the Lutharan Church in Fifteenth street, left his home on Saturday at 3 P. M., the 29th of October, with the intention of going to New Haven, Ct., since which time nothing has been heard of him. His prolonged absence and silence as to his whereabouts quite alarms congregation and friends. He is about 45 years of age, medium build, dark complexion, dark hair and eyes, forefinger on the right hand stiff, and a fresh scar on the neck, from wounds caused by having a tumor removed. Any information would be gladly received by his anxious friends, and may be sent to Charles Knox, corner of Broadway and Fulton street, and Ockershausen Bros., 21 Rose street, New York.

OIL COMPANIES .-- The application of asso-ciated capital to the development of the vast wealth of the Pennsylvania oil basins in Venango and Greene counties, enables the com-munity at large to share in the profits of this wonderful trade, without going to the oil retion in person to get lands and sink wells. Where oil companies are under good manage ment this is all done, and well done, by the responsible acting officers, for the common mefit of all concerned; and a large or small amount of money may be invested in any given case, as each individual may think best.

It obviously requires four things to make a good oil company: 1. Good oil lands; 2. Offi-cers and directors of known standing and respectability to manage its affairs: 3. Experienced and reliable superintendents and workmen on the ground; and 4. Sufficient working capital to properly develope the lands, and carry on the operations of the company,.... These requisites, we understand, are all fully met by the companies represented by S. D. Ingram, Esq., of this city, to whose adver-tisement in another column our readers are respectfully referred.

The oil business is only in its infancy; yet, during the past twelve months, the cash sales of petroleum from Venango county alone, amounted to twenty three millions of dollars, or more than half the State debt of Pennsylvania! It supplies a universal want, that can only be limited by the teeming millions of population in Europe, as well as in this coun-try, and other parts of the globe. The de-mand for our petroleum in Europe has increased every year in almost geometrical pro-portion, and in the nature of the case must so continue for many years to come, until the equilibrium is established between demand and supply. It is therefore perfectly wise and prudent for any person, man or woman, to invest at least a portion of their spare funds in the stocks of oil companies; taking care to deal with persons whom they know, and who will pilot them in good faith; and also taking care to buy into several companies, instead of only

Harrisburg Gas Works.

HARRISBURG, Nov. 12, 1864 HARRISDURG, Nov. 12, 1864. N AND after the first day of December this company will be under the necessity of increas-ing the price of Gas to $3 50 per 1,000 cubic feet. There are many reasons which complet this company to make the increase; and in order to inform the public of the cause which compels them to do so, we beg leave to men-tion the following facts, viz: Coal, the article most extensively used for the manufac-ture of Gas, was formerly purchased for 38 65 per ton now the same article costs $945. Lime, another item, was formerly purchased at 9 cents per bushel; now we pay 20 cents.

Records and other castings extensively used were for merly purchased at 2% cents per pound; now we pay t merry purchased at 2% cents per point, now we pay 6 cents. Pipe of every description has increased in price more than one hundred per cent. Fire brick, meters, rosin, &c., have advanced more than two hundred per cent. Labor and everything connected with the manufacture of Gas has increased more than one hundred per cent, and the company is therefore reluctantly compelied to add 50 cents to the price of Gas per 1,000 cubic feet, on and after the above mentioned day. In addition to the above enormous increase of materials and labor, the company pays a tax of 20 cents on severy 1,000 feet of Gas manu-factured, to the United States Government, in addition to the usual license. The last Legislature has also laid a tax of THEES PER ONT. in addition to the taxes heretofore paid on capital stock and dividends. These increased taxations alone amount to more than one half of the increase per 1,000 feet. W.M. DOCK, President. Groeges BERGNER, Secretary. 1,000 feet. GEORGE BERGNER, Secretary.
