SOLDIERS' ORPHANS. - Some time ago there was an advertisement in this paper relative to the mode of getting admission to the schools provided by the State for soldiers' orphans. We are surprised to learn that comparatively few have yet availed themselves of the opportunity. Would it not be well for the county committees, who have charge of the matter the Presbyterian Church, on Market Square, this evening, at 7 o'clock. The citizens of Harrisburg of all classes are invited to attend.

We take pleasure in urging all who desire to hear an interesting address by an eminent minister of the Society of Friends, to attend this meeting. The speaker is highly spoken of by our clergymen, and we trust there will be a full house.

THE LAST CHANCE. -This is positively the last day upon which Dr. Crane can be consulted previous to his departure from Harris burg. The afflicted—no matter what their disease may be—will do well to avail themselves of this, the only opportunity that will be offered them to call upon Dr. Crane. He is indeed one of the wonders of the age, and astonishes all who hear his descriptions of the parents of his patients, although he has never seen or heard of them--nd his method of describing disease is wonderful. Go and see A few months since he had ten grandsons in the Union army. He voted for President Lincoln, although heretofore a Democrat. him, at the Jones House, all ye who are af-

Webster's Dictionary-Enlarged and Improved Illustrated Edition.—G. & C. Merriam have now fairly before the scholars, states men and students of the world, their won-derfully improved and highly embellished edition of Webster's Dictionary. The work is of itself a monument of national greatness in literary labors and success, and is justly regarded wherever the English language is spo-ken as the standard for the government of its use. This last edition is thus made valuable on account of its improvements, and will of course be sought by all scholars and students. The edition now referred to is ten years in advance of all other Dictionaries before the American public in all the important features of so great a work. George Bergner is the agent for the sale of this work in this Those desirous of procuring copies, can have themselves supplied by calling at the book store, Market above Third street.

THANKSGIVING. - Thursday next will be Thanksgiving day, as appointed by the President of the United States and the Governor of Pennsylvania. No doubt all business will be suspended in our city and the occasion pro perly observed. Religious services will, as usual, be held in the various churches. The people of Pennsylvania have great cause: to properly observe Thursday 'as a day of Thanksgiving to Almighty God, for the gath-ered fruits of the earth; for the continuance of health; for the prosperity of industry; for the preservation of good order and tranquility throughout our borders; for the victories which he has vouchsafed to us over armed which he has vouchsaied to us over armed traitors, and for the manifold blessings which he has heaped upon us, unworthy; and to humbly beseech Him to renew and increase thumbly beseech Him to renew and increase corresponding fluctuation? If Sherman in his merciful favor toward us during the year the South, Grant at Richmond, or Sheridan to come, so that rebellion being overthrown, peace may be restored to our distracted country, and, in every State, with grateful and loving accord, the incense of Praise and Thanks-giving may be offered by all the people unto His Holy Name."

HOW THE "PEACE DEMOCRACY" TAKE HEROIC Mac's Defeat.—The controlling creatures of the Democratic organization at the late election, were those who pronounced the war bar-barous and insisted that a cessation of hostilities towards the people of the South, was demanded by every consideration of justice and principle of humanity. Since the defeat of Little Mac, however, by the overwhelming vote of his countrymen, these "peace men" have become suddenly changed, and are now known as midnight assassins, whose highest aim seems to be the brutal assault of every Union man prominent at the late election. A case of this kind occurred at Gettysburg on Saturday night last, where the editor of the Gettysburg Star was most brutally wilted while on his way home. He was met at a street corner and struck with a bludgeon, but his cowardly assailants retreated before his vigorous defence and took refuge in a store kept by the Chairman of the Copperhead County Committee, who protected the villain from the just chastisement he had earned. It is well enough that these outrages should attend the dying struggles of copperheadism. They only serve to illustrate still more forcibly the villainies of those who cling to the foul doctrines of Democracy.

HOBRIBLE ACCIDENT. -A. HARRISBURGER CRUSHED BY A RAILROAD TRAIN. -An accident occurred at the depot, last evening, by which U. J. Jones, Esq., of this city, was instantly killed. The accommodation train from Baltimore is run into the city ahead of the engine, which is attached to the rear car. Last night, when the train recorded at the contract of the contract o night, when the train reached the depot, the body of Mr. Jones was found beneath the "cow catcher," rolled up into an almost shapeless mass, terribly crushed, and almost beyond recognition. It is supposed that he was upon the track when the train came in, and that the track when the train came in, and that the entire train passed over him. The ashbox of the locomotive must have killed him, as it was impossible for it to pass over the body without crushing it. The body could not be removed until the cowcatcher was taken off the locomotive. The remains were taken off the locomotive. The remains were placed in a room in the Pennsylvania Railroad depot, to await the arrival of the coroner to-day.

