capture either Savannah or Charleston fortified as they are, would take time, even though not atrongly garrisoned, while the moment the army reaches Beaufort, it meets supplies in abundance, and ships to transfer it to any point it may be made most useful.

This I know to be his plan at present However, it may become necessary to make Agusta a new base, and in that case Savannah must be captured; but Sherman now believes that he can as easily make one on the sea coast and in the meantime destroy all the railroads in Georgia and South Carolina. so effectually as to render them worthless during the war Unless, therefore, unexpected obstacles are met, he will reach the ocean at Beaufort, in about 35 or 40 days.

THE ENEMY.

He will meet no enemy on the way. The Georgia milita are very harmless, and few in number. There are, at Savannah, about 2(000beside city militia; and in no other part of Georgia are there any men, except cavalry and guerrillas, and these are not numerous.

No force can be spared to meet him. Thomas can take care of Hood, and Lee can do nothing but defend himself against Grant and Sheridan

We shall have no further communications from Sherman; we shall soon hear from him through rebel sources. A few days since he telegraphed a "good-bye" to his wife, and told her not to write again till he reached the B. G. N. ocean.

The Vote in Tennessee.

The votes of counties in our State come in slowly, owing to the want of mail facilities. The vote, under all the circumstances, has been large, and shows the feeling of the people to be deep and wide. They have voted for the war candidates, and for the crushing out of the rebellion. And all the votes polled were for Lincoln and Johnson.

The votes of certain counties show, with unerring certainty, the purposes of the people. And the votes cast, in view of the numbers in the Union army, show a large vote.

Reported Repulse of Our Troops

Louisville, Nov. 19-2.40 A. M. Intelligence deemed reliable, but the accuracy of which cannot be determined to-night, says that very recently the rebel Gen. Breckinridge, with 10,000 men, attacked Gen. Gillem, near Bull's Gap, and after a desperate fight the latter was defeated with a loss of 400 prisoners.

The number of killed and wounded is not stated. No fears of an invasion of Kentucky, as a consequence of this reverse are apprehended, as the military authorities are fully prepared to meet any advance of such a force into the State.

REBELS. Washington, Nov. 18. A letter from the army of the Potomac says that inactivity still prevails in that department, with the exception of the ordinary amount of exchanges between the pickets and some of the batteries.

The enemy a day or two ago commenced the erection of a new work a short distance south of the crater, but its progress is very slow, owing to the accuracy with which our gunners throw mortar shells into their midst whenever they show themselves at work.

Casualties continue to occur daily along the picket line, and stray shots frequently reach those for in the rear of the breastworks—some times inflicting fatal wounds.

Department of the Southwest. HEADQ'ES DIS'T OF SOUTHWEST MISSOURI,) Springfield, Nov. 12. To Major General Pleasanton:

I have just returned from Cassville, and will forward my official report of the compaign in a few days. No one has fired a shot at the enemy since the battle of Newtonia, where they gained great advanage over Blunt at first but my command got up in time to turn the enemy's right and the tide of things.

The enemy lost very largely in men and norses in Northern Arkansas and the border. My idea was, and is now that when we got him below Newtonia, and the region of grain. mills, and cattle, we should not crowd him any more but rather make an effort to hold him in this land of starvation, as we would a garrison out of supplies, until his army broke up and divided. Deserters were very numerous while Price was in this section. but we have seen none that have left him since he was pushed off towards his supplies.

My own view is that all the efforts of Gen.

Curtis to drive the enemy--and they have been great and entitle him to credit—have been to our detriment and the enemy's advantage, for I believe one half of his army would have deserted north of the Arkansas had it not been for the fear of the pursuing foe. The pursuit has been expensive; but the enemy has suffered badly, and all should be satisfied, I suppose. My dispatches from Gen. Thayer indicate that the troops on the Arkansas will not attack Price. JOHN B. SANBORN,

Croup, Bronchitis, Asthma, and all similar complaints.

The object of this Medicine is to soothe and ease the cough; to dissolve the congealed phiegm that adheres and sticks to the throat, which excites hacking, hawking, and coughing; to relieve the irritation in the throat, which is produced by catching cold on the slightest exposure. It expectorates the diseased matter that has accumulated in the Lungs which retards and oppresses the respiratory or breathing organs, heals and nourishes the lungs and bronchial tubes.

This medicine gives tone to the atomach, it purifies and circulates the blood, which causes oppression of the chest and difficulty in breathing.

Good News for Mothers and Children.—Here is the sufferer's balm; keep it in your tamily, sickness comes as thief in the night, and your child is sufficeated by the awful disease, Croup, or similar complaints. Here is a preventative—it is nature's friend.
