HARRISBURG, PA. WEDNESDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 23, 1864.

TOWN AND COUNTRY.

Market Days at the New Market House.—Tuesday morning, from 5 to 10. Friday morning, from 5 to 10. Saturday afternoon and evening, from 3 to 8.

Congress will assemble on the 5th of December—one week from next Monday.

It is easy to tell a hard drinker—his offence is always branded on the end of the nose.

There will be divine services in the First Lutheran Church (Dr. Hay's) to-morrow, at 10 o'clock.

Divine Services to-morrow morning (Thanksgiving) at the Ridge Road Episcopal Church, at half-past ten o'clock.

The trains from the west this morning were covered with snow. Our friends among the Alleghenies must have a pleasant time.

POST OFFICE HOURS ON THANKSGIVING DAY.—The Post office will be open on Thanksgiving day from 6 to 8 o'clock in the morning, and from 1 to 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

DISTRESSING ACCIDENT.—A young man named George Yessley, employed at Heyberger's machine shop, Lancaster, had his hand torn off by being caught in some machinery.

Cold weather is upon us. North winds have been whistling around the corners, King Frost has left the imprint of his icy fingers, the mud has disappeared, leaving the streets rough and hard on shoe leather.

CLOTHES STOLEN.—A family in the lower end of the city left two or three tubful of clothes standing in a back yard, on Monday night, intending to hang them up next morning. During the night the whole lot was stolen, and have not since been heard of. That thief must be a mean one.

SCHNAPPS MUST BE LICENSED.—The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has decided that persons selling Schiedam Schnapps are required, in addition to other licenses they may have, to also take out licenses as dealers in liquors, wholesale and retail, according to the manner and amount of their annual sales.

MARKET.—The attendance of country folks this morning was not as large as usual. Prices were high, and the demand great. By half-past six o'clock, it was almost impossible to obtain a pound of butter. Prices were high. The prospect of cold noses prevented some of the farmers from coming to town.

THEATRE.—Three laughable pieces are on the bill for this evening, viz: 'The Maid with the Milking Pail; Loan of a Lover and Sara's Young Man.' Mr. Hemple will appear in two characters; Miss Fanny Denham in three, with songs, and Mr. Rouse in his wonderful character of Peter Spylke. There will be fun at the Theatre.

How to Remove Old Paint.—Soft soap, mixed with a solution of potash or caustic soda, or pearlash and slaked lime, mixed with sufficient water to form a paste, is an excellent solvent for old putty and paint. Either of these, laid on with an old brush or rag, and left for some hours, will render the putty or paint easily removed.

ENTITLED TO BOUNTY.—The Secretary of War has just decided that colored recruits are entitled to the same bounty as white recruits, viz: One hundred dollars for one year; two hundred dollars for two years, and three hundred dollars for three years. Representative recruits are also entitled to this bounty, without regard to color.

COUNTERFEIT POSTAL CURRENCY.—It is estimated that $20,000 in counterfeit postal currency changed hands in Cincinnati daily, few knowing whether it is good or spurious. A large amount of the stuff also passes here every day, but nothing like the figures here given. The counterfeit issues should be called in, and new notes stricken off.

OIL IN ERIE COUNTY.—The Erie Dispatch says: A number of our citizens are investing in oil territory, located near Hydetown. Two persons paid, a few days ago, $30,000 for a farm of one hundred and twenty acres. Another party bought property for $700 and has since been offered an advance of $10,000 on it.

ORGANIZATION OF THE WEST HARRISBURG MARKET HOUSE COMPANY.—This company organized on the 17th inst., by electing W. K. Verbeke, President; Elias S. Zollinger, Secretary and Treasurer; and C. F. Haebelen, Michael Dunne, E. S. Zollinger, Jacob Hill, James B. Tomlinson, Theo. Fenn, Lewis Haebelen, W. K. Verbeke and Charles Swartz, Directors.

IMMENSE quantities of poultry were displayed upon the market stands this morning. Chickens and turkeys, both small and great, could be had at great figures, (small figures being unheard of among those having power for sale.) Thousands of murders have been committed among the poultry, in view of Thanksgiving dinner.

OIL ON THE CLARION.—There is at this time, says the Clarion Banner, considerable excitement along the Clarion river in regard to the oil prospect. Strangers from all parts of the country are pouring in and sites are being purchased every day. It is gratifying to us to know that at last there is something to start our people and encourage them to make investments with a prospect of a speedy return. From the mouth of Clarion to Ridgway, land is rapidly changing hands and purchasers are preparing to put down wells.

INTERESTING TO STEEL MANUFACTURERS.—An invention has been patented in England which proposes to dispense with the ordinary mechanical compression of steel and homogeneous metal by the action of steam, hammers or apparatus of that class and to give the metal the requisite closeness and strength by testing it in a form approximating that in which it is intended to be used, and by immersing it without any previous forging in a bath of suitable liquid, such as oil or water, and giving it afterward, where requisite, the temper necessary to enable it to be worked. The metal being made by this process is so much harder and stronger it will be desirable in some cases to rough-turn, bore or shape the casting preparatory to the hardening and tempering of the metal.

THE CHRISTIAN COMMISSION.—Among the noble associations for the support of which the people will be called to contribute to-morrow, is the Christian Commission. This organization appeals eloquently for the support of the affluent and the generous. Its labors have been heretofore during the conflict now raging for civil liberty. Let it be remembered by all who are able to give.

THANKSGIVING.—To-morrow is the day set apart by both the President of the United States and the Governor of this State, as a day of thanksgiving and praise to the Giver of all good things, for His many mercies and blessings to us as a people. It ever there was a nation which had cause to rejoice over its many blessings, it is the people of the United States; and if ever there was a period when we had especial cause for thanksgiving and praise, now is the time. Our harvests have been abundant, our department of business is prosperous, our arms have been uniformly victorious over treason in the field, and the national life has been saved by the defeat of the machinations of traitors at home, and the re-election of Abraham Lincoln. Why should we not rejoice and give thanks? The day will be properly observed in this city. All business will be suspended, and religious services held in the various churches.