Mr. Jones was well known in our city, and Mr. Jones was well known in our city, and has been at various times connected with newspapers published here. He was a gentleman of considerable ability as a writer, and was the author of a number of books which He, leaves a Herra Hotel.

A Gornic church dedicated to St. Michael has just been completed at Marseilles, and opened to public worship. It is the finest Catholic edifice in that city. The stained glass windows of the choir are particularly beautiful.

WE find the following in the proceedings of the District Court, as reported in the Philadelphia papers:

The Harrisburg Bank vs. Charles Heebner. An action to recover upon certain checks.— Verdict for plaintiff, $12,071.26. S. C. Perkins for plaintiff; Gross for defendant.

The first newspaper known to history, was published in London, and dated July 23, 1588, called "The English Mercurie," and it was issued by the Government during the progress of the Spanish Armada, to prevent the circulation of false reports. The printer's name was Christopher Barker.

THEATRE!-A fine Saturday night bill is presented to the patrons of the theatre. Two fine plays will be performed—Robert Emmert, THE MARTYR OF IRISH LIBERTY, and THE HUSBAND TO ORDER. Sam Hemple will appear in two great characters, and Mr. Meeke will make an eloquent speech in self-defence, in his trial for high treason. > Another Hero has Fallen.—Corporal John C. Lane, of this city, and one of the noble braves of Co. G, 55th Penna. Vols., died at Annapolis, on Thursday, from wounds received at Chatham Farm, Va. He was a brave soldier, and has fallen a victim to the hellish rebellion inaugurated by the slave-holding traitors, ere he had completed his twentieth year. The funeral will take place to-morrow after> noon, at 3 o'clock, from his father's residence in North street. THE OLDEST VOTER. - Seth Marvin, of Crawford county, Pa., one hundrad and five years old, is supposed to be the oldest man who voted at the last election. He has voted at every Presidential election ever held, except that of Washington's first term. He was in the battle of Monmouth in the Revolution, and retains all his faculties except his sight.

> GOLD IS TUMBLING, and goods of every description must "come down." The cops pre-dicted that Lincoln's election would cause calico to advance to a dollar a yard, but they were greatly mistaken. From the election day to the present gold has fallen forty-three cents on the dollar. U. S. stocks are going up; the Southern confederacy is tottering; the Jewish speculators in rebel bonds are likely to smash, and a good time generally may be expected. The northern traitors are alarmed at Butler's idea of peace, and are beginning to howl. Their thunder has been "knocked in the head." Let the people rejoice, in anticipation of a speedy closing up of the war, a restored Union, and low prices.

How THEY LEAVE Us.—A young friend of ours, who seems to have made the subject of marriage a study, says that the statistics will show that since the rebellion more than seventy-five per cent. of the men married were soldiers. He thinks of joining the rmy, and adds in the language of Prof. Short-

Thus it is our damsels leave us, Those we court, and those who flirt us: Just as we were sure they'd take us, Comes a man with stripes and passants, With mustache and sword, a stranger Wanders piping through the city; Beckons to the fairest maiden. And she follows where he leads her--Leaving all else for the soldier!

the South, Grant lat Richmond, or Sheridan in the Valley succeed in trouncing the rebels, and reducing the price of the "great root of evil," why is it that the prices of all the com-mon necessaries of life are not equally re-duced? We paid fifty cents for a pound of butter when gold was quoted at $2 80, and at market this morning paid a similar price with gold at $2 11. The same of course may, be said of all other provisions. Under the circumstances, if gold is really the standard, may we not reasonably infer that there either exists a conspiracy to keep the prices of provisions up to a panic height, or that our produce dealers are most lamentably ignorant of the fact that the "world moves."

Departed.—We are sorry to learn, on authority of the Press and Intelligencer, that out official and neighbor, Captain Charles H. Mann, who keeps the Jones House, Harristourg, has departed, and now reposes in Abraham's bosom. He was the last man we supposed would throw himself in the fraternal embrace of the abolitionists, whom he had embrace of the abolitionists, whom he had fought all his life. Good-bye, Charley, and may you have a good time with your new friends. The Democratic party was a good Samaritan to you, and you should not have left it in its hour of adversity.—Doylestown

How it pinches the cops when a real simon pure Democrat exhibits his patriotism in the independence of his votes. Mr. Mann, like thousands of other honest Democrats, voted for the country—for its peace and prosperity
—when he supported the re-election of Abraham Lincoln. That act does not make him less à Democrat, while it constitutes him more a patriot. But it pinches the cops, and enrages them to see that decent men will no longer risk their reputation as good citizens in being associated with such demagogues.