A GRAND POW-WOW AMONG THE FAITHFUL.—Meeting of an Extraordinary Committee to Devise Ways and Means for Sustaining a Party Organ.—An allusion was made in our editorial column yesterday, to the effect that the greater portion of the Tory organs in the country were in a decaying condition, and that some of these thus rotting away with their own corruption, were anxious to provoke a collision with the authorities, and thus gain an excuse for "closing out" their business. When we made this statement of what is a manifest fact, we indulged the hope that the Government would not allow itself to be tempted by the rascals who control these organs, as public opinion would do the work of commencing the evil influence of such sheets, thereby crushing their power for mischief by refusing them either patronage or recognition. When we made these statements as to the condition of the Tory organs, we had no idea that the unmistakable evidence of the fact would so soon be placed in our hands. But our paragraph yesterday induced a correspondent to communicate the proceedings of a meeting held at Brady's Hotel, in this city, at which the main subject of consultation related to the necessity of devising ways and means to support the Tory Organ in this city. It appears that "invitations" were "sent out" to all the faithful, to meet at Brady's, and that one of these "invitations" was issued to a leaky individual, who "let the cat out of the bag." The meeting was composed of all the great leaders of the party, prominent among whom were His Worship the Mayor; Mosey, the money-changer; the erudite Ham Alricks, the "painful" Three, the man of sawdust, Bigler, two or three, a half dozen ex-Deacons, and a number of old patrons, the ex-Governor, and such of the loungers as usually frequent a well kept, respectable and orderly hotel, of the class to which "Brady's" belongs. His Worship announced the solemn fact that "our organ" was "nearly played out." It had piped its last tune of treason, and would have ceased its discordant notes months ago, had it not been for the fact that its principal proprietor (unknown to the public at large) had managed to support it with funds contributed by New York Jews, under the lead of Belmont. This fund had now been exhausted, and therefore, unless the ways and means were promptly devised, "the great Democratic party of the Keystone State would be without a central organ." With this announcement, solemnly and impressively made, His Worship, with all the dignity of a Roman conscript father, took his seat. Then followed an awful silence, a Mosey stroked his bearded chin like the fat boy at the butchering—Sam Bigler inflated his cheeks and protruded his tongue as he wofully asked, "why was I invited to this meeting? I ain't in politics"—another considered the affair "d—n painful," while the mud bosses swore like the old King in the play, at the presumption of some people. Our correspondent has written us a lengthy description of this meeting, but we must content ourselves with this general quotation from his communication. Like all efforts, political, of the men who thus assembled, it was a failure. All were profuse in their promises of what they would have done, had the party been successful. But under present circumstances, the organ must become a self-sustaining machine. The party must support it. It was impossible for individuals to do so. And thus after taking a drink all together, denouncing the administration, damning the abolitionists, and expressing its sincere sorrow for the affliction of old friends, the traitors of the South, the convolve adjourned.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.—Below we publish the proceedings of Court, up to noon to-day, including the cases tried, and those in which true bills were found by the Grand Jury. BUSINESS ITEMS

THE PRESIDENT PETROLEUM COMPANY.—The President of the above named company, Emory Edwards, Esq., writes, under date of November 20, 1864, as follows: "Having just returned from a tour through the oil region in Venango county, Pa., and having particularly examined the tract of oil-bearing lands owned by the President Petroleum Company, I am enabled to give you some further information as to their character, and extent. "The company own two and one-half miles front on the Allegheny river, and several miles on tributary streams, which is all underlaid with oil-bearing rock. One hundred yards from the west end of the tract is the Hydrick well, which has already yielded over thirty thousand barrels of oil. Messrs. Hydrick have leased from this company five hundred feet front on the river, adjoining their land, at a rent of one-third the gross yield of oil, and have begun three wells, two of which have reached the oil rock and struck oil fissures. Pumps will soon be at work in these with every appearance of a good yield. The third well is as yet only two hundred feet deep. "One mile east of this company's well of four hundred feet has reached oil which comes up on the boring gear freely, and the well is pronounced a success. One mile east of this is the Harper farm of one hundred acres, which does not belong to the company. On it are several wells which have been worked with great profit, and the farm was lately sold for $200,000. Passing this farm the company have a further front on the river of nearly half a mile, all of it meadow land, and three islands. "Between Hydrick's well and Harper's there is space for one hundred wells on the river, allowing one hundred feet between the wells, while on Oil creek the wells average four to the hundred feet. Just across the river from this front is one well yielding four hundred dollars per day, and several from one to two hundred; and above the company's lands, and extending up the river for several miles, are many productive wells. "The meadows on Hemlock and Porcupine creeks, and on Beech's and Miller's runs, are similar to those on Oil creek and Cherry run, and they have been developed sufficiently to warrant that they are underlaid by oil-bearing rock, and numerous salt springs, and gas escaping in many places, indicates the usual accompaniment of oil. "The $100,000 which is reserved as a working capital, is amply sufficient to sink thirty wells, which are to be commenced immediately, and for which the proper machinery has been ordered. There is every reason to believe that these wells will yield as much as neighboring wells now do; and if so, they will pay a large dividend on the par value of the stock. Besides this, parties are ready to take the usual leases of one-third to one-half the product as rent, the company being at no expense, and the lands are ample to allow this on a large scale. "J. W. Simonton, Esq., is the agent at Harrisburg to receive subscriptions for stock in the above named company, and will answer all inquiries addressed to him in person or by mail.
